Cobe Attends Convention Of W. M. A. In Penn.

Lois Cobe, senior of Dawson, and secretary of the Nebraska Branch Otterbein Guild, was representative to the quadrennial W. M. A. convention held in the Covenant United Brethren Church, Lancaster, Pa., October 24-28. She was accompanied by Mrs. Paul Porter, Aurora, '15, president of the Nebraska Branch of the W. M. A.

"This is the victory . . . even our faith," was the theme of the convention. Over five hundred representatives were present from all parts of the United States where the United Brethren in Christ are at work. The three outstanding speakers, according to Miss Cobe, were Dr. Walter Judd, formerly a Nebraskan, and for many years a medical missionary in China, now a lecturer; Miss Margaret T. Applegarth, author of many missionary books and editor of the Children's Magazine for the Blind; and Bishop G. D. Batdorf of the East area of the United Brethren Church.

"The United States will not keep out of war unless we keep war out of the world," Dr. Judd declared. "For twenty years after the last war the nations of the world had an opportunity to hang together for peace. Now they are being hanged separately," he added.

Special guests included many interchurch workers and United

Willkie Chosen In Student Poll

A poll conducted in the college chapel, October 30 gave Wendell Willkie the 1940 presidential election by a landslide of 150 votes to Roosevelt's 43.

Norman Thomas, socialist candidate, received five votes, and Roger Bason, prohibitionist, four. "Donald Duck" received two votes. Joe Louis, prize fighter, and Earl Browder, communist candidate, each received one ballot.

Approximately half the students enrolled are from Nebraska, the remainder representing fourteen other states, and Puerto Rico.

Courage Is Theme of Life Workers' Program

Declaring that Life Work Recruits should be courageous, Rev. Blaine M. Simon, pastor of the local English Lutheran Church, addressed the members of that organization at their regular meeting on October 23. The theme for the evening's program was "courage".

Bob Jones, senior, Concordia, Kansas, led devotions stressing the fact that without courage faith cannot be utilized.

Special music was a piano selection, "Du bist die Ruh" by Schubert-Liszt, given by La Dena Faye Sloniger, freshman, Bradshaw.

"God has no place in His Kingdom for weak, soft, foolish men and women", the Rev. Mr. Simon stated. "No man is courageous until he is born again of the Holy Spirit and the Holy Spirit gives courage with which he can face and overcome all evil."

Marathon Receives First Class Rating From N. S. P. A.

Yearbook Edited By Dahlstedt Ranks Well

The 1940 Marathon, edited by Wayne Dahlstedt, '40, of York, received First Class Honor Rating from the National Scholastic Press Association, according to word received by Miss Edith Callender, head of the English department and business adviser for last year's Marathon. Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the public speaking department, was literary adviser.

York's yearbook was scored by comparison with yearbooks of colleges of less than five hundred enrollment from all parts of the United States. Last year's enrollment in York College was 235.

"You did almost everything correctly; your book left nothing out," was the judge's notation in the file of the Critical Report of the N. S. P. A. "This 1939-40 Marathon is a good book, well done, and shows that a lot of hard work went into it."

DEBATERS PREPARE FOR TOURNAMENT

Two York College debate teams, one men's team and one women's team, will be entered in the Interstate Debate Tournament at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas, November 29 and 30. The National Pi Kappa Delta question to be used is, "Resolved: that the nations of the Western Hemisphere should enter into a permanent union."

Debate teams from states throughout the middle west are en-

Council Revamps Point System; Will Enforce It

The point system adopted in 1935 has been revised and will be enforced beginning next semester by the Student Council. The purpose of the point system is to limit the number of responsible and honorary positions held by any one student, and to encourage the wider distribution of offices in student organizations. No student may have more than eight points.

A list of points for the various offices follows:

Five points: Student Council president, Panther club president, Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. president, Marathon editor or business manager.

Four points: Class president, president of PALS, Zetas, Y Club, W. A. A., Life Work Recruits, or Press Guild president and editor of the Sandhurr.

Three points: Histrionic club president, Alpha Sigma Phi president, Music "Y" president, Lambda Phi president, Alpha Psi Omega president, vice president of PALS or Zetas, program chairman of Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A., or vice president of Recruits.

Two points: vice president of student council, Panther club, a class, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., or Alpha Psi Omega; secretary of

Reporter Reviews Science Department . . . "Lime-Light"

By Larry Smith

Like a chain and its links, a college may be judged by the departments of which it is made up. The Sandhurr, realizing this, sent your reporter behind the scenes to find out just what made these departments tick. This week we went to the science laboratories and classrooms of Y. C., and we list our findings in a sort of departmental lime-light below.

