New President Is Speaker At First Convocation

One Faculty Change As College Opens Forty-eighth Year

Stressing the importance of a well balanced program in college in preparation for a half century of life, President D. E. Weidler addressed the opening convocation as York college began a new year for the forty-eighth consecutive time.

"Numerous, varied, and deep experiences produce the cultured person", said Pres. Weidler as he laid emphasis on the physical, intellectual, and spiritual phases as all being important in a well rounded life. "What you are to be, you are now becoming", was the keynote of his address.

With registrations practically complete, 229 students are enrolled in the four classes and the commercial department. Encouraging reports come from the various activities as they get under way and from the athletic department.

No changes were made in the faculty personnel with the exception of the addition of Mrs. Muriel Clarke to the conservatory of music. After a year's absence Mrs. Clarke resumes her former position as instructor in violin and public school music.

Frosh Week Helps Break Ice

City and Faculty Receive Newcomers

Freshmen and other new students were engaged in "breaking the ice" from Sept. 8 to Sept. 13, as they followed the freshman week program planned to acquaint them with one another and with college life before upperclassmen arrived on the campus.

In the college chapel on Thursday evening, September 8, the faculty entertained them at a reception in the college chapel. The program in charge of John McLaughlin, consisted of a piano solo by Olive King, a cello number by Doris White, a reading by Miss Alma Tress Ludman, and a trombone solo by Gerald Dierdorff. President D. E. Weidler also spoke, briefly expressing his pleasure at finding York College and the people of York so friendly.

Members of the York Chamber of Commerce entertained the freshmen at the McCloud Hotel the following evening. Dennis Meehan, chairman for the evening, presented a program including a response representing the students by Lawrence Gassman, a response by Dean W. E. Bachman, a short talk by President Weidler, a talk and introduction of business men by Commissioner Charles Bradwell, and introduction of the

The President's Message

My first word to the readers of the Sandburr is one of appreciation for the achievements of York College during the forty-eight years it has served in this community. There are fine traditions of culture and sacrificial service evident in the spirit which characterizes York College. On this well and truly laid foundation we can continue to build a college which shall contribute to meeting the needs of the church and the nation in these times of rapid change when young people are called upon to make so many and varied adjustments. A Christian college can be a real blessing in their finding a true way of life.

We have been most cordially received by the faculty and students, by the local church, and by the York community. Assurances of cooperation and good wishes have come from every hand. Under God, the college shall continue with the cooperation of all these factors to be a vital force for righteousness and truth and Christian nurture.

The United Brethren Church west of the Mississippi in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, is primarily responsible for the maintenance of York College. From them must come the idealism, the students, and the funds to make York College live and grow. The trustees of the college have challenged the conferences of this area to provide the money needed for its fullest establishment through the Benevolence giving of the people, and through a special College and Conference Advancement Fund. In the four conferences where this plan has been presented, after thorough and thoughtful consideration, it has been undertaken with sacrificial purpose to succeed.

We have at York College a devoted and cultured faculty and an earnest and intelligent student body backed by a sacrificial and determined church and a hospitable and cooperative community. With these assets and the blessing of God upon our efforts we may look with confidence toward a great year of spiritual, cultural, and material blessing; and to this end we dedicate ourselves.

PRESIDENT D. E. WEIDLER.

FEED TONIGHT

All men of the college will be guests of the Y. M. C. A. at a watermelon feed tonight. Plans are to meet at the gym for games at 7:30 and adjourn to the "Con" dining hall for the feed.

Dean Amadon Has Fifty In Chorus

"Over fifty students have already enrolled for chorus work," declared Dean Charles Amadon to a Sandburr reporter during a recent interview. Many of the prominent upper-classmen and a number of fine voices from the freshman class will lend their voices to make this year's chorus outstanding.

In the near future a freshman girls' trio will be selected to represent the college. This will be in addition to the regular college trio and the male quartet.

A new class in harmony has been organized along with the usual theory of music class. The latter class, according to Dean Amadon, has a larger enrollment than in any previous year.

It is the wish of the dean that all students interested in chorus or in taking private voice lessons get in touch with him as soon as possible.

REES IS PRO TEM COUNCIL PRESIDENT

BARNEY REES

Barney Rees, senior of Pueblo, Colorado, is acting as president of the student council due to the failure of Erwin Branson, Lawrence, Kansas, to return to college. Rees is a three year letterman in track and was president of the Y Club last year. He was recently elected president of the senior class. He has also been active in literary society, and forensic circles having lettered in debate in his sophomore year.

