

By Larry Smith

Not in recent years has a college class picnicked in Marathon Park, perhaps because they did not know of its existence or location.

In 1903 elm trees were planted north of the administration building as a windbreak in rows four feet apart and with the trees three feet apart in each row. Every other row was cut out in 1911, and alternate trees in each row were removed in 1914 because of the thickness of the growth. The class of '18 cleaned away underbrush and placed benches and shrubbery among the trees.

In the spring of 1917 an important meeting took place in this park. The junior class, combining business with a picnic, decided to print the first York college year book and to call it the Marathon.

In honor of the occasion, the park was given the same name. Since that date, the Marathon has advanced with the college, but Marathon Park has fallen victim to the drought.

W. A. A. Takes In Thirteen Members At Initiation

Thirteen prospective members were initiated Thursday, Oct. 23 at the college gym by the Women's Athletic Association.

The following students took the water and flour vows: Reta Bellows, Lushton; Willa May Cobe, Dawson; Wilma Easterling, Enid, Oklahoma; Doris Foster, York; Phyllis Foster, York; Josephine Hickey, Bradshaw; Iris Johnson, Benedict; Ruth King, Salina, Kansas; LaDena Faye Sloniger, Cambridge, Iowa; Jacqueline Stratton, Aurora; Vivian Walter, Waco; Carol Willer, Merville, Iowa; Antonia Sepulveda, Mayagnez, Porto Rico.

After the initiates had stood on their heads while drinking a kitchen mixture, with soap predominating, and had a good double round of spats, the old members changed their tactics by giving them a picnic supper. After the supper, most of the W. A. A. women remained for an hour of roller skating.

Marathon Staff Starts Push to Meet January 1 Deadline for Engraving

Staff meetings and picture-taking continue on the Y. C. campus as the Marathon staff starts its push to meet a January 1 deadline for as much engraving material as possible.

Latest movement has been to approach various organizations on the campus to determine what style of cuts and write-ups they want in this year's book.

One more innovation has been announced by Editor Frances Bullock. A poll of last year's seniors is being conducted to see if they will cooperate in financing a section for them which would picture them as they are now. Earliest returns, the first two, showed one in favor, one opposed. Almost 100% cooperation is necessary if the section is to go through, says the editor.

Meanwhile, Marie Pettit, business manager, stated that most first payments were in by the November 3 deadline. The sales staff has started intensive can-

Representative Students Say "Give Us a Pep Club"

For sometime there has been a felt need for an organization on the Y. C. campus which would help the cheerleaders in keeping up the pep of the school, and form a nucleus for the cheering section at games.

This organization as found in most colleges is usually composed of women selected because of their enthusiasm, school spirit, and interest in sports.

Some of their duties would be to encourage all students to attend games, help the cheerleaders to lead yells, and generally to keep pep high. They would sit in a body at games.

To add to the color of the organization as well as to the college in general, they might wear blue and white outfits or uniforms. Such an organization on our campus might be called the "Pantherettes."

Our student poll this issue gathers various opinions of this idea as given by several men and women.

ESTHER JOHNSON, JUNIOR, MERRA, states, "I think that it is a very good idea. I have seen it worked out, and it certainly proved successful. Their interest and enthusiasm influences the rest of the student body to be more unified in their yells."

CLIFF HARTMAN, SOPHOMORE, LECOMPTON, KANSAS, says, "Since there is a lack of enthusiasm at games because our cheerleaders are handicapped by not having the full support of the student body, perhaps such an organization would help."

MAURINE MARVEL, FRESHMAN, GILTNER, remarked, "Such a pep organization would prove valuable when school spirit is at a low ebb, because it would be its duty to bring it up to par, and try to keep it there."

KENNETH WILLITS, SENIOR, SILVER CREEK, observes, "I think the school spirit and enthusiasm on our campus has run down, and we really need something to bring it back. A pep club would surely help."

HELEN HALL, JUNIOR, PARSONS, KANSAS, "A pep club would serve as a nucleus for making the yells at a game more lively and systematic. It would help give the cheerleaders more confidence if they knew that there was someone really helping them yell."

Freshmen Pay for Losing Annual Contests by Giving Students Party

The freshmen fulfilled their obligation to the upper classmen Monday evening, Nov. 3, when they acted as hosts for the all-college party scheduled to be given by the losers in the Homecoming Day contests.

