York Clinches The State Title

DEBATERS DEFEAT NEBRASKA CENTRAL IN A DUAL DEBATE

Nebraska Wesleyan Defeats
York Affirmative Team
On Feb. 29

By winning both debates with Nebraska Central on Feb. 17, and losing to Nebraska Wesleyan on March 1, the York College debaters have raised their conference percentage considerably, having now won two debates and lost three.

Against Nebraska Central at home, debating the question, "Resolved: That the United States shall cease to protect, by armed force, capital interests in foreign lands, except after formal declaration of war," the affirmative team won by a 2 to 1 decision of the judges. Schuyler Phillips, '31, Nestor Shlanta, '30, and Homer Crosby, '31, represented York in this debate.

York's negative team, debating the same question against Nebraska Central at Central City, were even more successful, drawing the unanimous decision of the judges. The negative team was made up of Sutton Hice, '29, Harlan Moore, '29, and Raymond Bryant, '29.

On March 1, York met Nebraska Wesleyan at University Place, Lincoln, debating the affirmative side of the same question. There being but one debate with Nebraska Wesleyan, Professor Morgan made some changes in the personnel of the affirmative team. Phillips, Moore, and Hice debated the question with the Wesleyan team, but York lost by 3-0 decision of the judges.

York also met and was defeated by Peru on March 7, but the debate was not a conference debate and so will not effect York's conference percentage.

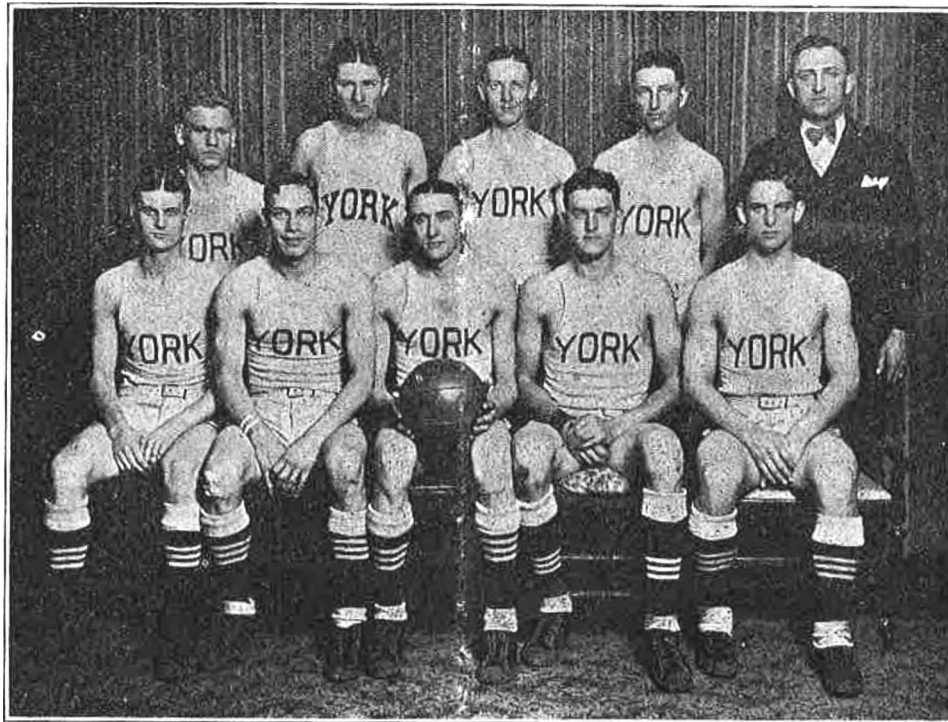

On Monday, March 19, York will meet Doane in a dual debate, the affirmative team of each school remaining at home to meet the negative team of the other school.

YORK WINS FROM DOANE IN DECISIVE GAME OF SEASON

Record Breaking Crowd Sees Championship Game On Home Floor

The York College Panthers clinched the title in the Nebraska Church Athletic Conference when they defeated Doane College on the Panther floor 30 to 27. This was the deciding game, as a win for either meant first place, so the teams fought every minute of the game. This was the first championship to be awarded in the new league, and York's first title since 1919.

The largest crowd of the season was on hand, crowding the small gym to overflowing, and showing the necessity more than ever for having a new field house with a standard size floor and adequate seating space and equipment.

