Dahlstedt Edits Marathon

Carl Bedient Elected Business Manager of 1940 Publication

Wayne Dahlstedt, junior of York, heads the editorial staff of the 1940 college yearbook, the Marathon. Dahlstedt, a graduate of York high school, was elected at a meeting of the junior and sophomore classes. Dahlstedt has been active in all phases of campus life. He is a member of the college male quartet, and of the chorus, and for the past year has been business manager of the Sandburr.

The business end of the Marathon will be managed by Carl Bedient, of Bradshaw, also a junior. Bedient is a graduate of Polk high school. He has been active in Y. M. C. A. work and is now serving as the vice president of that organization.

DIERDORFF IS ASSOCIATE

Gerald Dierdorff, sophomore of Geneva, heads the list of associates on the staff. He was named associate editor by the officers of the two classes. He, too, is active in Y. M. C. A. work, in addition to singing in the chorus and in the college male quartet. He has lettered in tennis and football.

The rest of the editorial staff is composed of: Lois Miller, Russell, Kansas, feature editor; Marlin Bedient, Bradshaw, literary editor; Lois Cobe, Dawson, calendar; Charles Whitney, Aurora, and Don Eberhart, Lincoln, sports editors; Waldo Dahlstedt, York, snapshot editor; Jack Miller, Johnstown, Colorado, art editor; Verlene Witham, Agra, Kansas, staff typist; Miss Alma Tress Lundman, faculty literary adviser.

In addition to Bedient, the business staff are Bertha Riggs, Merville, Iowa, sales manager; Billy Dean, York, advertising manager, and Miss Edith Callender, faculty business advisor.

TO IOWA CONFERENCE

President D. E. Weidler and the Rev. Harry Cook, field representative, attended the Iowa Mid-Year Conference at Marshalltown, April 12. President Weidler, as representative of York College, addressed the group.

Porter Tells PALS About Prexy Job

"I would try to interest United Brethren Colleges in the East in York College, the only United Brethren school west of the Mississippi," Don Porter stated, in his impromptu speech on "What I would do if I were President of York College", at the PALS meeting Tuesday evening, March 28.

Porter also said he would stress intramural activities among both the men and women.

Other features of the program which followed a short business meeting were: a review of Howard Spring's book "My Son" by Russell Dunlop, and a vocal solo, "When Mother Sang Hush-A-Bye-O" by Jean Mattingly.

EAST FOR VACATION

Swinging his "trusty" seven-iron, Coach Neal Gallant stopped in Bloomington, Illinois, to exhibit his golf prowess, while Professor Harold W. Haugan continued to Chicago, to spend spring vacation. Both enjoyed the trip in Coach's new "Mercury".

Faculty Members Entertain Tonight

Faculty members will entertain the student body at their annual reception tonight in the college church at 8:15 p. m.

Miss Alma Tress Lundman is general chairman of the reception committee. Chairmen of other committees are as follows: Anna J. Thompson, invitations; Miss Edith Cone, refreshments, and Mrs. Charles Bisset, properties.

About 250 invitations were sent out according to Miss Thompson.

After the guests are met at the door they will be ushered to the reception line composed of faculty members and then they will be conducted to the auditorium for the program. The program was not revealed but according to tradition the college president will greet the guests, and two plays will be presented. Between the plays there will be musical numbers.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Chimes In Tower Ring Out Regularly

"Rock of Ages, left for me . . ." pulses with a clear resonance to meet the Easter dawn, and the rising sun complements with deep carmen rays the mellow tones of the new chime equipment.

Thus a new feature of York College gets under way—another worthwhile tradition is begun, at a most appropriate time—at the breaking of the day commemorating the resurrection.

This new project is under the direction of Professor Harold W. Haugan and the York College physics department. Plans are being developed to improve and enlarge the equipment and repertoire of the chime amplifier. Construction of speakers in the tower will probably be started soon. According to Professor Haugan, proper amplification and construction of speakers should make it possible to "cover" the entire community with the recordings. The chimes will be heard each day at chapel-time.