Dorothy Bradwell, York, freshman class president, welcomed the guests and acted as chairman during the following program:

Vocal solo and accompaniment, "Lucky Jim", by Dean Charles Amadon; reading, "Washing Dishes", by Rita Bellows, Lushton; short dramatic skit, "The Lamp Went Out". The characters were, Hero, Glen Stauffer of Phillips; Villain, Joe Hickey of Bradshaw; Heroine, Maurine Marvel of Giltner; Mother, Eleanor Pflug of York; Reader, James Smith of McCool.

Reading, "Brotherly Love", by Manson Crippen, Garwin, Ia.; vocal solo, "Voice from the Deep", by Leroy Bott, Alexander, Kans., accompanied by Josephine Hickey, Bradshaw.

Candy bars were served following the program.

Army Service Calls Many Former Students

The army has called many of York College alumni and former students. They can be found from coast to coast in army camps and training fields.

The alumni who are in the service are: Laurence Coffey, class of '20, at 4809 V Fort Warren, Wyoming; Capt. Don Hale, '25, McChord Field, Tacoma, Washington; Dr. Lyle Newton, '25, U. S. Naval Training Station, Norfolk, Virginia; Robert Moline, '34, Service Co., 134th Regiment, 35th Division, Camp Robinson, Little Rock, Arkansas; Vernie Buttermore, '35, Chaplain 9th Field Artillery, Fort Lewis, Washington; Milton Maurer, '35, Service Co., 134th Regiment, 35th Division, Camp Robinson, Little Rock, Arkansas; Sergeant William Currutt, '38, Officers Candidate Company No. 1, Engineer School Provision Battalion, Fort Belvoir, Virginia; 2nd Lieutenant Ralph Jordan, M. ### Selected By Committee As Outstanding Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, sponsored by the University of Alabama, which listed six York College students last year, will honor eight in the 1941-42 edition.

Five women and three men, all seniors, have been chosen to represent York College in the eighth edition. They are: Arline Beason, Circle, Montana, active in Women's Athletic Association; Ruth Brandstetter, Espanola, New Mexico, President of Y. W. C. A.; Frances Bullock, York, Editor of the Marathon; Warren Neal, Brookfield, Missouri, who has been student assistant coach; Marie Pettit, Niles, Kansas, Business Manager of the Marathon; William C. White, Des Moines, Iowa, active in dramatics; Catherine Woolever, York, accompanist and otherwise active in the music department; and Al Zerwekh, West Des Moines, Iowa, laboratory assistant in the chemistry department.

The motivating idea behind the project is that it will serve as an outstanding honor to students, an honor which is void of all politics, fees and dues, one in which a de-

Turkey, Vacation Come to Y. C. In Two Weeks

Thanksgiving comes to the Y. C. campus just two weeks from today, but most of the student body will not be here to welcome it, as they will scatter over Nebraska and neighboring states to spend the holiday.

Nebraska this year recognizes the traditional date of the last Thursday in the month which is November 27. Vacation for Y. C. students will begin the day before at 1 o'clock, and the end comes at 7:30 the following Monday morning.

For those who can't go home, Dean and Mrs. W. E. Bachman announce that once again they will entertain with turkey and all the fixings at the dining hall. Reception room and games will be available throughout the day for the students.

Members Stress Y. M. Membership

Membership received stress at Y. M. C. A. meeting Tuesday, Nov. 4, as four members spoke in relation to the Y. M. C. A. and its work here, and a poll of those who wished to be active or associate members was taken.

First speaker introduced by president Stine Douglas, junior, Beach, N. D., was Ralph Hines, junior of Yuma, Colorado, who pointed out briefly the chief purposes of the Y. M. C. A.

Then Douglas presented DuWayne Grimes, junior, Harlan, Kansas, who gave a short talk on "Y. M. C. A. and the Body."

He was followed by Russell Dunlop, senior, York, who spoke on "Y. M. C. A. and the Mind."

Robert Tupper, freshman, Louisiana, discussed "Y. M. C. A. and the Spirit." The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Dean W. E. Bachman.

