

PANTHER SQUAD DEFEAT VIKINGS 39-6

COLLEGE FLOATS ARE AWARDED PRIZES IN ANNUAL FALL PARADE

Awards Go to Pals, Histrionic Club and Athletic Organizations.

The York College group of floats won first place in the Fall Festival parade on September 26.

For the first time in several years York College won a prominent place in the parade, eight floats being submitted in the contest. The college offered a prize of ten dollars for the most attractive float entered by any society, class, or club.

The Pals' float received first place, their entry showing genuine effort. Three girls, representing the spirit of friendship rode on a rose colored float, with the name of the society mounted on top of the car.

The Histrionic Club entered a truck carrying the characters of Minerva, Lady Windermere, Hamlet, Robin Hood and Oberon, grouped about the president of the club. This entry won the second prize of five dollars.

The Panther was mounted on the "Y" Club float. This entry, with the float of the W. A. A. girls, tied for third place, the money being divided between the two organizations.

The all-college float, at the head of the group, depicted the spirit of the college as a blue and white boat bearing the seal of the institution.

The Conservatory float carried out the idea of music in the huge notes, sharps, and flats arranged on the sides of a truck carrying members of the college orchestra.

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. organizations were represented by a float in which several members of the two associations rode.

One of the unusual events of the parade was the appearance of the college janitors in the procession. Each one was armed with a mop and a broom and dressed in his "janitor's best."

FORMER COLLEGE MAN SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

"Take Time to Think" Urges Rev. Mr. Rollings.

"If you have any doubt in your hearts and minds, tie to something in your experience which you cannot doubt," declared Rev. J. W. Rollings, pastor of the United Brethren church at Aurora, Nebr., in a chapel talk on October 2.

In the course of his remarks he stated that it is good for everyone to take time frequently to think, that Jesus is more concerned with some of our somersaults of thinking than we realize, that He is more interested in the little problems than in some of the things which we think are big.

Using the Biblical expression, "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof," the Rev. Mr. Rollings went on to say that God always makes his word good, that never yet has man found him to fall short of his promises.

He stated that the cry of mankind seems to be for something to eat, but that it takes more than this to satisfy the craving of the human soul.

Rev. Mr. Rollings is a graduate of York College, having been a member of the class of 1915.

MARATHON YEARBOOK ANNOUNCED BY STAFF

Many New Sections To Be Featured in 1931 Annual.

The Marathon, the York College Yearbook, is already being planned and prepared by a large staff. The finished book will be printed and ready for distribution early in the spring.

The Marathon will be of particular interest to York people and to all present and former students at York College. The theme is to be historical and will feature the combined history of York and York College. The staff is taking advantage of the fact that this year marks the fortieth anniversary of the college and the hundredth anniversary of the Oregon Trail which passes near York.

Among the outstanding features of the Marathon are: a better view section, an alumni section, a snapshot section full of life and action. Color work will be used for the first time in a York College annual. An athletic section, twice as large as the one given two years ago, will be given and all forms of sports of both men and women will be presented. Small action pictures will be a novelty.

The Marathon Board has been granted the use of the room at the back of the chapel as an office. Tables, desks, typewriters and other necessary equipment are being installed. The support of the student body is all that is necessary to make the Marathon for this year the biggest and best ever published by a York College Marathon staff.

DEAN BISSET SPEAKS ON "WHY YORK COLLEGE"

Addresses Y. M. C. A. On College Aims and Ideals.

That York College is not competing with other colleges and universities in the erection of new buildings, in getting more students, etc., but that it is competing with other institutions in producing better men and women was stressed in a talk by Dean Bisset delivered before the Y. M. C. A. at the meeting of Sept. 30.

During the course of his address he asked the men these three questions: Why are you here? Why did you choose York College? Now that you are here, what is your attitude going to be? He discussed each question and pointed out that every student should be here to prepare himself for his life work and should be a booster for the College.

The program was opened with unison singing led by Prof. Ray Hill. Virgil Strickler then played a cornet solo, "Autumn Leaves." He was accompanied by Milan Lambert. This was followed by the first of a series of five minute reviews of outstanding books, motion pictures and magazine articles. The first review was of the motion picture, "Abraham Lincoln," and was given by William Hice. The next few minutes were devoted to learning college yells and songs. This period, which was intended especially for freshmen, was conducted by Ted Peterson.

Following this, Dean Bisset spoke and announcements concerning the next meeting were made.

