York Represented at Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the Nebraska Association of Christian Colleges was held at Doane during the spring vacation. The Colleges represented were Cotner, Grand Island, Hastings, Midland, Nebraska Central, York and Doane.

The members of the York College faculty who attended the association meetings were President and Mrs. Emery, Dean Bisset, Professors Noll and Morgan, Coach Hubka, and Miss Fye.

The College presidents met in Boswell Observatory with President J. M. Wells acting as chairman.

The College deans met in Merrill Hall with Dean F. A. Alabaster of Wesleyan University as chairman. One of the subjects for discussion was the observance of Freshman week. The larger colleges seem to be in favor of Freshman week.

The deans of women met in Gaylord Hall. Miss Fye of York College led the discussion.

Special meetings were held for the registrars, librarians and other heads of departments in educational work.

The Social Science group spent most of their time speaking of balanced curricula and an orientation course in science to introduce the student to the social sciences.

In the Biology group different kinds of club-work were demonstrated. Professor Carlson of Doane demonstrated the use of a number of charts he had made for his own classes.

The question of changing the entrance credits to meet the changes in the requirements made in the North Central Association of Colleges met with approval of the registrars.

The faculties were all royally entertained and each college was well represented.

The officers chosen for the coming year are:

President—Chancellor Shreckengast of Wesleyan.

Vice Pres.—President; Martin of Midland.

Secretary—Dean Weyer of Hastings.

Treasurer—Professor Leftwich of Cotner.

Give me the receipt for the Nile rising and: I'll give you the receipt for fruit cake.

YORK COLLEGE CAMPUS
"A Cool, Quiet Place To Study"

York College is located on East Hill in York, a city without a superior as a residential and school location, a city of good homes, clean streets and good morals, and a city whose citizens are thoroughly interested in the welfare of its schools and their students.

In a few weeks hundreds of Public Schools teachers, as well as those graduating, from High School in May or June, will be seeking additional training. This training will be vital because it effects the efficiency of these teachers as they direct the minds of the youth of the State of Nebraska during the next twelve months.

This summer session, a Normal Training can be secured. Those desiring College credit can receive as much as twelve College hours.

Why not spend this summer securing further College credits which will help you spend your time profitably, unable you to secure a better teaching position, and prepare you to meet the rapidly changing educational requirements.

New Church to be Dedicated April 24,

Dedication

Oh thou, whose own vast temple stands
Built over earth and sea,
Accept the walls that human hands
Have raised to worship thee.

Lord, from thine inmost glory send,
Within these courts to abide,
The peace which dwelleth without end,
Serenely by thy side.

May erring minds that worship here
Be taught the better way;
And they who mourn, and they who fear
Be strengthened as they pray.

May faith grow firm, and love grow warm,
And pure devotions rise.
While round these hallowed walls the storm
Of earth-born passions rise.

Sunday, April 24th, is to be a great day in the history of the United Brethren church of York. Then that new church will be dedicated for the teaching of the word; for the sanctification of family life; for the training of childhood; for the guidance of youth; for the support of the aged; for the support and comfort of the aged; for the salvation of all men; for the promotion of Christian citizenship; for missionary endeavor, at home and abroad; for the development of Christian brotherhood and for the enlargement of the church.

The York College Orchestra has begun practice on the orchestral parts of "The Wizard of the Nile."

PEACE ORATIONS

On Friday, Nestor Shlanta, Orvest Lewis and Sutton Hice will deliver their peace orations in a preliminary try-out. The winner will be York's representative at the State Oratorical contest, April 18, at Doane.

I want to introduce you to the Washington brothers, Cherry and Axy.

SPRING ATHLETIC PROSPECTS

If any of the Nebraska Conference Colleges could see the excellent squad of track men that York College has out each night they might tell all of their men to check in equipment because the track season honors all belong to York College athletes.

We are putting in considerable money and many hours of time preparing one of the best little college tracks in Nebraska. It is about one third of a mile around the track with a cindered straightaway for the dashes. Most any time of day you can see someone grooming the scampering ground of our Panthers so that it will be in wonderful shape for our numerous track meets this spring.

York College is taking more interest in track this spring than has been exhibited in any other athletic activity this year.

All are eager to use the new track winning laurels for their school.

The men that warm up the cinders on the hundred and longer dashes are Peters, Peterson, Farnum, Loreman and several other good prospects.

The weight men are putting forth all of their efforts on the old iron ball and discus. Those showing up the best are Mann, Casebeer, Samuelson and Karre.

