HIGH SCHOOLS INVITED TO SIXTH ANNUAL MEET

One hundred twenty-five high schools have been invited to participate in the annual spring Central-Nebraska Invitation Track and Field meet sponsored by York College. The occasion will take place on the college track and field April 22 and will serve as the qualifying meet for the state contest to be held in Lincoln during the latter part of May.

Some real "finds" in the way of track and field ability will probably be seen in competition for high honors. Last year the meet attracted boys from 42 different high schools and was quite successful in the respect that several old records were broken and much new talent was discovered.

Coach Neal Gallant will be in charge as general chairman.

To Attend Y. M.-Y. W. Conference At Wayne

At least one carload of men and women will go to the YM-YW conference at Wayne Teachers College March 17-19. It will begin with the Friday evening service and will end after church Sunday morning.

This conference is held each year at this time for the inspiration and information of Christian association cabinets. Last year it was at Peru Teachers College.

Board Meets Next Week

The Board of Trustees of York College will meet in the Administration building, March 21, for their annual meeting. The membership of the Board is made up of representatives from York County, the Bishop of the Area, and representatives of the six conferences. The Board will plan for next year, and elect officers and faculty.

Spring Banquet March 21.

Enthusiastic Skating Crowd Opens New Project On Campus

Tape and liniment sales soared in York last week-end because of the opening of the York College roller skating rink. The first "skate" was held on Friday, March 10. An enthusiastic crowd filled the gym at both the Friday and Saturday night skates.

Lois Miller, junior, and Al Zerwekh, freshman, are co-chairmen of the executive committee sponsoring the project. Other committeemen are Ruth Brandstetter, Gladys Mohler, Bill Dean and Jerry Dierdorff.

A "policeman" supervised the skaters. Music was furnished by a victrola with two large amplifiers at each end of the rink. A varied program was carried out during the course of the evening.

"Skates" will be scheduled on Friday and Saturday evenings when other campus activities do not interfere. The plan was initiated by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

"Brothers" Cast Tours State of Kansas

Having travelled 1150 miles, and having presented ten performances to over 1000 people, cast "A" of the Life Work Recruit play, "Brothers", returned to York Sunday completing a ten day trip which took them to the following towns, Dawson, Lecompton, Kansas City, Missouri, Kansas City, Kansas, Raymore, Missouri, Earlton, Kansas, Parsons, Kansas, Independence, Kansas, and Hutchinson, Kansas. The group left York March 3.

Cast A, directed by Mrs. Edith Huebert and accompanied by the Rev. Harry Cook, field director, consists of Regina Heatherington, Lois Cobe, Charles Scott, Elmond Holbrook, Warren Neal, Bob Jones, Jack Miller, Levi Huebert, and Lawrence Deever.

Jack Miller presented chalk talks at each play performance. At various times Warren Neal, Regina Heatherington and Levi Huebert furnished vocal solos and Lois Cobe gave dramatic readings.

Cast 1, directed by Dorothy Riggs, presented the same play Sunday night in the college church. Cast 1 also appeared at the Council church near York on March 5.

Spring Banquet Is Tuesday

Informal Affair Ushers In Season

A whirl of giggling lassies decked in gay-colored skirts and a host of half-embarrassed men stuffed in clean shirts and stiff, uncomfortable collars can mean but one thing—the annual spring banquet. Centering about the theme "Spring Athletics", the gala social event of the spring activities of the college will take place in the United Brethren church parlors on Tuesday, March 21 at 6:30 p. m., and the charge will be forty cents a plate. The affair, an informal get-together sponsored by the student council, will deal with several highlights of college life during the beautiful, lazy, and romantic season of spring.

MAY IS TOASTMASTER

Bob May, will head the program as toastmaster and will be assisted by several outstanding campus figures, namely, Robert Spore, assistant coach, Maurice Thompson, honorary football captain of last season, Henry Hansen, Junior Heatherington, and Robert Gale. An unusual feature, a round-table discussion by the college red-heads on "Advantages and Disadvantages of Spring" will be one of the attractions of the program, and the girls' trio and male quartet will contribute musical variety.

The annual spring banquet, an idea evolved and put into being five years ago by the student council, is one of the outstanding social functions of the year.

Zetas Study Woolly In Regular Meeting

"The Difference in Woolly Now, Compared to Forty Years Ago" was the topic discussed by Bruce Edmondson in the Zeta society meeting on March 7.

Because of the absence of the president, Levi Huebert, Rosemary McCormick took charge of the business meeting.

