Football Season Closed with Annual Banquet

Witham, Hofgard, Lutz Honored; Joe Alden, Jr. Is Guest Speaker

Honoring Irene Hofgard as Panther Sweetheart, Warren Witham as Outstanding Panther, Rex Lutz as 1937 football captain, and the entire 1936 squad as twenty-four men who successfully represented York college on the gridiron, over 150 football enthusiasts met at the United Brethren church on Tuesday, November 24, for the 21st annual football banquet. Wayne Dahlstedt, president of the Panther club, presided.

As the dinner course was served, guests were treated to the music of a swing band directed by Alden Marvel. Wilbur Overmiller and Marvel entertained with solos and a trio composed of Charles Sandall, Glenn Graham, and Marvel sang.

Dahlstedt introduced Witham as a man selected by his teammates as representative of them. His selection was based on playing ability, personality, and spirit. Miss Hofgard, as Panther Sweetheart, was selected by the team on the basis of enthusiasm for athletics, support of the 1936 team, and personality.

Witham spoke on personality while Miss Hofgard gave a toast on spirit. Don Varcoe, 1936 captain, spoke on ability, Leta Yost, W. A. A. president, discussed endurance. Barney Rees treated the subject of breaks and Joe Alden, Jr., ex '26, guest speaker, spoke on the value of security. Rex Lutz was announced as the 1937 captain and expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him.

The banquet was under the sponsorship of the Panther Club. Decorations had the typical gridiron appearance. Goal posts were placed at the end of each table while blue streamers against the white background marked off the ten yard lines. Ceiling decorations carried out the blue and white color scheme.

MRS. J. C. MORGAN TALKS ON "GRACES OF WOMANHOOD"

"Not only in the home, but in nursing, in teaching, or in any place where a woman is found, there is a place for mothering," said Mrs. J. C. Morgan, speaking to the members of the Y. W. C. A. at their meeting on November 17. This was the second talk in a series on the topic "Graces of Womanhood."

Using for her theme, the picture of Jesus and the small children, Mrs. Morgan brought out the fact that in spite of any other interruptions, He continued to "mother" little children. She also brought to the thoughts of Y. W. girls the fact that it is part of their duty to mother the members of the high school Girls' Reserves because college girls have so recently been a part of that group, and understand their problems.

Mary Margaret Durand led devotions, and Marian Louise Hays, accompanied by Dorothy Andrews, sang "The Lilac Tree."

RECRUITS SELECT ONE-ACT PLAY

The Recruits have selected the one-act play, "Operation at One" as the successor to "Ba Thane", the play which proved so successful last year. Written by Maude Taylor Sarvis, who lived for fifteen years in China, the play gives a true and intimate glimpse of the Chinese people. The setting is in a mission hospital and much of the story concerns the conflict of Christianity and Communism.

Dorothy Riggs has been appointed director of the play.

Witham and Hofgard Honored

W. WITHAM

I. HOFGARD

Warren Witham, senior of Agra, Kansas, and Irene Hofgard, senior of Torrington, Wyoming, were honored at the annual football banquet this year. Witham was named Outstanding Panther and Miss Hofgard was selected as Panther Sweetheart by a vote of the 1936 football squad. The selections were based on personality, spirit, and in Miss Hofgard's case support of the team and in Witham's case playing ability.

Debate Teams in Winfield Tourney

Meet Kansas Wesleyan and Friends Universities on Southwestern Trip

Representing York College in the largest debate tournament in the southwest, a forensic squad of four men and Miss Emma Mayfield left Thursday morning for Winfield, Kansas. The four debaters are Erwin Branson, Irvin Lewis, Barney Rees, and Lawrence Deever.

About forty teams are participating in the two-day tourney. Two rounds of non-decision debates will be followed by four rounds of decision debates and elimination debates following this will determine the finalists and the winner.

