STUDENT VOLUNTEERS MEET AT YORK

Y.M.C.A. OF COLLEGE HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET ON FEB. 28

Installation of Officers Is Made Preceding Banquet and Program.

The annual membership banquet of the Young Women's Christian Association was held at the United Brethren Church on the evening of Feb. 28. The service for the installation of officers was held first, after which the members enjoyed a delicious banquet and toast program.

The dining room of the church was prettily decorated with the tables forming a rainbow. The lights were rainbow colored, the programs decorated with rainbows, and the nut cups represented pots of gold. About sixty were served by the ladies of the church.

Alice Coffey acted as toast mistress for the following program:
Gold, Purity.....Esther Strickler
Plano Duet.....
Neva Brookhart, Thelma Dierdorff
Red Loyalty.....Hazel Bearss
Reading.....Ethel Jose
Blue, Truth.....Annabelle Doke
Girl's Trio.....
Lois Overmiller, Ethel Dixon and Margaret Hill

FOOD CONSUMPTION IS GREAT AT CAFETERIA

In an interview with Miss Emma Fye recently many interesting facts were disclosed concerning the cost of food used at the College cafeteria and concerning the management of the cafeteria.

The groceries, including fresh fruits, vegetables, and so forth, are mostly bought wholesale from local dealers. The bills for these average $200 per month. Bills for meat run about $100, for bread $35, for milk $35, making a total of $371 per month.

Besides these items there is the ice cream, served every Sunday, which usually amounts to about $10 per month, while the butter averages about $10 also. On the whole the bills for the month range from $400 to $500, depending upon the amount of staple groceries which have to be stocked every so often.

All the cakes and pies served at the cafeteria are baked right there, but the bread, rolls and cookies are bought from the bakery. All business is done on a cash basis, and bills are paid weekly by check. One can see by the amounts paid out each month that the cafeteria is run on no small scale, and that Miss Fye is entirely justified in calling it "a big concern."

INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL TOURNEY BEING PLANNED

An inter-class basketball tournament is being arranged to be played off the last part of this week. This is an annual affair which usually precedes the regular season. However, due to the epidemic of "flu" last fall it was impossible to have it then.

The senior class of this year have "copped" the honors since they have been in school, but the freshmen class bids fair to give them a real race. Both classes have regular players in their ranks. It rather appears as if the juniors and sophomores might have to work hard to make a showing, but their chances are not altogether discouraging.

AND RIGHTLY

They laughed when I sad down at he piano. Some practical joker had emoved the stool.

SIX FRESHMAN GIRLS SING AT PEP CHAPEL ON FEB. 28

An unusually peppy chapel program was given on Feb. 28 by six girls from the Freshman class. As the curtain went up the six girls entered on the stage from the left doing graceful steps to the tune, "On, York College." They sang several popular songs which were cleverly dedicated to different members of the basketball team, and judging by the cheering and yelling from the students it was evident that they created some pep.

DEBATERS TIE DUAL MEET WITH KEARNEY

Affirmative Team Wins Here While Negative Team Is Loser There

The York College debaters broke even with the Kearney Teachers' College debaters. The affirmative team which journeyed to Kearney lost by a decision of 3-0. The negative team which debated at home defeated the Kearney affirmative by a 3-0 decision.

The negative team, composed of Harlie Allen, Sutton Hick, and Wilhemina Feemster, proved to have superior arguments to those of the Kearney team. There was little doubt as to the outcome of the debate before the decision of the judges was submitted to chairman Homer Cross.

The debate was fairly attended by the different classes of the college. The Freshman group were well represented. After the debate they had light refreshments in the Zeta literary hall.

The judges were: Prof. Tyler, superintendent of schools at Benedict; Prof. Mehlers, Stromsburg, and Prof. Blackman, of Aurora.

Y. W. C. A.

On March 5 the new officers took charge of the meeting. Annabelle Doke, devotional chairman, took charge of the program. After a song and scripture Ethel Dixon sang. Following Hazel Bearss, newly elected president, talked.