Summer Group Gives Many Performances

Seventy-five performances of the play "The Lost Church" were given by the group of six sent out by the college during the past summer. The cast consisted of Erwin Branson, Mary Jean Buttermore, Gerald Dierdorff, Jean Mattingly, Hope Howland, and the Rev. A. V. Howland. Between June 4 and August 26 the group travelled 8,000 miles and attended five summer conferences in Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Kansas, and Nebraska. Lois Miller was with the group for two weeks in Colorado.

PRESIDENT D. E. WEIDLER

Associations Are Hosts To 200 At Annual Jolly Up

More than two hundred students and faculty members accepted the invitation of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations to the annual Jolly-up held in the college gymnasium on Friday evening, September 16 as a special reception to new students.

The traditional receiving line which greeted guests as they entered the door was headed by Dean and Mrs. W. E. Bachman, Lois Miller, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Jim Farley, acting president of the Y. M. C. A.

Coach Neal Gallant presented the 1938 football team after the entire group participated in several planned relay games. The theme of the program of the evening was the "School of Swing", with Lawrence Deever as maestro. Those appearing were: Waldo Dahlstedt who played a trombone solo; a girls' vocal trio, composed of Lodema Frieden, Marjorie Cook and Lois Miller; Wayne Dahlstedt who played a piano solo; Bernard Cook who sang a solo; Donald Casner who played a trumpet solo; Jerry Dierdorff and Junior Heatherington who sang a duet; and Bertha Riggs who sang a solo accompanied by Wayne Dahlstedt on the flute.

Prof. Haugan Gets Share of Thrills

To see two hundred thousand people gathered in Soldiers' Field, to hear seventy-three amateur orchestras and eighteen professional orchestras, to hear a male chorus of nine hundred voices, and to hear one thousand five hundred accordions, not to mention hearing Gladys Swarhout, is almost too much excitement for any one man, but Professor Harold Haugan claims that distinction. In an exclusive interview for the Sandburr, Mr. Haugan disclosed the fact that he even saw the welcoming home of Corrigan, and the reception held for him at Soldiers' Field. Mr. Haugan also visited the zoological gardens, saw White Sox play, and witnessed Dizzy Dean pitch. And take it from Mr. Haugan, Dizzy can sure fan the star batters out. To quote Mr. Haugan, "Dizzy is the man he claimed to be".

Named Successor To Overmiller Who Goes To Calif.

Comes Directly From Faculty of Indiana Central College

Prof. D. E. Weidler of Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Indiana, was last week welcomed as President Weidler of York College when the college year officially opened with the convocation on September 13. He replaces J. R. Overmiller, whose resignation was accepted by the Board of Trustees last spring and who has accepted a pastorate at San Diego, California.

President Weidler, whose brother, V. O. Weidler is the new bishop of the southwest area, was born at Highspire, Pennsylvania, and attended high school in Lykens, Pennsylvania. In 1909 he was graduated from Lebanon Valley college at Annville, a United Brethren institution. After three years as a teacher in a high school at Anderson, Indiana, he went to Freetown, Sierra Leone, British West Africa, as a teacher in Albert Academy, a United Brethren school for boys. In 1921 he returned to this country for a year of graduate study at Columbia University. After that he was principal of high schools at Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, and Anderson, Indiana, until 1928 when he went to Indiana Central college as director of student teaching.

ZETAS TO ENTERTAIN

NEXT TUESDAY

Plans are under way for a more entertaining Zeta reception than ever before, according to members of the society. Although no specific program was divulged, the Zetas are at work, and with John McLaughlin as general chairman, they are looking forward to the night of September 27, when all new students will be their guests. Other committee chairmen include Evelyn Westwood, invitations; Florence Deever, refreshments; Mary Margaret du Rand, decorations; and Marjorie Cook, room improvement.

Heads of Classes Are All Men

Rees, Bedient, Eberhart and Neal Are Presidents

Barney Rees, Pueblo, Colorado, was last week elected president of the senior class as men captured most of the major offices of the various classes. Juniors named Carl Bedient of Polk as their chief. Don Eberhart of Lincoln is the new sophomore class president, and Warren Neal, Brookfield, Missouri, will wield the gavel for the freshmen.

