

ETHEL DIXON, SENIOR
IN VOICE, PRESENTS
PLEASING RECITALAssisted by Robert Campbell and Accompanied by Milan
Lambert.

The senior voice recital given by Ethel Dixon at the United Brethren church on the evening of March 24 was attended by a large and appreciative crowd.

Ethel was assisted by Robert Campbell, a senior in York high school, who is a piano student under the direction of Miss Eda Rankin, of the College Conservatory. She was accompanied by Milan Lambert, a York College student.

Ethel has been a student in the collegiate course, ranking now as a senior. For the past two years she has studied with Dean Amadon, of the Conservatory, to whom much credit for her success as a vocalist is due. Besides her school work Ethel has been accompanist in the voice department. She is also director of the choir at the Baptist church.

Those among the listeners at the recital who are acquainted with voice technique know that Ethel's was exceptionally good. The entire program was given with charming poise and simplicity. Ethel held her audience from the Hayden's delightful "Mermaid's Song" to the majestic "Song of the Open."

The program was as follows:

REV. H. A. DIERDORFF ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Discussed "Overcoming" as Student's Duty.

"Overcoming" was the theme of a talk given in chapel April 3 by the Rev. H. A. Dierdorff, pastor of the United Brethren church at Hastings. Mr. Dierdorff spoke of the temptations which college students are called upon to face and referred to Christ's temptations in the wilderness, saying that He also had temptations which were hard to overcome. The same weapons are given to us to combat these temptations as Christ possessed.

Youth is challenged by difficulties which they encounter and should exert their best efforts to come out victorious. The world is expecting them to overcome the temptations and there are many rewards in store for those who are successful in living the overcoming life, as was shown by several passages of scripture referred to by the speaker.

MRS. ANDERSON GIVES TALK ON "HAPPINESS"York County Superintendent of Schools Speaks to
Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Edna Anderson, county superintendent of schools of York county, addressed the girls of the Y. W. C. A. on March 25.

Mrs. Anderson discussed the subject, "Happiness," which is a thing of vital interest to everyone.

"Happiness, after all, is not found only in ideal surroundings and pleasant circumstances," Mrs. Anderson said. "It is true that they go toward creating a state of contentment, but there are those who should have every reason to be unhappy and yet are making the most of their opportunities to make themselves and others happy."

According to Mrs. Anderson, happiness may be found in spite of unfavorable conditions by following the three simple rules once given by Alice Freeman Palmer to a group of girls in the slums: First, try to learn something good every day; second, look for something beautiful every day; third, do something for someone every day.

If one finds it impossible to be happy at any time, it is because he is not doing his full duty to God and to humanity. Everyone has some special gift which makes him different from anyone else. It is only when the gift or talent is encouraged and allowed to develop that one is truly happy.

Moreover, every person has a certain specific duty to perform in life that no one else can take over; duty accepts no substitutes. After all, the service that is rendered is only the price that should rightfully be paid for rent of space taken up on earth.

"If one keeps this idea of duty in mind," concluded Mrs. Anderson, "and goes into his work to create happiness for others without thought of personal comfort, he can not help being happy himself."

ALBERT ACADEMY PROJECT PRESENTED TO STUDENTS

In a chapel talk March 24, Dr. S. D. Ziegler, General Secretary of Foreign Missions of the United Brethren church, explained a proposition which is being presented to the students in the various United Brethren colleges of the country.

It is proposed that an undergraduate student be selected to go to the Albert Academy, a United Brethren school on the west coast of Africa, to teach for a period of two years. The object is to give the African young people in this school a taste of the good things that are obtained in the schools of America. At the end of two years the student would return to America and complete his college course, bringing back to his college some of the good things he had obtained in Africa.

The appeal was made especially to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and it was asked that these organizations be responsible for the support of the student selected to go to Africa.

MME. GRAY-LHEVINNE
TO PRESENT RECITALFamous Violinist To Be on Campus.

Mme. Estelle Gray-Lhevinne, noted woman violinist, will present a recital in York under the auspices of York College at the beginning of the 1930-31 fall term.