Both teams were keyed up, and within the first minute Sheir of Doane dropped in a counter. "Tod" Kuntzelman got a free throw and Moist a basket to put the Panthers in the lead, but France tallied for the visitors and Doane led again. The lead changed seven times in the first half, and finally ended with York trailing 16 to 12.

The second half opened with Kuntzelman getting a double counter followed by Helzer's basket, and a free toss by Hubka, putting York in the lead for the moment. It was soon knotted at 19 all, but Moist broke thro for a counter, and the Panthers were not headed from then on. At one time York lead seven points, but Sanderson found the hoop and Kind threw a gift shot to end the scoring.

Captain Sanderson and Spielman played an outstanding game for the visitors, while Sanderson and France tied for their scoring honors with seven points apiece.

Elmer Hubka played his best game of the season at guard, and Gilbert played the fine game he always does. "Tiny Moist led the scoring for the Panthers with 12 points, followed closely by "Tod" Kuntzelman, who had 11. Captain Helzer, who is usually high up in the scoring list could garner only two baskets for 4 points, as Doane had a man watching him and following him all the time.

Y. W. ELECTS OFFICERS AT A RECENT MEETING

Esther Strickler, '29, was elected president; Thelma Dierdorff, '30, vice-president; Margaret Hill, '29, secretary; and Alice Coffey, '29, treasurer, at the Y. W. C. A. meeting last week. Miss Cone was chosen as faculty advisor and Mrs. Baller as church advisor.

The meeting was opened with a song and Ruth Gjerloff led the devotions. New members were given their membership cards. The constitution was read and adopted, after which the election, which resulted as above, was held.

Harlan Moore, Sutton Hice, and Floyd Mann judged a debate at Bruning between the Bruning and Geneva high schools on March 6.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT CLASSIFIES STUDENTS FOR FIRST SEMESTER

Largest number of Omaha decimAverage of compulsory:
19% of seniors average 90 or above.
14% of juniors average 90 or above.
8 23% of sophomores average 90 or above.
4 8-9% of freshmen average 90 or above.

These percentages were taken from the report given by Professor Noll, registrar, at a recent chapel hour.

These facts do not disclose, however, the workers and the shirkers. There are many in the great middle class who work very hard but cannot make high grades" said Professor Noll.

"About 50% of the above students were honor students from their high schools and 35% of the honor students entering York College are in the above class," added Professor Noll.

"But 193% of the freshmen, 8 4-5% of the sophomores, and 17 6-7% of the juniors have failing grades in one or more subjects. The total number of these students is 25, 20 of whom have been asked at some time to leave the hall by Dean Bisset. One freshman boy and one freshman girl were failing when they dropped school. Two sophomore boys, one of whom carried only 13 hours work, failed to earn a single hours credit," Professor continued.

"Financially, as well as otherwise these failures are a great loss to the student who fails. There were 165 hours lost through failures and conditions, at an average cost of $4.00 an hour, this is a loss of $660.00.

"It is not a disgrace to fail in a subject but it is a disgrace to fail in all of one's subjects," Professor Noll stated.

"And finally, one freshman girl carried 16 hours and averaged 94% in all subjects, one sophomore girl carried 18 hours with an average of 93%, one junior girl, who works at night

SWEATERS WILL BE GIVEN

All of the York football players, who are eligible to receive football letters, will also receive sweaters, according to President Emery, who said that six sweaters have already been ordered through Read's Clothing Store.

"The boys certainly deserve them," said President Emery, "and we wish we could give one to every boy who got out, but we must observe the requirements."

ANNUAL FACULTY MEETING

Conference to be at Midland
March 23-24

Members of the York College faculty will attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska Church College Association to be held at Midland College at Fremont on March 23-24.

Dr. Harry M. Gage, president of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., will introduce the theme of the conference, "The Improvement of College Teaching," at the opening banquet, March 23, and will be the principle speaker at the later meetings, according to The Midland, the student publication of Midland College.

Group meetings of the teachers to discuss the problems relative to their departments will be held on Saturday, March 24. Each department of college activity will have its own program and speakers.

The association is composed of ten Nebraska colleges whose faculties meet for the purpose of standardizing and improving the work of the church schools. The colleges in the association are: Midland, Lutheran, Fremont; Nebraska Wesleyan, Methodist, Lincoln; Doane, Congregational, Crete; Cotner, Christian, Bethany; Grand Island, Baptist, Grand Island; York, United Brethren, York; Hastings, Presbyterian, Hastings; Union, Seventh Day Advent, College View; Dana, Lutheran, Blair, and Nebraska Central, Quaker, Central City.