As supporting officers for Rees, the seniors selected Lawrence Deever, York, vice president; Doris Johnson, Macksville, Kansas, secretary; Charlene Hurlley, Des Moines, Iowa, treasurer; Walter Ekdahl, Polk, and Hazel Emma Morgan, York, Panther Club representatives, and Miss Zelta Wakelin, sponsor.

Other junior class officers are: Charles Whitney, Aurora, vice president; Lois Miller, Russell, Kansas, secretary; Marvin Ives, St. Johns, Kansas, treasurer; Mary Jean Buttermore, Woodston, Kansas, and James Farley, Rush, Colorado, Panther Club representatives; Doris White, York, stu-

BORN TWO YEARS TOO SOON

Two years hence York college will celebrate the golden anniversary of her founding. The editor's job will be easy with a wealth of language flooding his mind as he pours out his heart concerning a half century of progress and advancement, fifty years of sending out youth into the world, five decades of service to humanity and the United Brethren church, and all the glib phrases that bespeak the thoughts of that editor as he opens the college year.

Without the possibility of high sounding words but with all possible seriousness we enter the forty-eighth year of the existence of York college, the most important year up to this time. The fiftieth year can offer no more outstanding possibilities for achievement. To look ahead too far is to overlook the chance of a lifetime today and may prevent the obtaining of maximum satisfaction and value from present circumstances.

Freshmen who last week began a new career may accomplish greater things this year than they had even hoped. Not one, if he has by this time overcome all homesickness, can point to a more important year in his life. The sophomore and the junior each has an opportunity of broadening his scope of activity as he begins the all important school year of 1938-39. The senior in the last few weeks has become profoundly impressed with the things he must accomplish as he enters the climaxing year of his education. No period of time can take the place of the next nine months in the experience of any student.

The forty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the college is the most important and the statement will not be questioned until next year. So in humble phrases the Sandburr salutes the banner year in the life of the paper, the college, and each student.

THE FORWARD LOOK

With no change in the editorial administration of the Sandburr for this year, the initiation of new ideas and policies is not anticipated. This will not, however, mean the prevention of worthwhile experimentation and advisable minor changes. It does mean the continuation of the tried and successful policies that have followed this publication throughout the thirty-eight years of its existence. The brief reiteration of these policies is in order each year.

Of primary importance is the desire of the staff to place the Sandburr at the disposal of the alumni and more particularly the faculty and the student body of the college. We offer it as the principal medium between the campus and the constituency for disseminating campus atmosphere. We make the same offer to the student body for its use in expressing student opinion and to keep as a record of the happenings of this school year.

The editorial staffs of the Sandburr have never dabbled in politics nor in affairs outside our constituent area. Again this year the editorial and news material will be found largely within the limits of the college campus.

The first issue of this year appears on higher quality paper as an attempt to improve its appearance. Other printing changes have been made for the same reason. This issue is tentatively published on Thursday until the most satisfactory day of the week is found.

Reorganization in the journalism department was made in the interests of the content of the Sandburr. The combination of the Press Guild and the newswriting class gives more encouragement to budding reporters and it gives added incentive to the veterans to remain on the staff. As result this year's Sandburr will have one of the largest staffs in its history.

The Sandburr is looking forward to the most successful year in its thirty-eight-year career. With a more experienced staff, more scurrying cub reporters, more complete coverage, better journalistic efforts, and a wealth of enthusiasm, an already high average of usefulness will be surpassed.

THE SANDBURR CHIMES IN

Nearly every organization and person in the city has by this time formally welcomed D. E. Weidler as President Weidler of York College. The Sandburr is happy to step forward at this first opportunity to extend the sincerest welcome of all.

His qualifications have been considered by the executive board and are not necessarily the concern of the student newspaper. We do note however, his qualities of leadership not only as an educator but as an administrator. His Christian and ministerial background also make him admirably suited to the field that will be his here. His eagerness to cooperate with all organizations and his willingness to place himself and the facilities of the institution at the disposal of each student have marked the opening of his administration.

President Weidler is the object our welcome and support as we open a new era in the history of the college.

Sophomore Expounds What Freshmen Should Know

The great majority of students come to college for no other reason than to have a good time, to while away valuable time in a lackadaisical manner as it were, but some students come to school to gain all that they can, to obtain the utmost from their education, and it is to freshmen of this latter class that I speak.

For the convenience of the newcomer, the campus of York College may be divided into four main divisions, the administration building and surrounding territory, the "Con", the library, and the gymnasium. Let us first consider the administration building.

