ices, in the Christian Associations and in other groups.

At 12:30 p. m. each day, the Life Work Recruits, the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. are sponsoring prayer meetings in the administration building. The committee in charge of these services is composed of Russell Dunlop, Lois Miller, and James Farley. The church young people's committee is made up of Bernard Cook, Ocie Moran, and Doris Goodrich. Vernon Overturf and Bernard Cook are on the prayer meeting committee.

BISHOP V. O. WEIDLER IS GUEST SPEAKER IN CHAPEL

As a surprise to the student body and faculty members, Dr. V. O. Weidler, bishop of the Southwest Bishop's Area of the United Brethren church, and brother to Pres. D. E. Weidler, appeared in the regular chapel service on Monday, November 21. Bishop Weidler was the speaker at the college Commencement program last June, but his address last week marked his first appearance before the present student body.

"It is the purpose of our leaders to have us write at the end of our history, 'Wherefore', Bishop Weidler stated as he discussed history and its relation to the individual.

HABERMAN 1939 CAPTAIN

PLAY GOES ON STAGE NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

By Levi Huebert

The York College Players, under the direction of Miss Alma Tress Lundman, are holding daily rehearsals on the comedy of college life, to be presented December 9, at the York High School Auditorium. "Campus Quarantine", which has for its locale a sorority house on a California campus, and has been enthusiastically applauded both when presented by amateur players and when produced by professional artists.

The director reports that the twelve players, from four states, are cleverly and artistically interpreting the swift, witty dialogue, and therefore they promise to every member of the audience an evening of enjoyable entertainment.

White Is "Zany"

Those who delight in the "zany antics of Bill White will find him even "zanier" as he plays Ronald Steele, the freshman who is working his way through college by serving in the dining hall of a sorority house. Junior Heatherington, as the superior Gordon Dunn, fairly exuding personality, guides the campus destinies of his room-mate, the hapless Steele, besides finding time for his own breezy romance with the charming Gloria Smith, played by Mary Jean Buttermore. Margaret duRand, as Deborah Mercer, the plainest girl in the college, supplies much comedy with her droll interpretation of the part. Edythe Rhodes, played by Roberta Estey, complicates the plot with her plans for elopement. Even the dignified housemother, Catherine Woolver, succumbs to the lure of romance—as do the co-eds—by falling in love with the fussy but meek Dr. Leon Atwell, portrayed by Orvis McNurlin.

Emmy Lou Rothman, as Beryl Smith, is the real cause of all the trouble, and it requires the combined efforts of Nurse Lela Dunn, played by Doris Mills, and Pseudo-nurse Elliot Maxim, played by Dan Wright, as Finlay Carruthers, to extricate her. Harold X. Miller

Thompson Is Honorary Captain

JOHN HABERMAN

John Haberman, junior of York, was chosen as the football captain for 1939, at a special meeting of all football lettermen. At the same meeting Maurice Thompson, senior of York, was elected honorary captain for the past season. Announcements of both honors were made at the annual football banquet.

Haberman has lettered in three years of competition at end and has proved to be a very consistent player both offensively and defensively. This year's captain, Maurice Thompson, has been the spark plug of the team and an all round valuable player for four years.

NOTICE ALUMNI

The mid-year meeting of the alumni is set for Tuesday evening, December 27, at the McCloud Hotel. Plates are 50¢ each. Make your reservation as early as convenient to Miss Lila Elam, York, Nebraska, who is secretary of the association. We need at least fifty to make it worthwhile. Make your plans to be present.

Identity of Panther Sweetheart And Representative Football Man Revealed To 184 At Banquet

Two Seniors Chosen On Basis of Spirit And Personality

Guests at the football banquet, November 21, awaited expectantly the toastmaster's introduction of the Panther Sweetheart and the Representative Football Man of the 1938 football season.

Charlene Hurley, senior of Des Moines, Iowa, was presented as Panther Sweetheart. Miss Hurley represents the college well, and has been active in many of its functions during the four years she has spent here. She was chosen by this year's team on a basis of her enthusiasm for athletics, support of the 1938 team, and personality.

Maurice Thompson, also senior of York, was chosen by his teammates because of his playing ability, spirit, and personality. "Tommy" was earlier in the program presented as honorary football captain for the season just closed. He is also president of the Y Club.

