Juniors and Seniors Toast to Luck And Superstition

ANNUAL BANQUET IS HELD ON FRIDAY, 13TH; COOK IS TOASTMASTER

Friday the thirteenth, and superstitions connected with it, furnished the motif when the juniors entertained the seniors at the annual banquet held at the college church May 13. Decorations, favors, music, and toasts all centered about the spirit of the day.

Guests were entertained in the reception room before the meal began by a resourceful gypsy fortune teller, who in private life proved to be Roberta Livers. After glimpsing the future, all were ushered into the banquet hall, where weird cobwebby apparitions adorned the corners, and skeletons of witches and cats walked along the walls. Bouquets of spring flowers brightened the ghostly atmosphere, and the tables, despite their somber allusions, presented a gay appearance. Patty shells, each concealing a fortune, were used for place cards, and paper witches stalked before each place, carrying printed programs in one thin arm, and with the other holding ribbons attached to rabbit's feet, which served as favors for the evening.

Bernard Cook acted as toastmaster, and, with many allusions to luck, sometimes good and sometime bad, introduced the remainder of the program, as follows: toast: "See a pin and pick it up, all that day you'll have good luck," Merle Blinn; quartet: "The love bug will bite you if you don't watch out," Creston Klingman, Irvin Wall, Wilbur Overmiller, Robert Gale; toast: "Break a wishbone, most for you, and your wish will soon come true," Esther Thornton; solo: "A gypsy told me," Robert Gale; toast: "Over your shoulder spy the moon; good luck will meet you very soon," Barney Rees; solo: "The gobblins'll get you if you don't watch out," Mary Margaret duRand; toast: "Star light, star bright, first star I see tonight," Gwendolyn Hoofnagle. The program ended as all sang together one verse of, "On the Hill of the Rising Sun."

Scholarship Fund of $100 Created

One hundred dollars has been given to York College by the Young Ladies' Athenaeum literary society of the former Leander Clark college of Toledo, Iowa. The gift is to be called the Mary Mutch Cain Scholarship and it pays six dollars annually to be awarded to a woman of the senior class on senior recognition day. She is to be nominated by the women of the faculty and elected by the entire faculty. Fitness to receive the gift shall include thorough scholarship, social worth, and faithfulness to obligations to the college and to the campus organizations to which the recipient belongs. If in any year no woman of the senior class is eligible to receive the gift it shall revert to the college.

Mary Mutch Cain was formerly a member of the Y. L. A. society. She and her husband, I. N. Cain, went to Rotifunk, Africa, following their graduation in 1898. They were massacred the next fall.

Gallant Grooms 22 Panthers For Conference Meet

HAS TITLE HOPES AS HE VIEWS POSSIBILITIES OF SQUAD

By Erwin Branson

"We should make a better showing than last year—if the boys come through with the performances of which they are capable", stated Coach Neal Gallant last week as the Panther track team began its final preparations for the annual N. C. A. C. meet at Hastings Friday. The York athletes finished in second place, behind the Hastings Broncos, last season.

Only one Panther, Max Quick, will be defending a conference title Friday. Quick leaped to a win in the broad jump in 1937. Cecil Smith, who set a new record of 15 seconds flat in the high hurdles and garnered thirteen points in three events, was lost by graduation, and Gilbert Fellers, winner of the shot put crown, did not return to college this year.

Coach Gallant is pinning his hopes on the efforts of 22 men, representing three entries in each event. They are:

100 and 220-yard dashes—Lutz, Ekdahl, and Haberman.

440-yard dash—Wright, Foster, and Friesen.

880-yard run—Tonkin, Blinn, and Bergen.

Mile—Bergen, Buller, and Blinn.

Two-mile—Rees, Cobe, and Herrick.

High hurdles—Saindon, Greene, Low hurdles—Saindon, Haberman and Schmidt.

Broad jump—Quick, Retzlaff, and Thompson.

High jump—McLaughlin, Leaming, and Quick.

Shot put—Quick, Tonkin, and Lutz.

Discus—Quick, Haberman, and Foster.

Javelin—Lutz, Saindon, and McLaughlin.

Pole vault—Chenoweth, Greene, 880-yard relay—Lutz, Ekdahl, Tonkin, and Haberman.

The meet will begin at 2 p. m. Preliminary heats in the hurdles and dashes will be run off in the morning.

Establish Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega

A local chapter of the largest dramatic fraternity in the nation is being established on the York College campus as a result of negotiations completed last week by Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the expression department. In a letter received from the national council of Alpha Psi Omega, Miss Lundman was notified that a charter has been granted to the York group, authorizing it as the Eta Kappa chapter of the national society.

Outstanding work in college plays will be the criterion for membership in the organization. Names of eligible candidates will be submitted to the National Council of Alpha Psi Omega, which must pass on the qualifications of all nominees.

