Faculty Spends Vacation Days in Preparation

Summer Courses Taken Along Special Lines At Different Schools

Miss Eda Rankin, head of the piano department at the Hullitt Conservatory, spent six weeks this summer in Chicago, studying under Josef Hevinne, a Russian pianist. Miss Rankin took private lessons and class work.

One interesting concert she attended was given by a four-year old girl prodigy who is considered a very wonderful pianist. Besides this she heard the Chicago Symphony and attended the grand opera at Ravinia Park.

Prof. W. C. Noll, head of the biology department, attended the Chicago University. He and Mrs. Noll made the trip overland.

Miss Bessie Riggs, of the English department, attended both summer sessions at the University of Nebraska.

Prof. Warren Baller, who has charge of the education department this year, did graduate work at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

Amadon's Travel East

Dean Charles Amadon and family and Miss Laurene Edmondson took a six weeks vacation in the east. They left York and went to Kansas City, then traveled eastward, visiting the larger cities, and finally arrived at Gettysburg where they visited the historical battle field.

They went to Valley Forge. In New York they visited museums and many other interesting places. Miss Edmondson went by boat from New York to Boston. Here the party visited Paul Revere's home. They spent a week of their vacation at Cape Cod. They came back through Canada, having traveled five thousand miles.

They also visited Harvard, Columbia and Princeton Universities and the New England Conservatory of Music. The birthplaces of Alcott, Hawthorne and Emerson were visited also. The entire party report a wonderful trip.

Shlanta Studies in New York

Prof. Bohdan Shlanta, head of the violin department, has returned after spending the summer studying in New York City. He studied with the eminent teacher, Paul Stronov. The public school music students also will have the benefit of Professor Shlanta's work under Doctor Danu, dean of New York University and authority on public school music.

An interesting thing Professor Shlanta noticed this summer was the attitude of eastern people in response to better music. Paul Whiteman, promoter of jazz, who had a ten week contract at the Paramount theatre of New York for $100,000 was a losing proposition for the management.

Others Enjoy Trips

At the close of the summer session, Dean Bisset spent two weeks visiting his two brothers and a sister at Marysville, Calif. Marysville, which is about 50 miles north of Sacramento, is the Dean's native town and he enjoyed meeting many old friends. On his way home he attended the United Brethren Church Conference at Loveland, Colo. While there he met three of his former students of 1899.

Miss Minta Thorp, head of the English department, was called to Howard, S. D. the last week of the summer session by the serious illness of her mother. After her mother's recovery, Miss Thorp enjoyed a ten day outing in the Black Hills.

REV. YOUNG ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Rev. C. L. Young, pastor of the college church, was speaker at the chapel hour on Friday, Sept. 16. His text was, "So We Came to Rome."

The talk was an inspiring one and this statement, "Men need not only book learning but the backbone to do the thing that needs to be done," is something for the student to think about.

Rev. Young is always a welcome visitor to chapel.

FIVE NEW INSTRUCTORS

Faculty Changes Also Made For This Year.

There have been several changes in the faculty this year. Dean Charles Bisset, who has had charge of the history department is now instructor of Sociology and Bible while Prof. J. C. Morgan has charge of the history department.

Warrick who is taking graduate work at the University of Ohio and assisting in the chemistry department. Professor Miller took up his work here at the beginning of the summer session.

PRESIDENT EMERY MAKES ADDRESS

College Year Formally Opened With Convocation

Opening convocation was held at 10 o'clock on Tuesday, Sept. 13, and was well attended by students and friends.

The program began with the singing of America, following which, the Reverend Young, college pastor, gave the invocation. Miss Dorothy Taylor, the new instructor of expression, gave two readings that were well received.

Pres. E. W. Emery gave the address of the morning. He spoke of the aim and purpose of York College and what education means to the individual. He said, "The business of York College is to educate. Education is not an accumulation of facts to be learned. It is an unfolding of the mind and finally the development of the personality of the student. If York College fails to develop her students from these standpoints, it will very largely be in vain. The business of the college is to take the student as he comes and develop this two-fold purpose. I am glad to welcome you back and look forward to one of the very best years that York College has ever had."

President Emery then introduced the old and new members of the faculty, each responding with a short talk. President Emery called upon Dean Bisset who gave a short address and made announcements.

PALS GIVE RECEPTION

The evening of September 27 was a gala evening for the Pals Literary society. Many new students were welcomed into our midst. They were invited to come to regular meetings and to become members of the Pal society.