Each year the selections are made by the football squad and are kept secret until the football banquet. Last year the Panther Sweetheart was Mrs. Wilbur Overmiller (Dulcie Hoofnagle, ex'39), Omaha, and the Representative Panther was Rolland Tonkin, '38, Milford.

Substitute For Teachers

Five cadets from the elementary education department substituted for the regular teachers in the York public schools November 16, when Miss Dorothy Horton, reading specialist representing the Scott Foresman Book company conducted demonstrations for the teachers. Reporting to take charge of classes were Dortha Murfin, freshman, Albia, Iowa; Dorothy Riggs, senior, Merville, Iowa; Marie Pettit, freshman from Agra, Kansas; Ula Mae Schall, freshman, Bradshaw; and Marjorie Fuller, sophomore of Lushton.

Awarding of Letters Is Theme of Annual Football Banquet

Charlene Hurley and Maurice Thompson were presented as the Panther Sweetheart and Representative Football Man respectively, when one hundred eight-four students and faculty members assembled to honor twenty-two letter men at the annual football banquet Monday evening, Nov. 21.

The toastmaster, Lawrence Deever, took charge of the program which was as follows: Invocation, President D. E. Weidler; Award of Letters, Lawrence Deever; "Block That Kick" Junior Heatherington; Time Out, a piano solo, by Catherine Woolver, "Hold That Line," Eileen Callahan; Water Boys—Gerald Dierdorff, Wayne Dahlstedt, David Houston, Robert Gale; "We Want a Touchdown" Dr. D. D. King; Penalty, a vocal solo, Bertha Riggs and the presentation of the Panther Sweetheart and Representative Football Man.

The decorations were in blue and white, the college colors. There were eleven people seated at each table in the center of which was a football helmet turned upside down with blue Y's strung around it. The placards consisted of Letters of Award for School Loyalty with a blue "Y" on a white background in the corner of each.

Lettermen Honored

The honored guests were: Coach Neal Gallant, Marlin Biedent, Ellsworth Carlson, Gerald Dierdorff, George Doerr, Don Eberhart, Walter Ekdahl, Burton Feaster, Floyd Gifford, Harold Haberman, John

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS OBSERVE THANKSGIVING

The Pals' Hall was filled with young men and women from their respective Christian Associations, assembled there for a joint Thanksgiving meeting, on Tuesday, November 22. The men presented the program.

The meeting was opened with the entire group singing the Doxology, after which the prayer was given by Dean W. E. Bachman. The hymn "Faith of Our Fathers, Holy Faith" was then sung by the group.

The Biblical and Historical background of Thanksgiving Day were given by Frank Bartleson and Bob Spore. Warren Neal, accompanied by Marjorie Cook at the piano, sang "Invictus" by Huhn.

"What does, and what should Thanksgiving mean to us?" was the theme of a talk given by Russell Dunlop.

"THE PREACHING MISSION"

Growing out of the fact that certain Evangelical churches seemed to go to excesses in Evangelism, a new term was found by the "Federal Council of the churches" to be used by the churches in emphasizing Evangelism. That term is being used to designate the special emphasis which is being given to religion during these two weeks.

But whether we use the new terminology or the old, the same needs are to be met in our lives. Everywhere it is being recognized that the greatest need is a Spiritual awakening. And the best news that I can give, other than the "good news", is that anew men and women are turning to God.

The time was when we felt rather sufficient, but that time has passed. There was a time, not many years ago when many college men and women were cynical and hard with reference to the whole matter of religion, but that time has passed. The time has come when we not only know that we are not sufficient, but when very humbly but persistently people are questing for this "living God".

This, in a word is the purpose of this "Preaching Mission"; that we may not only become aware of our sins and needs, but that we may join the great procession of sincere hearts who are seeking to find the true way of life.

The Evangelist has not come with any superior attitude, but because of his own personal experiences in college and in life, he has come to believe that Jesus is the truth, the way and the life, he comes to declare that way to the students of York College.

DR. W. R. MONTGOMERY.

PREACHING MISSION IS OPPORTUNITY TO REVIVE AND STRENGTHEN IDEALS

For many years we had heard of the ideals for which York College stands. We were told that here was an institution that held religious education and Christian training above all other goals of the educational process. Here was a school that was unique in the field of learning as it maintained standards long ago forgotten elsewhere. Since we have been in college that early impression has acquired a far deeper significance.