Promila Peters spoke at the United Brethren Church at McCool on Sunday evening, March 4.

INFORMAL BANQUET IS GIVEN CHAMPIONS BY BOOSTER CLUB

First Basketball Banquet Well Attended by Students and Faculty

The basketball champions of the Nebraska Collegiate Athletic Conference were guests at a 6:30 o'clock banquet given at the United Brethren Church last Thursday evening. Over 100 students and faculty members were present at the banquet which was sponsored by the Booster Club.

The eight long tables were lighted by blue tapers in crystal candlesticks. Round blue programs tied in white marked each place, and caps also carried out the color scheme of blue and white, the College colors.

President Emery gave the invocation. Between courses the umpire, Theodore Peterson, called the attention of the guests by blowing the whistle, after which he introduced the soloists. The referee, Lloyd Nichols, acted as toastmaster.

"Champs" was the key word for the toasts which were given as follows:

CHAPEL PROGRAMS

Students may seem an unappreciative group, but on the whole they have thoroughly appreciated the manner in which some members of the faculty have tried to vary the chapel services and their efforts to bring something of true value into the daily program which often becomes monotonous.

Along this subject of chapel programs, we would like to suggest that one day of the week be reserved for organization meetings after a short chapel service.

Most organizations need at least 20 minutes to conduct a business meeting of any importance, and they should be assured of that much time from one chapel period a week if any effective, well planned work is to be done.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Sometime ago the question of student government was brought up in the Sandburr. Since then both faculty and students have been investigating the organization of student governments in other colleges. The subject has been discussed and debated in the literary societies.

Many of the faculty as well as the students seem heartily in favor of the plan and many of the alumni have expressed their approval. The matter has been carefully thought over from all angles and everyone is now ready for the plans of organization to be presented.

Only twelve weeks of the present year remain but this is ample time to test the working of a student council if the organization is effected immediately.

WINNING THE CHAMPIONSHIP

York College is indeed proud of the record made by the basket ball team this season. The last game with Doane, which decided the championship, was a splendid contest, the Doane Tigers fighting to keep their place at the head of the conference and the York Panthers striving for the title.

The members of the team have worked hard and due credit should be given to the men who have worked on the second team, making it possible for York to win the championship.

Oftentimes the wish comes that this editorial column were a syndicated feature of a city newspaper, then we could say anything or nothing and everyone would read the column and think we were very wise.

Twelve weeks left in which to climb onto a different plane in the registrar's survey.

CANDLE LIGHTING SERVICE

A candle lighting service was held in Y. W. C. A. on Feb. 28. The candles of personal service, possessions, and prayer were lighted. Jean Turner, Alice Kuper, and Thelma Manning gave talks on those respective subjects. Esther Olewine read appropriate scripture for each talk.

A quartette composed of Miriam Bryan, Doris Stiverson, Evelyn Lorence, and Lucile Edmondson, sang and hummed hymns. They were accompanied by the Strickler girls playing the xyloimba.

LETTER BOX

20 Westmoreland Road,
Bayswater, London W2,
February 14th, 1928.

Miss Irene Bachman,
York, Nebraska.

Dear Faculty, Fellow students, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., L. A. S. of U. B. Church, and all friends and co-workers:—

We bring greetings and deep thanks to you collectively and individually, who have helped to make possible the fine purse of $100.00 just received and expended by your servant for much needed equipment for Michener Hospital, Jjama, Sierra Leone, West Africa.

Surely you have come to our rescue in a very admirable way in helping us to convert an empty building into as yet, a semi-efficient and functional hospital when we shall shortly arrive and install our assemblage of medical and surgical equipment.

You'll be glad to learn that since reaching New York City last September, I have purchased approximately $500.00 worth of equipment and supplies for the hospital, of which our Mission was only obliged to contribute $200.00.

I have now just saturated my mental apartments for the past twenty weeks with the latest "hot dope" from the world's great and foremost clinical and research authorities in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene at the London School of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, and am now completing our lot of equipment and are packing preparatory to our continued voyage to the land of our past decade of dreams, Africa, "land of sunshine." We sail from Liverpool, England on February 29th inst, via, S. S. "ABA" of Elder-Dempster Line.