Cold Weather Brings Concern to Pilots

Approaching cold weather is the chief concern of Y. C. pilots as they are trying to get flying hours under their safety belts. Having become acquainted with the handling of the plane, the students are concentrating on more advanced maneuvers preparatory to solo flight.

Fledgling wings have been sprouted by Tom Zike, sophomore of Moravia, Iowa, Joe Paschang, York, Everett Thornton, sophomore of Billings, Montana, and Larry Smith, sophomore of Pontiac, Michigan, who have made solo flights.

Class time has been levoted to further study of Meteorology and Civil Air Regulations, and to solving problems in air navigation.

Y-Club Meets, Eats in Dining Hall Nov. 3

The regular monthly meeting of the York College Y-Club took place the first Monday of November, the third, at a supper in the college dining hall. A business meeting took place afterwards.

Last Friday another meeting took place in front of the administration building as accumulated rounds of spats were dealt out. At a meeting earlier in the year Don Haberman, sophomore of York, was elected sergeant-at-arms to fill Floyd Gifford's place, and he has charge of the paddle.

Chorus Sings Armistice Day

The chorus participated in the Armistice program at the Presbyterian church by singing "Pledge to the Flag" by Malotte and "Union and Liberty" by Parker.

Here's Proof That York Is Truly Cosmopolitan

"York College is a cosmopolitan institution." This was Pres. Weidler's favorite expression when he introduced the chorus by states, during the tour last spring. There are fifteen states and Puerto Rico represented in the student body this year. The advanced composition class has seven of these states represented among the thirteen students in the class. Further check revealed that twenty-six different elementary and high schools and three colleges furnished the educational background for this one class.

Harold Jensen topped the list when he reported having studied in nine primary and secondary schools. Pauline Koon has taken work in two colleges besides York College but only one public school system. Russell Dunlop has attended three grade schools and one high school. Enola Lassell acquired knowledge from three different school systems before entering Y. C. Winnie Noble, Arline Beason, Frances Bullock, and Jean Mattingly graced the benches of two different schools each, before coming to Y. C. Iris Johnson, Irene Johnson, Helen Hammar, Lucille Vannice, and Warren Neal attended one school system for their full twelve year's course.

The west coast, the south, the middlewest and the north are represented in this small class. Six students are from Nebraska, and one from each of the following states: California, Oklahoma, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, and Iowa. Eleven of these students are seniors, and two are juniors. So we can say with President Weidler that "York College is a cosmopolitan school".

HARVEY PETERS, SENIOR, HENDERSON, opined, "Basketball should be a period of rejuvenation of school pep, and with the help of a peppy organization, this can easily be accomplished. Winning teams and peppy organizations go together."

ANTONIA SEPULVEDA, MAYAGNEZ, PORTO RICO, "The girls in belonging to such an organization would feel that they had more part in the games. It would also help to add color to the games to have the girls dressed in the school colors."

It can be seen from the above opinion that the general consensus is that such an organization would prove very beneficial, and all the students felt that a club should be organized and ready for action at the first of the basketball season. How about it?

Through the Editor's Window It's Our Preaching Mission

York's annual preaching mission started this week with another prominent speaker, Dr. Dewey Whitwell, conducting the services. The preaching mission offers a special opportunity for spiritual emphasis for college students which is in keeping with a Christian college tradition of three-fold education,—body, mind, and soul. That is why the preaching mission is maintained, and why it should be of special value to us.

The college has done everything possible to clear the track for these two weeks of religious emphasis. The administration requested that tests be given before the meetings started. All college activities have either given way for the two weeks, or have been harmonized into the program. Chapel periods in the main have been given to Dr. Whitwell.

It is worthy of notice too, that the college church has extended no little effort in contracting for these meetings. Special consideration is taken to assure a speaker who has had experience with young people. Meetings are planned to interest college students.

So it is that two institutions, the college and the college church are doing everything they can to make this preaching mission of particular benefit to us. The least we can do is to help out by attending and giving hearty support to the meetings the whole two weeks. We should be willing to help in any way. After all, this should be OUR preaching mission for OUR good.

To see the Twin Cities, you must go to Minnesota; to see Twin Falls, you must go to Idaho; but to see twin people all you have to do is to look about the campus. York college has three sets of the genuine article.

Are they alike? Well, yes and no. In each case they have some characteristics which make them seem to be very similar, but they also are different about some things.