The team met Kansas Wesleyan University of Salina, Kansas yesterday morning in a practice round and then went on to Wichita, Kansas for debates with Friends University in the afternoon. They should be in Winfield for the tournament starting at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Miss Mayfield indicated that one of the men would compete in the extemporaneous contest. The general subject for this division is "Ideals for College Youth."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At an informal party Sunday evening, November 29, honoring Bernice Strickler on her twenty-first birthday, Miss Strickler surprised her guests with the announcement of her engagement to Merle Blinn. At least, the guests said they were surprised.

Miss Strickler and Blinn are both juniors and are active in campus affairs. The former is well known in the college territory for her musical ability. Blinn is a pre-ministerial student whose home is in Chanute, Kansas. Miss Strickler is from Julian.

"CHUCK" HULAC COMES TO CAMPUS

Charles Hulac, Y. M. C. A. secretary with headquarters at Topeka, Kansas, was a visitor on the York campus Tuesday, November 22. "Chuck", as he is better known, met with the Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets at luncheon and following that discussed with them means of furthering Christian work on the campus. He also held individual conferences with a number of students.

REV. G. E. POWELL LISTS INVINCIBLE TRUTHS

"What do you know?" asked the Rev. G. E. Powell of Brush, Colorado in a chapel address on November 17. Dr. Powell was introduced as a licensed clergyman of the Presbyterian faith, with experiences that have taken him from his birthplace in England to the mission fields of India, to Canada, and finally to pastoral work in Colorado.

After reviewing the present crisis of religion in its contest against science and the "harsh, competitive life that we are forced to live", Rev. Powell listed four truths believed to be invincible, namely, 1. There is a moral sense in all men. 2. Each person has the right of choice in life matters. 3. Moral nature can reach its greatest joy when it rises into fellowship with Jesus. 4. We shall always have the inspiration of Jesus.

In conclusion, the speaker emphasized the challenge of the impulses that come from the life and death story of Jesus, and how in Jesus Christ the moral law becomes a friend.

PALS ELECT 13 NEW MEMBERS

Thirteen new members were voted into the PALS Society during their last meeting on Tuesday evening, November 17. The new members are: Bernard Cook, Iona Finke, Billy Lake, Mildred Beason, Evelyn Beason, Shirley Jean Young, Helen Johnson, Sally Rasp, Harold Miller, Betty Owen, Lillian Sadoris, Doris White, and Mabel Lantzer.

After a short business meeting, there was a program built around the idea of Thanksgiving. Harold Miller gave the impromptu on "Which Is Better, a Turkey that Gobbles or one that Gurgles?" Lucille Heins sang, "Pal O'Mine". A talk on the "First Thanksgiving" was given by Norma Harris. Doris White played a cello solo—"Largo" by Handel. Bernard Cook sang "Sylvia". The program was concluded with two Thanksgiving poems read by Doris Grewell.

WOMEN WILL HAVE DRESS PARADE

Members of the W. A. A. have purchased sweaters and skirts that will be worn during drill work this winter. The girls intend to perform between halves of each basketball game. The skirts are royal blue corduroy and the sweaters are white. Two years ago this organization drilled for football and basketball games.

Contestants Should Submit Entries to an English Instructor by Next Tuesday

"We have decided upon a very worthwhile gift for the winners of the annual essay and poem contest", stated Editor Lewis and Business Manager Branson of the Sandburr when questioned this past week concerning the progress of the competition. They further signified that a number of persons had expressed their intention of entering the contest.

The contest is open to any regularly enrolled York college student. An original essay or poem dealing with the Christmas spirit shall be submitted to an English instructor not later than December 8.

The copy submitted must not have the name of the contestant upon it. The English instructor will record the name of the entrant and give him a number which will be placed on the copy which is sent to the judges.

Two prizes will be offered and the winning contributions will be published in the edition of The Sandburr immediately preceding Christmas vacation.

PRINT SHOP PUTS OUT BULLETINS

Today, the twenty eighth job was completed in the York College print shop, according to Mr. Wesley White, print shop manager.

"Printing of York College Bulletins for alumni was the largest job this year, more than 8,000 bulletins are to be printed, half this number being completed," stated Mr. White.

All printing is done on a size 10x15 press. Jobs consist mainly of printing invitations, letter heads, bills, programs, tickets, and name cards.