Now comes one of the few opportunities of the year to show en masse the fruitage of that distinctly wholesome Christian emphasis. The preaching mission which began at the college church last Sunday evening offers limitless possibilities not only as a time when a new religious experience may be made available to all students but as a revival and as a spiritual clinic for young people already dedicated to Christian service.

Dr. W. R. Montgomery comes to the church and to the campus as a minister and leader well acquainted with student attitudes and problems. He is a graduate of Indiana Central College and for four years was pastor of the college church in Indianapolis. For a number of years he has been active and outstanding in young people's work of his conference and of the denomination.

All activities of the college are rearranging schedules in order to realize the most possible from this series of meetings. Forty college young people were in the service last Monday night when Dr. Montgomery appeared for the first time, and student interest throughout the week has been marked.

Ten days of the campaign remain. Each day may see an increase in influence of the already powerful ideals of our alma mater. This period may be a basis for an unending and everwidening sphere of influence exerted by York College graduates. Two hundred and thirty students may individually and collectively make indelible imprints on the history of the world. But the figure two hundred and thirty includes every member of the student body.

WHAT IS THE FUNCTION OF A CHRISTIAN COLLEGE NEWSPAPER?

Does the reading public of a college newspaper expect to find in that paper the workings of the student's mind in every controversial subject that arises during the course of a school year? Is there a place for frank consideration of all campus trivialities in a publication that is importantly an administrative organ?

Nothing would please a staff more than to shift the responsibility of such problems to the shoulders of the next person. It would not, however, be so far fetched to share the answering of those questions with the readers of the Sandburr themselves.

Of a circulation of 1400, only 230 copies stay on the campus in York. The editorial direction of the paper is chosen from that comparatively small percentage of readers. If the policy finds itself in a twilight zone, it is explainable even if it is exaggerated.

Do the constituent members of the college area desire a college paper that mirrors not alone the positive elements of college life or is the desire for a composite picture of the predominantly wholesome campus atmosphere? Opinions from those persons would be a distinct advantage in framing our policy. Meanwhile the staff continues in the assumption that the latter is our goal.

Most supporters of York college are aware of if not familiar with the problems that spasmodically occupy the minds of not more than a few students at a time. The Sandburr has not been, is not, and we sincerely hope, will never become a mediating organ for the few to the exclusion of the majority. The student council and goodwill committee are clearing houses for individual problems.

If this paper presents no optimistic and genuinely Christian point of view it is inexcusably failing in accuracy and opportunity.

Affirmations or negations of that failure will point the way.

LOIS RUSHES SEASON
Penelope, our snooping gossip department head, discovered a ring on Lois Miller's finger. Lois devaluated the whole incident. She says she purchased it at the dime store in an attempt to fool her mother who says she will be an old maid. To cinch things, Lois has a dream man with a "fictitious" name of Dick Greene, and she was quite startled to learn that there is such a person. Penelope thinks she should have chosen the name Smith. To give things that added punch, Lois announced to Penelope. "My dad's a preacher. We can get it done for nothing."

OSWALD ALMOST CHALLENGES

During the last football season, Oswald, our Sports Editor, almost made a challenge. With the boldness that accompanies those who issue statements for others, Oswald wanted to ask Nebraska U out here to play York. We were about even up on the scoring end, according to Oswald's thorough survey.

SOMETHING FOR VAYLE TO SHOOT AT

Bob McCanon claims that he has had 83 steady girl friends during his short life. According to the thought of Leviticus, Bob and the government are really doing things in a big way.

UNCOVERS BEDROOM STORY

Penelope discovered good human interest material at the Wilcox fraternity last week and is planning to write an expose of conditions in the home life of the average bachelor. As a preview, she has related an incident or two. Junior Heatherington searched five days for his pajamas and on the fifth day while making the bed he found them there. An interesting fact about the bed is that it is supported by boxes. Both parties must be in bed in order to maintain the balance. If one goes to bed earlier than the other he must lie sidewise until his bedfellow climbs in.