Chorus Embarks Tomorrow

Play Date Changed To April 24

Mary Margaret duRand, senior, Parsons, Kansas, will interpret one of the leading feminine roles that of Mrs. Huntley, when the York College players present the three-act comedy-drama, "Behold the Truth", Monday, April 24, at the York High School Auditorium. During the last three years at York, Miss duRand has played several major roles. These roles include, Aunt Phoebe in "Strangers at Home" by Charles Divine; Mrs. Fairfax in Wall Spence's dramatization of "Jane Eyre", and De-

"If the chorus performs as well on the tour as they have in the last rehearsals, our trip will be a complete success", was Dean Charles Amadon's firm belief voiced in a recent interview granted to a Sandburr reporter.

ITINERARY COMPLETED

The chorus will leave the campus on the York College bus tomorrow, Friday 14, and will sing in the United Brethren church in Omaha on that evening. The traveling musicians visit Dawson, Iowa, on Saturday 15, and on Sunday 16, they sing in two of the United Brethren churches in Des Moines. The entertainers are scheduled to be in Waterloo, Iowa, Monday 17, and then they circle back to Webster City, Iowa, where they will give their program on Tuesday 18. Their last scheduled stop will be in Merville, Iowa on Wednesday 19. The group will then come back to York on Thursday 20. Thus, the tour will cover a little less than a week in length. The chorus will give programs in various high schools and over

Zeta Society Has Impromptu Program

Laughter permeated the Zeta Hall at an informal meeting on March 28. The cause of the humor was several impromptu numbers.

Bruce Edmondson led the group in well-known songs, and Levi Huebert, Zeta president, sang several popular pieces. An extemporaneous talk and song were presented by Malcolm Brown on the subject of "How I Learned to Sing". An impromptu quartet composed of Jack Miller, Verne Herrick, George Doerr, and Curtis MacCanon entertained with two humorous musical numbers, and the meeting was adjourned.

These singers depart tomorrow for Iowa to present programs in various High schools and United Brethren churches of the state. Back row, left to right: William White, Elmond Holbrook, Max Oswald, Bruce Edmondson, Wes Fredrickson, Waldo Dahlstedt, Warren Neal, Bob Gale, and Bill Dean. Second row: Jerry Dierdorff, Albert Kamm, Regina Heatherington, Helen Berkman, Dorothy Riggs, Catherine Woolever, Roberta Estey, Lois Miller, Arline Beason, Doris Gilmore, Levi Huebert, Nelson Ronne. Front row: Wayne Dahlstedt, Alden Marvel, Lodema Frieden, Marjorie Cook, Jean Mattingly, Bertha Riggs, Dean Charles Amadon, director, Ocie Moran, Doris Landon, Rosemary McCormick, Hazel Emma Morgan, Scott Heatherington, and Lawrence Deever. Helen Lumbus is not in the picture.

They Tramped These Halls

By Prof. J. C. Morgan

Rev. Ernest Baber, C. C. '12, has resigned his position in the juvenile court and in the Boulevard Congregational church of Denver, Colorado, and is now serving as superintendent of the Citizens' Mission of that city. Rev. Baber has made a specialty of social service work.

It is being noised abroad that there will be a reunion sometime this summer of the alumni of present and former United Brethren colleges west of the Mississippi river. Success to it.

The alumni editor has received a letter from Supt. L. H. Petit, C. C. '10, of the Chanute, Kansas, public schools. For the past three years he has been engaged in an extensive building program, including a new junior college building, a trade school building and an elementary building. A new stadium will be begun soon. This is very commendable for a man whose chief interest in college was writing dog stories, editing the "Growler" page of the college paper, and managing the same. However, his success in managing the Charta was good evidence of the extraordinary success he has attained as superintendent of public schools. His son, Paul, is a practicing physician at Goodland, Kansas, and his daughter, Helen, now Mrs. Howard Wilson, is living in Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Several alumni visited in York during the Easter vacation. Among them were Ruby Clayton, '38, Ruskin; Mr. and Mrs. James Speece; Elizabeth Feemster; Merrill Day, '38; Gladys Deever, '36, North Platte; and Ralph Jordan, ex-'37, Beloit, Kansas, now a student in the University of Kansas Medical School in Kansas City.

Roberta Livers, ex-'41, of Ionia, Kansas, visited in the home of Jean Read last week.

Other Easter visitors were Lucille Vannice, ex-'40, who is taking a nurses' training course in Omaha, and Helen Black, ex-'41, who has returned home from Maryland.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

That Cupid's dart has struck again in York College was evidenced at a party in the dining room at the Conservatory Thursday evening, April 6, at which time Dortha Murfin and Vernon Overturf announced their engagement.