Miss Bearss first read the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. and then told of the work that was being done all over the world, and of the York College alumni who were doing Y. W. C. A. work in other countries. After her talk a circle was formed around the room and the Y. W. song, "Follow the Gleam," was sung.

The meeting for Feb. 25 was opened by instrumental music followed by a song and the scripture. After the names of the new officers were read Esther Strickler played a xylophone solo.

Mrs. Mohler, who has been a missionary in Porto Rico, gave a talk on their schools, explaining the differences between the schools there and those here. She also told of the work that the small girls had to do, among other things making lace.

PALS PROGRAM FOR MARCH 12.

Extempo, "My Idea of Mars."
Prelude.....Ardith Kull
Talk, "Is Gossip Harmful?"
Esther Barker
Musical Number.....Ben Boese
Scandal, Thornton Miller, Helen Oliver
Question Box in charge of Evelyn Babcock.

Have you heard of the Scotchman who stood and snapped his fingers on the Fourth of July?

Hoover Says Education Vitally Concerns Nation

PRES. HERBERT HOOVER

On March 4 President Herbert Hoover took the oath of office as the thirty-first president of the United States. Renouncing war, urging peace, demanding law enforcement, President Hoover gave his inaugural address from the east balcony of the capitol.

The new president had some interesting things to say in regard to education. President Hoover states: "Although education is primarily a responsibility of the states and local communities, the nation as a whole is vitally concerned in its development everywhere to the highest standards and to complete universality."

"If we would prevent the growth of class distinction and would constantly refresh our leadership with the ideals of our people, we must draw constantly from the general mass. The full opportunity for every boy and girl to rise through the selective processes of education can alone secure to us this leadership," declared the president.

ART DEPARTMENT CREATES INTEREST AMONG STUDENTS

Much interest is being shown this semester in the Art Department under the supervision of Mrs. J. A. Giauque. The 25 students who are taking fine art have been doing figures, water color, oil and china painting. A number of very fine pieces of work have been completed.

The normal art class of 22 members is specializing in applied designs. This course was offered only this semester. Basketry is a prominent feature this semester. Several of the students are making flower and fruit baskets, as well as trays. Gesso and polychrome work is also being taught, and special features are being promoted for an exhibit in the spring.

Mrs. Giauque is very proud of her department. "I have more unusual talent this semester than has been shown for years," declares Mrs. Giauque.

YORK'S DISTRICT TOURNEY DECLARED BEST IN STATE

The district basketball tournament held here Feb. 22 and 23 was one of the most successful tournaments held in the state, the gate receipts being larger than those of any other tournament.

This speaks well for the efficiency of the "Y" Club which was in charge of the tournament. The College can well be proud of an organization of "Y" men that can handle athletic affairs in such an efficient and businesslike manner. Many of the high school students were very favorably impressed.

INAUGURATION PROGRAM IS HEARD OVER RADIO

On March 4 the student body was privileged to hear the presidential inauguration program over the radio. The radio was installed in chapel and class hours were arranged so that the third hour classes were completed at approximately the time the program began. Vice-president Curtis' inauguration address and the swearing in of the new senators were first heard. President Herbert Hoover taking the oath of office was also heard, after which he gave his inaugural address.

"Y" CLUB SPONSORS INVITE TOURNAMENT

Twenty-five Teams Were Entered to Compete for Trophies Given Winners.

The annual invitation tournament sponsored by the "Y" Club for neighboring high schools was held March 1 and 2 in the new York College gymnasium. There were 25 teams entered but 5 failed to appear.

There were three classes of regular teams and a fourth class for second teams only. A fine exhibition of basketball was given, although only small crowds witnessed the games. The "Y" Club provided some very fine trophies for the winners. Milford captured honors in Class A, and received a mounted silver basketball. Class B was won by Tobias and Waco respectively. The awards were silver figures of basketball players.

For the second team class the award was a silver loving cup. It was won by Benedict after a close struggle with Milford. The "Y" Club handled the tournament in an efficient manner and is to be congratulated. This tournament, an annual activity of the "Y" Club, will be greatly facilitated from now on by the new gymnasium and other improvements.