No freshman's year is really complete unless at some time or other he goes to the "ad" building to attend some of the classes held there. Indeed many maintain that attending classes is one of the most important functions that is carried on in college. That, however, each individual must decide for himself.

The "Con" or Hulitt Conservatory of Music, as it is seldom called, is widely known as the home of the "Owl", a kindly and charitable bird who sooner or later comes to know and be known by all students. This building also serves as the girls' dormitory, and there is one school of thought that stoutly maintains that the "Con" is the real center of learning at York College.

There are some who strongly favor the notion that the library is to be used as a place of study. Where this notion came from, it is hard to tell. Certainly it did not come from the students, as it is used as a sort of community center where magazines and newspapers are read and the latest morsel of gossip is reviewed.

Lastly we come to the Gymnasium or the lair of the Panthers. It is here that young beef on the hoof receives instruction as to how to defend the honor of the school upon the gridiron. It is here that young bodies are hardened and trained that they might meet great tests unflinchingly in the years to come. And also not to be forgotten, it is here that college parties are held.

It is hoped that this brief, practical description of the campus will be of help to some of the more serious minded freshmen. The readers must realize, however, that much must be learned by personal observation and study. In the next issue we will take up various methods of getting along with the teachers.

dent council; and Miss Alma Tress Lundman, sponsor.

With Eberhart the sophomores elected Henry Hansen, Des Moines, Iowa, vice president; Betty Jo Ericson, Stromsburg, secretary; Bertha Riggs, Hudson, Iowa, treasurer; Gerald Dierdorff, Geneva, student council; Billy Dean, York, and Lois Cobe, Dawson, Panther Club; and Prof. Harold Haugan, sponsor.

Additional freshman results were: Keith Roberts, Omaha, vice president; Pauline Bredehoff, Waco, secretary; Rosemary McCormick, Berthoud, Colorado, treasurer; Lawrence Gassman, Goehner, student council; Robert McCandless and Frances Bullock, York, Panther Club; and W. J. Karraker, sponsor.

Summer School Shows Increase

With a thirty-five per cent increase in enrollment over last year and most of the regular college instructors on the staff, a nine weeks' summer school course was completed August 6. The class schedule was drawn to meet the new certification requirements for teachers.

S. S. Class Receives

Fifty women attended the reception given by the old members for the new members of the college girls' Sunday School class of the United Brethren church on Sunday, September 11.

The program consisted of a reading by Edith Rabuck, a duet by Marjorie Cook and Lois Miller, a solo by Regina Heatherington, and a skit by Doris Goodrich, Bertha Riggs, Florence Deever, Shirley Talbott, Hazel Emma Morgan, and Helen Lumbus.

Weddings Include College Couples

Two couples of York College students from the class of '38 were united in marriage during the month of August.

Dulcie Hoofnagle of Dawson, Iowa, and Wilbur Overmiller of York were married on August 6 at the United Brethren church in the bride's home town. Former President Overmiller, father of the groom, performed the ceremony.

Marie Bomhoff of Wichita, Kansas, and John McLaughlin of York were married on August 21 at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by Professor E. I. Doty of York College.

students by Prof. W. J. Karraker. Vocal solos were given by Bertha Riggs and Bob Gale and the program was closed by Miss Ruth French who sang a sophomore ditty to the freshmen.

On Monday, Sept. 12, a faculty and student picnic was held on the campus.

The Y. W. C. A. sponsored an informal tea for the freshman girls on Sept. 13. Upon arriving, each one was given a blue booklet, in which she was to get all the autographs of those present within a certain time. A welcome address was given by the president, Lois Miller. Roberta Estey responded for the guests. The program consisted of a solo by Bertha Riggs, a reading by Doris Johnson, and a trio by Dorothy Riggs, Jean Mattingly, and Ocie Moran.

On September 13 the freshmen entered upon the regular college program with more receptions and programs.

Over Fifty Football Candidates Look Good To Coach Gallant

Loss of Willets Is Disturbing Factor

Although a turnout of over fifty grid hopefuls, seventeen of whom are returning letter men, makes York College football prospects very promising, Coach Neal Gallant is not by any means over confident. The announcement that Kenneth Willets, tackle from Polk, is leaving college is a blow to the line, for Willets, a two-hundred pounder, was offensively and defensively, the toughest man on the team.