Guests of the couple included Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bachman, and Mr. and Mrs. Lantz, and a number of the college students.

Dormitory Women Have Fire Drill At 4:00 A. M. On First of April

Br-ring, br-ring, br-ing-br-ring, brrringbrrringbrrring! At four o'clock Saturday morning the "Con" was rocked by a ringing and a clanging which could mean only one thing, "Fire!"

Immediately lights went on and pajama-clad girls were swarming the stairways. Some were running down, some were tumbling down, Shirley Talbot was sliding down the bannister, and Dorothy Garland was dragging her protesting roommate down. Within a minute and a half the walk in front of the dormitory was thronged with shivering, half awake, wondering girls.

Everywhere there were cries of, "Where's the fire?" "What's happened?" "Where is it?" "Where am I?" "Where's Dortha?" "What's going on?" "I smell smoke!"

Suddenly, finding that this wasn't a nightmare after all, your reporter came into action and began to take notice of what was going on around her. In her hands she found her favorite tube of lipstick and her government book—perfect substitutes for the ever-present reporter's pencil and note pad. The following is what could afterwards be deciphered from the lipstick scribbles on the flyleaf of the textbook: "Mary Jean Buttermore has Ekie's picture clasped in her arms; Bertha Riggs is carrying her new sport shoes; the only thing that Rosemary "First Out" McCormick has is a chill; Maxine has on her fur coat and is carrying a box full of candy bars; Dorothy Riggs has two strong-boxes and a brand new bracelet; Elizabeth and Gladys are stretched out on the steps, exhausted (they carried Enola down the fire escape); and Mrs. Bachman has her flashlight and The Owl. . ."

Abruptly in the midst of this chaos there came silence as one shrilly repeated phrase gained ascendancy over the others. There in the doorway stood our most mischievous "Con" girl, that most impractical of practical jokers, Lois Cobe! She was yelling at the top of her voice, "April Fool! April Fool!"

The girls, with one accord, leaped upon Lois Effie and—well, her hands which had been cut by the fire alarm chain weren't the only parts of her body which were bruised and sore in the morning.

However, at 4:15 all was dark and quiet once more in the "Con" and the "April Fools" slept peacefully.

Dukes were: Henderson, Giltner, Fairfield, Stockham, Harvard, Benedict, Osceola, Shelby, Rising City, and Gresham.

According to Prof. Karraker, similar trips may be planned in the near future to other high schools in this vicinity.

QUARTET GIVES PROGRAMS DURING SPRING VACATION

Prof. W. J. Karraker, and the Dukes of York traveled 260 miles during spring vacation to eleven high schools, giving a thirty minute variety musical program at each school.

The quartet, composed of Jerry Dierdorff, first tenor; Wayne Dahlstedt, second tenor; Scott Heatherington, baritone; Bob Gale, bass; and Alden Marvel, accompanist; left early Monday morning with Prof. Karraker for Bradshaw high school where they presented a program which consisted of several numbers, both secular and novelty, by the quartet, a vocal solo by Bob Gale, and a novelty piano solo by Wayne Dahlstedt. Other programs during the trip included solos by Alden Marvel, and Jerry Dierdorff.

GOSPEL TEAM GOES TO OKLAHOMA CHURCH

An interesting sight-seeing tour welcomed a gospel team from the college which visited in Tulsa, Oklahoma, at the A. E. Berkman home during the spring vacation.

Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Bartleson and their two children; Helen Berkman, Ocie Moran, Esther Thornton, and Albert Kamm. They saw some of the mansions of wealthy oil magnates, the new school which has a $47,000 organ and had the privilege of playing the new novachord while visiting the radio station there.

This gospel team also presented a program in the Tulsa First United Brethren church Sunday evening. The pastor is the Rev. George Edie, former college field secretary.

PLAY AT "Y"

Four York College players presented a one act play, "The Collaborators", by H. B. Hubert, for the "Y" Auxiliary at their monthly luncheon Friday. The players were Verlene Witham, June Olney, and Levi Huebert. Miss Alma Tress Lundman, expression coach, and William White accompanied the players, the latter giving a dramatic reading, "Mother", which preceded the play.