England is a very beautiful and historic country with innumerable places of interest many of which we have seen and more yet which we want to see when the intense rush is shortly over. I wish for each of you that somewhere in your programme you can arrange a good bit of travel for without it one's education cannot be complete.

Now in closing I ask that each of you place our address in a prominent place where it will remind you often that Conner's would welcome a letter from you. Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Conner and Son, Jjama via Hangha, Konno Country, Sierra Leone, West Africa. Please note the joy that a two cent stamp will bring us away down south.

With great joy in His Service, we remain,

ELWIN, EVA and JR.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB GIVE VESPER SERVICE SUNDAY

A five o'clock vesper musical program was given by the York College Glee Club, under the direction of Chas. H. Amadon, dean of the music department, at the United Brethren Church on March 4.

The program, which was broadcasted over the local radio station, KGBZ, consisted of musical numbers together with a short talk by the Rev. C. L. Young, pastor of the United Brethren Church, on "Religion and Music."

The numbers given were quite varied, the most unique being a bass duet by Dean Amadon and Bohdan Shlanta. The duet was taken from the oratorio, "Israel in Egypt," by Handel.

Another feature was a violin solo, Andante from "Orpheus," played by Professor Shlanta. The girls trio composed of Lucile Edmondson, Doris Stiverson, and Miriam Bryan, sang "Ave Maria." There were also a number of choral numbers.

TRAVELS OF PHILBAD, GEEZER, AND SCRIBE

Editor's note: This is the third of a series of features written by David Braun who is now studying at Yale.

It seemeth there is a tradition that a university needs must have some books. Of late we became unduly inquisitive concerning the matter and we interrogated extensively. "Come with us," quoth Philbad and Geezer, "and we will show thee where are kept the many books of the learned," so we sallied forth. We crossed what has been dubbed the old campus and on either side were statues of bygone patriarchs. "Yon specimen hath undoubtedly a severe pain, or mayhap the sins of our generation troubleth him," said we of a peculiarly esoteric looking individual. "Hush," said Philbad, "the likeness was made of him as he slept and it hath been said of him that he did sleep intensely so that the noise of seven muskets could not have awakened him, that accounts for his determined look." We went on until we came to an ancient edifice that appeared to be sick of the palsy and might at anytime fall. We went in; it did not fall.

Within the main chamber were tables and seated about them, apparently reading, were several score men in various stages of application ranging from eager study to ennui. About the walls in cases were thousands of volumes so that verily they reached upward to the ceiling. We entered other rooms and they were equally crowded and we retired to the crypt where are kept the ancient and priceless manuscripts of past masters. And we were greatly amazed and we said until Philbad, "Knoweth any man the sum of all the learning contained in these countless volumes?" And Philbad said, "Nay, no one can know all." And we said, "But many people know that here they may come and seek learning," and Philbad said, "Verily, it is so." "Then," said we, "mayhap true knowledge is not so much the accumulation of data as knowing where it may be found." And Philbad replied, "So be it."

And as we recrossed the old campus, the statues of the patriarchs of the past smiled a little smile as we passed.

And we went home and we meditated and we were thankful for the men of old who did discern the truth and preserve it for us. And we wrote in our book a proverb, "Man's life is limited only by the years his influence lives," and "How brief is the life of him who seeketh after his own and how eternal is the life of a righteous man who doeth good."

CON NOTES

Mrs. Dierdorff of Aurora visited her daughter, Thelma, on Feb. 23 and attending the Burkhart meetings.

Several organizations reserved tables in the dining room during the Burkhart meetings. During the tournament many of the players ate at the cafeteria.

Hazel Railsback, who has just recovered from an operation, is back in school.

A birthday party was given in honor of Hazel Railsback on Friday evening, March 2 in the reception room. Miss Thorp conducted a class in reading and writing the Chinese language, which provided much amusement. Refreshments of pineapple ice and waffles were served about 9:15 and all the guests went to their rooms refreshed.

Marjorie Carpenter, '31, and Lela House, '31, were greatly surprised when they entered their rooms and found everything they possessed in most obscure places that the ramsacker could have put them. Such is the life of freshmen, no matter when or where they enter college.

Alice Kuper, '31, and Elta Kuper, '29, spent the week end of March 2 at their homes in Nelson in order to be present at the celebration of the wedding anniversary of Elta's parents.