Mme. Gray-Lhevinne, pronounced this season by the press as the world's most famous violinist, has won her entire musical education by a series of scholarships. At the age of eight she gave her first unassisted recital to an audience of 1500 persons at the Alhambra Theater, in San Francisco, Calif. At this time she played the entire Mendelssohn Concerto from memory with orchestra accompaniment. By the time she was sixteen, she had won New York with a series of recitals at the Waldorf-Astoria. It was at this time that Theodore Roosevelt said to her, "You have absorbed the message of your great West. I knew you must have practiced in the open, in sight of the great mountains, because of the breadth shown in the strength and virility of your bowing."

At seventeen she made her first continental tour. Before she reached the age of twenty, this vivid violinist had had a two years' successful tour of European art centers. She was asked to accept a life membership in the Cleveland Musical Association, an honor bestowed upon few women. She has perhaps a greater number of followers than any other woman musician.

The Y. M. C. A. officers who will serve for the rest of the year and until next March, were elected at the regular meeting Tuesday morning, March 25. The new officers are the following:

President ----- Theron Maxon
Vice President ----- Leo Anderson
Secretary ----- Walter Roehrs
Treasurer ----- Neal Smith

Dr. Zeigler, who was on the campus the first of the week, presented the United Brethren African Project to the Y. M. fellows. The project, which Otterbein, Lebanon Valley, and Indiana Central Colleges have selected, is Albert Academy, Sierra Leone, West Africa. The school, which is equal to an American high school in scholastic standing, sends many students to the United States to these schools, where they make contacts with American students that are very worthwhile.

This project offers York College a chance to have a student in the Academy in Africa within six years, to remain there for two years, return and complete his college course in York College. In this way there would be a real contact with the life of Africa and the World Brotherhood idea would mean more to the students of the college.

The Y. M. had originally planned to support the Rocky Mountain project of sending Lyman Hoover to China, but because the African project offered the advantage of a student on the African Field in a few years, the fellows decided to support this project.

The last business of the morning, concerned the religious survey of the city, conducted by the high school Hi-Y club, assisted by several college Y. boys. Paul Turner and Rev. J. C. Weston outlined the districts to be covered by the college group. This survey will give the churches much valuable material upon which to clear their records and check up on the religious standing of the city.

"BELOVED VAGABOND"
PRESENTED AT SUN
BY HISTRIONIC CLUBPlay Attended by Large Crowd;
Picture, "The Melody Man"
Shown on Screen.

Members of the Histrionic Club of York College successfully presented the comedy, "The Beloved Vagabond," at the Sun theater on April 3.

This is the second play to be presented by the club under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Reid Loreman.

The play opens in the throne room of the Kingdom of Moreno. The Prime Minister and his wife, reigning in the absence of the King, are in need of a sum of money to pay a debt incurred to the neighboring kingdom of Boozay. Word is received through Bridget, of the "Fighting O'Flynn's" that the young King, James Smith, who has spent his life in America, is finally returning. He and his chum, Tubby Clark, arrive in time to meet the King of Boozay and his lovely daughters, Mary and Patricia. In spite of his determination to demand payment of the debt immediately, the King of Boozay, taking a great liking to Jimmy, extends the time limit of the debt a few days. This foils the plans of Prince Albert and Ferdo, who are determined to win the throne of Moreno at any cost.

In the second act, Prince Albert persuades the King to declare war on Moreno. For a time things look hopeless, especially when Jimmy and Tubby find themselves madly in love with Mary and Patricia.

In the last act, Jimmy decides to return to America, taking with him Princess Mary, who agrees to accept the name of Mrs. James Smith.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Jimmie Smith-----Neal Smith
Tubby Clark-----Manuel Martinez
Romane II, King of Boozay-----

-----Edwin Friesen
Prince Albert-----Maurice Brookhart
Princess Mary-----Opal Mitchell

Princess Pat-----Esther Mosher

Marchioness DeMonsay-----

-----Olive Denny
Ferdo-----Wilbur Gard
Bridget O'Flynn-----Dorothea Hintz

First Lady-----Genevieve Rystrom
Second Lady-----Ruth Peterson

During the intermission of Marvin acts, a quartet composed of Marvin Hersey, Verne Dierdorff, Brighton Houston and Lee Knolle, sang several numbers. Their first group included, "Winter Song" and "Trust Her Not," and the second, "Indian Love Song" and "Rain."