Triangular Track Meet Postponed

Due to stormy weather, the track and tennis meet that was scheduled with Wesleyan and Doane last Tuesday was postponed to next Tuesday, April 18.

Coach Neal Gallant expects to take practically all material on hand to give the boys a chance to reveal their abilities against real competition and to gain some idea of what material is the most promising and outstanding.

One of the dash men, John Haberman, has been handicapped by an ailing leg which might have kept him on the sidelines had the scheduled meet been held, but it is hoped that he will again be in action in time for the meet Tuesday. The rest of the squad is in reasonably good shape.

Some of the netsters, as well as some track men, will be absent at this their first meet, because of the chorus trip which takes them into Iowa on a five-day tour, but other enthusiastic Panthers will be ready to fill in and match strokes with the Plainsmen and the Tigers.

SUPT. VANNICE HAS HISTORICAL COLLECTION

Dr. A. P. Vannice, Conference Superintendent, who is making a collection of pictures, records, and other items of historical interest to the Nebraska Conference, has added three more photographs to the group already housed in the College Library.

One of these pictures is of the first faculty of York College, that of 1890. The other group photograph is of the faculty and officers of the year 1892. The third is of Gibbon Institute, Gibbon, Nebraska, a United Brethren school which was moved to York in 1890.

Dr. Vannice is interested in obtaining other articles which pertain to the history of the Nebraska Conference.

FORMER STUDENTS ARE MARRIED LAST SUNDAY

Lorna Stouffer, ex-'39, of York, and Marvin Ives, ex-'40, of St. Johns, Kansas, were married Easter Sunday, April 9, by Dr. A. P. Vannice, superintendent of the Nebraska conference of United Brethren churches. Mr. and Mrs. Ives will make their home near St. Johns, where Mr. Ives is employed.

HAVE SERVICES IN KANSAS

Dorothy and Bertha Riggs, Jack Miller, and Russell Dunlop assisted in three services last Sunday in the churches on the Smith Center, Kansas, charge of which Dunlop is the pastor. Besides Dunlop's sermons, the group gave musical numbers, readings, and chalk talks.

Plans Complete For Annual Invitation Affair

Most of the plans are now complete for the York College Invitation Track and Field Meet to be held on the campus on April 22. This meet, which attracts high school athletes from many institutions in this section of Nebraska serves as the qualifying meet for the state track and field tournament held in Lincoln in the latter part of May.

College track men will act in the various capacities of field timers and judges, according to Coach Gallant, general chairman of the event, with Burton Feaster and Walter Ekdahl serving as head timer and starter, respectively.

Preparations are being made to accommodate the visiting athletes in the college dining hall and refreshments served near the field of battle by college coeds will strengthen exhausted athletes and spectators.

The usual high school contests in music, speech, and commercial subjects, held simultaneously with the track meet, have been cancelled this year due to conflicting dates with other similar contests.

The order of events starts at 10:00 a. m.

Records established in previous meets:

- 100 Yd. Dash—Taylor of Kearney, 10.1, 1936.
- 220 Yd. Dash—White of Grand Island, 22.9, 1937.
- 440 Yd. Dash—Stuhr of McCool, 53.4, 1938.
- 880 Yd. Run—Gunn of Edgar, 2:08.7, 1938.
- Mile Run—Dennis of Grand Island, 4:46.7, 1938.
- 120 Yd. High Hurdles—Taylor of Kearney, 16.0, 1936.
- 220 Yd. Low Hurdles—Taylor of Kearney, 23.1, 1936.
- Shot Put—Pfeiff of Lincoln, 51' 9", 1936.
- Discus—Wibbels of Wolbach, 150' 2", 1937.
- Javelin—Wibbels of Wolbach, 183' 4", 1937.
- High Jump—Nannen of College View, 5' 10 3/4", 1938.
- Broad Jump—Cardwell of Seward, 22' 4 1/2", 1932.
- Pole Vault—McGaffin of York, 12' 1/4", 1937.
- 880 Yd. Relay—(Burr, Hejkal, Helms, Norris) Hastings, 1:36.4, 1936.

Graduation days are not too far distant. Plan your graduation wardrobe now.—Russ Williams

Well, it looks as though we got our dates mixed again, or maybe it's just Nebraska. At any rate, when we looked out and saw the sun shining and the birds singing, we thought that finally something could happen for us to write about, but by the time our dear athletes were ready to go on the field of battle, the weather man got a bad attitude or something. (There should be a law against weather men having wives. In short, we all got our noses nipped and decided to stay indoors for another week.