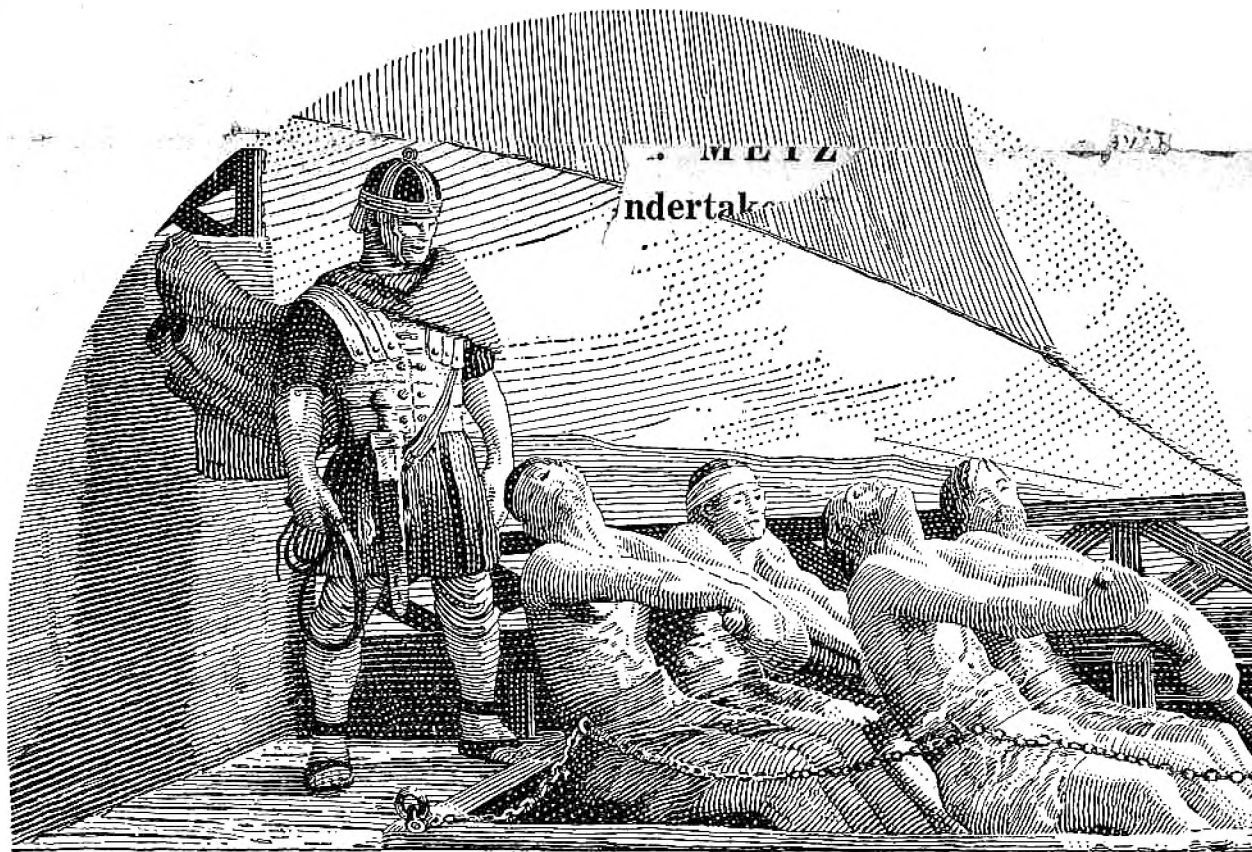

PERSONALS

Raymond Bryant preached at the Girls' Industrial Home at Geneva on Sunday, March 11.

Harlan Moore visited home folks at Cheney from March 1-4.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT

(Continued from first page) also averaged 90% in 17 hours and one senior girl, who keeps house besides attending college, averaged 91% in 16 hours work. One junior boy, who assists in the laboratory also, averaged 92 3-5% on 16 hours and another junior boy averaged 91 1/2% on 17 hours work," he concluded.

Galley Slaves

Chained to their seats, cringing under the lash, the galley slaves slowly propelled the heavy hull of a Roman warship.

Today, the electric motors of an American battleship have the energy of a million men, and drive thousands of tons of steel through the water at amazing speed.