Shlanta, Oliver, Price, Loreman, Colson and Goudy are doggedly plugging away on the mile and half mile. Long and Hinze have the best record so far on the half mile.

Much work will be done this week on the jumping and vaulting standards. The way some of the men sail through the air it seems as if they had been living upon a diet of frog legs all winter.

Look at that King! Isn't he the homeliest thing you ever saw!

One of my greatest joys is books. I have a partiality for books, now I "love" them! What friends they are. What a satisfaction and delight just to handle them. What an atmosphere they create. I like the "feel" of them in my home and I enjoy having them about me even though I may not delve into them daily.

Books fit into all my moods. What pictures they bring, without adding comments; what thoughts they awaken, without talking back.

It has been said by some one that "exposure" to books is a good thing. I am glad that I was "exposed" early in life and that the exposure "took."

I feel lost, helpless, as if in a strange land, —when there are no books about. Have you ever worked in a library or a book store for the mere joy of handling books, and the pleasure of having, at least, a speaking acquaintance with a large number of them? I have. Have you ever gone into a book-shop, scanning interesting looking volumes, snatching here a sentence and there a sentence, occasionally skimming over an entire chapter—all under the guise of making a selection, when all the while you, knew you

Have you felt hurt when you have been mistreated? Then you and I are kind and I am kindred Spirits.

In the Bible we read (if we may paraphrase slightly) "A person's life consisteth not in the abundance of things he possesseth." Van Dyke says that the real value of a person's life is to be found in the quality of the ideas and the feelings that possess him and in his effort to make them concrete in his work.

These ideas and feelings may be enriched through reading books, for books stimulate and enrich the mind and give it materials with which to work. Books increase the joy of living and strengthen the belief that the being and doing are worth-while.

Now, during this Lenten Season, many of us are reading "books that inspire." By this term we mean a book which somehow, somehow, makes life more worth-while; that gives one a new belief or a new understanding. That many people are looking for such books is proved by the great number of sales for Anne Shannon Monroe's "Singing in the Rain," a book of essays for thoughtful people.

However the books which help one person may not help another. A book which may stimulate another's faith may seem valueless to me. Widely different books are worth-while to different people. One person may rely upon Edgar Guest's "Light of Faith," while another of more scientific turn of mind would turn to J. Arthur Thomson's "Concerning Evolution." Some other books, to which a large group look for enrichment in faith are the new "Anthology of Jesus" arranged by Sir James Marchant, and Bishop Lawrence's "Memories of a Happy Life." For myself I have chosen for Lenten Reading some of these—Washington Gladden's "Being a Christian," Gannett's "Blessed be Drudgery," "That Something" by W. W. Woodbridge, Bosworth's "What it Means to be a Christian," "The Call of the Upper Road" by Katherine R. Logan, "The Charm of the Impossible" by Margaret Slattery, "Ships and Havens" by Van Dyke and Monroe's "Singing in the Rain." These are the biggest "little books" for me just now.

Has that strange thing anything to do with love?

 ment of that Kingdom for which Christ gave His life.

Bishop Statton of Kansas City will give the dedication address. Special services will be held at eleven in the morning and at two-thirty in the afternoon. The Sunday School will observe a Visitors Day to which all friends are cordially invited. There will be an evening musical under the direction of Dean Amador.

The new church is a harmonious whole. The wood-work and furnishings are of silver grey with a faint cast of green. The central auditorium is fitted with pews and the balcony with opera chairs. At the south-east corner of the pulpit is the large pipe organ. This organ, costing $6000. 00, is of the free manual type and is a very splendid one. All told, the church will cost about $65,000. 00.

Yes, Mrs. Smarty, but I won't do it—just to spite you!

THE MARATHON

The Marathon went into the hands of the printer on April first, as planned. After much scurrying around for material, the dummy was completed. If there are any omissions it is due, in part at least, to the ones who were asked to collect the material. We wish to thank everyone who contributed their help in this compilation. We believe that it will truly be "Everybody's Marathon."

The Republican Printing Company is busy at work on the book and expect to have it ready for delivery by May first. You will not be asked to make your final payment until that date, but if you can do so before, it will greatly facilitate the distribution of the books. Those who are paid up in full have a right to expect their copies before others. We can also receive further orders, if anyone cares to place them at this time.

I play the most classic and tuneless music by the ton!

BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

The following students have earned the Palmer Students Final Certificate in penmanship: Marie Meyers, Mildred Watt, Hazel Hackel, Genevieve Peterson, Esther Klein, Edwin Winkler, and Anna Strunc.