W. A. A. REPORTS GROWTH

The Womens' Athletic Association of York College is getting off to a good start the second semester, according to one of the members of the Association. Quite a number of the members turn out for basketball practice regularly. The Association hopes to interest more of the young women of the College during this semester. The time of meeting has been changed from Wednesday evening at 7:00 p. m. to Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 p. m. Boost the W. A. A.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF STATE STUDENT VOLUNTEERS MEET

York College Acts as Hostess to Delegates of Colleges in Nebraska.

The State Student Volunteer Convention, held in York on March 1, 2, and 3, to which York College was host, proved to be a complete success, according to reports from volunteers who attended the sessions of the convention.

The first service of the convention was conducted on Friday evening, March 1. Arthur Rugh conducted the devotional exercises, and Miss Wygal gave the address of the evening. On Saturday morning Mrs. E. W. Emery spoke on "Changing Attitudes on Missions—American Viewpoint." Dr. Judd, of China, also gave an address in the morning.

The afternoon session consisted of devotional exercises, addresses, colloquia, and a business meeting of the cabinet and the speakers. At 6:00 p. m. a banquet was served in the dining room of the United Brethren Church. The tables, decked with beautiful flowers, were set to form a "Y." Small flags mounted on flat pieces of candy were on the tables as favors. At the close of the banquet the students from Cotner College gave a play entitled, "Two Masters." After the play the volunteers were addressed again by Dr. Judd.

On Sunday morning at 8:30 a. m. Pres. J. R. Overmiller conducted the consecration service of the convention. Dr. Vartanian, of Omaha University, addressed the volunteers in a brief session at 10:00. The women of the United Brethren Church served the convention guests a dinner as one incidental on the enjoyable program. In the afternoon the officers were installed, and John Elder addressed the convention.

The convention was well attended. Omaha University, Cotner College, Nebraska Wesleyan, Doane, and Midland were some of the schools represented. Between 50 and 60 delegates were registered.

The officers elected by the volunteers are: President, John Green, of Omaha Medical School; Vice-president, Alice Peters, Omaha Nurse's School; Secretary-Treasurer, Eda Krieger, York; National Council Member, Rev. Henry Scherer, Hildreth; Editor of Volunteer Bulletin, Linda Bradway, Omaha University; Business Manager of Volunteer Bulletin, Donald Butler, of Omaha University.

YORK COLLEGE BOASTS A SELECT MEN'S CHORUS

Dean Charles Amadon has selected the best male voices in the College and organized a men's chorus. Such a chorus will be beneficial not only to the young men in the chorus, but also to York College, as a men's chorus is always appreciated on any program. Outside of singing on some of the College half-hour radio programs over KGBZ every Thursday no definite programs have yet been planned.

The personnel of the chorus is: First tenors—Verne Dierdorff, John Boren, Harold Jeffers, and Alonzo Ramp. Second tenors—Harold Ellis, Abe Goertzen, and Milan Lambert. First bass—Brighton Houston, Donald Fisher, and Ben Boese. Second bass—Lee Knolle, Roger Seng, Harlon Moore, and Forrest Stieckler. The accompanist at the piano is Neva Brookhart.

"Well, here's to Y-O-R-K, YORK!"

A FORMAL GARDEN

One of the most beautiful spots on the campus of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, at Ames, Ia., is the formal garden. It is shown to every visitor with genuine pride, and those who visit the campus, described as the most beautiful in the United States, are signally impressed with the well-plotted garden of flowers and shrubs.

A fountain and a pool of gold fish and some water lilies have their place in this garden. In this inviting retreat, decorated with ferns of all varieties, have been preserved many of the wild flowers once common on the prairie slopes of Iowa and the Midwestern states—now rapidly becoming extinct. There are bachelor buttons, black-eyed susans, dutchman's britches, jack-in-the-pulpits, ladies slippers, blazing stars, wild blue phlox, blue bells, violets of all varieties, jacob's ladders columbine, and many others.

