FRESHMAN REMINIS-CENCES

Hippity, hippity hus, What's the matter with us? Nothing at all nothing at all, We're the class that beats them all Freshmen!

Thats us, the "peppiest" class in old Y. C. Forty-six - elite young men and young women from several states gathered at York where we began our college career Sept. 12, 1922.

Durring the first few weeks the upper Classmen from their height of superior knowledge looked down upon us with their usual attitude toward verdant Freshies. But presto! 'We were soon considered in an altogether different light. The Freshmen proved their mettle on the foot ball field, in cage games, in debate and in oratory. Now the upper classmen have come down from their pedestal and we are consulted with due respect.

Our first class meeting created considerable excitement, especially among the Sophomores, but the other classes also joined in treacherous intrigue against us. Imagine their dismay when they discovered that we had only elected class officers.

They spied upon us continually Watching for a chance to participate in our first social affair. This they did by stealing our sponsor one evening, when we had planned a weiner roast. However, they weren't suctessful in preventing our enjoyment of the occasion as the place of merry tended. making was known only to Freshmen The York girls were met in Lincoln. (not all of them)

Doctor Brubaker Speaks to Students.

Last Friday morning, Doctor C. W. Brubaker, General Secretary of Religious Education for the U. B. Denomination, had charge of our devotional exercises and later addressed us. Dr. Brubaker has a compelling personality and is a very forceful speaker. His talk was on "Building."

There can he no house without a builder. We build our own lives, and our character is what we make it. First we must have a foundation. which should be the rock, Christ Jesus. The factors that enter into the building process are physical fitness, social cleanness, and our religious nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Amadon attended the Slate Music Teacher's Convention which was held at Omaha, April second and third. Dean Amadon sang at the opening session on Monday. The Omaha papers complimented him highly on his voice.

Miss Pauline Hensley participated in the contest which was open to all pupils of active members of the association. Miss Hensley, who possesses a charming voice, was entered in Class A, which meant that she had to compete with older and more experienced singers. Even with such strong competition, she was awarded a ribbon.

"Members of our class have taken part in athletics, debates, oratorical contests, and now we have taken our turn at editing and managing "The Sandburr. " We realize, as folks always do when they try the other fellow's job, that it isn't as easy as it looked. However, we have enjoyed the experience and appreciate the cheerful cooperation of the class. This spirit of cooperation has been back of all activities that members of the class have engaged in, and it is undoubtedly the source of our strength as a class.

EDUCATION

What is education? So much has been said concerning education that it is extremely hard to define. In a sense it is considered school-training, but there is no real line where the student steps from the uneducated to the educated class. Some are well educated who never went to school. This probably is true because experience and observation are just as great essentials as a school curriculum.

Education in a true sense begins with infancy and continues until death. School is only a part of it. If a medical student closed his books and never gave further thought to medicine after graduation, he would never be a docwho "knows something about tor. An educated man has been defined as one everything and everything about something." This is impossible but gives the idea that one should have a store of; general information. This is true of, all educated men. To be an educated man one must not only

Knowledge of all goodbooks knowledge of the past but also of the present. one. hundred years old would not make a man educated today.

The educated man reads and studies constantly. He must keep abreast of things and know what is happening as well as what has happened. His More of know'ledge is not musty or covered with cobwebs. His door of communication is always open. In other words he constantly reads up-to-date matter and THINKS. An educated man has acquired something that no one can ever lake away from him.

SHOVELING WITH A SPOON

A man once started to build a home, and of course the basement and foundation were the first to he constructed. This man started by using a spoon with which to shovel. Day after day he worked diligently, but, he saw that be was not making much progress. The thought came to him that if he used a larger tool he might accomplish more. He tried this, and soon the excavation was completed.

This is true in a larger sense in the lives of people today. The failure of so many is due to the fact that they start out in life shoveling with a spoon. They begin a great task without, sufficient thought and planning to carry it out successfully. Then many people do not have will power or perseverance to attempt something which, they know will be difficult to complete.

No No No Bull and a serious of the life without preparation. It may not be in actual schooling, but at some time he has experienced something which prepares him for his opportunity. A genius does not burst upon the world like a flaming meteorite, but in most cases attains his position by means of long and patient study.