"To be affiliated with a national fraternity is an asset to the college as well as to individuals," said Miss Lundman last week. "We hope to complete our organization and stage initiation services before the end of the semester."

There are 140 active chapters of the fraternity, functioning in colleges and universities from coast to coast.

Staff Seeks Companions For Migration to Hastings

Not unfounded are the hopes of track fans that the Panthers will win the N. C. A. C. title next Friday at Hastings. The way they have it figured, the local squad is so strong in some events that the sure 'nuff first place winners will make up for the lack of third and fourth places.

The staff of the Sandburr, including Leviticus and Wilmer, pays tribute to the track squad and plans to be at Hastings Friday to see the payoff. Won't somebody please get a bus or a truck for us to go in and about a hundred other sideliners to go with us?

Small College Will Play Larger Part In Practical Vocational Guidance

The senior approaches the deadline when he must decide what his future for the next few years will be. He may decide to become a school teacher as many another like him will do. There are few more dignified or worthy professions but some seniors will enter such a career with misgivings. Some there will be who had not intended to do anything of the sort and have fallen into it as a last resort. Others there are who enter it with reservations expecting to leave it in a year to continue an education. In either case the field itself does not welcome these intruders. True, this field pays the highest dividends in the shortest time; nevertheless, it deserves recruits who are seriously ambitious to rise in the education business. Careful vocational guidance can perhaps avoid new crops of misfits each year. Perhaps the situation as it presents no immediate problem. The subject is timely, however, two weeks before graduation.

The small denominational college gives broad, basic training and is confessedly not a specialized training ground for advanced and skilled positions. As a preliminary course for graduate work, we are convinced, it has no equal. But to fill a need, it must also aid the orientation of a student that he may find the vocation upon which he will concentrate. To become more helpful, some members of the faculty have been carrying on a thorough study of vocational guidance. The aim is not only to perfect such guidance but also to make more practical the instruction in each department of the college.

Three simple steps may be followed by the ambitious young person as he attempts to determine into what activities he may most successfully put his energies. 1. He will first of all discover his own abilities with the use of vocational aptitude tests, or inventory tests with the aid of an older experienced person. 2. Then he may study the various vocations and the abilities required for each. 3. He may then bring the first two steps together in training himself for the vocation that is in line with his abilities.

To a certain extent all three steps are followed at York College, but to improve the technique, material is being gathered in the form of college catalogs and guidance leaflets, in order that students may know what courses are offered elsewhere and what types of ability are required for them. To know what universities are teaching in order to train their students for particular vocations will aid in strengthening the guidance given here. Another practical aim of the study is to contact firms and industries who are looking for graduates direct from the colleges.

The insurmountable wall or the single choice course which confronts a college graduate is a thing of the past. There will be no excuse for a teacher who has fallen into that profession merely because it was the line of least resistance. The modern youth intelligently decides upon his career and works toward it. The York College student is a modern youth who will regard his present experience not as an end but as a rung in the ladder.

Rev. Paul Porter, '15 is now a member of the city council at Aurora as well as pastor of the United Brethren church there.

Mr. Jessie Luthi, '36, reports an interesting trip to Panama, stopping at the national capitol and sailing from New York City. He is now located at Aucon, Canal Zone, where he is working under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist church. His work is that of an educational missionary in the Instituto Pan-Americano. He will have charge of classes in Bible and English in the high school division of the Institute. Part of the instruction will be in Spanish and part in English. The place where he lives and works is known as the "Seawall school" since at various times of the day and night the tide drives the ocean with great force against the walls of the building.

The alumni banquet will be held on Wednesday evening, June 1 at the United Brethren church. This will be the first meeting of the alumni association for a year; therefore a large attendance is expected. Mrs. Edna Schneider is chairman of the program committee, Miss Nelle Bearss, the menu, and Miss Irene Thompson of invitations.

The Delta Lambda Mu (York Scholars) will hold their annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon, May 31, from three to five o'clock. The program will consist of a tea, business meeting, initiation of new members, music, and a short address by Dean W. E. Bachman.

The Faculty Speaks

INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE

By Prof. J. C. Morgan

It may be a question whether there is any longer a chance for the expression of individual initiative. Opportunity which once smiled so kindly upon American originality and effort now seems to frown and turn away her face. We are apt to think that the best poem and the best book have been written, that the most eloquent speech has been delivered, that the richest mines have been exploited, and the cleverest invention has been made.

However this may be, the college student knows that his success both in the classroom and in the work-a-day world depends upon his own efforts; that an education is not attained by any process of osmosis, by sleeping with a textbook under one's pillow, or by a time exposure even for four years. No amount of good teaching or lecturing will suffice. The student somehow has the conviction that what he does of and for himself is what counts. After all allowance is made for the value of cooperative effort and socialized activities, the student still feels that he needs some kind of individual expression.