Laboratories, where the practical side of science is stressed, and where students get first-hand information through actual experience with the materials and problems that they read about, are particularly important. A visit to the laboratories is sufficient to show that they are especially well equipped to handle the work in the courses which are offered. Models for study, and materials for research and exper-

Preaching Mission Starts

DR. DENNIS OF DAYTON CONDUCTS SERVICES IN COLLEGE CHURCH

DR. FRED L. DENNIS

Dr. Fred L. Dennis will be guest speaker at the Preaching Mission to be held in the United Brethren Church, October 30 to November 10. Services will be held each night at eight o'clock.

"The purpose of this mission," says the Rev. G. T. Savery, pastor of the local church, "is to exalt Christ as Lord and Master, to deepen the spiritual life of the believer, and to win men to Christ and His way of life."

In conjunction with the meetings there will be three prayer services conducted each day except Saturday and Sunday. One service will be held in various homes each morning at ten o'clock, another will be sponsored by the Christian Associations of the college and will meet in the college chapel at twelve-thirty each noon, and the third will be conducted in the Christian Endeavor room of the church at seven-thirty each evening. Different leaders will be in charge of these meetings.

Dr. Dennis, a graduate of Bonebrake Seminary, has been prominent in the work of the United Brethren church. He is well known for his work with young people, and is an outstanding expository speaker. He has held many responsible positions, including pastorates at some of our large churches and the superintendency of Miami conference. At the present time, he is pastor of the First U. B. Church at Dayton, Ohio, and a member of the board of administration of the denomination. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the U. B. Publishing House.

Dr. Savery has asked the student body to support these meetings with their presence as many nights as possible. Due consideration will be given those whose duties require them to return to their homes at an early hour.

Recruits Organize Nine Gospel Teams

The York College Life Work Recruits have organized nine Gospel teams that will go out into the nearby churches to conduct services, according to Ruth Brandstetter, junior, Muscatine, Iowa, who is the general chairman of the Gospel teams.

The chairmen of the nine teams are Bertha Riggs, senior, Merville, Iowa; Helen Lumbus, senior, Waterloo, Iowa; Mary Lu Warner, senior, Kalispell, Montana; Catherine Woolever, junior, York; Vera Blinn, sophomore, Kismet, Kansas; Margaret Bollinger, freshman, Robinson, Kansas; Elizabeth Auchard, Luray, Kansas; Lorena Wygle, freshman, Russell, Kansas; and Dortha Overturf, ex. '42, York.

Any church which wants a Gospel team to visit them should correspond with Ruth Brandstetter. An offering will be taken to cover the traveling expenses of the team.

Illness Spoils Twenty-Year Record For Bisset

Prof. Charles Bisset, head of social science department, became ill during the afternoon of Homecoming Day, Friday, Oct. 11, and was confined to his home for ten days. He returned to his teaching duties at York College Tuesday, Oct. 22. This was the first time in 20 years that Dr. Bisset has been absent from his classes due to illness.

HAVE PARTY FOR CRUM

A surprise party was given for Betty Crum, Des Moines, Iowa, in her room at Hulitt hall by a group of dormitory girls in celebration of her birthday, October 25.

The girls participated in group singing, and ice cream was served.

Lundman Chooses Cast For Play, "When Stars Shine"

"When Stars Shine," a three-act comedy by Tacie Hanna Rew, will be the first major production of the year by the Histrionic Club, according to Miss Alma Tress Lundman, dramatic instructor. It will be presented in the high school auditorium, Tuesday, December 10.

College life during football season provides the setting for most of the action of the play, while the philosophy deals with the proper treatment of Kipling's two impostors, Triumph and Disaster.

Y. M. Hears Miller, Joins Y. W. For Joint Meeting

"The aim and end of the Y. M. C. A. is to develop the body, mind, and spirit", according to Rev. G. R. Miller, pastor of the local Church of Christ, who addressed the Y. M. C. A. group Oct. 29, on the subject, "The Purpose of the Y. M. C. A." This organization assembled in a joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A. Oct. 22, while illustrations of two hymns were presented by Floyd Richert, senior of Whitetail, Montana.

"One purpose of the Y. M. C. A. is to furnish recreation for our physical, mental, and spiritual beings", declared the Rev. Mr. Miller. "There can be no well rounded life without the development of these three selves. Otherwise, a person is likely to become egotistical."