YORK COLLEGE RECEIVES ADDED GIFTS

Since the gift of Mr. C. A. McCloud, which was reported in the last issue of the Sandburrr, other friends have been contributing to the liquidation of the debt of the institution. Mr. S. C. Caldwell makes a contribution of $1,000.00. Mr. E. A. Levitt contributes $500.00. Mr. F. L. Pothast contributes $1,000.00. Mr. Kenneth Stewart contributes $100.00. Another friend of the institution contributes $1,250.00.

This means that during the past two weeks $8,850 have been paid or subscribed in this splendid movement. York College appreciates friends and friends are indicating that they appreciate York College. Others are to be heard from and we will look forward to the next two weeks with a great deal of interest and listen for the response of others.

WHAT'LL I DO AFTER COLLEGE?

An amazing change has taken place in the last decade in the relationship between college graduates and business, according to a recent article in McCall's Magazine. Business has capitulated to the college graduate in the last few years. Up to that time his lack of success in business was the legitimate subject for mirth-inspiring cartoons.

In recent years, business has come to look on colleges as a high type of employment agency, and keeps in touch with promising students through vocational bureaus and members of faculties, as well as by sending representatives each year to look over the spring crop of graduates.

By that I do not mean to imply that every young man leaving college is to have his choice of two hundred jobs at a salary that will permit him to live in the style for which he probably thinks he is fitted.

This is one of the reasons why John Smith, Jr., of Main Street, wants to go to college. Of course he wants to learn things, too; and he hopes, or his parents hope for him, that he may acquire that indefinite something called culture. He likes, too, the idea of spending four pleasant years with other boys and girls of his age; his parents hope that this may help him socially and financially later on. But the reason that most strongly induces John, Sr., and Johnny's mother to dig down into the ginger jar where is hoarded what might have meant automobiles, radios, and other things of immediate comfort and luxury, in order that Johnny may go to college, is that they feel that he will get on better in the world if he does.

It is not so much the distinctions the Smiths have in mind when sending Johnny to college, as the desire that he should make more money than his father has, and with more leisure and less labor. And if he has the qualities that will enable him to get there and to stick there, the chances are that he will.

The Bureau of Education at Washington has proved by actual figures that each additional year in school has a definite cash value. If this is true, it would seem a shortsighted policy for the Smiths to refuse Johnny a college education.

The world moves very fast, and nowadays a boy must be able not only to do today's job well, but he must have the training that will enable him to adjust himself to tomorrow's. He must have the ability to think clearly, that comes from training in how to think; the knack of dealing with men that comes from experience in getting on with all kinds of people; the ability to grasp business principles, that comes from a knowledge of the past. He must have not only exact knowledge, but he must be able to apply it to a particular problem for which there has been no precedent. Moreover, he must have the work habit and a willingness to accept criticism.

If Johnny Smith, B. A. has acquired all these qualities, or even the majority of them, he should achieve what he set out to achieve, what his parents had hoped for him.

The President's Message

By Pres. J. R. Overmiller

I am sure every friend of York College has been rejoicing during these past two weeks in the light of some efforts which have transpired. With the announcement by Mr. C. A. McCloud of his intended gift to York College there comes a challenge which I am sure will result in some great victories for York College in the very near future. The friends of the institution are banding themselves together for this grand effort which I believe will result in the complete liquidation of the debt within one year's time and which will finally result in an adequate endowment for the institution.

The Board of Trustees of the Iowa Conference have already appointed a committee to take forward steps in cooperation with the college in sharing the attainment of this goal. The Board of Trustees and the Conference Council of the Nebraska Conference met on April 3rd and took very definite action for a forward movement with the same goal in view.

Some gifts have been coming in. We are headed toward victory. A number of the members of the Alumni Association have been talking of plans by which the Alumni of the institution may share in this opportunity and task. We are moving forward together. I am anxious that every student and alumnus of York College and every other friend use this opportune time in the best way possible in boosting for the institution. Hope and enthusiasm are quite essential in attainment of things worthwhile. They will result in even more substantial things.

I want to assure the readers of the Sandburr that prospects for York College are brighter than ever before. Let no one fail to do his part and victory is assured. Eight thousand and eight hundred and fifty dollars is a splendid start. Friends are responding.

