Cupid Kept Hustling Despite Cold Weather, Snow

When York College students returned from the Christmas vacation, diamond flashes from pretty co-eds' fingers and bemuddled looks on the countenances of some men, gave evidence that Dan Cupid is no calendar watcher.

The first victim of the wily love-maker was Mary Margaret duRand, '39, Broadview, New Mexico, who married Jack Crow on October 20, 1939.

His second deed was at Des Moines, Iowa, where on December 15, Dan Wright, ex '40, and Lois Westlake, both of Des Moines, were married.

A short hop of fifty miles brought him to the wedding of Herbert Bryant, Junior of Marshalltown, Iowa, and Thelma Finders on December 19.

The little arrow shooter put that "come-hither-look" in his eye and suddenly Helen Lumbus, junior of Hudson, Iowa, was in Dayton, Ohio. On the night of December 22, Erwin Branson, ex '39 of Dayton, placed a diamond on her finger.

It took real wing work for that popular fellow to get back to Iowa the next day, for on December 23, Al Zerwekh, sophomore of Des Moines, put that certain token on the finger of Ruth Brandstetter, sophomore of Muscatine, Iowa.

One of those days during vacation, Dorothy Riggs, '39 of Henderson, took a casual shopping trip with Russell Dunlop, ex '41 of Smith Center, Kansas, and she emerged with a diamond on the third finger of her left hand.

There was no uncertainty of date, place, or girl when Cupid made his last vacation stop. On December 28 Rosemary McCormick, sophomore of Berthoud, Colorado, plighted her troth to George Chambers, senior of Belle Plaine, Iowa.

Imp-like, Cupid doesn't stop with only this many appointments, but has kept several unheralded engagements. The least hint would give them away, so for further information watch certain students very closely.

Alpha Psi Omega Initiates Three

The York College Eta Kappa cast of the Alpha Psi Omega held its first semi-formal initiation banquet of the year at the McCloud Hotel, Tuesday evening, January 16.

Three members whose dramatic work had been approved by the national organization were initiated, namely, Lois Cobe, junior, of Dawson; Warren Neal, sophomore, of Brookfield, Missouri; and Mary Jean Buttermore, senior of Woodston, Kansas. The degree team was composed of, Grand Erector,

Education Students Get Experience In Local High School

To give education students a practical working knowledge of the profession they are following, and to meet the state requirements in practice teaching, York College has had for many years the cooperation of the York Public School system in offering the opportunity for practical experience. Miss Mary Alice Slee's secondary practice teaching class is represented by nine potential pedagogues who relieve the teachers on certain days and periods and gain valuable experience in their respective teaching courses.

During this first semester the following positions were filled by the following practice teachers: Carl Bedient has taught English; Lois Miller, 9th grade English; Jarvis Cobe, biology; Donald Boehr, commercial arithmetic; William Carter, plane geometry; Margaret Engel, typewriting; Ferdinand Saindon, civics; George Chambers, world history; and Otis Mattox, economics.

Phys. Ed. Student Tells of Spiritual Exercise

"We need to exercise our spiritual being as well as our physical being", declared Lois Miller, senior, at the Y. W. C. A. meeting January 9. Miss Miller continued by saying we exercise physically, perhaps more in college than at any other time, in an effort to keep our bodies healthy and fit. She emphasized the fact that we must exercise the soul in the same degree as we exercise our physical bodies if we are to have a well balanced life.

Other numbers on the program consisted of two readings. One entitled, "The Lie", was given by Mary Ann Derby. The second was a humorous reading entitled, "Billy Brad and the Big Lie", given by Ardith Johnson.

A vocal solo was sung by Lodea Freiden, entitled, "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal". She was accompanied at the piano by Marjorie Cook.

In the meeting of January 2, Miss Grace Shirk used as her topic for devotions "New Year's Resolutions."

The informal program consisted of various members of the Y. W. organization reading their favorite selection of poetry.

Group singing was led by Doris Landon.

"EDUC. DAY RESPONSE EXCELLENT," SAYS COOK

The Rev. Harry M. Cook, financial field secretary of York College, in returning to York, Monday, Jan. 8, reported that the response in Iowa regarding Education Day observance for York College was excellent.