PANTHERS TRIUMPH OVER DANA COLLEGE IN HOME ENCOUNTER

Wendell, Adams, Gallant and Franz Score Touchdowns For Easy Win

The Panther eleven trounced Dana College by a score of 39 to 6 in the first home game of the season. The York offense found itself in the second half to score five touchdowns.

Gallant started the scoring by nabbing a long pass in the first quarter and repeated in the third. Clarke Adams, backfield man from Merna, displayed a brand of sidestepping which credited him two touchdowns. Wendell, former York high school football captain, worked his way 60 yards for a half dozen points, while Henry Franz pushed the oval across the white line for the last counter of the afternoon.

First quarter: Dana kicked to York's 12 yard line. Jose went off tackle for 12 yards. Greene lost a yard at right tackle but Adams reeled off 8 through the opposite side. York lost 4 yards on a fumble. Greene punted out to mid field. Dana made 3 yards off tackle, but Lewis stopped Anderson for a 2 yard loss on the next play. ### IT CAN BE DONE.

"The young American is a determined animal," said the head of the vocational bureau of one of the big mid-western colleges. "If he wants anything, he does not allow handicaps to stand in his way of getting it. If he wants a college education, the trifle of his not having the money will not prevent him from getting it. According to the silver screen, most college students spend their time scattering indulgent fathers' glittering dollars over the primrose path. As a matter of fact, at least half of the million students in American colleges spend their time between the textbook and the pocketbook.

Most college administrative officers feel that unless a student has good health, superior mental ability, and a genuine interest in things intellectual for their own sake, he should not attempt it. Within reasonable limits it is wholesome. It gives the student a knowledge of the value of money; it gives him contacts with the business world which are valuable when he leaves college.

But even the colleges that ordinarily encourage self-help suggest that a student try to bring enough money to see him through the first term while he is making his adjustments to the new life, forming his friendships and getting a good start at his academic work.

It is only the unusual student who can stand up under the strain of largely supporting himself through college, and at the same time get enough out of it to justify the struggle.

There are students who can do enough work to pay most of their expenses, and can get a great deal out of college besides. But they are exceptions; and their stories throw a roseate hue over the situation which is not justified by the facts and figures.

The Dean of a large eastern college for men remarks, "I can not but think it is a mistake to borrow money to go to college. Life surely has enough handicaps for a young person starting out in the world without adding any that can be avoided. For while the sums to be repaid may seem small on Wall Street, they are overwhelming on Main Street, especially when one is beginning at the traditional bottom. To repay them would certainly put a quietus on any ideals that the college may have awakened, by necessarily putting emphasis on the urgency of immediately making more money than a beginner is likely to be worth or has any right to expect. If a loan must be repaid soon after graduation, the need for making money precludes doing graduate work even though the student's vocational plans require it. It puts marriage and children beyond the possibilities until it is paid off."

Just as strongly on the other side the Marmon Foundation feels that any above average graduate can handle a debt of $1000 by repaying it at the rate of $10 a month, and still lead a normal life and get ahead. Some colleges advise buying an education as if it were on the installment plan, feeling that a loan for education is a wise investment for the future.

A most excellent method for parents to finance a college education for their children is by educational insurance. By this plan either parent may have his life insured for the benefit of the child's education, so that when the time comes for him to go to college, the money is there even if the parent is no longer living or able to work.

The cost of a college education varies with the locality, the institution and the individual. In general, according to a recent study made by the Association of American Colleges, tuition at the independent institutions averages higher than at the denominational colleges. Usually, other expenses are in proportion to the tuition rates.

So there are a variety of prices that our determined young American can pay for his college education, and a variety of ways in which he can find them. In making his plan, he should not forget that he will need railroad fare as well as tuition, clothing as well as books, and some amusement as well as food and shelter. And, no matter how long a line may be waiting at the college gates, all of the institutions are eager for students with real intellectual interests, superior mentality, good health and ambition. They would not want this type of boy or girl debarred for financial reasons.

The President's Message

By Pres. J. R. Overmiller

As we proceed into the new year's work we find that we have a wonderfully fine group of young men and women in this year's student body. A freshmen class of eighty-two young people from the best homes in the land present a splendid challenge to the faculty of a college.

I wish I might bear a message of appreciation to every one who has contributed to the splendid beginning of the school year. In this I would remember the pastors of our churches and other friends throughout the territory including those near at home, in York and York county, who have contributed in any way whatever to the good of the cause.

I assure you that the student group and the college faculty will do their best to make this year one of the best in the life of the college.