5000-kilowatt turbine-generator installed in 1903 at the Fisk Street station of the Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago

When Small Machines Were Big

MORE than a quarter century ago, the Commonwealth Edison Company, prophetically alive to the immense possibilities of the future, ordered from General Electric a 5000-kilowatt steam turbine—in those days a giant of electric power.

To-day, a General Electric turbine-generator of 208,000-kilowatt capacity sends out its vast energy to the Chicago Metropolitan District.

College-trained men played a responsible part in the engineering and manufacture of both machines—just as they serve in important capacities in the engineering, production, and distribution of all General Electric equipment, large or small.

In The Library

By Miss Vera Herrick

The April magazines are nearly all here and there are some very interesting ones.

The Etude for this month is a special issue—Music and Musicians of Spain. Both the music and Spanish students will want to read it.

For discussion on our world problems at present, the Current History magazine for April is especially good.

One who is fond of travel will find The National Geographic Magazine with its illustrations in full color very attractive and helpful. This month gives us views of romantic Louisiana in the South and charming old Quebec in the North.

Let me call the attention of the senior students to a little book, on sale in the library, called The Preparation of Course Papers in the Field of Literature, by Louis Wann. This is especially valuable to those writing theses or papers of any kind.

DR. ZEIGLER SHOWS PICTURES OF AFRICA
Illustrate Lecture on Work in Missions.

Dr. S. G. Ziegler, general Secretary of Foreign Missions of the United Brethren church, presented a lecture accompanied by pictures at the United Brethren church, the evening of March 25, featuring the work of the church mission schools in the Sierra Leone protectorate in Africa.

The pictures presented were taken by Dr. Ziegler, himself, on his trip to Africa in company with Bishop A. B. Statton, a year ago.

Most of the pictures were taken of events of the everyday life of the children in the schools, giving personal glimpses of the natives, who, through the work of the United Brethren missions have been helped to such a large extent.

"In Africa," Dr. Ziegler stated, "the Christian school is the only hope of the people. It is not only the pioneer, but it furnishes the only chance that the large majority will ever have for any kind of education."

As well as the educational side of our mission schools in Africa, there is also the industrial side, which gives the students a chance to help their fellowmen after they leave school. Pictures were shown of the work the students are being trained to do.

"In several of the schools," Dr. Ziegler stated, "Boy Scout troops have been organized, which give a great deal of pleasure as well as help to the African boys." Pictures portrayed this type of work.

A special plea was issued for Albert Academy, which is a boys' school, whose object it is to train Christian leaders for the church, the state, and other professions. The Y. M. C. A. of the College has taken up this school as a project for further work in the future.

Dear Ray:

I thought that it would be fitting to drop you a line and give you my best regards for your success in editing the "Sandburr." Have enjoyed the news which has been in the issues of the "Sandburr" which I have received. Keep up the good work, Ray . . .

I came over to this city and started as assistant to a man who had charge of the Pittsburg Factory payrolls. We pay by check every two weeks. He also directed the working up, of all the labor costs of Pittsburg and the 16 other branch factories we have, together with 26 salting stations, scattered all over the country.

I worked hard and by January 15, I was given a 25 per cent. raise and was promoted to this man's job. . . not account for, an experience which This Pittsburg factory is a large plant. We employ 1900 persons the year round. Think of me on the second and sixteenth of each month when I have to write all of those checks.

I have plenty of work to do. I am being trained to become a traveling auditor and I hope to be able to get out on the road about 1932. The states traveled in would be: Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Missouri and California.

We have branch factories and salting stations in all of the above named states. We have quite a pickle district in western Nebraska, in Wyoming, and in Colorado with headquarters at Scottsbluff, Torrington, and Greeley.

I am enjoying Pittsburg quite well. We have no cold weather here. Very foggy and smoky but not as much as is advertised. . . .

I am staying at the Allegheny Branch Y. M. C. A. It is a new "Y", constructed in 1928 and we have fine rooms. . . .

Give my best regards to the old crowd.