The program included a number by the male trio, Wayne Dahlstedt, Keith Roberts, and Wesley Fredrickson. Two accordion solos were offered by Willis McMichael; Mary Margaret duRand read the poem, "The Courtin'"; and Mary Jean Buttermore read, "The Doorstep"

BRYANT SPEAKS AT RECRUIT MEETING

Following the business meeting of the Life Work Recruit Society which was held Monday, March 6, at Hulitt Hall, Herbert Bryant addressed the group on the subject, "Law and Life".

Included in the program for the evening were a song service led by Jerry Dierdorff, responsive reading, and a trio number, "Twilight" sung by Arline Beason, Rosemary McCormick, and Doris Landon.

DEBATE AT DOANE

Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the speech department, took two debate teams to Doane College yesterday for a practice debate. The A team, composed of Russell Dunlop and Lawrence Deever, and the B team Ellsworth Carlson, Vernon Overturf, and Will Fred Primrose, each debated two rounds.

Remember the Spring Banquet.

Seniors Recognized Today

Y. W. C. A. Banquet Has Indian Theme

Centering around an Indian theme, the Y. W. C. A. held its annual banquet March 3 in the "Con" dining hall.

After invocation by Mrs. A. L. Deever and the dinner, "Trusty Scout" Esther Thornton as toastmaster announced the following speakers: "Wishing Star" Dortha Murfin, "Never Scare" Lois Miller, "Strong Heart" Doris Johnson, and "Tomorrow" Mary Lue Warner, all of whom spoke in connection with their respective titles.

Ocie Moran as "Singing in the Clouds", sang "By Singing Waters". Doris White played "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" on the cello, termed "Magic Voice". One of the three "Happy Birds", Doris Landon, sang "In a Luxembourg Garden."

Colored streamers decorated the tables and the menu cards were fashioned in the shape of tepees.

PALS Hear of Spanish People

Ernesto Manzanares took the members of the PALS for a brief imaginary visit with the Spanish people in his talk at the regular meeting of the society Tuesday evening, March 7.

Other numbers on the program, which followed a short business meeting, included a discussion of the Navaho Indian customs, with curios made by the Indians, by Gladys Mann; a vocal solo by Ocie Moran accompanied by Esther Thornton; and an extemporaneous talk on "Millions of Snowflakes" by Audrey Zike.

Forensic Tournament Is March 23-25

Nebraska Wesleyan is to be host at the annual state forensic tournament March 23-25, in which the colleges of the state will compete in all types of forensics. York College is to enter two men's debate teams, Lawrence Deever in the oratorical contest, and perhaps an entry in the extemporaneous speeches.

Both the beginning and the advanced classes in public speaking are preparing talks on the state topic—"Propaganda" for men and "Public Health" for women, some of which will also be entered in the tournament.

Remember the Spring Banquet.

Twenty-Five Seniors Honored By Juniors

Achievements of the seniors were recognized this morning before the entire student body and the community in a program beginning at 9:15 in the college church. Pres. O. W. Carrell of Nebraska Central College in Central City delivered the address of the morning.

Wearing the usual caps and gowns, the class of '39 was led down the center aisle by two representatives of the junior class, George Chambers and Walter Ekdahl. The seniors, according to custom, were seated in the chancel. The nave of the church was decorated with plants and the class colors, blue and gold.

JUNIORS PLAN PROGRAM

PRESIDENT ASSISTS

Sunday, March 12, President D. E. Weidler accompanied the Rev. Edward Auchard to Prairie Gem to assist in the services there.

Dean Amadon Is Outstanding Voice Instructor

"I have spent most of my life in school," thoughtfully recollected Dean Charles Amadon. The Dean's elementary schooling was received in Perkins school in Boston, Mass. during which time he studied music. His advanced training was obtained in the New England Conservatory and the Chicago Music College, both in Chicago. While a student in the latter school he was rated as one of the ten best basses in the country by Herbert Witherspoon, the great voice teacher.

Dean Amadon taught in Campbell College at Holton, Kansas for six years before it merged with York College. His next major position was as Dean of Music here at York College where he has spent the last twenty-four years.

As every person has his favorite food and sport, Dean Amadon has as his special dishes fruit sherbet and lobster salads and his favorite sports are walking and riding. He is very proficient at Monopoly and has his own methods of playing and winning this indoor game. He spends part of the summer in Cape Cod visiting his parents and swimming in the Bay.