Esther "Aggressive Type" Thornton was heard to say to Albert "Nonchalant" Kamm, "I'm so sorry you weren't able to take me to the junior-senior party. We had a lovely time."

Kamm in an innocent manner, "Well, - er - I'm terribly sorry but, (pause) I just had to pick that chicken for my landlady. Gee I'm awfully sorry.

Bette Studies Economics—

Bette Crum labored painfully on a paper for the Life of Christ class. After completion she displayed it proudly. The first sentence read: "There were many profits who came before Christ."

PANTHERS ON PARADE

It was especially gratifying to Coach Neal Gallant and the football squad to close the current season with as good a game as the Yorkmen produced against Hastings. If the Panthers could have shown this same spark of life throughout the season, there would have been a reversal of many of the scores. However, scores do not count for everything when compared to sportsmanship and clean play of which York had an abundance. A brighter season is on deck for the Panthers next year, however. The cats respond adversely to this treatment of rubbing their fur backwards, so they will open the season in 1939 with well-sharpened claws and temperament.

There are a few football fellows on the York college team who deserve a word of praise above the general clamor. Personally, we feel that "Bus" Thompson, "Had-dy" Haberman, Paul McLaughlin, and "Pete" Peterson are well enough qualified to be all conference men. To a non-winning team this honor seldom falls; however, in our own modest way we salute our outstanding players.

An all-opponent football team has been selected by members of the Panther squad. These players have been selected by their performance against York alone, and conference rating does not affect their standing on the all-opponent team. Ends—Richardifer (H), and Garland (S); tackles—Rottler (WU), and Cramer (H); Guards—Tobiska (D) and Ralston (W); Center—Blakeslee (H); Quarter Back—Sloey (D); Half Backs—Rawlins (S), and Green (M); and Fullback—Hill (M).

We hereby acknowledge the bouquet from Hastings in its radio broadcast of Sunday, November 20. It is through such considerations as this that the bonds of friendship between two colleges can be increased.

Yours truly speaks for the whole football squad in thanking the Panther Club and the faculty members for the football banquet and show following.

Men Entertain At Zetas

Male talent was the attraction at the Zeta meeting on November 15. All numbers on the program were presented by male Zetas.

The evening started with Jack Miller's presentation of a chalk talk of a campus magazine. Lawrence Deever gave a travelog of a recent trip to Cincinnati. The Hard Times quartet sang a number and George Chambers brought the meeting to a close with an extemporaneous talk on his most embarrassing moment.

Bachmans Entertain

Three turkeys and all the trimmings was the menu for forty-seven guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bachman, including President Weidler and family, at the "Con" dining hall on Thanksgiving Day. Later, those feeling up to "par" played games in the reception room.

Broncos Slip Past Panthers To Win Last Game 6 - 0

Pass Is Margin of Hastings Win

Blue And White Clicks To Threaten Twice

By Wayne Dahlstedt
On Nov. 18 a Panther kept a Bronco very much worried. For three quarters York battled Hastings on an even basis in a brave ending of an otherwise uneventful season. It was not until the final period that Garrison, Hastings back, stepped back from York's 48 yard line and shot a long pass to the 20 into the waiting arms of McLaughlin, diminutive Hastings quarter back, who scampered to pay dirt, the game ending 6-0.

York, the underdog according to predictions, managed to collect 8 first downs to Hastings' 15. The yardage stood at 268 for Hastings and 150 for York.

McLaughlin Throws Scare

Hastings received the opening kickoff. The ball see-sawed up and down the field in an interchange of punts during the first quarter.

It was not until the second period that Hastings made a serious threat. McLaughlin, Hastings, took Thompson's punt on his own 20 yard line and tore along the side lines evading tacklers for 62 yards to York's 18 yard line, where he was knocked out of bounds by Feaster. In the next four plays Garrison and Creighton brought the ball to York's 1 yard line. A fifteen yard penalty on Hastings for strong language ended the scoring threat, Hastings later losing the ball on downs.

Panthers Threaten Twice

Twice during the third quarter York threatened to topple tradition and defeat Hastings. Once Burton Feaster, elusive Panther back, intercepted Garrison's pass on Hastings' 30 yard line and ran to the 11. On the next play Hastings was penalized five yards for being offside, the ball then resting on Hastings 5 yard line. York fumbled and Hastings recovered, removing the scoring threat.