"One-hundred per cent cooperation may be expected", said the Rev. Mr. Cook after canvassing the nine districts in the Iowa conference. Every minister in each district was personally contacted.

Over 1600 miles were left behind on his trip.

Fifty-Six Alumni Attend Banquet At Hotel McCloud

Golden Jubilee Is Theme of Annual Affair

The mid-year York College Alumni banquet was held at the Hotel McCloud on December 27, with fifty-six alumni, faculty members, and guests present. William Hice, '34, of Fremont, was the Master of Ceremonies.

Dean Charles Amadon, of the Conservatory of Music, and Lee Knolle, '32, each gave vocal numbers. Hazel Bearss, '30, Denver, Colorado, talked about her social work in Colorado. An alumni news sheet was presented by Prof. J. C. Morgan (Campbell College), head of ancient language department. Maxyne Hylton, ex-'41, Laramie, Wyoming, played a piano solo. President D. E. Weidler gave a short talk and presented some colored moving pictures of college events and students.

The Golden Jubilee theme was carried out by the gold flowers, nut cups and programs. Mrs. Pauline Glock, '18, York, led in group singing, with Hazel Emma Morgan, '39, at the piano.

Alumni present from out-of-town were: William Hice, '34, Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wochner, '34, Gresham; Maurice Thompson, '39, Gresham; Robert Gale, '39, Lincoln; Maxyne Hylton, ex-'41, Laramie, Wyoming; Dorothy Bittinger, '38, Mullen; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Knolle, '32, Sioux City, Iowa; Hazel Bearss, '36, Denver; William Bearss, '26, Fairbury; Mrs. Reatha Thompson, '27, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Myrcan Canon, '23, Cheney; Wilhelmina Feemster, '31, Indianapolis, Indiana; Elizabeth Feemster, '37, Nehawka; Florence Jenkins, '26, Lincoln; Russel Lewis, '34, Santa Monica, California; Irvin Lewis, '37, Los Angeles, California; Ruth Davis, Aurora; Lucile Heins, '38, Surprise; Elizabeth Slee, Webster City, Iowa; Hazel Emma Morgan, '39, Hays Center; Gladys Mann, '39, Los Vegas, New Mexico; Mildred Thompson, '34, Lawrenceville, Illinois; Melba Manning, '36, Lyons; Emma Murphy, '38, Ansley; Edith Stephens, '28, Cowles; Eleanor Allen, '28, Ainsworth; and Hazel Bowers, '18, Lincoln.

Chorus To Make Trip In Kansas, Oklahoma

Plans are being made for the trip which the chorus will take during spring vacation March 29 to April 7. Dean Charles Amadon expects that they will travel through eastern and central Kansas, and north-central Oklahoma. Some of the larger cities in which the group will make their appearance are Enid and Tulsa, Oklahoma; Kansas City, Missouri, and Wichita, Kansas.

The college bus and two autos will make the trip.

FRESHMAN SPEAKS AT RECRUIT MEETING

Stine Douglas, freshman from Beach, North Dakota, spoke before the Life Work Recruits on Monday evening, January 8. Devotions were in charge of Mary Lue Warner. Vernon Overturf, president, presided at the meeting.

In his talk, Stine Douglas said, "We as Christians should be willing to ask God as Paul did, 'Lord, what will Thou have me to do?', and we need to amaze our fellow men as did the apostle Paul".

SOPHOMORES ENTERTAIN

The annual sophomore reception will be given Friday evening, January 26, at the United Brethren church. Max Oswald, president of the sophomore class will be master of ceremonies. It is to be the first school function taking the advantage of leap year.

Seniors Adopt Newspaper Theme For Annual Party

Using a newspaper as the theme, the seniors entertained the juniors at the annual junior-senior party held Thursday, Jan. 11, in the parlors of the United Brethren church.

Wayne Dahlstedt, editor-in-chief, acted as master-of-ceremonies. Dahlstedt extended the welcome to the juniors and also read an editorial on student activities.

Mary Jean Buttermore read some of the highlights from her society column. Marjorie Cook, accompanied by Lois Miller, entertained the group with a vocal solo and Waldo Dahlstedt, assisted by Wayne Dahlstedt at the piano, played a trombone solo. Helen Lumbus responded to the welcome in behalf of the guests. The games were conducted by Lois Miller and Waldo Dahlstedt.