Man is more than a source of power in civilized countries. Electricity has made him master of power. In coming years, the measure of your success will depend largely on your ability to make electricity work for you. Competition everywhere grows keener, and electricity cuts costs and does work better wherever it is applied.

In industry, transportation, the professions, the arts, and in the home, you will find General Electric equipment helping men and women towards better economies and greater accomplishments.

WILCOX LECTURES ON CONRAD

Rouse B. Wilcox, professor of English at Nebraska State University, presented his sixth and last lecture on "The Novel" at the public library March 6. "Joseph Conrad and His Works" was the subject of this lecture.

Mr. Wilcox said that Joseph Conrad was great because he illustrated everything that was new, because he was forward-looking, and because there was no one even remotely like him. He was and is the most significant writer of the novel.

According to Prof. Wilcox, the greatest thing about Conrad's novels is his theory of solidarity. Every person is cut off, or an outcast, from every other person by one or more of four things, namely; race, inheritance, circumstance or character. Every person is an unsolved puzzle to every other person.

Mr. Wilcox said that the best novel is not the one which is thought through to its conclusion before writing, but rather the one which grows naturally as it is written. In Conrad's novels the characters are always natural and do natural things, and so in real life no one ever attains his dreams, so the climax is always a shattered dream.

Conrad writes objectively, not saying a thing is beautiful or ugly, but setting it forth as it is and letting the reader decide for himself. "For an author has no right to decide whether a thing, place, or character is beautiful or ugly," was the declaration made by Mr. Wilcox.

In conclusion Prof. Wilcox spoke of "Lord Jim," the hero of which is a man whose highest ambition was to be commander of a vessel under trying conditions. But in a panic he jumped into the life boat and saved himself, leaving his passengers to their fate. By this unpardonable sin he shattered his own dream and undermined his own self-respect. The remainder of his life was spent in running away from his error. "This book," said Mr. Wilcox, "is very true to life."

WHY HAVE DATES?

Editor's note: This feature article appeared in a recent issue of The Chicago Daily News under the general head of "As Others See Us." Miss Peters is a senior in York College.

Isabella Thoburn College of Lucknow is one of the best women's colleges in India and not inferior to any sectarian college of this country. Yet, perhaps we are not quite civilized in that college because we have no such custom of having "dates!"

When I first came to this country I heard a great deal about dates and concluded in my mind that only girls and boys who intend to marry each other have dates.

One day last year I was asked to speak to a number of students in Lincoln, Neb. After I had finished my speech, a young American university boy came up to me. He seemed to be much interested in me and we had a good talk about India. After awhile he turned to me and said, "May I come and see you one of these days? I'll show you the places worth seeing in Lincoln and then we can go to a show." I thought a moment and it suddenly dawned on me that he was making a date. I turned around to him and said, "Yes, you come. But you see, we could never think of marrying."

The poor boy turned crimson and I never saw him again!

The York High school chapter of the National Honor Society held its annual banquet, in honor of new members, at the High School building on Friday, March 2, at 6:00 p. m. Ten alumni members are attending York College this year, two of whom are charter members.

This organization corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa, university honor fraternity. Its aim is to raise the standards of character, scholarship, leadership and service in the larger high schools of the United States.

THE CONSERVATORY ON WHEELS

"The conservatory on wheels" is the name which has been humorously applied to the music department of York College by the several music instructors. This name was adopted because of the various trips made to other towns by the instructors, separately and in groups.

Prof. Bohdan Shlanta gives violin instructions at Fairmont on Mondays. He and Dean Amadon, instructor in voice, are training the German Menonite choir in chorale work every Monday night at Henderson.

On Wednesday afternoons Miss Eda Rankin, instructor in piano, Dean Amadon and Professor Shlanta drive to Aurora where they have music students. Professor Shlanta also directs the symphony orchestra of that city on Sundays.

Last week the "conservatory on wheels" made a longer trip when four of the instructors went to Omaha to attend the Nebraska Music Teacher's convention. Dean Amadon, Prof. Bohdan Shlanta, Miss Eda Rankin, and Miss Laurene Edmondson were those who attended.

FAIRMONT WINS IN CLASS A FINALS AT "Y" CLUB TOURNAMENT

Swanton Winner in Class B; Western Wins Finals of Class C

Two of the three final games of the York College Tournament, played Saturday night, were one-sided and uninteresting, but the Class A game between Fairmont and McCool was fast and thrilling.

