PLANS FOR FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF YORK COLLEGE BEING MADE

President Overmiller Believes Celebration Will Help College Growth.

Plans are being definitely worked out for the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of York College at York, Nebraska. The commencement program May 28th to June 3rd will be conducted in conjunction with an anniversary commemoration. President J. R. Overmiller will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. L. R. Gregory, of the class of 1917, superintendent of schools of Louisville, Ky., will be the Commencement speaker. Dr. R. C. Shupe, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Fairbury, Nebr., of the class of 1905, will be the Christian Association's speaker.

The alumni association is cooperating with President Overmiller in planning for the occasion and it is expected that many alumni and former students of York College will be on the campus to spend a few days in the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of their Alma Mater.

This anniversary celebration should lend much strength and enthusiasm to the movement to make York College the greater institution that is expected.

Plans are being laid for the completion of the debt campaign as soon as general financial conditions are thought to be such as will offer reasonable encouragement. This will be followed by the enlargement of the institution in such a way as to stabilize the financing of the future.

All positions on the faculty for the ensuing year have been filled; the only change being in the head of the department of physical education which was occasioned by the death of our coach, R. B. McCandless. This position has been filled by the employment of Coach Howard Hill.

It is expected that many friends of York College will plan to attend the anniversary program to help celebrate York College's fortieth year in the field of Christian education.

STUDENTS ASSIST IN VARIOUS PROGRAMS

Take Part in Seminary Cash Day Services.

York College has been sending a great deal of talent into the conference during the last few weeks. Two groups presented programs at services on Seminary Cash Sunday, April 26. One group composed of Pres. J. R. Overmiller, John Boren, and Margaret Yust aided in the services at Pleasanton and Miller. Ethel Dixon, Homer Crosby and Prof. Ray Hill presented three programs during the day, at Zimmerman, at Gibbon and at Kearney.

A group of students composed of Eleanor Zike, Armina Hoyle, Leo Anderson, and Harry Corey, were in charge of the service on Sunday morning at the College church in York.

The male quartet, composed of Ted Peterson, Lee Knolle, John Boren and Marvin Hersey, in company with Milan Lambert, pianist, and Vicente Colon, flute soloist, gave programs in the high schools of Hampton and Aurora on April 29.

ARBOR DAY SERVICES HELD BY SOPHOMORES

Shrubs and Poplars Planted Near Gymnasium.

"Arbor Day" was commemorated on April 22 by the members of the sophomore class. This celebration of the day has been a tradition on the York College campus for many years. Each year this class has planted trees or shrubs to help beautify the campus.

Eleanor Zike, president of the sophomore class, spoke for a few minutes on the origin of Arbor Day. She said:

"The celebration of Arbor Day is the survival of an ancient custom. In early times the Aztecs planted a tree when a child was born and gave it the infant's own name. The Mexican Indians planted trees at certain times under a full moon.

"The official father of the movement in America was J. Sterling Morton. In 1785, April 10 was adopted as a national holiday. The date was later changed to April 22. During the first sixteen years more than three hundred and fifty million trees were planted in Nebraska alone.

"Tree planting," continued Eleanor, "is the symbol of progress. It makes for economy and unselfish foresight."

The chapel service was closed by the presentation by Marvin Hersey of the song "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer.

The group then adjourned to the gymnasium where they watched the planting of shrubs and lombardy poplars in front of the building.

GOLFERS DEFEAT G. I.

A threesome of York College golfers defeated the best that Grand Island had to offer on the York links, April 28. Neal Gallant stroked the course in an even 80 to lead Kunze by 17 strokes. Orville Moore, No. 2 man for York, defeated Rice, 86 to 101.

Glen Thompson followed in turn by defeating Beachler 95-107.

MAY QUEEN AND ATTENDANTS TO REMAIN A DARK SECRET

May Day Festivities, April 7; "The Wonder Hat" To Be Given.

