

QUEEN OF MAY DAY CHOOSES ATTENDANTS FOR SPRING FETE

Histrionic Club to Present Play,
"The Twig of Thorn" at Exercises.

Hazel Bearss, a member of the senior class, was chosen by popular vote of the student body as May Queen, for the May festival to be held May 9.

The program of the day will be given twice, once in the afternoon and again in the evening. The festival is always held on the campus unless the weather makes this impossible.

As one of the main features of the program, the Histrionic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Loreman is presenting a play, "The Twig of Thorn," by Marie Josephine Warren.

The scene of the play is laid in the cottage of Nessa Teig, in County Galway, near Kylebeg, Ireland, in the year of the Great Famine. The characters are supposed to speak in Gaelic. The story centers around the simple peasant life of an Irish household.

The cast is as follows:

GIRL RESERVES GIVE PROGRAM AT Y. W. C. A.

The Girl Reserves from York high school presented a program to the Y. W. girls on Tuesday, April 15, which was very much appreciated.

The program was presented as follows:

Opening song, "Follow the Gleam"
Scripture-----Viola Marble
Prayer, in the form of a song,-----
Lucille Campbell
Talk-----Evelyn Stream
Solo, "Calm as the Night"-----
Lucille Campbell

Talk-----Viola Marble
Benediction-----Lucille Campbell

In her talk, Miss Stream developed a thought appropriate to the season in stating that once again spring wakens the earth to new activity, and restores life to all creation. The climax of all this beauty is reached at Easter time in remembrance of the Christ who restored life to the dead and renewed faith and hope on earth. In conclusion, Miss Stream read a poem entitled, "Leave It With Him," and left the thought that we should leave our difficulties to Him who cares for all nature.

Miss Marble brought out the idea that our lives are similar to life in nature in that we need the spirit of Christ to renew us to activity as nature needs Spring to awaken her to new beauty and progress. With the spirit of Christ we are capable of raising above ourselves to greater accomplishments and attainments.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN ADDRESSES CHAPEL

Speaks of War Experiences in Battle of Shiloh April
6-7, 1862.

Mr. John Lett, a veteran of the Civil war and a long time resident of York, was the speaker at the chapel service on April 9. Mr. Lett has lived in York and York county for the past fifty-nine years. He served for four years in the Civil War and was one of the few who was fortunate enough not to be injured in any way.

He took part in the battle of Shiloh, of which April 6-7 was the sixty-eighth anniversary. He talked of his experiences in the war and especially of this particular battle in which over three thousand men were killed and many others wounded.

The facts he brought out showed some of the horrors of war and also indicated the radical changes which have taken place in methods of warfare since the Civil war.

PLAYLET PRESENTED AT BANQUET

Men of Church Serve Banquet for
W. M. A. and O. G.
Associations.

The mother and daughter banquet was held at the United Brethren church on the evening of April 7 at 6:30 o'clock, with 120 guests in attendance. The banquet was sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society and the Otterbein Guild of the United Brethren church and was served by the men of the church.

The banquet room was made beautiful by spring-like decorations consisting of sweet pea covered trellises set in grassy sod.

Mesdames Ray McCandless and Paul Porter were in charge of the program, with the "garden" idea as the theme. The main feature was the playlet, "The Garden of Womanhood." The thought embodied was that of planting different flowers, which stood for certain qualities, in the garden of womanhood. These flowers were the lily for purity, the evergreen for friendship, the rose for love, the pansy for patience, and the violet for modesty.

The program:

Playlet: "The Garden of Womanhood" presented by members of the two societies.

ENGLISH PLAY COMPANY ANNOUNCES "TWELFTH NIGHT"

Miss Fern Casford, a member of the Ben Greet English play company, presented the announcement of the Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night," in chapel, April 11. The play was given in Lincoln on the evening of April 19th.

Mr. Ben Greet is an eminent Shakespearean producer and actor, and this American tour marks the golden anniversary of his first public appearance as an actor and closely follows the knighthood conferred upon him by the King of England.

He brought with him a carefully selected and personally directed company of English actors whose first concerns are for the high regard and prevailing spirit of the stories portrayed.

Miss Casford, during her announcement, presented a selection by the American writer, Ellis Parker Butler, which gave a very pleasing example of the ability of the players.

POETRY JOURNAL TO LAUD UNHERALDED VERSIFIERS

The Poetry Journal, 192 North Clark street, Chicago, announcing its entrance into the field of verse, says:

"We enter the field with one pronounced purpose in mind, to-wit: to promote the cause of the unheralded and unknown versifier. It is with the belief that this announcement will be of interest to you and your student body that we address this communication to you.

