Feminine Lead In Production Is Doris Johnson

Senior Has Had Former Leading Dramatic Roles

Doris Johnson, senior, Macks-ville, Kansas, will carry the leading feminine role, Mrs. Price, in the modern comedy-drama, "Behold the Truth" by Wall Spence, to be presented by the York College players in the York High School Auditorium late in April. Many York theater goers will recall Miss Johnson in her portrayal of Kay Crosby in Charles Divine's three-act comedy, "Strangers at Home", and also in her interpretation of May Fielding in Albert Smith's dramatization of Charles Dickens' "Cricket on the Hearth".

Alice Pritchard freshman, Ogden, Iowa, has been cast as Claire Courtney in the place of Betty Jo Ericson as was stated in the last issue.

PLOT IS INVOLVED

Mrs. Price had invited Haribada, a Hindu mystic to entertain her guests, but she had not calculated on his being a genuine mystic—a man of supernatural discernment—who was to penetrate the hearts of each of her discordant guests.

PRESENT SERVICE AT AURORA UNION SERVICE

Nine Life Work Recruits went to Aurora Sunday evening to present a program with the theme "The Light of the Cross" for a union meeting in the United Brethren church.

The Recruit quartet composed of Gerald Dierdorff, Marjorie Cook, Lois Miller, and Junior Heatherington, with Regina Heatherington, accompanist, sang several selections. Dierdorff was chairman of the service. Agnes Drake read the scripture. Jack Miller gave a chalk talk. Lawrence Deever spoke on the theme of the evening. June Olney also accompanied the group.

Wins First Place In State Contest

By Edith Huebert

Lawrence Deever, senior of York, with his oration "Do You Want to Commit Suicide?" broke the stranglehold Wesleyan had held on first place in the state Old Line oratorical contest during the past fourteen years. This victory in the forensic tournament at Lincoln last week gives York the right to represent the state in the Interstate contest to be held in Illinois in April.

The trophy, twenty-six inches in height is a gold cup, topped by a small statue symbolizing victory. It is a rotating trophy, going for one year to the school winning the contest. Each year the name of the winner and his college is engraved upon the cup. The school having its name most often inscribed upon the trophy becomes its permanent owner. "This," Miss Alma Tress Lundman stated, "is a real challenge to future York College orators."

The speech which won Deever his championship, "Do You Want to Commit Suicide?" is original. It deals with marihuana, a powerful narcotic, its influence, and evils.

Representing York in the debate section of the tournament were Deever, Russell Dunlop, Will Fred Primrose, Ellsworth Carlson, and Vernon Overturf.

Freshman Trio Goes To Colorado

The freshman trio composed of Doris Landon, Rosemary McCormick and Arline Beason, with Bill White and George Chambers presented a program at the United Brethren church in Berthoud, Colorado, last Saturday evening. The program consisted of instrumental numbers, readings, speeches, and selections by the trio with Mattie Pierce as their accompanist.

The group enjoyed a drive through the mountains and Estes Park on Saturday afternoon as well as their visit in the home of Rosemary McCormick.

The Rev. A. V. Howland, college field secretary of last year, is pastor of the Berthoud church.

The York College seismograph constructed about three years ago by Prof. Chris Keim and one of the students has won recognition from the United States government, according to Prof. Harold Haugan, head of the physical science department.

SPORE CHECKS EQUIPMENT In connection with plans for cooperating with the government in recording earthquake shocks, the seismograph is being overhauled and checked for possibilities of improvement. Robert Spore, working with the research physics department, is making the recheck.

When the equipment has been placed in first class condition, it will be enclosed in glass to prevent air currents from affecting the needles and to prevent insects from waving the levers. When the work has been completed, it is probable that the efficiency of the apparatus will be tested with dynamite explosions at various distances and directions. Scientists report that dynamite explosions cause recordings on the seismograph similar to those caused by earthquakes.

When the work is completed, all recordings will be reported to the proper government observers for comparisons with the instruments in other locations.

The York College seismograph was constructed from various types of material, including guitar strings, phonograph needles and other available metal. The instrument has recorded a number of earthquake shocks during the three years it has been in service, including some as far away as 2000 miles.

Spring Athletics Theme of Banquet

Spring Athletics constituted the theme for the annual spring banquet held in the United Brethren church March 21. Smart gingham and new sport costumes were worn by the 160 students and faculty members to inaugurate the spring season.

Bob May, senior of York, served as master of ceremonies and introduced the following advocates of spring: "Track events", Bob Spore; "Field Events", Henry Hansen; two numbers by the men's quartette, "Siboney" and "Chloe"; "Tennis", Junior Heatherington; songs by the girl's trio, "The Big Brown Bear" and an original composition by Hazel Emma Morgan, "Fooled by the Moon"; and "Golf" by Bob Gale. There also was a round table discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of spring by June Olney, Russell Dunlop, Mary Margaret duRand, Orvis McNurlin, Frances Bullock, Don Funk, and Ida Mae Sampson, the college red-heads.