Devotions were led by Merle Pulver, sophomore, Mechanicsville, Iowa.

Songs chosen to accompany the chalk illustrations presented by Richert were: "Day is Dying in the West" by William F. Sherwan, sung by the sweetheart trio, composed Carmen Ware, Des Moines, Iowa; Elaine West, Orchard; and Verlene Witham, Agra, Kansas, accompanied by Laurence Smith, Pontiac, Michigan; and "The Ninety and Nine" by Ira D. Sankey, sung by Gertrude Lindstrom, Gresham, accompanied by Bruce Herrick, Topeka, Kansas.

They Tramped These Halls

By PROF. J. C. MORGAN

Mr. Donald Casner, '40, who had been attending the University of Kansas this year, has gone to San Diego, California, where he has entered the Consolidated Aircraft factory, beginning in the school of instruction.

Mrs. Virginia Neville Phillips, ex-'26, who is now living in California, visited her parents in Aurora recently.

Dr. Warren Baller, '23, of the University of Nebraska, will spend the present academic year doing research work at the University of Chicago.

Another wedding of the past summer was that of Miss Mary Alice Tucker, ex-'39, and Mr. Homer King, ex-'37.

Miss Edith White and Miss Mabel Ketterman, graduates of Campbell College, are now living at Wichita, Kansas.

Out-of-town alumni who attended the York-Concordia game, included Walter Speece, '35, Leroy Hoffman, '40, Clarence Miller, '40, Wayne Dahlstedt, '40, Hazel Emma Morgan, '39, Rex Lutz, '38, Margaret Trout, ex-'43, Mary Jean Buttermore, '40, and Walter Ekdahl, '40.

Miss Nelle Bearss, '24, York, was chosen president of the English section of the Lincoln district of the State Teacher's Association at its recent meeting. Miss Lillian Bearss '26, Fairbury, and Miss Florence Jenkins, '26, Lincoln, were chosen president and vice president respectively of the history section. Theodore Peterson, '31, and Miss Ruth Callender, '15, both York high school teachers, were elected president and secretary respectively of the guidance section.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stork. (Mrs. Stork was formerly Miss Marguerite Campbell, ex-'31), visited in York this past summer. They live in Boise City, Idaho. They have three energetic sons. Mr. Stork is a carpenter.

The college is now engaged in a campaign having in view a closer cooperation between the college and its alumni as it continues to do its task as it has done in this past. It solicits a new and larger interest on the part of graduates and former students. A college exerts influence principally in two ways: first, what the college itself contributes to each successive generation of students that tramps its halls, and moves to and fro upon its campus; and secondly, through its alumni who in their respective communities reflect the spirit of the college and exert an influence upon society.

In these days when talk is rife concerning the dangers to democracy, when the shadow of the totalitarian state is cast everywhere, we should like to call attention to the view that the Christian college is one of the few remaining institutions that are preserving the truly democratic way of life. Its continued existence may be one of the best ways of guaranteeing the certainty of American democracy. York College never has a word of criticism for larger colleges and universities. It believes in them most explicitly. But it can not help but believe that the small Christian college is the most basically American of all institutions of learning, and that it best carries on the true American tradition. Whatever is done now to make certain the perpetuity of the small college may be the most effective prevention of the dangers now threatening democracy, and the surest guarantee of our American way of life.

THE PANTHER TRAIL

Here We Come . . .

Tomorrow night will be a big night . . . Not only will there be the Panthers, around 22 strong plus coaches and manager, but also we students and the band will march into the Wesleyan Bowl to see that old traditional battle between the Panthers and the Plainsmen . . . Yes, it's "Migration Night" for Y. C.

Sideline Quarterbacks . . .

According to comparative scores, this game should be a corker . . . Of course, I'm not going to stick my neck out and do any guessing on the final outcome, but I did coax a few fellow students to guess. DuWayne Grimes predicts the biggest win for York among the dopesters. He hands York a 13-6 victory . . . Meredith Henline, freshman, with the aid of Dearrel Miller, guesses York 7, Wesleyan 0 . . . Gladys Mohler, faithful Panther booster, hopes for at least a 7-6 victory for York . . . "Kelly" Sandon, former YC gridster and now coach at Polk, is more conservative in his forecast and gives the Plainsmen the edge by 7 points, but hopes York wins.

In the Line . . .