And what of it? Well, why couldn't York College—beginning in a small way—create a formal garden also? There is a very suitable plot of ground west of the old gymnasium that would make a fine location. A few trees might have to be taken out of the center of the "forest" to provide ample room for the center of the garden, but otherwise the location is ideal.

This would not necessarily have to be a money-involved project, although some funds might be needed to furnish parts of the garden. However, once started, its care and cultivation should be the interest of the botany classes and their department. Besides being a beauty spot of the campus—and of York—it would serve as a source of study for botany students.

Perhaps some organization on the campus that will always be active from year to year would be interested enough in the project to sponsor it and make it their special activity for the next year or two. York College already has a campus that is more beautiful than the average. A formal garden would add greatly to the attractiveness of our campus.

THE "MINOR" SPORTS

"On your mark, get set, go!" "Ready? Ball one. Fifteen here." "Fore! Oh, boy, what a drive." Soon these familiar expressions of track, tennis and golf will again be heard. But why is it that the sports that one can enjoy after graduation, the ones that can be made to contribute to one's health all during life, are somewhat neglected—at least not enthusiastically promoted, comparatively speaking?

The knowledge and training that is most valuable to us is that knowledge or training that we can use after graduation. Certainly the sports that we can use conveniently after graduation deserve some promotion.

A member of this year's basketball team, a great golf enthusiast and a very good player, offers the following comment:

"Since basketball season is over the interest will be in track, tennis and golf. We will all admit that these three sports are not as well advertised as football and basketball. But these will remain with us after our college days are gone. They are more of an individual game. Team work doesn't enter in so much. We should make our athletic career what we want it to be, because no one will make it for us. We should take more interest in the contests that we can enter into after graduation."

York College ALUMNI

Leslie R. Gregory

A York College alumnus who has made rapid progress in the educational world is Leslie R. Gregory, '17. After teaching several years in Tecumseh and Beatrice Mr. Gregory was called to the position of principal of the Bronx High School in New York. He received his master's degree and doctor's degree from Columbia University, and is at the present time located in Louisville, Kentucky, as assistant superintendent of schools.

Prof. Warren Baller

Warren Baller was graduated from York College in '23. His first year of teaching was in Calloway, where he was very successful in his work. From there he went to Cheney where he taught and also served as pastor of the United Brethren Church there.

In the spring of 1927 he received his A. M. degree from the University of Nebraska, and soon after was called to York College to fill the position of professor of education. At the close of his first year he was elected to the office of Registrar of York College. In this position he has been very helpful in solving the regular problems of the College.

THE EVER-READY SCOT

Sandy was a leader of the kirk. His increasing redness of nose very much alarmed his brother elders, and a delegation waited on him to inquire the reason for the increasing color.

Sandy explained thus: "It is glowing wi' pride at never putting itself in anybody's business."

SOME INAUGURATIONS OF THE PAST

Herbert Hoover is the thirty-first president of the United States. The first four presidents were inaugurated indoor, and beginning with the third president, Jefferson, the ceremonies took place in Washington.

Washington's first inauguration was held in New York, his next in Philadelphia. Monroe was first to take his oath of office out-of-doors, choosing the east portico of the capitol, which has been the place of inauguration ever since that time. Van Buren took the oath of office on March 4, 1837 as the first "American-born" president.

It is customary for the supreme judge, standing near the chief justice when he administers the oath, to open the Bible at random, although some presidents wish to select their favorite verse in the Bible to which to press their lips in a token of their obligation to serve their country. For example, when Grover Cleveland was inaugurated he took the oath of office on a small pocket Bible which had been given him by his mother when a small boy.

At the time of the first president until the time of the inauguration of Harding the inaugural address was heard only by the people at the building. The inaugural address of Harding, however, was amplified so that people could hear his address for three or four blocks, while the address given by Hoover was heard all over the world by means of the radio.

THE HUMMING BIRD: ITS STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

The smallest and most interesting member of the bird kingdom is the "Hummer." The humming bird is small in size, scarcely more than an inch in length, but in spite of its size it is a great traveler, often migrating as far as from Central America to Canada. As it passes from place to place wonder is excited as to how so feebly constructed a little creature can make its way over the regions of lakes and forests. Its admirable instincts are its guide and protector.