From Shelby come the Graffs, Earl and Burl. Besides having their names sounding alike, these fellows look so much alike at first glance that many people have a difficult time keeping them straight. On the campus we see them shine in football, but what they like best is baseball. They also like swing music and movies. Burl does not like carrots, and neither of them has any respect for hominy.

Now we may think for a moment about Iris and Irene Johnson. These Benedict girls both like dramatics, share the same opinions, and like the same foods and the same people. Their main difference lies in the fact that Iris likes sports and Irene likes liter-

Sports chatter from here & there:

We don't know what brought it on, but Coach Tonkin really pulled an absent minded trick not long ago in practice.

The coach, searching for a football that was missing, was frantically calling for it, when someone suggested that it was under his arm.

Sheepishly, Tonk said, "Why didn't someone say it was there?"

Out of around thirty men who turned out for football squads this year, there were only four seniors. In the main, the first two teams would average between freshmen and sophomore. A year of experience can make a world of difference in these boys. Watch 'em next year.

The gymnasium this year is going to be in good shape for the basketball season. It has been sanded, all skating marks removed, and special gym floor finish applied. Lines are being painted for basketball, badminton, shuffleboard, and other games.

Panther fans weren't sorry it was the last game of the season last Friday night, as chill November winds swept the field, making spectators huddle under coats and blankets.

The cold didn't help playing any either, as York can witness. Had it not been for cold-stiff fingers, Cleo Campbell might have hung the Graff pass that came to him near the 5. Burl threw the pass from about midfield.

Midland Offensive Power Sinks
Panthers on Home Field 39-7

Midland's potent offensive scored twice in the opening five minutes, Saturday, Nov. 1, and after that it was just a question of how high the score would be, and if York could get its usual one touchdown.

Game's end found both questions answered as Midland added four more touchdowns to bring their total to 39; the Panthers got their touchdown with about five minutes left when Don Haberman gathered in Burl Graff's short pass over the center. Graff kicked the point, and final score was 39-7.

The Warrior regulars played hardly half the time, but gave the Panthers a good idea why they were unbeaten this season.

York Throws Passes

York threw plenty of passes. They passed in the first quarter, the second quarter, the third quarter, the fourth quarter. Midland was set for them. They did plenty of intercepting. They intercepted in Midland territory, and they intercepted in York territory. After that they drove for touchdowns.

Exemplary of the freakish intercepting that went on is Midland's fourth touchdown. York's little Burl Graff was back to pass. Second-string Warriors swarmed all over him, but he got the ball away, careening end over end. Hansen, Warrior linesman, reached, and tipped it with his fingers. Virgil Knackstedt, tackle, raced under the ball as it was tipped, and he went on for a touchdown.

Panthers Get Touchdown

It was York passes, however, that gave them their touchdown. B. Graff found Haberman, open, passed, and the fleet end went to Midland's 15. The same duo put the ball on the 5, and a moment later Burl's touchdown pass to Haberman came.

If it was the Panther's passes that disappointed, it was Midland's fumbles. In the fourth quarter the blue and white recovered a Warrior fumble about the Midland 20, couldn't advance, and on fourth down Haberman muffed a Graff pass behind the goal line.

The field may have had something to do with the Lutherans' fumbling. Though scraped clean of the snow that had caused postponement of the game the night before, it was somewhat mucky, and the grass was wet.

Midland Backfield Shines

Hill, Little, and Petrow are as good backfield men as you'll ever see in this conference, and they have able linemen in front of them.

Injured in the game was southpaw Earl Graff in the fourth quarter, and the injury kept him out of the Wesleyan game Friday night.

Haberman Leads Panther Scoring

Don (Hans) Haberman, speedy sophomore end for York's Panthers, led their scoring this year with 18 points, all coming on passes. In fact, the blue and white scored but one touchdown via a line buck, that by Cleo Campbell at Doane.

In eight games the Panthers scored 52 points, going scoreless only against unbeaten Kearney's night.

ary activities. Then, too, Irene is overcome with a longing to collect all kinds of things.

Joseph and Josephine Hickey claim Bradshaw as their home. Here is one instance when it is not at all difficult to decide which twin is which. Both are interested in sports. Josephine likes all kinds of music (Joe likes only jazz), and while Joe dislikes radio serials, Josephine thinks they are all right. What Joe can't understand is why Josephine likes string beans.