"We will use short verse mostly, up to 32 lines, of the serious type. One or two longer poems with an open theme will be used each issue. Good humorous verse with a general appeal can be used. Dialect must be exceptional. Verse with a strikingly human, present day touch will be especially welcomed.

"We are vitally interested in the young poet. We hope to embrace modern thought as expressed by a new generation of moderns.

"We will pay from $1.00 to $25.00 on publication for each poem we print in the Poetry Journal. We further expect to announce an annual poet's prize. All verse submitted will be subject to change or revision according to our editorial policy. A stamped, self-addressed envelope should be inclosed.

"The Poetry Journal will appear monthly as a national publication, with a $3.00 annual subscription price. We aim to make this periodical the foremost poetical magazine in America."

York College—York College!

HONOR BANQUET

Why could not York College sponsor a banquet, the purpose of which would be to recognize the achievements gained each year by students on the campus?

The banquet could honor those who have gained recognition in men's athletics, women's athletics, oratory, dramas, forensic, journalism and other fields. In previous years it has been customary to give separate banquets honoring the various groups of distinction but they could be very easily combined in an all-school affair, thus establishing a tradition with a fraternal atmosphere.

York College needs more school affairs in which all the student body is interested. Faculty and students! This is our suggestion for better York College spirit. Have you anything to contribute?

STUDENTS PAY ONE-FOURTH COLLEGE COSTS.

One-half billion dollars, according to U. S. Bureau Bulletin, found its way to the college tills in 1927-28 to be expended on higher education. This represents the income and receipts, excluding additions to endowment, of all colleges and universities in the United States—1,071 institutions reporting. One-fourth of this amount came from tuition and educational fees paid by 919,381 students; 23 per cent. was appropriated by state and city governments; 13 per cent.—over $66,000,000—was given through private benefactions; 12 per cent. was income from endowments; 10 per cent. was gross income from board and room charges; and 12 per cent. was obtained from miscellaneous sources. The United States Government contributed over $17,000,000, or 3.4 per cent. of the total funds. In addition, $50,144,917 was added to permanent endowment funds through private gifts.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS?

Probably no one will read this, so we can speak very freely. In perusing editorials of other school papers, we noticed that several dealt with certain shady tactics used by students at examination time. Perhaps no school is without occasional cases of this kind.

The only argument in favor of cooperation in exams. is, "I don't know." When we are outside the classroom, we all admit that the practice is wrong, no matter how it may be viewed. But when the critical moment comes, we slyly glance at our neighbor's paper, or pass a wee slip of paper on the next fellow.

The student who does such things suffers irreparably and permanently. His own self-respect is lowered and consequently his respect for others. To him, the world becomes less trustworthy. Where is the student who can cheat in examinations and still keep his ideals high!

Let those who think they have school spirit, those who think they have character, those who think they believe in truth, those who think they are strong, prove it to their own satisfaction by sticking to their ideals in the next examination.

The President's Message

By Pres. J. R. Overmiller

I am sure that students of York College, alumni, former students and friends are anxious for developments during these days in York College finances. It shall be my desire to keep friends of the institution closely in touch with the developments as we proceed during these days of intense interest.

During the past few days an effort has been made by the people of the York church in raising finances and I want to report that this group of folks have done nobly. The amount of their contribution is not to be announced to the public at the present time. I shall have the pleasure of announcing to you in the next issue of The Sandburr just what the York church is doing in this effort. This splendid group of people have not failed in days gone by and are not going to fail us in this time. The thing that they have done will be of tremendous encouragement to the friends of the institution.

The more recent larger gifts are a gift of one thousand dollars by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pothast, of Pickarel, Nebr., one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars by a friend in Lincoln and one thousand dollars by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hitchcock, of York, Nebraska. These are splendid gifts and are very greatly appreciated as are the friends who have made the contributions. It is confidently hoped that others will follow in the inspiration of these splendid people and that several more thousand dollar gifts will follow. We are in this campaign to win and we must have one hundred per cent. co-operation.

Our campaign committee has been selected and the effort will be on in a larger way as soon as Mr. C. A. McCloud returns from a short visit to Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he and Mrs. McCloud have been spending a few days in rest. Mr. C. A. McCloud, Mrs. E. A. Levitt, Rev. Paul Porter, Rev. A. P. Vannice, and President J. R. Overmiller have been chosen as the campaign committee.

A number of York College Alumni are expressing much interest in the present campaign and it is hoped that this splendid group will speak in very meaningful terms in behalf of their Alma Mater within the next few months. Let every friend talk and boost for York College.

In The Library

By Miss Vera Herrick

"Will you recommend for election to your school a teacher who uses tobacco?" So begins a questionnaire sent out by the Peru Normal School to superintendents throughout the state. The results are told in an article in the April number of the Nebraska Educational Journal. Those especially who are expecting to teach will find it interesting and enlightening.