A typical Pal program was presented and Dean Bisset gave the welcome and urged every new student to find a place in Literary. Ardith Kull and Esther Strickler played instrumental numbers pleasingly. Mildred Strickler favored the group with a musical reading. Everyone agreed with her, "It's awful to be the youngest in the family." Promila Peters sang a song in Hindustan. The first edition of the Pal Journal was read. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games and singing college songs. Later light refreshments were served.

Once a Pal, always a Pal. Come be a Pal with us.

LITTLE SISTERS ATTEND HIKE IN THEIR HONOR

The Big Sisters in Y. W. have a hike each year and invite their Little Sisters to go with them. At 5 P. M., September 20, a large group of girls met at the Conservatory. The hike ended at the creek south of York. Before lunch Promila Peters taught some of the songs she learned at Lake Geneva Conference this summer.

For lunch the committee served sandwiches, pickles, baked beans, coffee and apples. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing Y. W. songs. Mrs. Emery pronounced the benediction.

Diligence is the mother of good luck.—Poor Richard.

GOOD LUCK OR BAD

Many of us are inclined to blame our failures on to "bad luck" and again we often give credit for our successes to "good luck," but after all our "luck" is usually the natural result of our own efforts.

If we do not prepare our lessons well, it will be "bad luck" when the instructor happens to call on us to answer a question we do not know the answer to. The people who are fortunate in receiving the highest grades usually do so as a result of diligent study.

So it is in all things. When we hear of someone who has done exceptionally well we can feel assured that he has put forth some effort and not left it to "luck."

THE BIG SISTER MOVEMENT

The Big Sister Movement is a splendid one to aid the young freshman girl in college. Not only does the Little Sister find pleasure and companionship in the relation, but the Big Sister herself enjoys playing with her younger girl. The ideal Big Sister will not forget her Little Sister after a few days, but will make it a point to see that her protegee is never lonely, that she meets congenial companions, and is happy in her new environment.

Those of us who find it hard to get to 7:30 classes should be glad that we do not live in India where, owing to the climate, schools begin at 6 A. M.

UNIVERSITIES WON'T FLOAT

Insufficient enrollment has resulted in the cancellation of the proposed round-the-world cruise of the co-educational floating university, the Aurania. The 214 students who had registered for the tour, which was to have started October 15, must find other educational opportunities for the year. Despite the abandonment of the tour this year, plans are being made to carry out the program next year. A. J. McIntosh, in charge of the cruise, reiterates his faith in the value of the co-educational university.

The cruise for men only, aboard the Ryndam, fared little better, and its promoters have announced that it, too, has been abandoned. The reason given is that a late start made it impossible to fill the student quota. The debate on the relative values of "stag" or co-educational cruises therefore remains open.

—The New Student.

BE A BOOSTER

If you think your school is best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow.
If there's anything to do
Let the fellows count on you—
You'll feel bully when its thru Don't you know.

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style
Throw bouquets instead of rocks
For a while
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost

Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.

When a stranger from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are—
Make it strong.
Needn't flatter, never bluff,
Tell the truth, for that's enough
Join the boosters, they're the stug, Sing your song.
—The Stilletto.

YORK REPRESENTED AT STUDENT CONFERENCE

Three of the Association members were present at the Student Conference at Estes Park. They were: Mabel Shelquist, Evelyn Lorence and Ivan Caldwell. Paul Gowdy and Roma Goudy, two former students of York were also present.

for the 1927 conference. Dr. Cornelius of Lucknoer University, India, who received his degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia University discussed the race problem and compared religions. He gave a vivid picture of India.

Industrial life and its problems were presented to the group by Kirby Page. He would have men keep before them "the cross." Altruism is his keynote for solution of the industrial problems.

One other especially interesting leader in the field of religion was Henry Pitt Van Deusen. He presented student problems, the problem of life work and religion to the group. He was the leader of most of the morning devotions.

Ivan Caldwell was appointed a member of the Council of the Rocky Mountain region. Nebraska as a whole was well presented and has many members on the Regional Council.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Miss Pearl Shipman, a former student, was married to Howard Wells on June 22.

Miss Morgan and Lucretia Chambers were married at Osceola on June 3.

Harold Ashmore and Frances Kilpatrick were married on July 31 at the United Brethren church at York. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ashmore are continuing their studies this year.

On Sunday, August 21, occurred the wedding of Marian Wing and John Rowley at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Ivan Jenkins officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Rowley will reside on a farm near Albia, Iowa.

Dr. Robert Stevens was married to Helen Elizabeth Scott on July 27, at Casper, Wyo. Mrs. Stevens is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Dr. Stevens took his pre-medical work at York College, later he was graduated from the college of medicine of the University of Nebraska where he was a member of the Upsilon Nu of Phi Chi. He has opened offices at Oakland, California, where they are now residing.