The twins are all from Nebraska. The Graffs are sophomores, the Johnsons are seniors, and the Hickeys are freshmen.

Graff's 90-Yard
Run Sets Up
York Score

Steals Ball Before Making Long Dash

They were trying to win it for Captain "Willie," but old Lady Luck stepped in and said "no" to a weary gang of Panthers Friday night. The score-card showed Wesleyan 7, York 6, after as dramatic a game as East Hill park crowds have ever braved November winds to see.

But the score-card didn't show it all. It didn't show the strong-hearted stands the blue and white made, all through the game, within their 10 yard line. It didn't show mighty little Burl Graff's steal of the ball from a touchdown bound Wesleyan runner, nor his tingling 90-yard run that followed. It didn't show the inspired tackling that set Wesleyan back in the clutch. No, it just showed a heartbreaking 7-6.

Heartbreaker for York

And a heartbreaker it was. After cutting off Wesleyan ground attacks, the Panthers had to see a touchdown pass from Bowmaster to Miller go for 7 yards to put York in a third-quarter hole. Then a Wesleyan substitute, Kaderli, came in to boot the perfect extra-point that meant victory.

Fourth quarter came, and York had the wind again. But, Wesleyan who had just scored their second touchdown of the year and were leading 7-0, drove again. Ripping plunges and reverses carried them to the York 5.

Graff Steals Ball

On second down Druliner went charging through for what looked like a certain score, when Burl Graff suddenly grabbed the extended ball and streaked off down the sideline. Wesleyan's Miller gave chase, and finally dived at Graff's pumping legs on the Wesleyan 5 where Graff went down, 90 yards from where he started.

Burl still wasn't through. He tried the line for no gain. Then he faded, arched to Haberman a short pass which the end clutched and brought down, 6-7.

A tense moment followed, as Burl made ready to kick with Hartman holding. The kick was

So it was that Wesleyan won. There are a hundred "ifs" that come up which might have swung the game to York: If injured twin Earl Graff had been in suit, even to hold the ball for extra-point trial; if Cleo Campbell had gathered in a long pass that bounced off his fingers on the Wesleyan 10 in the fourth quarter; if York had used more wrong-way center plays with the center on the end. One such play gained 10 yards for the Panthers.

All are "ifs". As it was, the game was hard-fought, and evenly-matched. Wesleyan had the better breaks necessary for any 7-6 victory.

Zetas Have Open House; PALS Music at Meets

Members Speak For Zetas

The Zeta "Open House" meeting for the freshman and non-member students was held November 4 in Zeta Hall.

The "typical freshman boy" was humorously described by Harvey Peters. He is typically "around six feet tall, with sandy hair and a light sprinkling of freckles. He hails from a small town in the middle of Kansas. He is the son of a minister."

"Dream Phantasy" a reading written by Miss Charlotte Miller head of the Speech Department, was given by Mrs. Von Wicklen. The reading was read from behind a curtain with only her hands visible. The "Phantasy" was interpreted by expressive movements of the reader's hands.

Iris Johnson explained "the typical freshman girl" in an extemporaneous talk.

Catherine Woolever and Doris Landon led in group singing.

whole team, three players stood out. Lester Auchard and Clifford Hartman whose tackles were many and hard, and hard-working Burl Graff who almost turned the tide for York.

Hartman, playing as a line backer, broke through for several tackles behind the line. Auchard at guard smeared reverses.

Four Seniors End Careers

Four seniors donned the blue and white for the last time. Captain Willits and end Harve Peters, both injured for almost a month, played just at the start of the game, and then were removed. Don Porter at tackle turned in a good performance. Russell Dunlop is the other senior, a guard.

Savery Speaks In Chapel

Dr. A. T. Savery, college pastor, spoke on "The Lesser Good" in chapel Monday, Nov. 3. Dr. Savery stated that some men's characters are reduced to the consistency of a jelly fish because they follow the "Lesser Good".
"A man must be a man and a little more, if that be possible, to meet the standard of what a Christian should be", Dr. Savery said. When a man turns to the "Lesser Good", he declared, he falls far short of meeting the rule which God has laid down for men.