The humming bird is among the most fearless of all birds. It has been known to attack hawks, eagles, and crows. Never in any one battle is the "Hummer" the vanquished one. More strange than the bird itself is its family life. The nest is an inch or less in diameter, and is built of shreds of grass or similar soft material. This tiny structure is securely fastened to weeds or trees. Two eggs always appear in each nest and they hatch in slightly less than two weeks.

The male bird is very beautiful and has been called "glittering bits of rainbow." A good part of the humming bird's life is spent on the wing. At feeding time the "Hummer" is seen around flowers where he sips the sweet from the flower, or finds small insects by means of its long slender tongue. Altogether, there are about 600 species of humming birds in America.

Generating Brain Power

BRAIN power, not horsepower, is the chief operating requirement of the electrical industry.

This requirement must be continuously anticipated to provide leaders for the future. Accordingly, each year, more than 400 picked college graduates come to the General Electric Company for a post-graduate course in electrical science.

With a faculty including inventors and engineers of international distinction, something more than electrical knowledge is imparted to these young men. Here they also find inspiration which prepares them for leadership in this electrical age.

EXCHANGE NEWS

The University of Omaha is one of the 400 colleges throughout the United States that has been invited to participate in a nation-wide survey of educational institutions, undertaken to ascertain the real status of the so-called "collegiate" in American life.

"Christian Symbolics," a book upon which E. H. Klotsche, Ph. D., D. D., professor of Greek at Midland College, and exegesis at Western Seminary, has been working for several years, is now off the press. The book, which was written to acquaint students, pastors, and intelligent laymen with the distinctive characteristics of all Christian denominations and sects represented in this country, will be used as a text in several seminaries.

Jaroslav Gons, noted violincellist, was at Peru on March 7 to give a concert. Mr. Gons at one time was cellist of the famous Symphony Orchestra of Vienna.

President French, of Hastings College, leaves March 12 for Chicago to attend a meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges. During the latter part of the month he will go to Philadelphia, Pa., to attend the meeting of the Nexus Committee. This committee is composed of presidents of six colleges throughout the country who will meet to discuss various rules and regulations of the colleges.

Y. M. C. A.

Our need of harmony in college was the substance of Dean Charles Amadon's talk at Y. M. C. A. on March 5. His subject was "Music," which he made more impressive by applying it to our attitude and work at York College. There are some to carry things, but they need the harmony of the rest of the group.

On Feb. 26 Thornton Miller led a discussion, "Resolved, That extra curricular activities take too much time." The general agreement was that no person should take part in more than he can do justice to. There was much argument concerning the exclusion of freshmen from extra curricular activities, but the general opinion was that extra curricular activities played a vital part in every student's training.

Prof. J. C. Morgan brought up the question towards the end of the discussion, "How much time would be devoted to the activity that takes into consideration the south hall window?" The question remained unanswered.

CONSERVATION OF SONG BIRDS

Our song birds are busy every day eating weed seeds and killing insects that are harmful to crops. They are a delight to both the eye and the ear.

What can we do to conserve them? First, we should encourage a study of the birds. How many of us can accurately describe ten different birds found in our own locality? What birds are winter residents?

Organization of societies for bird protection among small children is being fostered in many schools. Small boys are especially fond of tearing down nests, making collections of eggs, and killing birds with sling shots. If a child loves and protects birds he will do the same when he becomes an adult.

Bird baths and bird houses are practical methods that anyone can follow. In some states, parks are being established as aids to bird protection. There should be more rigid adherence to legislation. Spring shooting of migratory ibrds should be prevented, as well as indiscriminate shooting. There should be no hasty conclusions as to the destructiveness of a bird.

Let us each do our part to help the feathered friends for we do not want to become as destitute as were the people in the story, "The Birds if Killingsworth."

—Lillie Taylor

THE ORIGIN OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Who is Saint Patrick? Where did he come from? These are the questions that are asked by everyone. Saint Patrick was a patron saint of Ireland. The year and place of his birth are matters of dispute. There is no other great saint in the Catholic hagiology about whom so much uncertainty exists.