After endeavoring to create sentiment for fuller cooperation with York college on the part of the California conference, President J. R. Overmiller made the following statement on his return to York, "I believe that action may be brought about for the college by next fall. Every pastor contacted was quite in harmony with the proposals I had to make." Mr. Overmiller went to California at the request of two ministers formerly connected with York college, Dr. L. L. Epley, '03, now superintendent of the California conference, and pastor of the Kerman, California, church, and Rev. H. H. Heberly, former student of York college, and one-time pastor at Aurora, Nebraska. He gave addresses at six conference adult rallies and W. M. A. Institutes held at Durham, Sacramento, Riverdale, Santa Ana, Riverside, and at Palms church, Los Angeles.

Among former students and graduates of York college with whom Mr. Overmiller visited in California were Mr. and Mrs. Will Hollingsworth, (Grace Harner, ex-'17) who live in Puente, where Mr. Hollingsworth is in the advertising department of the daily newspaper; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hiatt, ex-'08, (Mabel Gorham, '07) of Indus, Alberta, Canada; and Victor W. Overton, who was a student at the college in 1893 when the administration building was dedicated. In Santa Ana, Mr. Overmiller was a guest of William Curnutt's parents. In Los Angeles, he addressed the congregation at the First Church, where the York college girls' trio of last year, the Misses Edith Goodban, Jean and Janice Brown, appeared on the program. During this time, he visited in the home of Cecil Smith, former student of York college. Mr. Overmiller also addressed the con-

FACULTY MEMBERS HOLD OPEN HOUSE AFTER BANQUET

Faculty members held open house after the banquet last Tuesday evening. The seniors were entertained at Dean and Mrs. Charles Bisset's home. Thanksgiving games were the highlight of the occasion. Following the entertainment, Mrs. Bisset served refreshments.

Iowa students were entertained at Miss Slee's home following the banquet. Games and light refreshments were the topic sentences of her party.

Prof. and Mrs. Keim entertained a group at the faculty frat house. Other parties were at the homes of professors as well as several parties at the homes of York students.

DR. O. T. DEEVER IS GUEST SPEAKER

With Dr. O. T. Deever in a series of addresses at the local church and the college, York students are lending their support to the observance of a national "Preaching Mission Week". This movement is centering in twenty-five major cities of the nation and is carried out in many other centers.

Dr. Deever, general secretary of Christian Education for the United Brethren church, has addressed the church and chapel audiences each day this past week. Services will continue through Sunday.

The guest speaker appeared before a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday in a special address.

THE REGISTER

SCRIBE PICKS TEAM

Oswald, the sports scribe for this rag, The Register, decided to pick his own honorary football team for the past season. Following are his selections:

Best ends: Mary Margaret and Sissy Willits (Unequaled in history of college).

Tackles: Doris and Mary Margaret (Can play their positions).

Guards: Vesta Beam and Marvel (Have preserved their territory).

Center: Mary Margaret (center of most circles).

Quarterback: Popo (He went to a punk show the other night and then had the nerve to ask for his quarterback).

Blocking back: Branson (Thus far he has blocked all gestures).

Running back: Dan Wright (Running around with Rabuck).

Full back: Verlun Lutz (Full of the old spirit).

Marriage is a man's weakness that a woman takes advantage of.

A news item in the Wesleyan reports that "Maurice

Thompson tells us that a young football player arrived at his home lately. Let's hope he'll play for Nebraska Wesleyan as his father did." Now surely, they couldn't have meant our "Buss". You'll remember that our "Buss" played against Wesleyan and not for them and anyway we are sure that "Tommy" would give us first chance at a scoop.

EXTRA! EXTRA!
 BLINN-STRICKLER WIN
 RECEPTION-ROOM
 MARATHON

Winners of the First Weekly Reception-Room Kissing Marathon, the championship davenport duo of Merle and Bernice were today looking for new worlds to conquer. Smashing all records to bits, the champs clinched the title with a continuous osculation of 32 minutes 40 seconds. Persistent hangers-on but hopelessly outclassed were Cookie and Doris, who just managed to stagger past the 31-minute mark.