Spring flowers decorated the tables. Favors were candy baskets filled with eggs. Programs were of pastel colors, each having a little wire spring attached to symbolize the theme.

Trustees of the college were honored guests for the evening.

TRIO SINGS

The Freshman Girl's Trio, composed of Doris Landon, Rose Mary McCormick, and Arline Beason, accompanied by Mattie Pearce, entertained at the P.-T. A. meeting of the Victory School, located west of York, Thursday evening, March 16. Evelyn Westwood, sophomore, York, who has been elected to teach this school next year, went with the group.

Board of Trustees In Annual Meeting

All the members of the present faculty and all the officers of the Board of Trustees were reelected for the coming year at the annual board meeting which assembled in the Administration Building on March 21, according to President D. E. Weidler.

BISHOP IS PRESIDENT

Bishop V. O. Weidler, Kansas City, Missouri was again named president of the board; Dr. Stanley B. Williams, Dayton, Ohio, vice-president; Dr. A. P. Vannice, York, secretary; and Anna J. Thompson, York, treasurer.

Much discussion was given to plans for adequately financing the college. The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees was instructed to suggest ways and means for completing the liquidation of the indebtedness of the college by June 1, 1941, which will be the end of the semi-centennial.

The Articles of Incorporation of April 17, 1920, were revised to bring the Articles into conformity with the present procedure.

Dr. Williams; Dr. O. T. Deever, Dayton, Ohio; and Bishop I. D. Warner, Pomona, California, were elected trustees at large. The five local trustees chosen were S. C. Caldwell, E. L. Malster, N. Hammar, H. E. Nordlund, and E. A. Levitt.

The out-of-town members present were Bishop V. O. Weidler,

Invitational Track Meet Planned; Other Contests Are Cancelled

Conflict In Dates Necessitates Abandonment

The annual invitational High School contests, in music, speech, and commercial subjects, which are sponsored annually by York College, have been cancelled this year, according to Dean Charles Amadon of the college music department, because the date set for the contests conflicts with the annual district contest, which is to be held in Geneva.

ENTERTAIN AT GILTNER—

The Coeds and the Dukes of York presented a musical program at a P.-T. A. meeting in Giltner Tuesday evening. Sally Rasp, ex-'40, teaches in the third and fourth grades in Giltner and it is also the home town of the Duke's accompanist, Alden Marvel.

"BUD" ROBINSON SPEAKS AT JOINT MEETING

"There's a rainbow shining somewhere" rang out in the chapel last March fourteenth at a combined meeting of Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The song was taught to the group by the guest speaker, "Bud" Robinson.

Robinson talked about his experience in Hawaii where he spent three months last summer. Besides telling his adventures, he displayed a few sleight of hand tricks.

The speaker has traveled extensively, visiting such countries as England, Ireland, Italy, and Alaska. He plans to tour South Africa this summer.

Invitations Sent To 125 High Schools In Nebraska

Plans are being pushed ahead for the sixth annual Central Nebraska Invitation Track and Field meet to be held April 22 under the sponsorship of York College, and in a short time, final preparations will be complete for this occasion which draws would-be stars from all high schools hereabouts.

One hundred twenty-five schools have been invited, and entry blanks have been sent out for all those planning to enter the meet. Of those who were winners last year, some have already replied, stating their intent to return. Among these are Lincoln High who won the championship in the class A division, and Grand Island

William Swartzwelder, ex-'24, recently pastor of a Presbyterian church in Lincoln, has been elected assistant to the president of Hastings college.

Walter Voss, a student in the Academy 1915-16, is now pastor of a Lutheran church in Omaha, and a sermon written by him appears in the Christian Century Pulpit for March.

Callahan was the one chosen from the entire school of business administration for the position.

In a recent letter to Miss Edith Callender, Mrs. A. P. Linthicum, the former Audrey Black, '38, told of her experiences in Hawaii since she sailed last December to join her husband there. The letter was descriptive and interesting but only parts of it may be quoted, because of lack of space.

"I was quite anxious to reach Honolulu so the morning we were to dock, I was up early watching to see the island. At first I was disappointed as there appeared a huge rock coming out of the water. . . . In a short time the appearance of the rock changed and we saw the city of Honolulu in the distance. As we neared the pier, small boats came to meet us. Then, as we were about to dock, a band from one of the largest hotels played Hawaiian songs

Ashcraft Addresses College Chapel

"Our democracy does not depend on what happens in Europe but on what we do in America," said Dean Charles E. Ashcraft in his talk on "Christianity and Democracy." Dean Ashcraft is Dean of Bonebrake Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, and was formerly Dean of York College for a number of years.