In this day and age an education is the best preparation for life's work. FThe boy who drops out of school in the eighth grade is shoveling with a spoon. He is beginning to build a career and a life with inadequate tools. "

It is well to decide upon one's life work early and focus the preparation upon that particular end. An education is the best and largest shovel which we can secure, with which to begin building our life.

CON HAPPENINGS

The Con was rather lonesome last week. A number of the girls had gone to Lincoln to the Y. W. Conference and others were out of town.

Dorothy Reid and Bernice Wilson spent Easter with Virginia Neville at her home in Aurora.

Nothing has been said in a former Sandburr concerning the "Mummies. It is not necessary to tell their names for their beauty was easily discernible next day.

Sickness has invaded the Con so, many times this winter that Miss Fye has been kept busy taking care of those who were ill. Since spring is here we hope that nothing more serious than spring fever will affect

One evening not long since a combined musical comedy and two-ring

Circus was given in a third floor room. The performance was entitled "Where Frances Hides the Key." Considerable ringing of bells and knocking at doors was necessary before study could be resumed.

Mildred Stenson came home highly elated one evening, Miss Callender has given me the name of a man to write to, " she said. When questioned she explained that it was in regard to a school.

Lois Wilcox and Frances Churchill spent the week end in Aurora with Virginia Neville. They heard the Hastings Glee Club in "The Fire Prince.

Grace Evans and Effie Hansen were also home over Sunday.

Dorothy Reid has taken up Coue-"Every day in every getting better and better."

GLEE CLUB NOTES

Next Wednesday, April 18, the Glee Club, under the direction of Dean Amadon, will give their first public concert at Aurora. The Glee Club, has worked hard on this program. and it will be a musical event worth hearing. Several songs will be given in costume. It is planned to make the trip to Aurora in cars, if the weather is favorable. The ladies of the U. B. church of Aurora will provide entertainment.

The Glee Club will appear at a later dale in York, and they have engagements at several other towns.

HISTRIONIC CLUB

The Histrionic club met at the college on Monday evening, April ninth. The usual business was transacted and a social affair planned for the cast of the play given last semester and the members of the club.

This event is being looked forward to with great anticipation.

The business meeting was followed by a rehearsal of the three-act play "The Dream that Came True," which is to be presented in the near future by Histrionic members and some of the Business College students. Work is also being done on the "Old Fashioned Mother. " which is to be given May Day.

Last year's farm crops in the United States were valued at $ 14,000,000, 000, Rather startling, in view of the fact that the idea in some way got abroad that farm crops were getting almost worthless.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. meeting of April 2 was unusual in several respects. The topic was uncommon and it brought forth many comments during the day. We were all eager to find out what the leader; Effie Hansen, had to tell us about "Little Red Devils."

Gervaichia Reamer played "Gloaming, " as a prelude. Sentence prayers were called for followed by the reading of the Scripture lesson, James III which deals with our words. Some timely quotations were then given by several of the girls. A special number; "Ivory Palaces, " was sung by Velma and Verna Barker.

In the development of the lesson we learned what power the tongue has. It is a little red devil if used in hatred, anger, ridicule, sarcasm, or unjust criticism. But we ate to give our beat to mankind, and in order to do this we must cultivate forgiveness, honesty, patience, friendship and love. A beautiful little poem "Everybody's Lonesome" was given and brought home very forcefully the thought of what we may do by our words. In closing, Miss Hansen gave us a beautiful glove which every girl may wear if she desires.

This lesson was one of the most effective of the year. It brings home to us the fact that we must watch the little things-just the everyday acts and words, if. we are to be the best type of College girls.

" Gervaichia Reamer told about, the one o'clock luncheon. Florence Moore reported on the three o'clock talk. which was, "The Young Woman's Christian Association as a Profession. " Helen Meloy told of the banquet of the evening. The next reports were on the addresses that given Sunday. Zelma Reicker reported on "The Significance of the Reality of Our Purpose as we Face life Work of the Church Today. " Reka Blanc reported on the afternoon talk, "Service of Consecration."

- 4. Character Determined by the Things to Which We Give Attention.
- 5. Ask Different Men to Face the 6. Meet the Excuses "No Time"
- and "Don't Feel Like It." 7. The Sin of the Self-Satisfied.
- "Be Noble, and the Nobleness that lies in others sleeping, but never dead, shall rise in majesty to meet