Chairmen in charge of the various committees were: refreshments, Doris White; program, Leona Berry; invitations, LeRoy Hoffman. Waldo Dahlstedt was general chairman.

Etiquette, Ministry Are Topics of Y. M. C. A. Meets

The Rev. A. L. Deever, college pastor, spoke about the ministry as a vocation at the first January meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

Ellsworth Carlson led devotions and Charles Scott offered prayer.

Basing his thoughts on the scripture, "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you", Rev. Deever presented his interpretation of the call to the ministry. "It would be a calamity," he said, "if everyone became a minister", and then added, "The ministry is not individualistic but is social, humanitarian, and altruistic, and a person must be able to adapt himself to such as a minister".

"Mind Your Manners" was the topic of a talk given in Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, January 9, by Miss Zelda Wakelin.

Devotions were in charge of Elmond Holbrook.

Miss Wakelin enumerated the improvements as well as the failings in etiquette noticed by her and others the past few years. She mentioned, too, a few possibilities in further improvement of manners for the men on the campus.

College Has Improvements

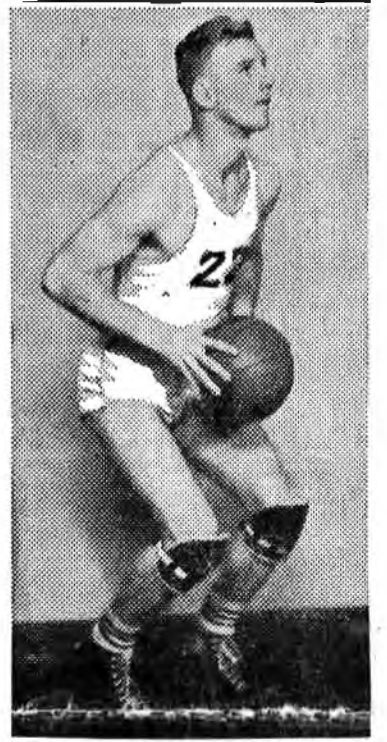

Fulfilling a need that has long been evident, showers and individual lockers have been installed in the girls' dressing room under the library. The showers are especially for girls participating in physical education classes.

Another improvement in the physical education facilities is the three new ping pong tables that will be placed in the gym and dormitory soon. Miss Irene Foster and Lois Miller are supervisors of the new tables that will furnish an activity while roller skating is suspended this winter.

Wesleyan Humbled In York's First N. C. A. C. Win

Feaster Takes Scoring Spree, Tallies 30 Points

A losing jinx that had hounded Panther quintets for a year and a half went up in smoke Friday night,—smoke that issued mainly from red-hot forward, Bud Feaster, whose uncanny shots from all over the floor spun through the hoop 15 times for 30 points as York defeated Wesleyan 60-48.

Burton Feaster

Fast and well-played all the way through, the game was a battle of offenses from the start as both teams took advantage of nearly every scoring chance. The scoring started in the first minute and was still going on in the last one.

Half of York's total was taken care of by Feaster. It was his night and he made the most of it. He shot one-handed, he scooped shots, he flipped the ball over his head,—still he couldn't miss. But his crowning gesture was a long goal from near center, shot just as the timekeeper's horn announced half-time. In the air at the time the ball swished through to tie the score 27-27.

York Takes Edge in Third
After that York was unstoppable. A great third quarter in which the Panthers built up a seven point lead carried them through with Feaster still sinking shots.

Bachelors of Y.M.C.A. Entertain Friends

Bachelor club men of the Y. M. C. A. honored their friends and some members of the faculty by giving a banquet Thursday evening, December 14, in the dining hall at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The program began with a violin solo, played by Doris Landon. Professor Harold Haugan then favored the group with a vocal selection, "My Prayer". Giving a commentary on teaching, Professor Raymond Bell related some of his past experiences as a teacher. Concluding with a novelty, Elaine West sang "Santa Claus is Coming to Town". Catherine Woolever was the accompanist for the musical numbers.

Decorations in the hall gave it a Christmas atmosphere. Including among the guests were the Y. M. C. A. secretary and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wright.

They Tramped These Halls

By PROF. J. C. MORGAN

The alumni banquet on December 27 afforded the opportunity for a fine gathering of old friends and alumni. Mention of the program and out of town alumni was made on the first page.