"The advantages of a Democracy compared to a Proletarian government are: the right to worship, the right to be represented in the government, the overthrow of the tyranny of ignorance, and the great advance in education we have made, the overthrowing of slavery, and the control and conquest of nature," he stated. "All these have contributed to our democracy."

"If we lose our democracy in America it will be because we have not thought through and seen clearly the problems that face us." Ashcraft stated the reasons our democracy is in peril, as follows: "bad government, lack of opportunity for equipment for men who want to work, no opportunities for young people to take responsibilities, insecurity of the old, racial and religious intolerance, stagnation of money, and the producing of more than we can consume. "Democracy will finally triumph, however, because it is closely related to Christianity."

. . . We are only about a mile and a half from Waikiki beach . . . Surf board riding is the most popular form of water play as the coral bottom makes swimming less desirable . . . From February 22-26 was Hoolaulea week in Hawaii. It was the sugar and pineapple festival . . . The day after the crowning of the queen there was a large parade with about 5,000 people participating . . . The next evening there was a Lantern Parade. This was more elaborate than the first and everyone carried Japanese lanterns of every shape and description . . . Friday evening, a pageant of Old Hawaii was presented in the Honolulu Stadium."

To help remember Vaughn Leaming and Albert Academy at Sierra Leone, a number of pictures were shown to the Life Work Recruits March 27. Jean Mattingly assisted in the program by singing "Calvary", and Jerry Dierdorff presented devotions.

"Man today demands a practical, and yet a spiritual God", related Dean Ashcraft in his March 20 address before the Life Work Recruits. "We cannot expect to insult the modern man's intelligence with any conception which strives to portray less worthwhile attitudes."

Catherine Woolever sang, accompanied by Hazel Emma Morgan at the piano, and Doris Landon playing a violin obligato. Bob Jones was in charge of devotions. "Nazism and the German Church", was John Dowd's theme of discussion at the March 13 meeting.

ASSOCIATIONS JOIN FOR MEETING

With the singing of the hymn "I Would Be True" by the student body, the combined Y. M.-Y. W. opened its weekly meeting, March 21, in the chapel.

Devotions, led by Carl Bedient and Jean Mattingly, preceded the following program: Two choral readings by the dramatic interpretation class, "A Lost Sheep" and "First Appearance at the Odeon"; a marimba solo by Lois Miller; outlines of the coming social and athletic events by Helen Lumbus and Jerry Dierdorff; and the first appearance of the chorus which sang "Dark Water" and "Beautiful Savior".

Here we are, in the lull between athletic seasons and with the lazy, romantic forces of spring as our only opponents. It is very fortunate, indeed, that spring never affects athletes, else the whole world would be in the clutches of the daze which pictures only the beautiful flowers, the twitter of birds, and thoughts of love. We can't exactly account for that forlorn, homesick look that Ekdahl has acquired in the last couple of weeks, (maybe he's hungry) but we still think that if it weren't for the loyal vivacity of our athletes and the inexhaustible practical (?) jokes of Homer Meserve, life would just become one routine in the spring of going to or skipping classes, watching the floating clouds, and shading our eyes from the flashy colors of the girls' new print dresses.

Although Coach Gallant is not prone to make any predictions as to the prospects for top honors in track this season, we do note that it is with a bright look in his eye that he observes his outstanding hopes perform. Max Quick, our mainstay of last year is tossing the shot and discus as though he intends to make it plenty tough for his competitors this year. Rees, Ekdahl, the two Habermans, Cobe, May and the other old-timers are beginning to shape up in fine style. The coach feels too, that he can depend on the new recruits, Crone, Gassman, Gifford, Klippenstein, and Witt, each a star in high school, to bolster up our chances for a high position in the N. C. A. C. race this year. Nothing definite can be said until the boys are put under pressure, but with more real track material than ever before, we're hoping this year to take our turn at carving some initials in the track crown.

To have something to go by, it may be of interest to note the York college track and field records up to date. Over one-third are new records established last year, and we may see a few more tumble this season.

Momentous Events and Problems Demand Personalized Religious Education

(Ed. note: The Rev. Harry Cook who has recently been added to the faculty staff as Director of Field Activities has accepted this opportunity to greet the constituent members of York College through the editorial columns of the Sandburr.)

To all the members of the Church west of the Mississippi and to all the lovers of Christian Education everywhere:

"Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ."

In the light of the momentous events happening with bewildering and astonishing rapidity in various parts of the world, and the apparent inability of so-called statesmen to solve the problems presented, it is evident that the approach which is most likely to be successful has not as yet been tried.

A philosophy of force will defeat its proponents in the end and a victory of brutal conquest must prove to be an overwhelming and crushing defeat.