Both teams held the lead at times, and only after two extra periods could Fairmont best the McCool club. The first half ended 15 to 11 in favor of McCool, but in the second half the Fairmont team perked up and played as good ball as McCool. In the first extra period Fairmont immediately scored three points and it looked like their game, but Captain Creech of McCool found the basket for a field goal and a free throw just before the time was up.

After a five minute rest they were at it again, but the pace was telling and all the shots went wild. Captain Kemp of Fairmont finally connected with the hoop for the winning two points just before he was forced out of the game with an injured ankle. He left the game with 13 seconds to play, and the game ended 30 to 28 in favor of Fairmont.

The Class B game went to Swanton, who won from Surprise 42 to 19. The first half ended 33 to 2, and in the second half the subs were used. Swanton's six foot eight center, Schmidt, was their main factor. He would stand under the basket and lay them in while the rest of the team fed the ball to him.

The Class C game went to Western, who also seemed to belong in a higher class, the game ending 33 to 19 in their favor over Giltner.

Following the Class A finals President Emery expressed the thanks of the college for the players and fans who had helped make the tournament a success. He then presented Coach Hubka, who gave the loving cups to the captains of the winning teams.

HONOR TEAMS ARE CHOSEN

Captain Helzer Selected as Center

After the season comes the period of speculation as to who will make the all-conference team. When the honor teams were picked, Captain "Slicker" Helzer was an easy choice for center position on the first team. His playing ability made him an almost unanimous choice for that position. "Tod" Kuntzelman placed on the second team, and Gilbert received honorable mention. The rest of the first team were: Guards—Loder of Wesleyan, and Sanderson of Doane; Forwards—McCrary of Hastings, and Nordstrom of Midland, who was selected to captain the team. Nordstrom was high point man in the conference with 119 points, followed by our captain with 107 points. Kuntzelman was third with 97 points, and received a number of votes, pushing McCrary for a first team position.

W. G. Kline, the veteran coach who originated the five-man defense and triple-threat offense in basketball, picked a team of ten men for the first honors. The team was composed of four forwards, and guards, and two centers. On this team Kuntzelman, Gilbert, and Helzer all placed, while "Slicker" was slated to captain them. Kline also selects an all-state composite collegiate team, picked from both conferences, on which both "Tod" and "Slicker" were again placed.

PANTHERS WIN TWO GAMES IN MIDWEST A. A. U. AT OMAHA

Defeat Peerless Cleaners and The Jewish Community Center Team

The York College Panthers entered the Midwest A. A. U. basketball championship tournament in Omaha on March 5. The tournament games were held on the Creighton College basketball floor.

The Panthers whipped the Peerless Cleaners of Omaha in the first game by the score of 25 to 8. The Peerless Cleaners are leading the Jewish Community League in Omaha but they were easy for the Panthers.

The next day York drubbed the Jewish Community Center team 39 to 9. This was another easy game and Coach Hubka used all seven of his men. Kuntzelman led the scoring with 11 points followed by Franz and Felton with 8 each while Gilbert got six and Moist, Helzer, and Hubka 2 apiece.

The third game played with the Trulock Motors of Northboro, Iowa proved one of the upsets of the evening because York was doped to win but even the best of plans go wrong sometimes and the Panthers lost a close game 22 to 19.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT

The long and short of basketball was seen in the finals in Class B between Swanton and Surprise at the York College invitation tournament.

The Swanton center, Schmidt, topped 6 feet, 8 inches and when he was removed for the second half, the Surprise coach substituted Salisbury, diminutive center, who reached a height of 3 feet, 8 inches.

In the last few minutes of play, a player fouled the little man for two shots by brushing his ear and Salisbury sank one basket to the great enjoyment of the fans.

MODERN PIED PIPER

The York College band proved to be a modern Pied Piper when the rehearsal, preparatory for the York-Doane game, was being conducted on the campus.

Listening to the magic strains of familiar college songs, students leaned from windows so see who the pipers were. Soon the fascinating call of pep songs made even the seniors forget their studies. From the doors of the Administration building, students went running, putting on hats and coats as they went to join the growing crowd that was already following the pipers.

As the pipers marched down the street, housewives and business men hurried to see the excitement. Many students fell into line and joined in the hearty rallies held on each corner of the square.

The pipers led the spirit that helped to win the championship that night.