Miss Mary Rankin '16 of the Columbus schools and Miss Etta Mason '28 of the Wausa schools spent the Christmas vacation in York.

The following weddings have occurred recently: that of Miss Alice Pritchard, ex '42, to Rev. W. Z. Henline, that of Miss Maude Reed '36 to Mr. Harlan Fuehrer, ex '33, and that of Miss Mary Margaret duRand to Mr. J. R. Crow.

Dr. E. E. Conner, '22, is a patient in a hospital at Sioux City, suffering from an injured back. He will be in the hospital a period of three months from the time of entrance late in the fall. He would appreciate hearing from his many friends while he is recovering.

Dr. Warren Baller, '23, of the University of Nebraska has contributed an article to the Journal of Genetic Psychology on the subject of comparative delinquency among the dull and the feeble minded. Dr. Baller was the speaker recently for the Lincoln Council of Parent, Teacher Associations. His subject was "Why Children Behave That Way".

Word is received of the death of Mr. F. Otho Stout, '08, which occurred on May 10, 1939. Mr. Stout was engaged in printing at Excelsior, Minn.

A letter from Mrs. Hortense Poynter Hanshaw, ex'32, expresses appreciation for this column of The Sandburr. Her husband, Ual, '31, is a teacher in a government school at Anchorage, Alaska.

Miss Doris Goodrich, '39 of Pilemeth, Oregon, writes: "I'm taking some very interesting work in Home Economics, but in spite of the fact that it is very enjoyable, I'd rather be back in York".

Mr. Willard Young, ex'31, is employed by the H. J. Heinz Company, Pittsburgh, Penn. At the present time he is serving as private secretary to Mr. H. J. Heinz II, who is assistant to the president. Willard gives credit to Prof. Townsend who interested him in accounting work which was the foundation for his success.

Mr. Milan Lambert formerly organist for state KFAB, has gone from Lincoln to Los Angeles, California, where he is engaged in similar work. He will still be on the air.

Zetas Impersonate, Have Election

Famous people of all ages were impersonated at the Zeta meeting, January 16. Jimmie Koontz, sophomore of Des Moines, Iowa, introduced several impromptu speakers who found themselves unexpectedly among the celebrities.

Other numbers were piano solos by Lucille Haug, sophomore, and Elwyn Phillips, freshman, and a vocal solo by Deane Tack, freshman.

Election of second semester officers was held, but the results have not been announced.

Prof. Travel, Visit During Holidays

Miss Mary Alice Slee spent the holidays in York with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Slee, principal of the junior high school of Webster City, Iowa, joining her for the holidays.

Miss Alma Tress Lundman met two of her sisters at Minneapolis, Minn., where they visited for a few days. From there they went to her sister's home in Pine River, Minn., to spend the remaining holidays.

Dean W. E. Bachman and Mrs. Bachman, dean of women, spent the vacation in Des Moines, Iowa, with their relatives.

Prof. R. F. Bell left Dec. 15 for his home in Smithers, West Vir., where he stayed till Dec. 26 when he went to Columbus, Ohio, to attend an annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which lasted till Dec. 31. Then he was at home from Jan. 1 to Jan. 6, returning to York Jan. 7.

Dr. Charles Bisset and Mrs. Bisset visited their daughter and family, Supt. and Mrs. Tennis Hoffman and son Lawrence, at Kiowa, Colorado for two weeks, spending a couple of days in Denver.

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Deever, their daughter Florence, a junior, and son Paul, Marjorie Cook, senior, and Helen Lumbus, junior, Waterloo, Iowa, left by car Dec. 21 and returned Dec. 29 after visiting in Dayton, Ohio. They were guests of Dr. O. T. Deever and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cook '39. They also visited Lawrence Deever '39, Erwin Branson, ex'39, and John Dowd, '39, and Mrs. Dowd who are attending bonebrake Theological Seminary. While in Dayton they were in the Otterbein Press building, the U. B. Building, and several of the United Brethren Churches.

Lofty Bronchos Trip Panthers In First N. C. A. C. Tilt

Cubs Claw Ponies In 46-13 Preliminary

Big Dick Marvel, 6' 7" Hastings center, proved York's undoing in the blue and white's first conference game Jan. 9 at Hastings as he dunked through 18 points at times when the Bronchos needed them in their 53-44 triumph.