There have been several calls for the late "World Almanac and Book of Facts." It is in the library now.

The Chemistry department has added two new books, "Organic Coloring Matter," which is said to be something new and fascinating in that field, also "Reference Book of Inorganic Chemistry," by Wildebrand and Latimer.

Other new books are "A History of French Literature," by Smith, and for the public school music classes, "Music Appreciation for Children," and "What We Hear in Music," by Faulkner. Both of these are published by the Victor Talking Machine Company.

I have also noticed that the Etude is favoring the music and French students this time in its May issue.

Invitations are out to all College Students to visit Johnson Bros. Music House at this time. They are not soliciting you for business, but for your own pleasure to know your own ear for music, to take the MAJESTIC COLOR TONE TEST! Dean Chas. Amadon and others of York College have taken the test. Ask them about it. Every high school student and many of the teachers have taken the test and York may well be proud of the fact that such large numbers of high school students rated 100 per cent. The probability is that no high school in the state of Nebraska will come up to that mark, and that still a much larger number rated between 90 and 100 per cent. and most of the citizens of York know where the credit belongs. Come in and take the test at Score Five Firsts in Meet; Dimig, Ruppel, Greene, Leading Scorers.

The Panther tracksters placed third in the quadrangular track and field meet held at Grand Island, Friday, April 18. The blue and white athletes won 5 firsts in the 14 events; taking the 880 yard run, mile run, 2 mile run, 220 low hurdles and a tie in the high jump.

Dimig won the mile in handy fashion, leading the field the entire race. Ruppel took the 880 with little trouble, breaking the tape with yards to spare. Brookhart cleared the bar at 5 feet 5 1-4 inches to tie with Watkins, of Central City, in the high jump.

ON SEVEN-THIRTY CLASSES
"Early to bed and early to rise, Makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise."

—Benjamin Franklin

If this saying is true, as its long endurance seems to suggest, there are many people who do not seem very eager to achieve any of those most desirable attributes which our friend Benjamin Franklin mentions. Why couldn't Franklin have said "midnight to bed and noon to arise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise?" It would have saved so much effort on the part of the college student. Since Franklin did use the word "early," and since our elders seriously object to our revising it, there remains nothing for us to do but to carry it out.

Being of an optimistic nature, we can surely play "Pollyanna's Glad Game," and find some benefits which might be gained by rising for a seven-thirty class. First of all, it greatly develops and strengthens the will power. No one will dispute me, I am sure, when I say that it requires will power to give the covers a doff and spring out of a warm bed into a cold and cheerless room, and any room seems cheerless at seven o'clock in the morning.

Having once arisen for a seven-thirty class, one usually becomes sufficiently awakened to stay up the rest of the day. If he has not eaten breakfast before his seven-thirty class, his appetite will be greatly increased by the time his next vacant hour arrives, and he will be able to eat a thoroughly nourishing breakfast. This is of great benefit from a health standpoint, for statistics prove that doing without breakfast is one of the chief causes of the development of tuberculosis. After considering this fact, students may even try to register for seven-thirty classes in order to save themselves from the ravages of disease. After considering that fact, and in order to safeguard the health of the students, the Conservatory should relent and serve breakfast until noon, instead of mercilessly ceasing at nine o'clock.

Just why early rising should be valuable to a college student from a wealth standpoint, I do not know. True, we have learned from chapel speakers that every day spent in college is worth dollars after one is out of school, but the statement does not say that one hour of that time should come at seven-thirty in the morning. However, Franklin was a wise man and doubtless knew whereof he spoke.

Yes, one does gain wisdom from a seven-thirty class. In fact, it is the purpose of the class to impart the "aqua" of knowledge to thirsty souls. Without knowledge, one cannot ever hope to be a school teacher, which fact is an added incentive for attending seven-thirty classes.

Aside from all these numerous benefits, it oftentimes happens that one must have a seven-thirty class in order to complete his schedule, and thus it becomes a means to a desired end. This being the case, it matters little what one's personal opinion of a class at such an hour may be, for he must needs be present whether it be his desire or not.

WHAT IS LIFE

To the joker, life's a jest;
To the miser, life is money;
To the loafer, life is rest.
To the lawyer, life is trial;
To the poet, life's a song;
To the doctor, life's a patient
That needs treatment right along.
To the soldier, life's a battle;
To the teacher, life's a school;
Life's a great thing to the thinker,
But failure to the fool.
Life is just a long vacation
To the man who loves his work;
But it's constant dodging duty
To the everlasting shirk.
To the faithful, earnest salesman,
Life's a story ever new;
Life is what we try to make it,
Friends—what is life to you?