Today we salute one of those toilers-without-glory in the line, Henry Hansen, a veteran in his fourth year for Y. C. who has been playing a bang-up game at guard. At 180 pounds, the second heaviest on the squad, he has been a mainstay in the vital center of the line. The best game this year for Hank was the Hastings Homecoming contest. In the second quarter of that game he snatched a fumble out of the air deep in Hastings' territory to set up York's best scoring chance.

Combining Conferences . . .

Again, for the third time there is a movement among the Nebraska colleges to consolidate the two leagues, the N. I. A. A. (state schools) and the N. C. A. C. (church schools) . . . Suggested names are the Great Eight or Mid-Continent conference, being composed of five schools from the N. C. A. C. and Wayne, Peru, and Kearney of the rival loop.

DEBATERS PREPARE FOR TOURNAMENT

tered each year in the Interstate Tournament. Dr. J. Thompson Baker, head of the public speaking department of Southwestern College, the original promoter of the tournament, is director of the debate meet again this year.

It is still too early in the season to announce the personnel of the teams, according to Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the public speaking department.

York Breaks Spell With 31 to 12 Victory

Two Games Left As Panthers Hit Home Stretch

Wesleyan, Kearney Are Last Foes

In their last chance at a conference victory this year, the York College Panthers invade the haunts of the Wesleyan Plainsmen tomorrow night. For the first time in any conference engagement this year, the Panthers meet a team of about equal strength.

Wesleyan, too, has followed a losing way this season. In games with two recent York foes she bowed 33-0 to Midland, but gave Doane a long evening before losing 10-7. That game was last Friday night, so perhaps the Plainsmen are on the march.

If the Panthers, whose ranks are full of unseasoned players, hit the stride they clung to during the Concordia game, Wesleyan will have a busy time of it. Panther passing may turn the trick.

It will be the blue and white's last game November 15 when they square off with the Kearney State Antelopes. Kearney, while not nearly so powerful as Peru, packs a lot of punch. The N. I. A. A. aggregation will far outweigh the Panthers, and again they will have to depend on their passing game.

AMADON PRESENTS THREE VOCALISTS IN CHAPEL MUSICALS

Dean Charles Amadon presented three members from the voice department in a musical program at chapel, October 21.

Those on the program were: Gertrude Lindstrom, soprano, who sang "Morning Serenade" by Clara Edwards; Deane Tack, tenor, who gave "It is Enough" by Mendelssohn and Alfred Kamm, bass, who sang the Negro spiritual, "Going to Heaven" by Jock Wolf. The singers were accompanied by Catherine Woolever.

Offense Sputters, York Goes Down 40-0 To Midland

Warriors Avenue Scoreless Tie Played Last Year

Thoughts of a scoreless tie on the York field last year that kept the Warriors from sharing the conference championship must have lingered last Friday night, Nov. 1 as the Midland team piled up a 40-0 victory over the cellar-dwelling Panther eleven. Unable to click offensively, York spent the evening chasing Warrior ball-carriers and punting.

The passing attack which York used effectively in the Concordia fray was lacking, and the heavy Warriors kept the Panthers on the defensive the whole game.

Meanwhile, the Midlanders turned loose half back Bud Parsons, and he stormed through the Panthers, scoring two of the Midland touchdowns, and passing for a third. York never approached scoring.

Still out of the Panther line-up was Burl Graff whose ankle has not yet mended enough for him to play.

Captain Haberman Snatches Four Touchdown Passes

"I broke the spell that held me long," might well have been the favorite quotation of the Panthers as they scored a 31-12 victory over the Concordia Teachers, October 25, on their home field. Though the jubilant Panthers were not in the mood for quoting Bryant, the win did break the spell which had held them without a victory and scoreless thus far this season.

Freshman end, Don Haberman, who scored the first touchdown on a double reverse, and his Cousin "Haddie," who scored the other four on pass completions, were as outstanding, offensively, as a couple of kangaroos at an ant convention.

In true pedagogic style, the Teachers illustrated the procedure by scoring first on a line plunge by Von Fange, after a York off-sides penalty on the fourth down had put them in a scoring position.

However, the Panthers soon gained the idea, and late in the second quarter staged a series of passes, plunges, and a final end-around play which tied the score at six apiece.

The second half saw Dearrel Miller, reserve back, doing some hard driving to return the kick-off to the Concordia 47 yard mark. This was the birth of another migration by the Panthers which ended by Captain Haberman's completion of a pass over goal from Earl Graff. Once again Graff was unable to convert, making the score 12-6.