Mrs. Nelson earned a Smith Certificate in the recent typing contest, Merma Howey was awarded a Bronze Pin on the L. C. Smith machine. Marie Meyers and Esther Klein earned Underwood Certificates.

The enrollment of the Business College has decreased due to the fact that a number of them are "going back to the farm" for the spring work. They expect to return next fall to complete their work.

EVANGELISTS LEAD CHAPEL

Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Rose and Ralph Shirk, members of an evangelistic party, holding meetings at a tabernacle in York, gave a brief song service at chapel the other morning. They also tendered an invitation to

ELEPHANTS

The elephant is man's most intelligent helper. But—consider this interesting comparison:

An elephant is much larger than the electric motor of a "yarder" or logging machine. The "yarder" has the power of twenty elephants; it handles clusters of logs; it works dependably, twenty-four hours at a stretch, if necessary.

Twenty elephants would eat daily 10,000 pounds of green food, which a corps of attendants must gather. A motor "eats" nothing but electricity, supplied at the throw of a switch.

Power used in the modern industrial world is applied through electric motors—tireless "iron elephants" that are relegating antiquated machines to museums, along, with such oldtime household articles as wash-tubs and ordinary irons—and stuffed elephants.

Two million elephants could not do the work now being done by General Electric motors. Whatever the work to be done, whether it needs the power of an elephant or the force of a man's arm, there is a General Electric motor that will do it faithfully for a lifetime at a cost of a few cents an hour.

KAMPUS KWIPS

There is an epidemic of abbreviated trousers affecting the men on the campus. The exact cause of the malady is not known. One conjecture is that some overly intelligent haberdasher is ridding himself of an over-supply of boy's trousers left on his shelves when our kid-brothers started wearing long ones. Right now the number of knee pants on the college campus will far outnumber those at any of the ward schools, but such is perversity.

We have a senior Co-ed in one of our classes who cannot resist using things she finds. The other day in the midst of an august discussion she picked up a match from the floor and with a fascinated air lighted it and held it up in great glee. We can only fervently hope that she never finds a bomb or a machine gun.

Ye editor of this strip has been assigned the unpleasant task of interviewing instructors. We are hurrying through the list. Here is the first.

Professor of Psychology

The professor was busily sorting and filing neurones when we entered. We waited. He unpacked a few crates of potentialities and instincts, sorted some more proclivities and placed an assortment of emotions within reach on his desk. Then he turned and beamed on us, we beamed back. "Have you been psycho-analyzed," he thundered. "No," we answered and waited. "Put this in your mouth," said he. We did, it was a wall thermometer. It showed eighty-four degrees centigrade. "Answer me yes or no," said he. We did.

"Are you for or against your college?" "Yes," we gulped. "What!" he asked. "No," we answered and the centigrade mounted to eighty-seven.

"Do you feel silly when awakened from a nightmare?" he asked. "Yes," we blushed and the mercury showed a slight tinge of green. Then the end blew out of the thermometer and we left the room!

LIFE WORK RECRUITS

The Life Work Recruits held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dean Bisset. We are taking up the study of a missionary book, "The Christ of the Indian Road" by Stanley E. Jones. ,

We learn that the people of India are seeking for new light. The youth are breaking away from old customs and superstitions more rapidly each year. They would like to attempt to be like Christ but they do not care to be called Christians. They make a distinction between our Christ and our Christianity. There is perhaps danger of our making our high standard of civilization our Christianity, rather take the place of it.

Christianity has been forced upon people at the point of the sword when it ought to have been preached. The Indians know this was not Christ's method of spreading His Gospel. They think it is possible to be a Hindu yet serve Christ and follow his teachings. It is not an easy matter to get them to accept Christ. The people to whom Christ is presented must be studied so that the missionary may know how to present Him.

Mr. Bisset gave a talk on the needs and problems of India. Miss Thorp told us something of the customs and religious activities of the people. When the people really get an insight into what the missionaries are trying to do they respond very readily.

After the meeting a social time was spent. Waffers and punch were served. The recruits were delighted to spend the evening at the home of Dean and Mrs. Bisset.

The next meeting is to be held April 19, 1927 at 7: 15 in the reception room of the Con.

MRS. GEORGE ROSE TALKS TO Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. had a very inspirational meeting on March 29, 1927. The prelude was a zylorimba solo played by Esther Strickler. The devotional exercises were conducted by Bernice Wilson. Then Mabel Shelquist, president, introduced Mrs. Rose. I shall endeavor to give you a few thoughts from her talk.