When questioned by reporters after his record performance, Blinn gave all the credit to his partner. "I only hope," he said, "that this marathon will eventually become a marry-thon."

Sponsors of the contest are planning a celebration in honor of the winners, at which time a large loving cup (!) will be presented.

(Interested observers will note the news article in the Sandburr which bears out the hope of Blinn in regard to the possible marry-thon.)

Mrs. Anderson: (following a Sunday service) Really, Lyle, you're improving. I can see some change in you.
 Lyle: Oh, yes. Well, just try and get it.

Leviticus, the editor of the Register, has a tip for the freshmen. Sometimes it is the happy custom of freshmen to write home and tell papa and mamma what nice grades they are getting, etc. Well, don't do it in the next week or so because the Registrar will be sending out a sealed envelope soon and it will contain all the info papa and mamma will want to know.

SEE IF YOUR EDUCATION IS REALLY COMPLETE

"Can y'all give me some flesh-colored silk hose?"

Taking one look at her towering Negro customer, the saleslady went to the shelf and returned with a box marked "Dark Brown". She was preparing to wrap the purchase when a dusky hand reached out and snatched the box from her.

"This ain't no flesh color. It say here, 'Dark Brown'."

The clerk surveyed the woman incredulously, wondering if she could possibly have gone color-blind.

"But-er-I thought——"
 "I said flesh-color. You brung me skin color. My flesh is the same color as yours".

A crude illustration perhaps, but one which, nevertheless, reminds us that whole races of men are oftentimes separated by boundary lines no thicker than the peripheral layer of human skin. It seems indeed strange that so feeble a basis could support one of the most ponderous items of man's experience—race prejudice.

A few weeks ago a group of York College students were spending a vacant period on the benches in front of the Administration building. Their light-hearted conversation was suddenly interrupted by the appearance of two Negro girls at the edge of the campus. The pair walked unhesitatingly to the library, climbed the stairs, and entered the building.

Dark, puzzled glances followed them. The bench-sitters were giving whispered utterance to their evil suspicions.

"Hmph! Do you suppose they've enrolled here?"

"I dunno."
 "Well, they better not!"
 "That's what I say. This school isn't big enough for me and them both".

It later developed that the colored girls were only visiting the campus with a touring group of Iowa high school students. However, the incident had served to indicate a trend of thought. An onlooker would have found himself asking the question, "Is an education really complete which does not give opportunity for a student's increasing his capacity for understanding, loving, and appreciating his neighbors, regardless of their color?"

An interesting incident occurred in Kansas City a few years ago, involving two university students, who chanced to be visiting briefly in the city. One of the boys, scholarly minded and serious, spent his time at a lecture given by a noted scientist. The other, less studious perhaps, attended the road-show production of the famous musical play, "Emperor Jones". The first youth received a notebook-full of data which would undoubtedly improve his next-week's recitations in the class-rooms. The second boy was inspired by a magnificent singing and acting performance by the famous Paul Robeson, outstanding Negro singer of all time.

The two had agreed to meet outside the theater after the evening show in preparation for the trip home. The boy who had gone to the lecture was first to arrive at the rendezvous. His friend, coming from the theater a few minutes later, found him in a state of great excitement.

"Of all the blankety-blank low-brow idiots—!"

"Why, Joe, what's wrong?"

"Oh, that nigger over there—dern ole fool—practically knocked me down—as if he owned the street—'n had the nerve t'ask if I was hurt an' would I excuse him! Scum of the earth—I'm goin' home an' wash!

Surprised at the nervous outburst of his usually well-composed friend, Bill sought to reason with him.

"Maybe it wasn't his fault, Joe."

"I don't care whose fault it was. Blacks don't belong on the same street with white people".

"Oh, I don't know. Where is the fellow?"

Joe shook a trembling fist in the direction of a large, well proportioned Negro, who was entering a parked automobile.

"Right over there—the dirty—!"

As Bill looked at the man indicated, he could barely stifle an exclamation of surprise. The object of Joe indignation was the one who had been the main feature of an evening of inspiring entertainment, the greatest bass singer in the world, Paul Robeson.