Gala preparations are being made for the May Day festival sponsored by the Christian associations of the college. The date has been set for May 7.

As usual the crowning of the May Queen is to be an outstanding event of the occasion and once again the procession of her majesty and attendants will wind its way over the tree shaded campus. The name of the queen is still a secret. She was chosen by secret ballot some time ago. The queen has selected her maids of honor and class representatives have been elected but all is being guarded as a secret.

A new attraction is to be introduced this year when pupils of the third grade of the Willard school will give the May Pole dance and wind the pole under the direction of Miss Agnes Pospisil, girls' athletic director of York high school, and Miss Mildred Alexander, teacher in the East Ward school of York. Miss Muriel Thomas of the Conservatory is to direct.

A play, "The Wonder Hat" by Goodman and Hecht will be staged in an outdoor setting. This is under the direction of the Histrionic Club, headed by Miss Alma Tress Lundman. The promoters of the fete are extending a cordial invitation to the public to enjoy it. The proceeds from the day will be used as formerly to send delegates to the summer Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. conferences held at Estes Park.

The cast of the play is as follows:

Harlequin.....Ual Hanshaw
Pierrot.....Tennis Hoffman
Punchinello.....William Hice

CHAPEL PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY FRESHMEN

Program Theme Is Constructed On Word, "York."

Members of the Freshman class presented a program at chapel on April 30.

The theme of the class program was "York." Following the morning prayer by Bernabe Herrera, Evelyn Dixon read the scripture lesson, which was based on the word, "yesterday," so chosen because of school memories. She emphasized the fact that time never turns back. She also stated that the world was challenging the seniors as the school days draw to an end. York College is challenging the under classmen to do better things in the future. She closed the devotions with a poem, "Challenge."

Tennis Hoffman, chairman of the morning, next presented William Gambell, who spoke on "Opportunity." He brought out the point that students have more opportunities than they often realize. We have opportunities presented to help others, also those which we must take advantage of, but not make superlative—namely, to help ourselves.

"Rah-rah" was the theme of the talk given by Frances Ramsey. She stated: "Rah-rah means school spirit. Necessary factors for this spirit are, first, motivation, something to be spirited for; second, pep; third, responsibility, which is that part of school spirit which lasts always."

Russell Lewis spoke on the last letter of the word York. He chose as his word "Keys," namely the keys to success. He stated that it might also be "kite" standing for high ideals. "The path of success does not go over the path of least resistance," said Lewis.

The freshman male quartet composed of Rodney Whittemore, Henry Franz, Floyd Merchant and Raymond Wochner, presented the numbers, "When the Mists Have Rolled Away," and "The Old Home Town," in closing the program.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS IN UNIQUE FAIRYLAND SETTING

Scene of Festivities Decorated In Lattice Effect With Rainbow Colors.

The Seniors were honored guests of the Junior class on the evening of April 24 at the annual banquet. The dinner was given in the social rooms of the United Brethren church.

The scene for the banquet was laid in a miniature fairyland hung with crepe paper lattice work in rainbow colors. Flowers and butterflies were there in profusion. A grass carpet added much to the magic appearance of the room.

The tables were decorated with dainty colors and center pieces consisting of shining pools with white swans and water lilies floating on their surfaces. Favors of wristlet corsages for the ladies and boutonnières for the men added much to the festive appearance.

After the welcome given by Leo Anderson, and the response by Minnie Gebbers, Hortense Pointer told a fairy story concerning several fairies who had been sent to York to entertain the seniors. The story resulted in the following program being presented: "Fairy Murmurings," a solo, "What's in the Air Today," sung by Laura Holm; "Fairy Glimpses," a humorous sketch from fairyland in which several seniors were granted their most sincere wishes by Queen Titania, who was portrayed by Dorothea Hintz.

Milan Lambert, who responded to the introduction as "fairyland's best magician," played a piano solo, "Contrasts," an arrangement of Lee Sims.