On Saturday, Sept. 27, Marie Helzer, a former student of York College, became the wife of Clarence Mason of York. Mr. and Mrs. Mason are living in York where he is employed with the Harrison Nursery.

Miss Naomia Fisher who was the president's secretary last year, was married early in the summer to Harry Heltemes of Kansas City where they are making their home.

RECRUITS ENJOY HIKE

The Life Work Recruits of the college hiked to the creek south of York September 21, and had a werner roast. Later they returned to the conservatory where Dean Bisset lead the regular meeting.

David Braun, who finished work on his Bachelor degree this summer, is now attending the Theological college of Yale. George Jenkins '26 and Max Van Wagoner are also studying there.

AFTER THE PARTY

At the C. E. Party, Friday night Much fun was had, all hearts were light;
The games we played were simply swell,
Planned by Evelyn and Ted, so well.

After the party more fun began,
We can see it yet, we surely can.
But listen now, all details note,
For the kitchen force begins to quote!

Outside our door, studying Spanish,
they said,
At a time when College folks are at ways in bed,
Were, well—I guess we'll not tell this time,
But Jeff could tell you if you treat him kind.

He was very much occupied, you may guess,
To take him home, Ivan tried his best.
Another's intentions were also well meant,
When his room-mate, home to bed,
he sent.

Prof. Miller came and helped in the kitchen, good,
Until he'd ate all he possibly could,
And then he bade us all good night,
Leaving us the dishes, O what a sad plight!

Ray helped in the kitchen, with all his might,
When, well—it took him two hours to say goodnite.
We also intended a little to say,
Concerning the freshman who escaped the back way.

To tell you more that we saw, we would,

And gladly, if we thot that we safely could.

But the Kitchen Force must end this tale,
And drop it into the Sandburr mail.

DO AND DONT'S FOR FRESHMEN.

Don't be a "joiner" and scatter your efforts. Select a limited number of activities in which you are interested and give them your whole-hearted support.

Take the initiative in greeting. The other fellow may be more timid than you are.

Don't fail to get sufficient exercise
every day.

Get the habit of going to church on Sunday.

Don't forget the home folks. Let them hear you once a week, at least.

Know the college. Get acquainted with the grounds and buildings, so that you can feel more at home on the campus.

Attend your class meetings. That is part of "school spirit."

Watch the bulletin boards. Many interesting events are scheduled there.

Cultivate a wide acquaintance.
Don't make the mistake of confining yourself to your own "crowd."

Do your daily work daily. It is easier to keep up than to catch up.

Don't save your Monday lessons to prepare Sunday. Get them out of the way Friday or Saturday and have Sunday for rest.

Your freshman year is one of preparation for the rest of your university. So lay a good strong foundation.

Don't become delinquent in your studies.—The Antelope.

Miss Fae Culbertson, '23, was in York visiting with her parents the week before she returned to her work as fifth and sixth grade critic teacher at Kearney State Teacher's College.

Miss Ardu Knight is teaching a rural school near Columbus.

Many a man is doing work day after day that an electric motor can do for less than a cent an hour

College men and women recognize electricity as one of the principal aids to progress in the factory, on the farm, and in the home.

Guided by human intelligence, electricity can do almost any job a man can do. From stirring to grinding, from lifting to pulling, there is a G-E motor specially adapted to any task.

HOW

FRICITION OVER WAR DEBT CAUSED ALARM OF WAR.—How the United States nearly went to war with France over the collection of a debt to us during Andrew Jackson's administration is recounted by Clifford Raymond in an article in Liberty. "In 1831," the writer explains, "the United States got an agreement with France for compensation for the spoliation of American shipping under the Napoleonic decrees. The claims had been pressed for fifteen years without satisfaction."

"Louis Phillipe constitutional king of France, who admired Jackson, suggested confidentially to Livingston, the American ambassador, after continued failure of appropriations in the French chamber of deputies," the writer continues, "that if Jackson would send a strong note to congress on the question, matters might be advanced in Paris."

"In his message of 1834, Jackson recommended that the United States take by force what it had failed to get by negotiations. He asked for a law authorizing reprisals upon French property. He advocated seizures."

"Relations between the two countries were broken, and for several weeks the United States waited the possible event of war. Finally Great Britain offered mediation. America got its money. Louis Phillipe sent an artist over to paint a picture of Jackson for the Tuilleries, and the duke of Wellington said that Old Hickory was a man of spirit."

How to Keep Volumes in Proper Condition

To preserve books, keep them in a light, airy place, in a fairly even temperature, free from dampness but not too dry. For this reason the glass bookcase is not necessarily the best place, unless it is exposed to light and there is some way of ventilating it.