ZEIGLER URGES CHRISTIAN LIVING IN CHAPEL ADDRESS

Dr. S. G. Ziegler, General Secretary of Foreign Missions of the United Brethren church, had charge of the devotions in chapel March 26. He emphasized the fact that there is nothing which will convince the world of the reality of the Christ whom we worship except consecrated Christian life. It is necessary for Christians to keep faith so living and so vital in their lives that they can demonstrate to the world the existence of the spiritual for which Christ stands.

The apostles, said Dr. Ziegler, had in Christ a personality they could

None of the heathen religions, stated Dr. Ziegler, has ever produced any really great characters. It is only after the touch of Christianity that men become great.

If the people of today will have faith in God and will forget themselves in following Him it will be the biggest thing they can do. It will reach to the depths of the problems which are now confusing the world and will aid in solving them, concluded Dr. Ziegler.

NATIONAL KNOWN COACHES TO INSTRUCT IN SUMMER SESSION
Oklahoma Baptist University Sixth Annual School Dates Set at June 9th to 24th

Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, head football coach at Leland Stanford university and credited with the invention of the majority of the offensive plays in football, will have charge of football.

Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, head basketball coach and director of athletics of the University of Kansas, known throughout the country for his many championships in basketball and his knowledge of the care and treatment of athletic injuries, will handle basketball and will give a course in the care of athletic injuries.

Victor C. Hurt, head coach and director of athletics at Oklahoma Baptist university, whose track and sprint relay teams have become nationally known, will give a course in track and field athletics.

The Oklahoma Baptist University Summer Session for Coaches has become one of the outstanding schools of its kind in the country.

Mr. Warner will make his first appearance in Oklahoma as an instructor of coaches in connection with this summer session.

TWO-MILE RELAY TEAM ENTER HASTINGS RELAYS

Coach McCandless recently announced that in all probability York College will be represented at the Hastings Relays, April 12, by a 2-mile relay team and a high jumper. Ruppel and Dimig, both of last year's relay team, will be supplemented by two other men picked from Wildman, Green, Regier, Hanshaw, Conklin and Dierdorff. Creech will represent the Panthers in a special event, the high jump.

SEVEN ATHLETES TRAIN FOR HASTINGS RELAYS

The past two weeks have given the track squad little opportunity to get limbered up for the strenuous schedule facing them. A soft track, not yet fully conditioned, hampered the workout.

Despite the weather, Ruppel, Dimig, Wildman, Creech, Dierdorff, Conklin, and Regier have been turning out regularly, conditioning for the Hastings Relays, April 12.

MRS. J. HAL SMITH SPEAKS AT MEETING OF RECRUITS

Mrs. J. Hal Smith, of Dayton, O., spoke to the Life Work Recruits, on the evening of March 24 at their regular meeting in Hulitt conservatory. The number who were present was greater than at any previous meeting.

The service was conducted as a discussion. The distinguishing marks of a Christian and of a Life Work Recruit were considered. Mrs. Smith stressed the idea of surrendering self to a particular task in life. Even though one's plan may need to be changed, God will not allow such a life to be fruitless. She cited cases of people who had been forced into fields which they had not chosen and yet their influence was greater than they had hoped.

It was announced that a doctor would probably address the next meeting.

THE MODERN GIRL

Blessings on thee, little girl,
With thy beauty parlor curl,
And thy red lips, redder still,
Daubed with lip-stick fit to kill.
From my heart you take all the joy,
Thanks again! I am a boy.
Oh for girlhood's painful play,
Sleep that is slept, most half the day.

Only for fun she goes to school
And there she breaks the golden rule.

What she learns, it isn't much,
A fashion, a style, a finishing touch.
How the latest jazz is sung.

How to treat the lover young,
How to dance the latest steps,
How the complexion can be kept,
How to win the model boy,
Then to treat him like a toy.

Red and redder the lip-stick grew,
Thick and thicker the powder flew,
White and whiter her face so fair,
Wave and wavier grew her hair,
So if the flapper calls this joy
Thanks once more! I am a boy.

right to choose one attendant from each class. The classes each choose one representative who carries their gift to the queen. The gifts are as follows:

The crown is presented by the senior class; the scepter by the juniors; the orb by the sophomores; the footstool by the freshmen; and a basket of flowers by the business college students.

Twenty-five cents was named as the general admission to the May Fete.