The bad fairy of fairyland, the one who captures so many young girls' hearts, namely Love, was portrayed by Lee Knolle, who responded to the toast, "Candied Dreams."

The fairies' reception was brought to a close by the dancing of "Fairy Taps" by Lucile Wallander.

Vonda Mae Overmiller was the small fairy who with her magic wand introduced each performer of the evening.

KINSCELLA STUDENTS GIVE PIANO RECITAL

Thirty-four Children Help In Entertainment.

Thirty-four children from the Kinscella method piano class of the college conservatory were presented in a recital in the college chapel on the evening of April 27.

Miss Gladys Pearson is in charge of the Kinscella work. This was the first of several recitals to be given by this department. Drills were given by the children in clapping, tapping, bells and blackboard. These served the purpose of exhibiting the children's skill in rhythm.

On the evening of April 30 at the United Brethren church, Nancy and Ned Bell presented a piano recital. These children are also students of Miss Pearson. Doris White, young cellist, assisted them. Doris is a student of Miss Muriel Thomas, of the violin department of the college.

CABINETS HAVE PICNIC

The personnel of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets took advantage of the sunny weather and had a picnic on the evening of April 28.

They went to one of the many picnic spots around York, roasted welters and enjoyed the other picnic refreshments, after which they played baseball.

MOTHER'S DAY

Someone has said, "If I could concentrate all the fragrance of the world into one flower I would call it a rose. If I could concentrate all the melody of the universe into one composition, I would call it the 'Messiah.' If I could concentrate all the tenderness and sympathy of the world into one endearing term, I would call it Mother."

More than a decade ago, Miss Anne Jarvis conceived the idea of observing Mother's Day. It was an idea which met with quick response and many observed the day annually after that. In 1914 Congress gave it formal recognition and requested President Wilson to set aside the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day. The observance has spread until now the custom of holding special services and wearing a flower for "Mother" is nation wide.

But it is impossible to crowd into this one day the complete expression of our love and honor to Mother. Let us try as the days pass to do those many things which will make her heart glad, such as making our letters home more descriptive of our school life. We must always remember that the highest honor we can pay to Mother is to live a life that reflects back its honor to her.

WHY ATTEND SUMMER SCHOOL

It is conceded that the students in our American Colleges are wasting a large part of their time in long vacations. The long break during the summer not only leaves them without advancement but also disqualifies them for the best work in the early weeks of the fall term. Most of the educational institutions of today have established summer terms to correct this flaw.

York College, recognizing the need for the summer session, is offering a greater range of subjects during the 1931 term. This should appeal to those who have come to recognize the value of an education a little late in life. It makes it possible to secure a college degree in three years. To those who plan to continue their education after completing the A. B. degree, the summer term offers exceptional advantages.

The summer term has a direct call for those who cannot get into the regular session but feel the need of better preparation for their work. It also enables a teacher to better her certificate or gain credit toward a degree.

It is the purpose of the college to maintain the same standard in the summer school as in the winter term.

THE UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST CHURCH

The United Brethren Church was the first church organized in America, which was wholly American and not transplanted from Europe or a scism from another church.

This church is organized on purely American lines.

The government of our Church is a representative democracy in which the laity and clergy have an equal voice. With the exception of the differences which necessarily exist between the governments of a Church and a state, our policy, providing as it does, for the election of executive officers, with a four years' term, and complete representation in all legislative and administrative bodies, is identical with that of the United States.

Most of the regular college faculty will be present for the summer session.

YORK COLLEGE TRACK AND FIELD RECORDS

York College has never kept an accurate file of the records established by her track and field men. Consequently, in attempting to collect these marks the recorder meets with many difficulties.

During the years 1890-1900, York College had no student publication, which means that the results of the contests were recorded only in local newspapers. On examining the Sandburr files from 1900-1931, one finds that many contests are recorded without the time or distance of the various events. We know that there are individuals who can give us accurate information along this line.