Nevertheless there was someone's commanding personality towards whom myths naturally gravitated. This was probably the author of two brief fifth-century writings, "Confession" and "Letters of Caroticus." From the "Confession" itself we learn that in his sixteenth year he was captured by pirates and taken into Ireland where he was sold as a slave.

He led a hard life there and after a time succeeded in escaping. He then fitted himself for the priesthood in France, and obtained permission from the Pope to return to Ireland to convert the natives to Christianity. He is thought to have been the first priest to preach Christianity to the Irish.

Today the seventeenth of March is known as Saint Patrick's Day. The shamrock is worn by everyone, everywhere, in commemoration of the fact that when Saint Patrick was preaching the doctrine of the Trinity, he made use of this plant.

ARE YOU TOO STUPID TO BE HAPPY?

"Much of the gloom and depression of spirits from which people suffer is due to mere laziness and stupidity. People will take so little trouble to cultivate the technique of happiness," states Durant Drake in his new book, "The New Morality." Mr. Drake gives in his new book these four suggestions as to how to be happy:

1. "Keep yourself, by vigorous effort and self-control, in the best bodily health.
2. "Find positive interests to which you can devote yourself with your whole heart; train yourself for your vocation, so that you can put yourself into it with zest; develop other interests, outside of your vocation to enlist your spare energies and talents.
3. "Learn to take troubles lightly, as an unavoidable part of the color of life, with courage for the real sorrows and a sense of humor for the minor misfortunes.
4. "Keep alive your sense of the wonder of conscious life the infinitely various beauty and interest to be found on every hand in this colorful 'movie' of human experience that passes before us."

YORK COLLEGE PANTHERS LOSE TO DOANE TIGERS IN LAST GAME OF SEASON

Wesleyan Upsets Dope to Defeat York, But Panthers Beat Cotner Five.

The Panthers closed their season with a game against Doane. The Doane Tigers have been undefeated all the season, and took the measure of the Panthers 32-15. The game was played at Doane.

York scored first and shortly after followed with another counter, which threw a scare into the Tigers. Doane took time out, but it was some time before they were able to forge ahead of the Panthers.

The game was a slow one. Neither team seemed to play with their usual pep and enthusiasm. A number of fouls did not add any to the game. Creech and Helzer tied for high point honors for York, each getting five points. France and Spielmen were the bright lights for the Doane cagers.

Nebraska Wesleyan Beats Panthers

On the evening of Feb. 28 the Panther squad tussled with the Coyotes whose lair is the Nebraska Wesleyan campus. Considering the fact that the Coyotes had scored only one victory all the season it seemed fair to assume that York should win the game.

But the Coyotes had evidently been inoculated against defeat. It was absolutely impossible for them to miss the hoop. From whatever angle, or under whatever handicap they shot, the ball uncannily slipped into the basket.

When the scoring was all over York was behind. Both sides ran up exceedingly large scores for two evenly matched teams. Helzer was going especially well for York. The rest of the men played well. The final score was 44-35.

York Panthers Trounce Cotner

The Panthers invaded the Cotner Bulldog's kennel on Feb. 26 and gave them a fair trouncing. The game was more in keeping with a gridiron struggle than a basketball game, according to reports. Frequent and seemingly unnecessary fouls marred the game.

The men all played a good brand of basketball if such a thing could be conceived under the conditions which prevailed. The victory raised the York College standing somewhat, the score being 35-27.

Blessings on thee, little dame, bare-back girl with knees the same,
With thy rolled down silken hose,
and thy short transparent clothes,

With thy red lips, reddened more,

With thy make-up on thy face, and thy bodded hair's jaunty grace,
From my heart I give thee joy,
Glad that I was born a boy.

All will die who learn it,
Blessed death, they earn it.

I stood upon the staircase,
And gazed far down the hall
I saw a bunch of green
Arranged along the wall.

I looked again, and lo, it moved.
I thought 'twas moving grass.
But no, 'twas on its way upstairs.
It was the freshman class.