The other threat came as the Panthers backed the Broncos up against their goal posts in a flurry of aeriels. A pass, Thompson to Wright, followed by a lateral to Feaster netted 22 yards, the ball coming to rest on the midfield stripe. In the next two plays, "Tommy" passed successfully to Feaster and John Haberman for four and sixteen yds. respectively. The next pass dropped into Harold Haberman's arms, who lateraled to Feaster, who was brought down on the Hastings' 2 yard line. On the next play a York fumble lost 3 yards, and Feaster's attempt following it subtracted 2 more. York's attempt at a field goal with Feaster kicking, failed. Hastings receiving the ball on their own 20.

The game brought to light some fancy ball lugging by Feaster who accounted for much of the Panther yardage. "Tommy's" passes clicked. Paul McLaughlin, lanky Panther tackle, smeared many of Hastings' would-be gains for losses and Dan Wright displayed some excellent blocking. The Habermans played their usual excellent game. "Pete" Peterson, center, who received injuries during the game, exhibited his defensive ability. For Hastings McLaughlin and Garrison were outstanding.

Amadon Selects Soloists

Dean Charles Amadon, in a recent interview given to a Sandburr reporter, announced that the following voice pupils will take the solo parts in the approaching presentation of Handel's "Messiah" to be given on December 11: Jane Caldwell, soprano; Lodema Frieden, soprano; Hester Whitmore, alto; Alden Marvel, tenor; and Robert Gale, bass.

Six Lettermen Are Out For Basketball

By Lynn Crone

Panther basketball men and perhaps their opponents should have no trouble hitting the hoop in the forthcoming basketball season. Eight new reflectors have been installed improving the lighting system considerably, and there will be new baskets for the team to "bang" at. The floor is receiving a coat of varnish and all lines are being repainted. The college has done what it can in the way of improvements. Now it's up to the team.

Squad Begins Practice

The squad held its first practice last Monday. Loosening up exercises were on the schedule for the remainder of the week.

Advance information reveals that lettermen John Haberman, Quick, Saindon, Peterson, Feaster and Gale will have stiff competition from newcomers. George Chambers, junior who attended Tabor Junior College at Tabor, Iowa, last year, Paul McLaughlin, junior, and Harold Haberman, sophomore, are among the upperclassmen who are out for practice. Promising freshmen are Gassman of Goehner, Merryman of Shickley, Hohnbaum of York, Peters and Klippenstein of Henderson, and Roy Stuhr of McCool.

Debaters Go To Winfield Tourney

Travel 700 Miles; Conduct Church Services

With visions of roast turkey still in their minds, two York College debate teams left for the Annual Interstate Debate Tournament at Winfield, Kansas, on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. When they returned last Sunday night, they retained the imaginary visions, for on all the 700 mile trip they were not within sight of any bacon to bring home.

In the junior college division of the tournament, York entered a team of sophomores composed of Russell Dunlop, Beaver, Iowa, and Ellsworth Carlson, Polk. Edward Auchard, sophomore of Luray, Kansas, and Lawrence Deever, senior of York, made up the team which entered the senior tournament. Miss Alma Tress Lundman, sponsor and coach, accompanied the group.

Debate Eight Times

Debates began with two non-decision rounds last Friday afternoon and continued with six decision rounds lasting until Saturday afternoon. The senior team lost four debates and the junior team, five. The schools which the former team met were Commerce, Texas; Iowa State Teachers College, McPherson (Kansas); Nebraska Wesleyan, Augsburg, (Minnesota); Omaha, Baylor, and Bethany. Dunlop and Carlson met St. Johns, Nebraska Wesleyan, Miami, Chadron, Bolivar (Mo.), Panhandle, Arkansas City, and Kansas Wesleyan. In all there were over 400 debaters from 45 colleges in eight states at the tournament.

The members of the group conducted services in three Kansas United Brethren churches on their way home. Sunday morning they had charge of the services at the Wichita Waco Avenue church, of which the Rev. H. L. Wimmer, '24, is the pastor, and the Maize church of which the Rev. A. McCandless is the pastor. In the evening the group travelled to Republic to conduct the evening service there in the U. B. church of which the Rev. Mrs. Pettibon is the pastor.