Not only did the elongated center carry much of the offensive burden, but he took it upon himself also to protect the goal. His long arm was continually knocking away Panther shots.

Panthers Handicapped

Against this height disadvantage, the Panthers battled futilely. Unable to get their share of rebounds, they trailed the whole game.

Richendifer, elusive Hastings forward, added to York's worries during the evening as he slipped in 12 points before leaving the game on fouls.

Only once were the Panthers even with the Bronchos, and that was in the first minute when Peters scored to make the score 2-2. Behind 8-15 at the quarter, York fell farther back, 18-28, at the half.

York Makes Brief Rally

The third quarter, generally York's best, saw the Panthers come within striking distance of the Bronchos as they cut five points from the Hastings lead, and pulled up at 32-37. Feaster and Saindon headed York's offensive thrusts.

Marvel's three baskets at crucial times in the fourth period put Hastings over with a 9 point edge, 53-44.

Cubs Swamp Ponies

While fast, the game was rough with much fouling.

The Panther-Cubs took their first game since holidays in a preliminary tilt by drubbing the Hastings B squad 46-13. A tight Cub defense held the Bronchos scoreless until 20 seconds before the half when they got a field goal. Yeager, Friesen, and Witt were offensive leaders.

Panthers Succumb To Kearney Attack In Overtime Period

Yorkmen Bow To Wayne Teachers

With a smooth passing attack and a clinging defense, the touring Wayne Teachers invaded York Saturday night, carrying away a well earned 36-30 victory. It was York's third loss this year to an N. I. A. A. team.

In comparison with the Wesleyan game the going was slow and somewhat ragged. Neither team approached the playing peak evident Friday night.

The alert Teachers took the offensive early, building up a working margin which they maintained throughout. They were never seriously in danger, though the Panthers stuck close, and were whittling down Wayne's lead as the game ended.

York's acting captain, Bud Feaster, who burned the nets for 30 points Friday, again was the Panther scoring leader with 10. As Feaster finishes at the semester's end, it was his last home game.

Shooting Is Ragged

No one was hitting with any regularity, and the only thing that kept the game from dragging was the ball-hustling of the quintets. Contact was frequent with both teams playing aggressive basketball.

Wayne's team of ball-handlers passed their way to victory with hardworking Center Gothier providing the scoring punch. The Teachers used 10 men in winning.

Today the Panthers go on the road, meeting Midland, Wayne, and Western Union on successive nights. Until January 30 there are no home games. Doane comes here on that date for a conference engagement.

Red Hot Peru Crew Blankets Panthers For Second Loss To N. I. A. A.

Two N. I. A. A. teams spoiled the York College Panthers' cage opening January 5-6 when Kearney nosed ahead to win in an overtime, 35-37, in York's first game, and Peru's conference champs downed the Panthers 62-34 the following night.

Game till the last whistle, the outsized Panthers dominated floor play against the Kearney team, but fell short of points in the overtime period when the Antelopes bagged two quick baskets to the Panthers' one.

Shaneyfelt Leads

Out ahead at the start as freshman center, George Shaneyfelt flicked the netting three straight times for a four-point lead, the Panthers forced the Antelopes out of their shell. The Teachers speeded up, then, to take an 8-6 first quarter lead.

A new York five entered the game in the second quarter, and with Feaster showing the way, produced a slim 14-13 Panther lead at half time. The whole quarter was one of slow, deliberate basketball.

Both teams uncorked determined offensives after the midway rest period. Only 1-3 points separated them throughout the last half. The Panthers divided their scoring; Journey and Wilson upheld the Kearney end.

Game Goes Overtime

Typical of the entire game was Saindon's arching shot from well out that brought the crowd to their feet as it tied the game 33 all with 2 minutes left. Neither team could find the basket in the remaining time, and the game went into an overtime period.

Cashing in on their earliest scoring chances, Miller and Journey tallied for Kearney early in the period, and the margin was enough to win. Peters connected with an on-the-run one hander for York's dying threat. The Antelopes stalled to hold their 37-35 lead. Feaster, Shaneyfelt, and Peters headed the York scorers, Journey and Wilson starring offensively for Kearney.