There are certain spiritual laws which govern the universe. They cannot be ignored. We did not make them, and we dare not break them. The sooner we recognize the laws of God, and that He meant all peoples of the world to live together with mutual benefit, the sooner man can take his proper place in creation.

David Lloyd George said, "It is either Christ or chaos."

On the support of institutions which teach Christianity, and the diffusion of Christianized education, the salvation of the world depends.

York College, in company with other Christian colleges, offers that personalized Christian education which the world so desperately needs. In the atmosphere of the proved and tested thought of these institutions of advanced learning, ideals and principles are born which are sure to make their impact upon the world with the passing of the years. We who love our country and our Church cannot, we dare not, fail to support York College, our own college for this area.

Since the enlargement of the co-operating territory, and the hearty and enthusiastic support of the whole church, York College gives promise of being of far greater benefit to the world than even its founders ever dreamed. No denomination, however small, can hope to survive without its own institutions of higher education.

May we all work and pray, with one mind, for the further success of our college at York.

HARRY M. COOK,
Field Representative.

It looks as though roller skating, the project recently introduced on the campus by the "Y. M." and "Y. W.", is about the most popular recreation, wherein all can participate, that might have been chosen. With beginners' sessions held on Saturday afternoons, excuses of incapability are discarded, and everyone, when he timidly shoves off from his or her last support, knows what is really meant by "standing on your own". Of course, some complications arise, such as Malcolm Brown's habit (very funny to him) of sprawling on the floor and piling up about ten or fifteen skaters each time, or Dorothy Riggs' habit of falling down and dragging her escort down on top.

FEMININE LEAD IN PRODUCTION IS DORIS JOHNSON

Haribada divined instantly that Norma Huntley shrank from her imminent marriage to Prince Alexis because, deep down, she still loved Warren Oakley, in spite of his blemished reputation. And he knew that the Prince's suit had been actuated by mercenary motives. It was clear to him that Kathrine Kennedy had written those poison pen letters, defaming Warren's character so that Norma would break with him and thus leave Warren accessible to her. Haribada perceived why the Prices were using subtle means to frustrate the union of Norma and the Prince. Price was Norma's legal guardian. He had misappropriated her funds and was in horror of the impending disclosure. He saw clearly through Claire Courtney, a ruthless, egotistical actress who was jeopardizing the career of Gordon Henshaw. Also, he knew that Viola was Claire's daughter and not her sister, as she pretended. And as for the Duponts—well, he knew them all for what they were. And he knew it was his mission, before he left, to hold the mirror of truth up to each of them—to let them see the hideous impression that lies and deceit had engraved on their souls.

"Yes!" she cried when asked to be his bride. (Hint) He was outfitted at—Russ Williams.

WEATHER REPORT . . .

Our weatherman is certain that it is cold at both poles but has no definite statement for Nebraska.

BOOK REVIEW . . .

Just read the preface on "Why Boys Leave Home". Strong reading. I was 20 miles north of here before I got to the second chapter.

MOVIE REVIEW . . .

"The Doodlers", produced by M. C. M., is about a loving couple (starring La Dove Kall and Slickum Flatt) just off the matrimonial press. She slaps him, he hits her, they kick, kiss. She slaps him, he hits her, they kick, kiss. Has a smashing climax. Cave-man stuff sans fur regalia. 10 rounds of entertainment.

SPORTS . . .

(Editor's Note) We're sorry, dear readers, to inform you that the Register will have no sport inserts this issue. Leviticus sent Oswald out three days ago to unmask the latest wrestling star known as the "Masked Marvel". Last thing Leviticus knew Oswald had the mask and was appearing in some preliminary bouts.

NEWS SECTION . . .

Oh, You Kid . . . Visual education stepped inside the matrimonial ring last week in the chapel picture, "A New Adventure", which explained wise buying for freshly married couples. In one scene models, a trifle scantily dressed for enlightening visual education, perambulated up and down. Said one student: "And this is a Christian college." Answered Russ Dunlop: "Yes, but this is a New Adventure."

EX-CON DAVID . . .

In Old Testament History class last Thurs., Prof. Morgan asked, "What are some of the things we remember David for?" Bob Gale was very prompt to answer, "Wasn't it David who was in the lion's den?"

OUR JUNIOR . . .

Leviticus heard Regina yell out daintily in the hall: "Hey kid, run out and see what Junior is doing and tell him it's all right."

YE VEGETABLE SHOPPE

The Boy Scouts of York College were at their height last Tuesday night at the annual Spring Banquet. Their motto is "Come Prepared". They came prepared to eat even if the banquet were called off. The boys furnished the girls with corsages made up of fresh vegetables. One member states that it enabled him to stay out an hour and a half longer.

Ralph Schmidt and Max Oswald are leading contenders in the June Bug contest.

I sneezed a sneeze into the air,
It fell to earth I know not where,
But hard and cold were the looks of those
In whose vicinity I snoze.