It is an old saying that one should be able not only to think and to think for himself, but also be able to stand on two feet and think, and express his ideas to his hearers. To be able to do something with the mind, the voice, or the hands is still an acceptable way of proving the value of an education. Society has the right to expect the college graduate to be a useful member of the community in which he is placed and to contribute something to its well-being, either social, civic, educational, religious, or occupational.

We quote from former president Theodore Roosevelt: "We must keep ever in mind that no action by the state, no action by combination among ourselves can take the place of the individual qualities, to which in the long run, every man must owe the success he can make of life."

The college student will not be content with merely getting a job. His goal will be either to create a new job or to make himself indispensable in any position in which he may be placed.

ination to Congress from the second district.

Irene Hoggard, '37, was married recently to Marvin Landerdale of Lingle, Wyoming. Mr. Landerdale is connected with an oil company at Fort Laramie.

The alumni express their appreciation to President Overmiller for his ten years of loyal, sane and energetic work in the highest interest of the college. His service has been most valuable at a critical time and his devotion has been most self-denying. We know that whatever work next engages his attention, his interest in the college will continue to be just as keen and devoted as during his presidency.

York Swamps Midland as Rain Swamps Both

SCORE IS 107 TO 18;
QUICK GETS 18 POINTS

In keeping the Midland track team to one or less points in all but two events, the York Panthers piled up 107 2-3 points to Midland's 18 1-3 on a rain soaked track, last Friday. A steady, cold rain made the afternoon miserable for athletes and spectators alike.

The Panthers made a clean sweep in four of the events and took a first and second in seven more. Smagacz took the only first for Midland, in the javelin. The discus was the only other event in which Midland got better than a third.

Max Quick was again high point man, taking three firsts and a second for 18 points. Quick has been high man in three of York's dual meets this season, and second high in the fourth meet.

Summary of the point winners: Quick 18, J. Haberman 10, Thompson 8, Bergen 8, P. McLaughlin 8, Lutz 7, Buller 6, Tonkin 6, Wright 6, Saindon 6, H. Haberman 6, Rees 5, J. McLaughlin 5, Cobe 3, Ekdahl 3, Blinn 1, and Leaming and Foster each 1-3.

Tennis Team Loses to Kearney and Midland

In two tennis duals held last week York netmen were able to take only three matches as the Kearney Antelopes went home with a two to one victory and Midland triumphed seven matches to two.

Against Kearney May 6, Bill Curnutt copped the lone win with a 7-5, 1-6, 6-4 margin over Elliot, Antelope number one man. Last Tuesday Midland tennis men triumphed over all Panther entries, except Branson, who won his singles match from Bundegard, 6-4, 6-1, and the doubles team of Marvel and Branson, who eked out a 6-4, 6-4 victory.

Two Kearney golfers accompanied the tennis team and engaged the York divot diggers, Bob Gale and Ray Peterson. McKinney of Kearney, one of the state's outstanding amateur players, beat Gale, 10-7, while Peterson lost to Striker, 4-5.

BLINN CAPTAINS TRACK SQUAD

Merle Blinn, Chanute, Kansas, will lead the York cinder artists as they go in quest of the N. C. A. C. crown Friday. Blinn a senior was unanimously chosen by his mates to captain the 1938 Panther squad. He has won two letters in track and will enter both the mile and half mile at the conference meet.

Wesleyan Wins Meet; One Record Is Broken

BERGEN RUNS 4:43.7 MILE
QUICK MAKES 20 POINTS

For the second time this season, Henry Bergen set a new York College mile record, this time in a dual meet with Wesleyan, on May 3. Wesleyan won the meet, however, with a score of 72 1-2 to 58 1-2 points.

Elmer Buller, freshman from Henderson, set the pace in Bergen's record breaking performance, but Bergen beat Buller to the tape by a few inches with a time of 4:43.7 for the mile.

York swept the shot put with Max Quick, Rex Lutz, and Roland Tonkin finishing first, second, and third, respectively. During his first time out for track this season, Harold Haberman took first in the low hurdles for York. He is expected to be a serious contender in the N. C. A. C. meet.

The men on the 880-yard relay team ran their fastest race of the current season, but finished second to Wesleyan, by a scant foot.

Quick was again high point man of the meet with four firsts for 20 points.

Communism, the church, the general conditions in Russia, and the plight of the German people following the World war were discussed by Jacob Volz of York, who was commissioner of relief under Herbert Hoover in Germany following the World war. "Following the war, there were some communities in Russia in which fifty per cent of the people had died because of a shortage of food and of the other effects of the conflict," he stated.

The consumer, producer, and spectator aspects of art were discussed by Frank Willis, art supervisor of York public schools. Painting for a bankroll rather than painting on inspiration has been a result of putting art to commercial utility, he observed.

"Flowers at Work" and "The Adventures of Bunny Rabbit", two sound pictures on nature, were recently shown to the student body.