The college is sustaining a thirty minute broadcast program over station KGBZ at York Nebraska each Thursday evening at eight-thirty o'clock. Dr. George R. Miller, owner of this station is very kindly granting the use of the station as a courtesy to the college. The College Trio is a regular feature of the program. This trio was very greatly appreciated for their programs in many churches this summer and I am sure many friends will be glad to hear them in these college broadcast programs. The trio will be glad to render any number which you care to request if you will send your request to the college. Some of the old gospel favorites may be what you want. Let us know the kind of music you appreciate.

MUST BE ON TIME

The student reporter had just submitted his editorial for the day to the editor. Leaving the editorial room, he began to reflect upon what he had written and decided to go back to change something in it.

"I have a few corrections to make on the editorial that I submitted," he told the editor.

The editor reached into the wastebasket and pulled out the editorial.

"All right, but make it snappy, the wastebaskets will be emptied in five minutes." —Green Goat.

Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River

THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.

Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.

The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity — on land and sea and in the air.

Y. W. C. A. COMMITTEES OUTLINE YEAR'S WORK

Ask Members to Aid in Plans of Association.

Y. W. C. A. work as planned for the coming year was explained by Margaret Yust, president, and the cabinet girls at the meeting on September 23rd.

The prelude played by Lois Overmiller was followed by a hymn by the assembly. Miss Yust told about the Young Woman's Christian Association and the conference at Estes Park. She introduced the committee chairmen who in turn gave their plans and asked the girls to be on their committees.

The chairman of the Membership committee, Miss Overmiller, extended an invitation to all girls who were not members of Y. W. to join. The Social Service chairman, Julia Wilson, advocated helping the poor and planning programs to be given at the institutions, while the World Fellowship committee of which Marjorie Mohler is chairman, arranges programs to exemplify the Y. W. work and the need for it in other countries.

Selecting suitable material for the girls to read, is the duty of Ermina Hoyle's Library committee, and creating an interest in the spring conference at Estes Park is the work of the Estes Park committee of which Helen Oliver is chairman. Miss Oliver also mentioned the shower to be given for the Y. W. room. Jeanette Bisset, head of Publicity committee, suggested that she would appreciate held in poster making and other forms of advertising.

Other chairmen are: Erma Thomas, secretary; June Crosby, treasurer; Genevieve Rystrom, social; Bessie James, Council Representative, and Marie Anderson, program. The meeting closed with the song, "Follow the Gleam."

Hastings College Wins Over York Gridsters In Conference Opener

Blue and White Taste Defeat In First Night Game of Season.

The York College Panthers lost to the Hastings College gridiron artists by a score of 33-0 in the first conference game of the season. Outweighed, and baffled by a Hastings cut back play, the Blue and White tasted defeat in the first night game.

The Bronchos were unable to penetrate York's forward wall on the one yard line but scored freely with open plays in midfield. Mercier and Captain Douglas starred for the Red and White, while Gallant, Wendell, Muth, and Brookhart led the York attack.

The score at the half favored Hastings 14 to 0. York was slightly handicapped by the loss of Franz, speedy halfback, who sustained an ankle injury earlier in the week.

MRS. MORGAN TALKS TO Y. W. C. A. CABINET GIRLS

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held its first meeting Oct. 1, at 4:15. Mrs. J. C. Morgan gave the first of a series of leadership talks. The topic of her first talk was "Why Girls Go to College." It was a review of the essay by Alice Freeman Palmer, the president and founder of the Wellesly College for Girls.

Mrs. Palmer gives as the reasons why girls go to college, the following points:

Happiness is something that merely being on the campus will bring to a girl.

Friendships are strongest when made during one's college career. All girls are doing the same kind of work, thus giving a common basis for friendship. Through one's friends one finds the courage and strength to live and live rightly.

Health comes to careful college girls because of regular routine, simple living and high thinking. A life of self-forgetfulness will make one forget her own ills.

One may find an ideal on a college campus, toward which she may work.

Girl's permanent interests will be found in college. Some of these will be found in literature, art, music and nature. Whatever one's vocation may be she will put herself wholeheartedly into it because of college influence.

A religious creed should result from campus activities. The creed may be simple but it will be thorough.

The last point was "service." As others helped a college girl to climb and reach her goal, so will the graduate aid others.

After Mrs. Morgan's talk, the business meeting was held. It was decided to hold a Cabinet meeting every other Wednesday at 4:15. The various committees were chosen and plans made for group study.