Text: "I came that they might have life and have it more abundantly." Subject: "The Menace of the Trivial."

"Today much attention is paid to our diet. We know that such attention has produced the healthiest and handsomest generation. But to much attention is paid to the physical diet and not enough to the spiritual diet.

"The crime wave is the result of this neglect. With the crime wave a wave of irreverence and vulgarity is cast over the people.

"Vulgarity should be avoided by all. It blinds one to the high, the pure, the holy, and the beautiful of life. Vulgarity is caused by a cheap desire for the applause of life. We should beware of cheap ways.

"It has been said that many people did their graves with their teeth. It is just as possible to dig a grave with a broom or crochet hook. It is all right to keep the house clean but we need not devote our entire time to house cleaning.

Many people have musical or literary talent or artistic tendencies. But they satisfy these desires with trivial things. The musician gives her talent to jazz; the one having literary talent reads cheap literature; the artistic one satisfies that desire by attending cheap movies.

The question was asked, "What would I do if I didn't have to do anything?" Many people need a boss and the best boss is Necessity. If one has lots of leisure time on her hand she should beware of becoming expert in trivial things.

"College girls desire diplomas, and this is a fine desire, but diplomas cannot guarantee abundant life. We must give that through personality. We must give to humanity. We cannot give the best unless we have Christ with us."

In closing Mrs. Rose left the following thought: "Youth is the time to determine whether old age shall be a beautiful consummation or a bitter regret."

Y. W. C. A. SLUMBER PARTY

It has always been an accepted fact that slumber parties are for girls only. Not so when the old and new Y. W. C. A. Cabinets held their annual slumber party, March 18, 1927 in the girls' rest room at the gymnasium.

One boy and eighteen girls had a most joyous time at this party. The boy was dressed in blue overalls and a bright green shirt, —he had a shoe part of the time, and was even seen in company with a cap. He was a jolly little fellow and made life miserable for any one wanting to take a midnight nap. It is reported that he even kissed one of the girls. Ask Ruth!

The girls began to gather at the gym about 9:30 P. M. and we feel quite sure that the latest arrival was there by 11 o'clock. The girls did not find it hard to amuse themselves. Here are some of the forms of entertainment. Foot races, wrestling matches, track meets, prize fights, pillow fights, water fights, tug-o-war, eats, and a little bit o' sleep.

At midnight a lunch consisting of scrambled eggs and bacon sandwiches and apples was served to some very tired girls.

No matter how tired they were it was far too early to sleep. After preparing and repairing the beds several times the lights were turned out and bed-time stories were told. About 2: 30 A. M. everyone was almost asleep when Jean Turner felt a mouse. If the amount of noise produced would win a hog-calling contest the girls feel sure that Jean is able to compete with anyone.

After 3 o'clock no one was heard except Hazel Smith. I suppose the other girls don't give Hazel enough time to talk in the day time, so she makes up for it at night.

Morning came far too soon. The girls tried to dress but in some strange way part of the clothes seemed to be missing. Never mind Vivian, we know who got up first.

Girls are never too old to learn, Did you know that boys washed their socks before retiring? We girls have discovered one boy that does that very thing. What's going to happen next?

If you could count the bruises and aches you would know that the cabinet girls had a wonderful slumber party.

Y. W. C. A. BANQUET

On March 18, 1927 at 5:30 P. M. the Y. W. C. A. of York College held its annual banquet in the basement of the new United Brethren church. This was the first banquet to be held in the new church.

The installation of the new cabinet was held first. The giving of the lighted candles to the new cabinet members by the former cabinet members made this a very impressive service. The new cabinet is as follows:

- President—Mabel Shelquist.
- Vice-president—Margaret Hill.
- Secretary—Jean Turner.
- Treasurer—Alice Peters.
- Devotional Chairman—Bernice Wilson.
- Social Chairman—Elberta Parker.
- Social Service—Alice Coffey.
- World Fellowship—Dorothy Johns.
- Library—Lucille Edmondson.
- Council—Elta Kuper.
- Publicity—Neva Brookhart.
- Faculty Adviser—Miss Edith Cone.
- Church Adviser—Mrs. Edith Caldwell.

Then followed the lovely banquet which was served by the ladies of the church. The banquet hall suggested St. Patrick's Day. The tables were decorated by large shamrock centerpieces, bouquets of sweet peas, and green candles.