The Dean has studied with many great masters during his career. Among them are: William L. Whitney, head of the International School of Music, William Shakespeare, the great pianist and voice instructor, Proschowski, and Torrens, famous voice teachers.

Amadon has held many important positions. He was at one time president of a group of leading voice teachers in Nebraska, an honorary member of the York Rotarians. Until last year he was active in the Knights of Pythias organization, but his work now interferes.

The Dean taught violin in Campbell College and for his first twelve years here. He also is an able cornet player. While attending school in Chicago he organized his own orchestra and filled numerous engagements.

Amadon has developed many fine voices while teaching and one of his great joys is hearing from his former pupils who are on their way to success. His son, Arthur, who received his training from his father, is in Boston and has a regular program over the NBC network.

William White, Des Moines freshman, was guest reader for the Westminster Women of the Presbyterian church, Thursday, March 2.

CARLSON TRIUMPHS IN CITY PING PONG TOURNEY

Wearing down his opponents with an invulnerable defensive game and dogged persistence, Ellsworth Carlson, college ping pong champion, Polk, paddled his way to the top in the senior division of the city Y. M. C. A. ping pong tournament held on Thursday March 2, at the "Y". Carlson, along with three of his closest rivals, Octavio Colon, runnerup, Keith Roberts, and Junior Heatherington, will be sent to Lincoln, March 18, to represent York and York College in the state ping pong tourney.

In the state tournament, Carlson and Colon will enter as singles men in that division with Junior Heatherington and Keith Roberts forming a team in the doubles' division.

Y. M. ENTERTAINS Y. W. WITH MUSICAL PROGRAM

Presenting a three-fold type of musical program, consisting of sacred, secular, and novelty numbers, the college Y. M. C. A. entertained the "Y. W." in the meeting of March 7.

The program opened with a hymn sung by the entire group present and led by Jerry Dierdorff, master of ceremonies. A prayer by Russell Dunlop was followed by a sacred number, "Trust In Him", sung by Clayton Demott. The college profundo, Bob Gale, sang "On The Road to Mandalay", followed with a few original piano selections by the George Gershwin of tomorrow, Bill White. Next, Don Casner, played a trumpet solo, "The Debutante". The Dukes of York, the college quartet, gave their interpretations of "Women" and the "Tragic Tale" which was followed by a solo from the quartet's second tenor, Wayne Dahlstedt who sang "A Brown Bird Singing". Waldo Dahlstedt played a trombone smear, "Sildus Trombones," and Octavio Colon ended the program with "Penny Serenade."

ZETAS DOWN PALS IN COURT SCRAP

By Wayne Dahlstedt
The bloodless feud between the Zetas and PALS added another link to its chain of battles at the Zeta-PAL basketball game March 2 at the college gym from which the Zeta men emerged on the top end of a 41-25 score.

Both teams, of the non-practice, pick-up variety, have tucked a victory apiece under their belts, and according to the managers on both sides, everything will be left pending a renewal of the feud next year. The first quarter saw the Zetas in the lead, and there they remained until the closing gong. The teamwork, a little ragged at first, soon smoothed out and provided some highlights in the playing of the McLaughlin brothers and Bill Carter.

For the PALS, Popo Spore took to an aerial attack and began finding the floor with more than just his feet as he launched himself into the air for the ball, only to have some one run under him. Otoupal, a dark horse PAL in the running, came through as high-point man with 6 field goals.

There was only one casualty: Virgil Schickels collided with John McLaughlin and a wall. Result: skinned cheek for Virgil.

Though the points were not unusually close, the excitement remained at a high pitch throughout the game, as the female warriors from both schools were out for scalps in an extremely spirited and realistic way.

Leading scorers were: Lois Miller and Amy Speece of the college, with 11 and 6 points, respectively. Donna Zieg led the high school girls' attack with seven points, followed by Marian Neujahr with five.

Two returning lettermen, Al-den Marvel and Jerry Dierdorff, plus a good crop of prospects aching to display their racketing, make the tennis season look promising for York College, and, if experienced men mean anything, even the N. C. A. C. crown looks as though it might fit very well.

Marvel, the only senior of the group, has many years of experience to his record, including the years that he has lettered in college. Dierdorff, the other letterman, is a sophomore, having earned his first award last year. He formerly lettered for two years on the team at Omaha North High School.