The same pass play, with slight variations, was good for three more touchdowns in the last quarter with Don Yager, "Spike" Stevens, and Earl Graff doing the slinging, in that order, and with "Haddie" ready, willing, and waiting to add the final touches. Graff kicked the point after the last touchdown to ring up York's total for the evening.

An intercepted pass led the way for another Concordia pointer in the last quarter with Von Fange again carrying the ball across the double stripe, following some noticeable gains by halfbacks Uecker and Leuthauser.

Defensive honors go to Lester Auchard, York tackle, who broke through Concordia's line for several outstanding tackles.

A man's got to have ONE suit that's a knockout!—RUSS WILLIAMS

Brethren missionaries from Africa, China, and the Philippines, and home missionaries from New Mexico and Kentucky. Bishop V. O. Weidler, Kansas City, Mo., of the Southwest area of the United Brethren Church and president of the board of trustees of York College, Dr. U. P. Hovermale, Dayton, O., general secretary of the Home Mission and Church Erection Society of the United Brethren Church, and Dr. S. G. Zeigler, Dayton, O., of the United Brethren Foreign Missionary society were other United Brethren leaders who made outstanding contributions, according to Miss Cobe.

Vaughn Leaming, senior of Woodward, Iowa, addressed the convention. Mr. Leaming was student representative from York College in the Albert Academy, Sierra Leone, from 1938 to 1940.

Miss Cobe was impressed by the great strength of the United Brethren Church in Pennsylvania. There is a United Brethren Church in almost every community, she stated, and in the cities, United Brethren churches are always among the largest. In many cities there are several churches. Miss Cobe compared United Brethren work in Nebraska and the West to "pioneer work."

Miss Cobe visited Washington, D. C., on her return trip. She visited the capitol building, the Lincoln and Washington Monuments, the Congressional Library, the chambers of the senate and house of representatives, the printing and engraving offices of the government, the Pan-American building, the Smithsonian Institute, the partially completed Washington Cathedral, and a Franciscan monastery.

"In the printing and engraving office we saw one hundred dollar bills," Miss Cobe declared.

Miss Cobe was greatly impressed by the Washington Cathedral, now about one-ninth finished, and already a huge building. This will be one of the largest churches in the New World when completed.

REPORTER REVIEWS SCIENCE DEPART. . . . "LIME-LIGHT"

the first is Professor Harold Haugan who holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of North Dakota, and has done graduate work at Lewis Institute, Chicago, Illinois, and at the University of Chicago. Professor W. C. Noll, who teaches the biological sciences, holds an A.B. degree from York College and an A.M. degree from the University of Nebraska. He has also taken special work at the University of Chicago, and at the University of Nebraska.

Proof of the fact that this department trains students efficiently and consistently is the statement that follows. The American Medical Association reports for the seven states of the western section of the middle west show that York College ranks 10th from the top among 77 institutions in the success of freshmen in medical schools for the period of 1930-1938. In this ranking the college was only one-tenth of one per cent below the University of Nebraska.

Following the trail of science department graduates, we found that they have succeeded. Barney Rees, '39, George Chambers, '40, and Homer Meserve, '40, are doing graduate work at state universities and Rees holds a teaching fellowship at the University of Nebraska, while George Chambers holds a similar fellowship at the University of Iowa. Robert Gale, '39, whose research work won a prize in a national contest, is now employed in the laboratories of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, New York. Students of earlier years who have climbed toward the top on the ladder of success are Dr. Lyle Newton, '25 an eminent physician in the United States Navy, Van Foulson, '29, who holds a responsible position with the International Harvester company, and John Davidson, '23, who has left the teaching profession and is doing newspaper work.

Also among those attaining acclaim for their achievements are some of the professors who once taught in this department. Dr. John K. Miller is a well known brain specialist and has served at the University of Nebraska and at a large hospital in Cape Cod, Massachusetts. Dr. Ray Hill as a practicing physician at Osceola, Nebraska, and Professor W. W. Sweezy is a member of the faculty of Defiance College at Defiance, Ohio.

THE LIMELIGHT

By William White

"Yea, Haberman," yelled the enthusiastic crowd as "Haddie's" clutching fingers and smoothly-driving legs rang up another touchdown for York. And he has scored many for the blue and white, while also making a name for himself defensively with his vicious tackling and clean blocking. In his four years as end for the Panthers he has commanded the respect of his foes and the admiration of his teammates as he blazed a trail of good clean football on the local gridiron.