"Tommy Thompson, last year's triple threat star has been leading the backfield in passing, punting, and ball carrying exercises, and apparently suffering no ill effects from last season's injury to his shoulder. Burton Feaster, back after a year's layoff, is showing some fancy ball lugging. Outstanding among the freshmen backfield candidates are Floyd Gifford and Enos Dean Hohnbaum.

The line, while boasting a little more weight than last year, is still shy reserve material at the tackle posts. The loss of Wilbur Overmiller, captain elect, at center is compensated by Raymond Peterson, while lettermen May and Bedient are alternating at the guard positions with Doerr and Neal, two very powerful freshmen. Hansen and Boehr are taking care of the tackle berths, and the Haberman cousins, John and Harold, are playing the ends.

Early work outs show the team to be faster, more experienced, and slightly heavier than last year. This coupled with the fact that there is more and stronger reserve power than in former years points toward a successful season, —we hope.

Present Enrollment Tops Last Year

York College students this year represent ten states and one territory. There are now 85 freshmen, 64 sophomores, 46 juniors, 23 seniors, four commercial students and seven specials registered, making a total of 229 and topping last year's record by 16 students.

The records indicate that Nebraska is leading with 134 students. Iowa is second with 33 representatives, while Kansas has but 27 this year. The other states are as follows: Colorado 13, Montana 7, New Mexico 5, Missouri 4, Oklahoma and Puerto Rico two each, and Wyoming and Oregon one apiece.

There was a discussion in Christian Endeavor about the worth of man. He was chemically evaluated at 98c. Junior Heatherington leaned over to Barney Rees and said: "Plus sales tax in Kansas."

Students Travel For Vacations

By Bob Spore

East to the Ohio, west to the Pacific, north into Canada, and south into Mexico, traveled York College students as they sought new places in which to spend their summer vacations.

Perhaps the greatest number of miles were piled up by Dan Wright as he traveled through eighteen states, Canada, and Mexico. He was as far east as St. Paul, north into Canada, west to the Pacific, and south into Mexico. Incidentally, Wright left home with six dollars in his pocket and "bummed" his way, mostly on freight trains.

Other Pacific coast visitors were Bob Gale, Maurice Thompson, and Irene Thompson who made the trip by auto accompanied by Isabelle Thompson and Dorothy Peterson. A high point of their trip was a visit made by Gale and Thompson at the home of a friend of Gale's uncle, where they saw Mr. Arlington Brugh, better known by the campus cinema addicts as Robert Taylor. Gale sang a song in an artist's audition studio accompanied at the piano by Miss Jean Brown, a former York college student. Gale and Thompson also traveled to Iowa where Thompson was the best man at the wedding of Wilbur Overmiller and Dulcie Hoofnagle. Later in the summer Thompson took a trip to Oklahoma where he visited relatives.

Among the college men attending the Nebraska National Guard encampment at Ashland, were Bob May and Wayne Dahlstedt.

Little is known of the strength of the lads from Lincoln except that in addition to fifteen letter men they have a two-hundred and seventy-five pound tackle who likes to play rough. When confronted with this fact, Don Boehr, powerful Panther, said, "So help me, I'll mow 'im down!"

and Donald Boehr, accompanied by other young men from Henderson, worked in the harvest fields of Oklahoma, and Kansas, and then went on north to the Dakotas. Boehr continued into Canada where he visited with relatives.

No one was interviewed who had been farther east than Ohio; however it seems probable that some York College student is yet to be found who was farther east than that during the summer. Bob Spore passed through Ohio on a motorcycle trip that took him up in to Michigan, down into Alabama and west to Colorado.

Max Quick spent most of his summer playing baseball with a league stationed at Billings, Montana.

Harold Haberman, accompanied by Bryce Hanna and other York friends, vacationed in Estes Park and Denver, Colorado. The boys made the trip in a fivver of ancient vintage.

LeRoy Hoffman visited relatives in Cheyenne, Wyoming worked in North Dakota, and returned home by the way of Minneapolis and Omaha.

Another eastern visitor was Charlene Hurley who accompanied Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Karraker to Paducah, Kentucky, where she visited relatives.

Mary Margaret du Rand attended summer school in Pittsburg, Kansas, and then visited relatives in Clovis, New Mexico.

Another New Mexico vacationer was Avalo Caldwell, however Caldwell's parents have recently moved to Velarde, New Mexico.

Russell Dunlop spent the summer preaching in Smith Center, Kansas.