Eighteen Men Elected Eligible For Grid Letters

The following football players were elected as being eligible for football letters by the Y Club, Monday evening, January 8th, at the Conservatory reception room: John Haberman, Harold Haberman, Kenneth Willets, Donald Boehr, Warren Neal, Art Throckmorton, Max Quick, Raymond Peterson, Henry Hansen, Norton Hutchinson, Charles Whitney, Ellsworth Carlson, Jerry Dierdorff, Ferdinand Saindon, Paul Norton, Bud Feaster, Floyd Gifford, and Bob Spore.

Saturday night a Peru team that was sizzling hot on their home floor poured basket after basket through to humble the Panthers 62-34.

Absences Weaken York

Off to a headlong start the Bobcats never slowed up, though the blue and white matched the fast pace during the final quarters. York was weakened by the absence of Saindon and H. Haberman, regular starters, who were unable to make the trip.

Greathouse, was the Peru standout. Feaster and Quick led the Panther scorers with help from Shaneyfelt.

The young Antelopes gained an early lead in the York "B"-Kearney "B" preliminary. The York men showed several offensive thrusts, but were unable to overcome this Kearney lead. The final score was York 30, Kearney 46.

Grimes was high point man for York with 7, with Merryman and Friesen running close seconds with 6 each.

New Year Resolutions Broken

New Year's resolutions by now have doubtless undergone the usual "make and break" system, the seemingly inevitable fate of ninety per cent of our bona fide (?) "I do so resolve's" at the beginning of each year. Most of us try to make our resolutions with good intentions and uphold them with weak constitutions.

Nevertheless, if we could make only one resolution, and guard and cherish it with watchful eye, it would soon become a habit until it would not be gone with the first month of the year. Thus instead of a dozen annual promises, which we usually take too lightly, we might firmly hold to one that would be of inestimable value to our personality and character.

To pick the best resolution for each individual's need would indeed be a hopeless task. One thing in which we all often fall short, however, regards the favors that we grant to others. Too often we are short-sighted and selfish until each time we do a kindness or grant a favor of any consequence, we take a mental account or record and expect in the near future a return for our consideration. We accompany our favor with a broad smile and a pleasant "that's quite all right", but we also include in our own minds an obligatory attitude. Being stung by "chisellers" will naturally make us wary, but that need not cramp our attitude toward friends if we are to be real friends to them.

One man offered the first suggestion for this resolution when he said "It is more blessed to give than to receive", and though we rationalize to the extent that we claim this for our pattern, we all too often to practice it.

What a genuinely wholesome feeling one possesses when he gives of his service or material advantages to someone he knows can return it with nothing more than a grateful "thank you"! Let's resolve in this new year to acquire that feeling more and more until it becomes an integrated part of us.

Cheer Leaders . . . Pep

Now that the basketball season is in its full stride and each loyal school "yeller" battles the elements to congregate with others under the girders there to lend his raspy larynx for a few brief, exciting moments, the problem of organized pep and gallery support has become more concentrated than ever. The art of making the right kind of noise at the right time is quite an art, as anyone will testify who has been privileged to listen to or "sit in" on a really organized cheering section of the larger colleges and universities. The fact that such pep is usually found in larger institutions casts a rather "country hick" or "small town" hue on the small school that fails to recognize the thrill endowed on a compact, well organized cheering section; a group that can perform its duties as curtly and with exact precision as a well trained army or band.

We do not have the best supporting auxiliaries nor the best trained cheer leaders in the country, but they are doubtless as good as we deserve, if not better, and we elected them. They practice hours every week to improve their intricate routine of movements and yells. This effort most of the student body appreciates enough to cooperate. They feel that it is only fair to the leaders and to the team. They seem to get a real satisfaction from it.

Not all share that feeling, however.

In those aforementioned larger institutions, those of a contrary nature are often forcibly ousted.

To say the least, wouldn't it be only courteous to refrain in the future from handicapping the cheer leaders and the cooperating "rooters" by any distracting hullabaloo of our own?

The cheer leaders aren't being paid; the supporters receive only the feeling of cooperation, accomplishment, and sportsmanship. Let's support them.

WESLEYAN HUMBLIED IN YORK'S FIRST N. C. A. C. WIN

Scoring was nip and tuck

through the first quarter. Feaster and Wesleyan's Elb Souders staged a scoring duel, during which Feaster bagged five straight field goals to wipe out an early Plainsmen lead.