In publishing a list of records established by Panther track men, we realize that an injustice might be done to those who have competed in past years, in that their records have not as yet been uncovered. We refer to such men as Dr. L. R. Gregory, '17; Prof. Merle Harner, '20; Al. Parks, and others.

In collecting this information we ask the cooperation of every reader of THE SANDBURR. The list will be revised as rapidly as proof can be established of the records in the various track and field events.

Following is a summary of the records established by York College track and field men in college conference competition with approved starters, timers and judges.

- 100 yd. dash, Pickett, (1925) 10.5 sec.
- 220 yd. dash. Farnham (1928) and Green (1930) 23.8 sec.
- 440 yd. dash. Ruppel (1929) 52.8 sec.
- 880 yd. run. Ruppel (1929) 1 min. 59.9 sec.
- 1 mile run. Hart (1925, 4 min. 54 sec.
- 2 mile run. Hart (1925) 11 min. 2 sec.
- 220 yd. low hurdles. Farnham (1928) 26 sec.

"LOYALTY" DISCUSSED AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The "Ideal Home and Friend" Problem Dealt With.

The Y. W. C. A. program on April 21 was built around the theme, "Loyalty to Home and Friends."

After the prelude, which was a cello solo played by Mary House, Ermina Hoyle gave a short talk on "Loyalty to Friends." She emphasized the fact that there must be truth and a tenderness between friends. The value of a smile as a token of friendship was spoken of.

Lois Overmiller presented as a vocal solo, Gabriel's composition, "An Evening Prayer."

"Loyalty to Home" was discussed by Eleanor Hubbell. She said: "Home is the foundation of our civilization. We must look to our homes as homes rather than as houses. What kind of people are we at home? Do we have dual personalities?"

"In order to be loyal to our homes we must be willing to do our share. Kindness and unselfishness must prevail."

"Then, in order to have an ideal home we must have God at its head. He makes the foundation safe for any home."

"My topic this morning is 'Horizons'. This might also be called, 'Where do you live?' Most folks live in a small world. This is true in all realms of life. It is so easy to make the horizons of our ambitions very small. Have any of us ever undertaken a task and put everything into it that we have? I'm afraid we are content too often just to get by.

"Each day we are met by difficulties which arise because we didn't have the will to do our best. In spite of the fact that there has been much advancement in all lines of endeavor during the past years, there are still facts to be discovered.

"How wide are our horizons in moral and spiritual values? We must work out our own problems. There is just one example to whom we can look for aid. This is Jesus, and we need to climb to the mountain top so we can see as he did. We must not be content to live in the valley. We ourselves are responsible for the distance we can see. The folks who will do the big things tomorrow are going to sacrifice today. They will have spiritual ideals that are of the highest type.

"Let us push back our horizons so we may help others to do the same thing.—Rev. Paul Porter.

"The one who plans as his vocation anything along the physical education line has a splendid opportunity to aid in the building of young lives. Many a youth has been inspired to greater things because of his training in athletics."

Many of the qualities one develops in athletics are transferable. Take, for example, good sportsmanship. This will carry over into all walks of life.

"The main task of physical education is to find something along the body building line that will interest everyone. Some of the objectives of this department are:

1. To develop strong health habits.
2. To develop a fair degree of strength, skill and endurance.
3. To develop good posture.
4. To provide an opportunity for an individual to react in any situation physically fit, mentally wholesome and satisfying socially."

Scripture lesson, Romans 8. Do modern educational values develop, ignore, or combat religious attitudes? Science is having a great influence on our thoughts. This should not be a disturbing element in the religious life of an individual. Science alone can be no determinant of anything.

Students must analyze their own problems. The highest process of developing life is real living. We will find that science, religion and social life will go along in our lives, hand in hand.

Religion's place is to bear the greater things of life, spiritual, social and moral. We can dream of days to come, but we must live for today in order to build a foundation for the materialization of those dreams.

The summing up of all life's values in the life of God and eternity is religion.—Pres. J. R. Overmiller.