Harold X. Miller spent his summer working in western Nebraska as well as visiting Pikes' Peak and other points in Colorado, including his home in Pueblo.

Homer Meserve left home long enough to attend the Nebraska state fair. Another Lincoln visitor was Donald Eberhardt. However, Eberhardt claims to have also visited points of interest in Fairmont, Benedict and McCool. During his stay in Fairmont he was entertained by Rex Lutz.

Lodema Frieden reluctantly disclosed that she had spent the summer in "slinging hash" but refused to say whether she was working in her home town of Shickley or elsewhere.

Miss Veryl Burch, '35, visited in York a few days during the latter part of the summer after returning from a trip to the Panama Canal. While there she visited Mrs. Lucille Evans Melnick and husband. The trip included stopovers in Cuba and Costa Rica.

Mrs. Ardith Kull Fast, '30, will continue her work as librarian at the University of Minnesota. During her stay in Nebraska this summer she visited in Lincoln with Mrs. Margaret Hill Malone, '29, Mrs. Eva Ballard Moss and Mrs. Jo Spore Smith, ex '31.

Among recent arrivals in the alumni family are a daughter, Gretcha, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Detrick of Riverside, Illinois, and a son, Alan Robert, born to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gutschow, '33 and '34 of Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Jack Graham, '35 of Iowa University was a visitor on the campus the opening week of college.

Melvin Thompson, '34, has been transferred by the F. W. Woolworth company from Dodge City, Kansas to Denver, Colorado.

Gilbert Fellers, ex '39, is living in California.

Frank C. Peck, academy, ex '18, of Omaha renewed acquaintances on the campus last Friday. Mr. Peck is connected with the Nebraska Policeman's Association.

Other items of summer happenings will be included in the next issue.

PALS PLA-CLUB THEME OF RECEPTION

The brilliant sign of the Pals' Pla-Club "beaconed" the new students of York College to an evening's entertainment last Tuesday.

Under the blue and white lights and streamers, tables for four were arranged about the room. Sparkling ornaments dangled from the chandeliers.

Orvis McNurlin, head waiter, and Bernard Cook, maestro, with their waiters, waitresses, and celebrities gave a complete and diversified entertainment.

Several guest artists also appeared during the evening. Elaine McAllister and Harley Lautenschlager exercised their educated toes in a tap dance. Dave Houston showed his versatility in both vocal and instrumental solos. Margaret Davis entertained with a violin solo. Don Casner, the Kansas trumpeter, furthered the entertainment with a solo. The college basso profundo, Bob Gale, gave a rendition of "On the Road to Mandalay". A short Charlie McCarthy act with Bill White as the dummy, and Junior Heatherington as the mouthpiece, concluded the guests' part of the program.

Slinging waiter, Jerry Dierdorff, and waitress, Bertha Riggs gave a vocal duet. Carolee Fogo singing "Little Dutch Girl", was accompanied by Mr. Bostrum. Doris White, cellist, entertained the group with a number.

Interspersing the program, the Pals' waiters and waitresses served the refreshments.

Church Receives President and Students

A reception for President D. E. Weidler and his family, and for York College students was held in the United Brethren Church parlors Wednesday evening, September 14. The Rev. A. L. Deever acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Marvin Bostrum, music instructor from York High School, opened the reception program with two piano solos.

Mrs. J. C. Morgan and Nels Hammar representing the United Brethren Church, and Ocic Moran and Edward Auchard representing York College, gave addresses of welcome to President Weidler, who answered with words of appreciation.

Mrs. A. L. Deever and the Rev. C. E. Spore had charge of a short period of devotions. An original poem was recited by Mrs. S. F. Mapps. Miss Helen Mohler played two accordion solos. Other numbers included a reading by Vera Thamer, a vocal solo by Jane Caldwell, and an original travelogue by A. L. Speece. Mrs. J. F. Hitchcock and Mrs. William Wohlstenholm were the actresses in a skit. The concluding number was a piano duet by Gertrude Wheeler and Anna J. Thompson.

Heatherington Heads Dramatic Group

Junior Heatherington, sophomore, a newcomer from Independence, Kansas, was elected president of the Histrionics club in its first regular meeting last Monday. Heatherington has had experience in dramatics in Independence High School and Junior College.

Helen Lumbus was elected vice president; Mary Jean Buttermore, secretary; Russell Dunlop, treasurer; Dan Wright, business manager; and Miss Alma Tress Lundman was reelected sponsor.