Among the new recruits, the most promising are Keith Roberts of Omaha, and Wesley Thomason of St. Johns, Kansas. Roberts made an enviable record in Omaha, having lettered for three years on the tennis team at North, and was the runner-up in the city finals one year. Thomason, a junior, has seen service in college competition before, having played on the Edmond State Teachers' College in Oklahoma. He also played two years on the high school team of his home city.

Other men who will be eager to find berths on the team are Ferdinand Saindon, who has a rapidly improving game; Jerry Gamble, a local man with experience on the high school and city teams; and Wayne Dahlstedt and Junior Heatherington, both new recruits.

Once again we "poof" the air out of our basketballs and pack them away in our hope chest for another year. We didn't make such a hot record, but we went down fighting and were never "skunked" once. Here's to those boys who really kept plugging in spite of fate!

In case you're interested a census taken among our first squad designated the following lineup as the all-opponent team of the season:

- Ellermeier, Kearney.....forward
  - Greathouse, Peru.....forward
  - Richendifer, Hastings.....center
  - Sloey, Doane.....guard
  - Bailey, Peru.....guard
- On the second five, Caskey, West-ern Union, forward; Souders, Wesleyan, forward; Dutcher, Doane, center; Halliday, Peru, guard, and Peterson, Midland, guard.

***

Selected by several competent ball fans and critics, an all-conference team is presented:

- J. Dutcher, Doane.....forward
  - B. Feaster, York.....forward
  - C. Richendifer, Hastings.....center
  - L. Price, Wesleyan.....guard
  - J. Sloey, Doane.....guard
- Seconds are as follows: McLaughlin, Hastings, and Belka, Doane, as forwards; Peterson, Midland, center; and Quick, York, and Souders, Wesleyan, as guards.

***

We see by the State Journal that York is rated as a top-notch in the pre-season predictions in track. A good paper, that Journal! We agree with them. York is really going places this year in track with twelve lettermen returning, including five outstanding stars, Quick, J. Haberman, P. McLaughlin, Rees, and Bergen, along with a host of promising prospects.

***

Congratulations to Max Quick, elected honorary basketball captain of the past season. Besides being a consistent, dependable player and a real sport, "Dunk" displayed uncanny leap-frog ability in taking to the air when it came to jumping, and for his height, was unquestionably the best in the conference. Hats off to you, Max, and may your jumps in everything else be as great as they were in basketball.

***

A good man to keep your eye on among our opponents in track is this Barton of Hastings. He was burning up the track in the cross-country distances last fall, and is a likely champ in the two-mile this season. He ought to make a dandy headache for Barney.

We aren't makin' any predictions on Fred Carlsen, our two-miler, this year; he's still a dark horse.

***

It looks as if Roberts, our most promising freshman tennis man, is really headed some where. He's been knocking down all the old boys. All the new recruits look pretty fair this year, though. More power to 'em!

***

We are hoping that the pep of the student body that has stuck with the teams so far this year will continue right on to the end. It is really appreciated by the boys.

We have dainty cakes and cookies in the traditional Ireland green for St. Patrick's Day.

"CAN YOU TAKE IT?"

"Can you take it?" We often hear this common expression but seldom do we find people who really can "take it". However, in this year's college basketball squad we have not only one, but several, who can "take it." All through the season York has played game after game: clean, hard, ball games—but with not one victory. Or perhaps we should say, not once have they emerged at the long end of the score. But they have won a greater victory. Has there been any complaint, booing, "gripping", or any bitter criticism? No!

The York College team and the student body have shown that they can "take it". The student body has continued in the loyal support of the team; and the team has never let us down. The ability to "take it" and still come back smiling will be a greater asset in college and in later life than any number of winning scores could ever be.

Marvel Relates Experiences In Broadcasting

By IRENE JOHNSON

What would you talk about if you were behind the transmitter of a 70 watt amateur broadcasting station? Alden Marvel, senior from Giltner and a licensed operator, having been asked such a question replied that he talked about anything of interest. Some of the popular subjects as listed by Marvel are: the weather, the transmitter, luck had in communications, the latest news, and almost anything else of common interest.

However, there is a fly in the ointment for the short-wave operator. Marvel, who has erected a short-wave set in the Physics department, said the restrictions are heavy for the amateur broadcaster; he may not make any one-way broadcasts, for it is a rule that he must have a communicator to talk with over the air, the subject matter and the language used is regulated, and there are numerous other regulations.

Amateur communicators address each other by their call letters and by their nicknames. Very seldom do they find out the full name of the other. Alden Marvel's is known to the other amateur broadcasters as "Al."