The golf and tennis teams have been having their troubles too, for most of the time it is so windy that the tennis must hang onto the net with one hand and swing the racket with the other, while the poor golfers have to duck or even lie down on their stomachs everytime they lift a ball into the wind for fear of being struck by the returning pellet. Nevertheless, in spite of adversities, the tennis squad, now composed of about ten aspirants, is beginning to acquire some form, while the golfers, about six in number, are whittling their scores a little nearly every day.

Coach Gallant is one optimistic fella' no doubt, and you don't have to take our word for it. Just look at that new car he's driving around! Could it be the spring athletic prospects that make him feel that way? I guess we don't dare get too cocky though; it's only a Ford.

We note with interest that the Peru basketball squad whom we came so close to "downing" went to the National Intercollegiate Tournament in Kansas City, Missouri, and came out in the end occupying fourth place. They defeated High Point, North Carolina 55-46, and then Trinity College of Texas 48-40 in an overtime thriller. Their final victory came when they turned back Warrensburg Teachers College of Missouri, the defending champions, 45-31. They were eliminated in the semi-finals by San Diego, California, 49-29. Bailey, Greathouse, Mosley, and McIntyre took stellar roles in the contests.

I guess we'll have to ask "Carrot-top Curt" to wear some kind of shoes, or at least stockings, when he plays tennis. We've noticed that he plays in bare feet, and whenever he is occupying one of the courts, the other two are always vacant. We hate to force any of these modern fads on you, fellow, but the college insists that all its recreational facilities be utilized. You know how it is.

WHAT IS CRITERION FOR REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS?

In what terms do you think of representative men and women? Whom would you choose as the representative man or woman of York College, and on what sort of a basis would you choose him or her?

Would you, like others, choose the young man or woman active in all phases of campus life? Participation in athletics, music, forensics, dramatics, and a high ranking in scholarship are the usual requisites for the honor of being named a representative student.

Is it fair to judge a student on that basis only? Much more important, where character is concerned, is a student's life off the campus. A student may have all the qualities named, and still not be a representative man or woman because of general conduct when not in school.

Those on the outside are inclined to judge a college by its students. What, to them, is a student's record as a scholar or an athlete if he is a barfly or a pool room habitue? You may be the standard by which York College is being judged. Do you represent your college?

—Levi Huebert.

COLLEGE A MATRIMONIAL BUREAU?

The question has been asked, "Are our colleges and universities, even those that are church-controlled, actual matrimonial bureaus in some of their functions?"

For a number of years remarks have been made about our own college as a figurative matrimonial bureau. Recently it has become significantly evident that the former smirk that accompanied the remark has given place to an attitude graced by a more dignified and respectful expression, so that despite its nomenclature, this thing may be considered highly commendable in several aspects.

The unhealthy inference that relationships to that end are purposely promoted or encouraged is not worthy of refutation. Any contributing situation that exists may result naturally when several hundred students are concentrated in a relatively small sphere. Confronted with common problems to solve, common interests in which to delve, and working side by side with one objective in mind, the conclusion can seldom be abnormal. By blending environment, activities, and attitudes along wholesome and uplifting lines, the best and natural affinities are inevitable. No mother, no father could ask for anything more wholesome.

Individuals placed in this position go about a process of adjustment and readjustment in friendships and companionships until love is often the result. Attraction for the opposite sex isn't to be dodged and is obviously necessary.

No mere rationalization is our satisfaction that this institution is one of higher learning and that it is permeated by a religious atmosphere. Herein are massed together some of the most promising, aggressive, and untainted examples of youth to be found anywhere. Perhaps such a spot comes nearest to being the ideal place to form life companionships. Decidedly out of order is any denunciation of a condition that is not only inevitable, but is human and Christian in its fundamental essence. More justifiably our efforts may be expended in commending and helping those who attempt to make a sincere "go of it". Troubles enough will be soon in coming.

—Gerald Dierdorff.

PLAN INITIATION

The Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, the York College National honorary dramatic fraternity, is making plans for initiation of new members. There are at least twelve eligible candidates on the campus. If the eligible persons are interested, they should check up on their dramatic work and give their record to Mary Margaret duRand not later than April 19. Alpha Psi Omega is one of the two national fraternities on the campus.