Excessive dryness takes the natural oil out of leather and is one of the principal causes of its disintegration. It may be prevented to a certain extent by keeping humidifiers in steam-heated libraries, but principally by giving leather-bound books, once or twice a year, a treatment with oil. This consists in rubbing their covers with a combination of five parts of lanolin (oil of sheep's wool) and six parts of neat's-foot oil. In doing this, great care should be taken not to get the oil on the leaves, as it will leave an ineradicable spot on paper. Leather bindings which have begun to powder and flake off cannot be restored by this treatment, but the disintegrating process can be arrested.

How Trees Grow

Trees do not grow from the ground up, but the growth is from the ends of the twigs and branches. We have lived in the same place for 30 years and have set out trees and have observed the growth. If you will observe the growth of trees you will see the more tender wood of the new growth at the ends of the twigs every year, or if you drive a nail in the trunk of a growing tree you will find it will stay at the same level. Every year a growing tree will add a new layer of wood just under the bark, which adds to the girth of the tree.—Exchange.

How Flying Machine Works

An Australian has invented a curious apparatus that apparently enables him to fly like a bird. The rig is strapped to his back and includes two upright propellers which, on revolving rapidly, raise the rider from the ground. On each side are wings that open and close like an umbrella. By means of the propellers, the height of ascent is regulated and the landing negotiated. The mechanism is driven by a gasoline motor and is said to have carried the inventor a third of a mile and to a height of 150 feet.

How Thermometer Is Made

In making a thermometer the air is partly driven from the bulb by heating it, the open end of the tube is put into mercury and some of the mercury driven into the bulb by the atmospheric pressure when the bulb cools. By repeating the process the bulb and tube are entirely filled. The mercury is then heated to a high temperature and the tube is sealed at the top and left airtight. Thus, when the mercury cools, a vacuum is left.

COACH LADD HUBKA

HUBKA WORKS SQUAD OUT FOR FIRST GAME

Captain Gilliland Is Shifted to Fullback Position

When Coach "Ladd" Hubka issued the call for all men who played football or who would get out to practice, twenty-eight men reported. Of these only four are letter men but there seems to be plenty of material on hand to make a good team.

Coach Hubka had the men whipped into as good shape as can be expected for the first game of the season.

Captain Gilliland has been shifted to the backfield and is now filling the position of fullback. The rest of the backfield is composed of Kuntzelman at quarter, Franz, Hubka, and Farnham at halves. In the line Voyles and Stoy Smith at the ends; Byrnes, Mann and Lewis at tackle; Wetzbarger and Curtis and at center Jeffers and Samuelson.

Following is the schedule as it now stands:

Oct. 1 Grand Island	York
Oct. 8 Marysville State Teachers College	Marysville, Mo.
Oct. 15 Omaha Uni	York
Oct. 21 Dana	Blair
Nov. 4 Kearney	Kearney

Prof. Warren Baller was discussing school management of earlier times, explaining how the district school was easily managed by a woman teacher until the winter term began. Then, due to the number of big boys entering, it was usually necessary to hire a man to handle them. He went to add, "Now when I entered school they had to get a man teacher."

Who is this man of mystery? A card was found in the mail box at Hulitt Conservatory addressed to Mr. Hulitt Con.

At the Pal Reception Jeffers remarked that it was the first time a Pal Journal had been read that didn't have his name in it.

How Oases Are Formed

An oasis in a desert is generally caused by springs or streams rising from a subterranean spring. In the Sahara there are mountains sufficiently high to induce rainfall in the neighboring lowlands, which thus receive sufficient water to support some vegetation. A combination of soil that holds water, but prevents evaporation, is sometimes found in deserts and greatly favors the formation of oases.

How Cotton Is Dyed

The dye may be applied to the raw cotton, to the yarn or to the fabric. Under equal conditions dyeing the raw cotton allows better penetration and gives a more lasting effect, although when properly carried out either yarn or piece dyeing may be satisfactory.

Ancient Abbeys

An abbey is a monastery of the highest order ruled by an abbot or an abbess. A church always formed the nucleus of an abbey. "The Abbot" is the title of a novel by Sir Walter Scott, founded upon incidents in the life of Queen Mary of Scotland.

Not Lost, but Gone Before.—Two farmers met in town a few days after a cyclone hit the countryside.

"Yes, it did quite a bit of damage our way," said one, reflectively. "By the way, Hank, was that new barn of yours injured any?"

The other shifted his wad of chewing tobacco.

"I can't say rightly," he answered, slowly. "I ain't found it yet."—The Outlook.