Bill wondered, as he rode home that night, if it was possible that his friend had overlooked one very important thing in his pursuit of education and culture—the art of appreciating character, no matter where it is found. J. E. B.

Officials of a large mail order house in Chicago according to The Christian Century have noticed that the rise and fall in the sales of toy soldiers seems to have a close connection with America's entrance into wars. The firm's statistical experts reveal that there were noticeable booms in the sale of toy soldiers in 1897-98 and in 1916. Today they say the demand for toys of war stands at a new high.

York College has had many students from the German community surrounding Henderson and for that reason it is of interest to call attention to the "Personal and Otherwise" department in the November Harpers where some interesting information about our German friends appears.

The item deals with the migration of the German Mennonites from Russia to the United States and to the competition which arose among the railroads which endeavored to have them settle along their lines. We have read the same story before and in more detail but it is the first time we have seen any reference to it in a magazine with national circulation. The people who live in the vicinity of Henderson are not specifically mentioned but those who know the history of the community will recognize them as being among the ones concerned in the Harper's comment.

As Nebraska and the middle west grow older such items of middle western Americans become more valuable and that they are being preserved in the files of our newspapers and magazines is as it should be.

Cage Squad Gets First Test Tonight

Gallant Takes Men to Hebron for Pre-Season Encounter; Teachers Next

By BERNARD COOK

Tonight in an early season game, the York Panthers take on the Hebron quintet on the latter's court. Needless to say, this contest is the first of the season for both teams.

Coach Neal Gallant has been putting his large squad through their paces on the floor of the Y. C. gym for the past two weeks and has decided on the following for the first fight of the 1936-37 contest: Wages, Wallander, Ellis, Wright, Haberman, Tonkin, Saindon and Peterson. Fellers may also get the call.

Competition for first string berths has been strong. The fact that new men are giving letter men some real opposition is making the selection of the first squad quite an accomplishment for Coach Gallant. Any letup on the part of those selected will be a direct motive for the insertion of a new man.

In regard to tonight's game Gallant would say but little. He did imply, however, that there was a reason for the scheduling of so many early games, but declined to elaborate.

On the local court tomorrow night the Panther five rips the top off the local cage season, engaging the Concordia Teachers team in a contest. Without doubt, the playing of two games on consecutive nights so early in the season will be quite a strain on the local lads. But when Concordia comes on the floor, they will meet a fighting five. The contest is the season's opener for the visitors.

Dana engages the York team in a contest on the local hardwood the tenth of the month and one week later takes on those clowns of the court, the Harlem Globe Trotters. On the following night the locals mix it with the Kearney Teacher's five.

—Y. C.—

Salubrious Selections

Furnishing plenty of opposition, Wesleyan dropped her Turkey Day game to Hastings Brones by score of 26-15. This is the second consecutive year she has done this, and it is also the second consecutive N. C. A. C. football title Hastings has won by virtue of such an act.

Who is to mix it in the Rose Bowl? That's a good question and the spectators have just as good a guess as have the officials. Fordham is definitely out now for an East selection. Maybe a 'Bama eleven will get the call.

By means of comparative scores, one sports scribe has developed the fact that a small college in Pennsylvania could beat Northwestern 70-0 and Washington 114-0. This small team beat W. Va. Wesleyan, and W. Va. Wesleyan beat Duquesne, and the Dukes beat Pitt 7-0. Then Pitt beat Notre Dame, and the Irish beat Northwestern. Northwestern beat the Gophers. Nice easy little school. And they say that figures don't lie.

Predictions are for N. C. A. C. fireworks to explode when the conference reps meet the twelfth of the month. More later.

"Izzy" Thompson beseeched us not to tell this but it's too good to keep. Some W. A. A. girls mentioned the fact that just before the basketball game was over, she made a field goal. "Izzy" said, in all sincerity, "I did not. I made a basket." She's a poor punner too, as well as being Bus's sister.

With the Y. M. C. A. tournament coming off we'll see whether the general run of campus material is up to par.

Inkslingin' Slim.