The following menu was served:

- Cocktail
- Riced Potatoes Chicken croquettes
- Relish
- Jelly
- Vegetable Salad
- Cake
- Grape Ice
- Coffee

Toastmistress Camille Pachner introduced the following numbers on the program:

- Vocal Solo—Miriam Bryan.
- Readings—Bernice Wilson.
- To the Knights In the Days of Old—Irene Bachman.
- Serve the King—Mrs. Pearl Noll.
- Musical Reading—Lucille Edmondson.
- Standards of Worth—Miss Edith Cone.
- Follow the Gleam—Mabel Shelquist.

Song—Follow the Gleam, by all present.

Those present feel that they received much benefit from this splendid program and banquet.

Y. M. C. A.

Three weeks ago at the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting, the new officers for the coming year were installed.

Dean Bisset presided as the following new officers took their respective places:

- President, Homer Watkins; vice president, Ray Bryant; secretary, Arthur Farnham; treasurer, Harlon Moore; devotional chairman, Thornton Miller; musical chairman, Harold Jeffers.

We are sure that, under this new leadership, the association will continue to influence life on the campus as it has in the past.

Two weeks ago Rev. Rose spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. He gave us a very interesting and vital message. His main thought was that we should use the Bible as a guide, no matter what our life work is, and then we can't go wrong.

Last Tuesday we had a musical program. After a short devotional service Mr. Shirk sang two songs for us.

Following this, the Sophomore quartette sang a number. As a closing selection Ivan Caldwell played a violin solo. Each of the numbers was very well rendered and appreciated very much by those present.

Y. W. C. A.

Two weeks ago Bernice Wilson led our devotions. Our new president, Mabel Shelquist gave us a very inspiring talk on "Love." We, as Y. W. girls can help the organization in many ways. We can help by boosting the Y. W., by serving on committees, by appearing on programs cheerfully and one of the greatest ways is by attending every meeting, where our presence is needed. We have no greater chance to develop our talents and our life in all our relationships than we have here in college. Let us do each day the things our hands find to do. Then she told the beautiful story of the love of Tigranes.

Tigranes was the son of the King of Armenia. He and his wife and his aged father and mother were among the prisoners who were being taken before Cyrus, the king of Persia. Cyrus asked Tigranes what his ransom should be. After quite a pause Tigranes answered that if the great king would spare his beautiful wife and let her go back free to their country, he would gladly give up his life.

Cyrus said that such love would not go unrequited, but that all should go free. Then the royal troupe started back to Armenia and after all these years the world still loves to hear the story of these royal lovers.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING OF APRIL 5

Prelude—Violin Solo, "Berceuse from Jocelyn" by Godard, Virginia Edwards.

Devotions—Led by Lucille Edmondson.

Announcements—Mabel Shelquist. Vocal Solo—"Look Down, Dear Lord," Evelyn Lorence.

Talk—"The A B C's" by Bernice Wilson.

Bernice said that the alphabet is indispensable in our education and likewise Christ is indispensable in our lives. The alphabet is inexhaustible and Christ is inexhaustible in our social, spiritual and physical life and the alphabet is invincible just as Christ is invincible.

PRAYER MEETING

Friday, April 1, at 9:30 the girls of York College held a prayer meeting in the Pals Hall. Elberta Parker had charge of the meetings. The girls were glad that they could help the great cause of Christ in this small way.

PLAYS AT HENDERSON

- Mary Blake, detective .....
- ..... Genevieve Peterson
- Becky, a maid .....
- ..... Leona Dunker
- Annie, a maid -Neva Brookhart
- Miss LeRoy, hotel clerk.....
- ..... Camille Packner
- Sadie Billings, maid Viva Patton

It met with approval from a small but appreciative audience.

The second play, a farce in one act, was "Chums," given by the Y. M. C. A. It was necessary for three members of the cast to discard masculine attire to assume feminine roles. The characters were as follows:

- Mr. Breed, a Vermont Squire .....
- ..... Lloyd Nichols
- Harry Breed, A. B. Harvard, his son .....
- ..... Floyd Mann
- Tom Burnham, leading lady of the Pi Eta Theatre Arthur Farnham
- Flora Strong, Mr. Breed's niece.....
- ..... Theodore Thompson
- Mrs. Breed .....
- ..... Francis Harbert

The plot of this play is a sequel to "Charlie's Aunt" with comedy reigning supreme. Those who helped with the direction of the plays were Elanor Allen, Aleta Marlow, Hazel Bearss, Hazel Smith, Clinton Sittler and Ellen Mann, sponsor. The persons who made the trip report a fine time, thanks to the generous hospitality of the Henderson people.