EDITORIALS . . .

Women is still fickle.

The major menaces to highway safety are drunken driving, uncontrolled thumbing, and indiscriminate spooning or briefly, hic, hike, and hug.

Everyone is of some use, even if it is nothing more than serving as a horrible example.

WEATHER REPORT . . .

Al Zerwekh and Ruth Brandstetter—slightly warmer; Russel Dunlop and Dorothy Riggs (He's got her now)—all outroads blocked; Dorothy Garland and Bob Morgan—Fair with occasional thunderstorms; Felix Eli Saindon—still unsettled; Coach Gallant—slightly warmer in Illinois; Dahlstedt and Crum—in for a seige; Alden Markel and Doris Landon—unpredictable with occasional dark spots around the hor-eyes-on.

MOVIE REVIEW . . .

The latest thing in Western thrillers has been produced by M. C. M. in their late backfire, The Horse and His Cowboy starring the new horse wonder, "Moe-Hair" and his master, "Plugged Nickel" McSmooch. McSmooch gives a bow-legged performance. Moe-Hair gallops for 1 1/2 hours of entertainment and covers 236 square miles of territory including 2 mountains and doesn't even lather. Recommended for second childhood.

LATE SONG HITS . . .

Hoffman, "That's where the West begins".
Doremus, "Now don't you Taylor I've got a feller".

THE LIMELIGHT

By BILL WHITE

What ho! Yea bo! Miss Lois Cobe, that petite, lively, blonde cheerleader makes the headlines this week. She is a full-fledged junior in college and she hails from Dawson, where her father is a United Brethren minister.

Not only is she an ardent sports fan, but she is quite athletic herself. With a big smile and her brown eyes sparkling, Miss Cobe said, "I like to play basketball and tennis, ice skate, go sleighing, and "get in on a good healthy snow ball fight". One can often see her diminutive frame walking about in a pair of big heavy leather boots.

"I detest being tickled, and I just can't relish potatoes or gravy" said Lois, looking out the corner of her eye—they're too mussy and gussy".

This little live-wire has been active on the campus in W. A. A., dramatics, Zetas, student council and Panther Club and has been secretary of her freshman class, business manager of the Histronic Club, a member of the freshman court, and sales manager of this year's Marathon. We have heard, too, that she is very active in dormitory life.

Always in favor of the exciting, Miss Cobe's greatest ambition is to some day jump out of an airplane in a parachute, or operate on someone.

If Lois doesn't become an airline hostess, her second choice for a vocation is in welfare work. She has been following a nursing course in college.

Success to you, Lois, in whatever you undertake!

The dizzy pace went on through the second quarter. Feaster's long goal was a fitting conclusion. Souders began to lose out.

After the rest period Feaster continued to hit, sending eight points through the hopper in the third quarter. Souders got only four.

The fourth quarter clincher baskets were added by Feaster, Quick, and Saindon. Quick stole the ball from a surprised Plainsman for his set-up. Saindon added two neat baskets, and Feaster got three, his last just before the game ended giving him 30 points.

Teams Equal in Height

Playing for the first time against a team of their own height, the Panthers controlled both backboards.

E. Carlson, "O Ware, O Ware, has my little dog-gone?"

SPORTS SECTION . . .

(After the Wesleyan game)
Feaster: "Boy, I've waited four years for this night."
Haberman: "You're crazy, you've been here six years".

NEWS SECTION . . .

It was in chapel. Lois Cobe had just received a gift from her secret chum, and when she came to the box it looked quite personal. Says Cobe, "Boys, please look the other way, please, boys". And then Cobe, the calm—blushed. With a deep breath she peeped in the lid, and there, to her utter horror, was an apron.

P.S. It was a cute apron though.

Hansen: "You know, in Iowa there's a couple who've had two sets of triplets and one set of twins. Boy, they really come in litters."
Riggs: "He must be a professor of literature".

Souders Tallies 19 Points
Souders, though he lost out in his race with Feaster, led the Lincoln team with 19 points.

A clever Wesleyan second team outscored the York seconds 67 to 38 after the Cubs held them 26-23 half way through. Merryman and Friesen paced the reserves.