—Y. C.—

ZIPPERS WIN

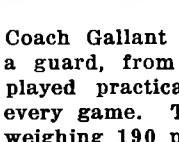

In the girls' basketball tourney held this month in physical education class, the Zippers were victorious. Salters cinched second place whereas there is a tie for third place. The Zippers and Salters will clash in a game as a preliminary to varsity games in near future. High scorers of the tournament were Edith Rabuck, Lois Miller, and Evelyn Beason.

LUTZ IS NAMED 1937 GRID CAPTAIN

Selection of Rex Lutz as next year's captain marked the climax of the football banquet. His selection also marked the climax, or the beginning of such, for Rex.

"Potsy" as he is called by the inhabitants of the McGregor Frat is twenty-three years of age. He hails from Fairmont, where he earned several letters in football, track and basketball.

Starting as a guard in his freshman year at York, Lutz was switched to the fullback position last year. His plunging tactics from that post were offset only by his previous habits of play from the guard post. This year, Coach Gallant again placed him at a guard, from which post he has played practically all the time of every game. Ten-second dash men weighing 190 pounds come few and far between. However, that description fits Lutz, the 1937 grid leader.

Lutz

PANTHERS WIN SIX OF NINE GAMES PLAYED

Six wins, three losses, no ties, 99 points scored as compared to 71 points scored against them,—that is the record of the 1936 Panther football team, which ended its season at Lincoln, November 13.

The record includes wins from Hebron J.C., 29-0; McCook J.C., 26-0; Doane, 3-0; Concordia, 7-6; Fort Dodge, 7-0; and Dana, 27-0. Losses chalked up against the team are Hastings, 42-0; Wesleyan, 20-0; and Midland, 3-0. A curious note in the schedule is that the Concordia game is the only one in which both of the teams on the field scored.

Captain Don Varcoe and Warren Witham are the only lettermen lost to the squad through graduation. Coach Gallant indicated that he would recommend twenty-four men for letters. They include John Haberman, Warren Witham, Don Varcoe, Slim Overmiller, Rex Lutz, Kenneth Willits, Paul McLaughlin, Rolland Tonkin, Dan Wright, Bert Fellers, Bob May, Bill McConnell, Fred Rasp, June Peterson, Ferdinand Sainden, Maurice Thompson, Bryce Hanna, Don Wright, John McLaughlin, Roy Speece, Walter Eckdahl, Carrol Wages, Don Jackson, and Bob Spore.

—Y. C.—

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU PLACES STUDENTS

"The York College employment bureau has been successful in securing part time positions or short jobs for a number of students this year," announced Vaughn Leaming, secretary of the bureau. In every case, the arrangement has met with the satisfaction of both the employer and the student.

The records of students' abilities kept by Leaming enable him to place the proper person when a call comes to his office.

—Y. C.—

PLEDGES INCREASE

Individual pledges for the African project now total $45.00, according to an announcement of Vaughn Leaming last week. Faculty and student pledges ranging from five to ten dollars have assured the Recruits of a progressive campaign this year. The "Nickle-a-week" club has contributed over six dollars thus far to the fund to send a missionary-teacher to Africa.

Scribes Name Honorary Selections

By BERNARD COOK

Since no open season has as yet been declared on pickers of honorary football teams, it seemed only fitting and proper that this paper should have its little say as to who was good and why. However, we will limit the printable material to who and leave the why to a verbal explanation if anyone has the energy to come up to the sports desk and demand reasons for our selections.

First team selections are:
End, Smagacz—Midland.
Tackle, Warner—Doane.
Guard, Varcoe—York.
Center, Overmiller—York.
Guard, Debus—Hastings.
Tackle, J. Logan—Hastings.
End, Kopp—Wesleyan.
Quarterback, Hawkins—Wesleyan.
Halfback, Miller—Midland.
Halfback, Stevenson—Hastings.
Fullback, Vance Logan—Hastings.