"Goodlooking' and tough," is the vernacular of the locker room in describing "Haddie". Likeable, whimsical, and big hearted are other terms that characterize our limelighter. These make up a thumbnail sketch of a very fine fellow whose name is Harold Haberman.

"Haddie" not only excels in football, but he is also an ace in basketball and track. He is captain of this year's football team, and vice president of the "Y" club.

About the only "pet peeve" he has is being disturbed when asleep. "After I have studied for some time in the library, I like to rest my brain; so I try to take a snooze but the flies always start in teasing and keep me awake. There ought to be a law against it," he declared.

Singing in the bathtub, eating, and having a good time top his list of favorite pastimes. He belongs to the York college shower room quartet which gives daily programs for the rest of the Panthers every evening about 6:00 p. m. However, his adeptness at singing does not measure up to his football prowess. There are no discords in his football tactics.

The interview took a more serious turn after we garnered this information, and we found that "Haddie" plans to be a coach after graduation next June. He is majoring in history.

"Haddie", a born competitor, genuinely likes athletics. Says he, "I like the spirit of competition in athletics. A fellow also learns how to take it, and how to be a good sport, win or lose."

Summing up this little personality sketch, we probably can say that "Haddie" follows that bit of philosophy that reads, "Live and let live," because that is "Haddie".

You, . . . Make It Three-fold . . .

Church-related colleges base their claims of being ideally set up for the education of today's young people on their three-fold educational program involving body, mind, and spirit. It is their contention, reasonably enough, that schools that cultivate only the body and the mind are leaving out something vital. It is important, they say, that young people grow spiritually while they are growing physically and mentally.

We, who come to York College have considered, carefully, probably, these points. Perhaps the fact that spiritual cultivation and development is stressed here was a factor in influencing our choice of a college.

But we can't just come to York,—or to any other church college,—sit back, twiddle our thumbs, and say, "Well, here I am, my spiritual life is taken care of." Not if we expect to get full value from our college.

Oh, yes, contacts with Christian teachers and friends will help. But it takes more than that. We must make effort, even as we do in cultivating body and mind, if our three-fold education is to be complete.

The college does all that it can to help that three-fold development, placing many opportunities for expansion before us. This week the preaching mission continues. Are you overlooking an opportunity for expansion?

EDITORIALS . . .

The first nine weeks are the hardest.

It always gets cold in winter.

We didn't vote.

WEATHER FORECAST . . .

Ovens, hotter; refrigerators, colder; political campaign,—no predictions, but it looks like a sudden cold wave. (Our weather man is fond of extremes.)

OFF THE RECORD . . .

Prof. Doty, to student who asked what nature of examination would be given on the morrow. "Ill-natured," quoth the undaunted Prof. NEWS SECTION . . . His Face Wasn't White . . .

My! How people do fool you. Now we thought Fred Carlsen was just a model young man until the other night at C. E. Fred notified everyone that he "had once followed temperance a little bit himself," just as though he didn't any more. Of course, Fred explained that he meant indirectly, but,—just the same,—we're pretty shocked.

This Should Prove Something . . .

We've always said that no sane man would live in the "con", and now we're sure. Just listen to this that Penelope overheard there:

Virginia Henkel—I guess I'll wash my head.

Lenore Stephenson—Want me to fix it for you after you finish?

Virginia—Oh, would you please?

Lenore—Yes, I've known that it needed fixing for some time.

And Stephenson is no brain specialist either.

Freshmen Will Do It . . .

Beats all how some people can get lost. Other day in Life of Christ class young Iowan Hurley was trying to describe Palestine to Prof. Morgan . . .

"Yes, . . . now, that's in the east . . . is it not?" asked the Prof.

"No, . . . I thought it was in the north," declared Hurley.

"Well, . . . then what is in the east?"

"I guess I'm lost," sighed student Hurley.

Well, we prescribed a compass for that ailment, but Saturday we found Hurley fiddling around on a ladder on the north side of the "con." Yep, lost again, we thought. But when we accosted him, he said distantly that he was putting on storm windows . . . Poor fellow, we don't know what to do.

Apologetic Note . . .

Our sheet isn't quite the same this week, 'cause Leviticus hasn't been to his office. He's been getting free literature about spies and sabotage and such things. Now he's all wrought up and hunting for fifth columnists in Y. C. All he has found so far is a cat, a stuffed moose, and Scott Heatherington.