KANSANS VISIT AT HOME

Several of those who spent the spring vacation visiting friends or at their own homes in Kansas were: Marie Petit, Verlene Witham, Vernon Beedy, all at Agra, and Alice Pembridge, Phillipsburg, Mary Margaret duRand, Parsons, June Olney, Independence, Andy Jordan, Beloit, Doris Landon and Lois Miller of Russell, Leona and Everette Berry, Bunker Hill, and Floyd Chenoweth of Haviland.

The tennis team has a new coach this year in the personage of Professor Charles Bisset. Mr. Bisset was appointed last Friday by Head Coach, Gallant. Being an experienced netster himself, he will no doubt be a real asset to the team. Elected co-captains for this year by the squad in a meeting last Monday, are Alden Marvel, a senior from Giltner, and Keith Roberts, freshman of Omaha. Marvel, an experienced letterman, has been a member of the team for three years, while Roberts has shown his mettle on Omaha North's High School team and in pre-season workouts here.

You've got to hand it to some of these professors who cast all pride and dignity aside, visit the roller skating rink in the gym, and embark on those treacherous playthings that play such awful tricks on a person at the most inopportune times. We note one especially, our biology "prof." who enjoys it so much. Having just learned, he still uses the "shuffle and pray" method but manages to really get around without too many intimate relationships with the floor. The others do right well too, and we enjoy the enthusiasm that they add to the project.

SKATING RINK IS GOING STRONG

With all available skates on the floor, the York College Roller rink experienced a record attendance last Friday evening, following the vacation slump.

Henry "Hank" Hansen and Ferdinand "Kelly" Saindon in their labored efforts to learn, provided considerable entertainment for skaters and spectators.

Arrangements have been made to purchase some smaller sizes of skates. More of these should encourage co-ed participation.

The committee expects another record crowd tomorrow night, which will mark the ninth consecutive week-end skate since the beginning of the project. According to committee members, the rink will have become self-supporting by autumn.

Imagine Al Zerwekh allowing Ruth Brandtetter to marry another man! Don't miss "BEHOLD THE TRUTH!"

WEATHER REPORT

April showers bring May flowers. No snow tomorrow.

BOOK REVIEW

Just read "The Wind Blew" by C. M. Neeze. Outline revealing. Other material scanty.

MOVIE REVIEW

Skipped the movie this week. Warren and Miriam furnished free show on library steps. Dramatic and clinching climax. Anyway Prof. Doty's classes enjoyed it.

SPORTS SHORT

Oswald, who has been around enough to almost know what's what, says that several of the Friday night skaters should be in the beginners' class on Saturday, or maybe they should be taught how to walk first. He cites, for example, Hansen who was inspired to compose this:

The kids—they skate on roller skates.
I wonder how they do.
I'd skate a thousand million miles
If I just only knew!

I wish that I could find a pair
Of roller skates to use
That would stand up and walk around
As easy as my shoes.

SHUCKS . . .

Lucretia was hiding in the bushes near the "Con" snooping for news, when Russ and Dorothy walked past. She recorded what she heard. Russ murmured fervently, "Dorothy, you're the only girl I've ever loved."

"Just my luck", with a sigh, "I've drawn an amateur again".

MISTAKEN LOCATION . . .

Glen Lease was translating German:
"Then he gave her a swift . . ."
"Kiss", prompted Miss Wakelin.
Glen looked perplexed, then grinned gradually. "Oh, I thought it was a swift something else".

PROGRESS IN SCIENCE . .

Genius Hutchison pulled the learned Prof. Noll out of a technical hole in zoology. To the question, "What is smaller than bacteria?", Hutch replied, "Baby bacteria".

BACKFIRE . . .

"Eighty-three date" MacCanon found himself in an unpleasant predicament the other day. He asked Dortha Murfin for a date to a party that turned out to be Dortha's engagement announcement to Vernie. He was refused.

Lois Cobe tells us that high heels were invented by a girl that was kissed on the forehead.

AH, POPULARITY. . .

The quartet visited Shelby High School among other places on their tour during vacation. Monday, one of the members received a letter from a blue-eyed brunette who is a senior in the high school there. In the three page letter she invited him to Shelby twelve times. "My hobby", she said, "is to be gone someplace every night".