Honorable mention should go to such men as Brubaker, Hastings; Makousky, Midland; Cherry, Doane; and Haberman, York at end; Witham, York; Howard, Doane; and Jensen, Midland at tackle; French, Wesleyan; Lutz, York; LaBounty, Hastings; Lyman, Midland; Zwonicheck, Doane, at guard; and Blakeslee, Hastings at center. Backs who deserve recognition include Irgens, Midland; Otto, Wesleyan; V. Kohler, Hastings; Wages, York; Iverson, Doane; Trupp, Hastings, and Cunningham, Midland.

Of further interest to York fans are the tabulations released this week in regard to non-conference competition of the five church schools. The standing of N. C. A. C. teams against non-league foemen is:

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	P.	O.	P.
York	5	0	0	1.000	96	6
Hastings	4	1	0	.800	81	44
Midland	3	1	0	.750	45	47
Wesleyan	2	2	0	.500	29	66
Doane	0	1	2	.333	7	14

INTRAMURAL GAMES START FROM SCRATCH

With seven teams entered in the Y. M. C. A. intra mural basketball league, play will start this week. The teams were selected with the view of making them as even as possible but early season predictions place the Bed Bugs and the Jiggers in the favored positions. An intensive round robin schedule to be played between now and the Christmas holidays has been drawn up.

The Pussy Willows, who were last year's champions, have been broken up and their personnel scattered among the seven teams which are known as the Jiggers, Bed Bugs, Roaches, Fleas, Ticks, Mites, and Moths.

PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR EDUCATION MEET

As representative of York college at a convention of United Brethren educators, President J. R. Overmiller left early in the week for Dayton, Ohio. The meeting is one which will be attended by representatives of Indiana Central, Lebanon Valley, Shenandoah, and Otterbein colleges and Bonebrake Seminary and will deal with plans for future educational work throughout the denomination. President Overmiller is expected back sometime next week.

"Scholarship Is Important," Says Former York College Athlete

Dr. Cox Emphasizes Life Record Based on Scholastic Attainments

By JEAN WRIGHT

"Athletic ability isn't the most valuable thing in school life. Football players will find that their life record will be based more on their scholastic record than on their athletic record." Such is the opinion of Dr. Charles M. Cox, prominent York dentist, and a former York college athlete.

"The foundation of a person's study", he continued "is to learn to correlate one thing with another. Students have to learn to study at the beginning of their college career, and the difference between high school and college methods of study is so great that the individual instruction found in a small college is very valuable. This is something which it is utterly impossible to give in a larger institution because of larger enrollments in individual classes, and because the professor is forced to employ student assistants in his work; he has no individual contact with students in his classes."

Dr. Cox attended York college during the years of 1915, '16, and the spring of '17. During the interview, he glanced through the pages of the first Marathon ever published at York college, and recalled memories of football and basketball games played by a team which was undefeated during the season of football, and which beat Wesleyan by a score of 21-0, and Hastings, 28-0. The basketball team played against such teams as the University of Nebraska, Creighton University, and won over Kearney Teachers' by a score of 61-17, and over Hastings by 38-8. Dr. Cox was the intercollegiate half-back on that football team, and a member of that basketball squad.

During the two years he attended college, he made nine letters in athletics. Besides playing on the football and basketball teams, he was on the track and baseball teams. His class introduced the name, "Marathon Park", for the group of trees on the north side of our campus, and also published the first Marathon. He served on the Marathon board, and was a member of the Zeta literary society.

After his return from the World war, Dr. Cox taught physical education and chemistry in York high school. He entered the University of Nebraska Dental school, and in 1935, received a D.D.S. and a B.S.C. degree from there. Since that time he has been in York.

"The library and field house facilities have been improved to such an extent that students now have better opportunities than we had," continued Dr. Cox. And the popular dentist-athlete closed the interview with this statement, "York college affords better opportunities for pre-professional than a larger institution."

COLLEGE FOLKS ENJOY THANKSGIVING

Faculty members who ought to know said they celebrated their greatest Thanksgiving in years "because they had so much more for which to be thankful". Maurice Corcoran, student, remarked "It was because folks are demanding less and helping themselves to more."

Miss Anna Thompson, treasurer of York College, stated: "I spent Thanksgiving in Omaha with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Thompson." Mrs. Thompson, formally Miss Retha Feaster, graduated from York College with the class of '27. Mr. Thompson graduated the following year.