Marvel said, "I will handle messages going anywhere, to anyone, and about anything that is minus profane and obscene language. There will be no charge for the sending of messages."

During the flood of the Republican river in 1936 Marvel and a friend stayed, in shifts, at the transmitter of their short-wave station 24 hours for 2 weeks. They relayed messages for relatives and friends of the victims of the disaster.

On being questioned as to how he had taken up amateur broadcasting Marvel replied that, "Almost every boy builds a crystal set sometime or other. I started building crystal sets, then one-tube sets, and so on up." "Al" has been a licensed operator since 1932.

"My ambition is to put a 1000 watt transmitter on the air," said Marvel. 1000 watts is the maximum power granted the short-wave operator. Besides being an amateur radio operator Alden Marvel is the leader of the college orchestra, president of the Lambda Phi, and pianist for the male quartet. He is a member of the Zeta Literary society.

Zeta Women Again Show Prowess

By Wayne Dahlstedt
Removing make-up, wearing snow boots for tennis shoes, and mentally sporting the colors of the two societies, the women of the Zetas and PALS did a little aggressive "courting" on their own in an inter-society basketball game the night of March 2 at the College gym, the Zetas winning 31-27.

The game, interspersed with shrieks, laughter, and an occasional feminine giggle, looked from the beginning as though it were going to be a one-sided affair favoring the PALS, as "Dead-eye" Beason and "Never-miss" Speece started piling up points. The first quarter ended 14-3 and the half 19-9.

But the Zetas, disregarding pulchritudinous stances, and with a single-mindedness known only to women, focused their eyes on the basket and proceeded to run up points as regularly as they do stockings, with Lois Cobe and Lois Miller, forwards, accounting for 12 and 19 points respectively.

Various highlights of the game were: (1) when Mary Margaret's left foot faked her right foot out from under her and for a moment caused a distinct lack of poise; (2) when the end of Bette's nose caught a ball and turned pink; (3) when Lodema fell on a basketball and created a little confusion.

Believe it or not, there were only 5 fouls called during the entire game.

Announce Plans For Summer School

A unique feature of the 1939 Summer Session of York College is that students can carry work for three, six, nine, or twelve weeks. The mid-spring course that begins May 10, is primarily for students who have completed their regular term of school and are ready to go ahead. At this time Professor W. J. Karraker, of the Education Department, is presenting a three hour course in History of Education, which will be of special interest to rural school teachers and high school students who wish to earn twelve hours to help them qualify for the Third Grade Elementary Certificate.

The summer session is also arranged so that a junior in high school can carry six hours of work this summer, and six hours next summer, and, by passing the teachers' examinations, can qualify for a teaching certificate.

During the regular session, from June 5 to August 4, the following courses are being offered by the York College faculty: Dean Bachman is teaching History and Philosophy of Religious Education, and Ethics; Professor Charles Bisset, History of England, Social Psychology, and Social Origins; Professor E. I. Doty, Governments of Recent Europe, American Government, and Political United States; Mrs. Elizabeth Doty, English Composition; Miss Alma Tress Lundman, Beginning Public Speaking, Shakespeare, Modern Prose, and private expression lessons; Miss Mary Alice Slee, Science for Elementary Teachers, The Teaching of Reading, and Introduction to Education. Of these courses, Social Origins, Science for Elementary Teachers, Introduction to Education, and The Teaching of Reading, are to be completed in six weeks, by July 14. The Teaching of Reading is a new course, and should be of great benefit to elementary teachers. The other classes listed are not finished until the end of nine weeks, by August 4.

In the Conservatory, private lessons in voice, piano, and organ, and piano classes, continue through the summer with Dean Charles Amadon, Miss Eda L. Rankin, and Miss Gladys Pearson as instructors. The commercial department, under the direction of Professor R. E. Townsend, offers special courses for teachers, and civil service examinations, as well as regular work in typing, shorthand and bookkeeping.

During the three week period from July 14 to August 4, several pertinent subjects are to be presented. Professor Karraker is to offer a three hour course in Secondary Education. Miss Slee will teach a two hour course in Children's Literature, and a one hour course in Plays and Games, which consists of lectures and activities. In addition to these, a two hour course in Elementary School Course of Study, a review of the common branches. Miss Slee, the head of the Education Department, states "This is an especially good course for those who are looking forward to taking the teachers' examinations for a teaching certificate. It may be of interest to high school juniors who are to finish high school next year."

A new bulletin, containing descriptions of the various courses is in preparation, and class schedules are available at the college office.