Roy Speece, and "Squeak" Callahan, refusing the dressed butcher-shop turkey, went to seek "wild" meat. "More than enough" meat was shot for the Thanksgiving dinner, according to Speece.

Special Thanksgiving menus and afternoon and evening programs were given in the conservatory for students who did not return to their homes, according to Dr. W. E. Bachman.

Heavy gray skies, which did not give definite promise of clearing for Thanksgiving day, covered the state Wednesday night, causing many members of the faculty to spend Thanksgiving day in their homes.

ALUMNI EDITOR TELLS DATE OF BANQUET

By J. C. MORGAN, alumni historian Fellow alumni:

Just two brief items this time: first, I wish to thank Theron Gard for his very encouraging letter received just in time to be mentioned in the last issue. We hope he writes again and that other alumni will follow his example.

The second item concerns the date for the mid-year banquet. It has been set for Saturday, December 26. Let all alumni within driving distance of York plan to attend. It ought to be easy for at least a hundred to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Ramp, '30, are the parents of a daughter born November 23 at their home in Cedar Rapids, Nebraska. Mrs. Ramp was formerly Miss Altha McClatchey.

The marriage of Miss Marian Sandall, ex-'38, and Leo Sonderegger of Lincoln took place at the York Presbyterian church, Saturday, November 21.

PRESIDENT SHOWS SLIDES TO ZETAS

"To me, the outstanding sight on my whole trip was the palm trees in California," President J. R. Overmiller as guest speaker told members of the Zeta literary society at their regular meeting November 17.

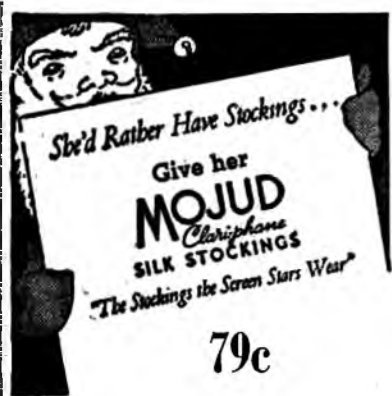

Explaining the colored slides which he secured on his trip through California and New Mexico, Mr. Overmiller brought in details not shown in the pictures which made them more interesting.

Initiation of members who were not present at the preceding meeting was conducted by Hazel Emma Morgan.

gregations in the churches at Long Beach, Puente, and Stockton. He was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Roberts, former York residents. Mr. Roberts was at one time a member of the executive board of York college.

Although he was very busy with conference meetings, President Overmiller found time to visit several places of interest in the coast state. In company with three other pastors, he went to the coast of Catalina Island, from which they returned with nine tuna fish, weighing between 20 to 30 pounds.

On his return, Mr. Overmiller stopped in New Mexico, where, he visited the schools at Santa Cruz, Alcalde, and Valarde. Here he met the parents of Daisy Million and Ross Martinez, students of York college at the present time. He also saw Conrado Medina, '30, and Dr. Iren Bachman, '28, and Vera and Delia Herrick, ex-'30.

President Overmiller obtained slides of all the places which he visited, and plans to show them in chapel.

QUARTET AND TRIO ORGANIZED

Dean Charles Amadon has organized a male quartet and a girls' trio in the past few weeks. Everett Sorrenson, Alden Marvel, Wilbur Overmiller, and Robert Gale are members of the quartette. Betty Owen will serve as accompanist for the group.

The girls' trio is composed of Lodema Frieden, Wanieta Sullivan, and Irene Hofgard. Hazel Emma Morgan will probably serve as accompanist for the trio.

RECRUITS ORGANIZE GOSPEL TEAMS

The Life Work Recruits have recently organized six gospel teams under the direction of Ruth Alle-shouse, chairman of that activity. Those appointed team captains were Elizabeth Feemster, Dorothy Riggs, Carl Lee, Erwin Branson, Merle Blinn, and Vaughn Leaming. Five of these groups will accept invitations to churches within driving distance for Sunday services, while the remaining team will visit the shut-ins within the city.
