Bomhoff Panther Sweetheart, Porter Rep. Man, Banquet Reveals

Football Lettermen Choose Auchard, Taylor As Panther Co-Captains To Lead Next Year's Eleven

When York Panthers take the field next fall to wage their football campaign of '42, co-captains Lester Auchard, junior, Woodston, Kansas, and Floyd Taylor, junior, Polk, will lead them, the retiring captain, Kenneth Willits, Silver Creek, revealed at the annual banquet for the football squad last night. Lettermen of the squad elected Auchard and Taylor to the captaincies in a special election held some time ago.

Plan '42 Strategy . . .

Taylor, a 10-second man in track, has also lettered two years. The Polk speedster impressed this year with his speed, drive, and team spirit.

Both men made short talks at the banquet after being introduced by Willits.

It is the first year for some time that co-captains have been elected.

Willits 2nd, Auchard 3rd N. C. A. C. Teams

According to a story released Monday by Paul O. Ridings, Midland College N. C. A. C. statistician, Panther Captain Kenneth Willits was selected by N. C. A. C. coaches for the center position on the second all-conference team. Les Auchard, co-captain elect, was placed at guard on the third all-star team.

Line and back-field are both represented in the captains. Auchard has played nearly all the positions in the line during his three-year tenure here, and he has lettered the past two seasons. Guard is his favorite post.

Taylor, a 10-

second man in track, has also lettered two years. The Polk speedster impressed this year with his speed, drive, and team spirit.

Know Your Campus

By Larry Smith

There is a reason for everything, we are told, but did you know there is a reason why the Cedar trees along the south driveway are unevenly spaced and greater number on the one side of the drive?

The original plans for the campus assumed that the main entrance to the administration building was on the south. When the campus was landscaped, two rows of trees were planted leading from the "Ad" building to East 8th Street.

About the fall of 1905 the grass was extremely thick on the campus and some of the students thought it would be a good idea to burn off the dead grass. The fire not only consumed the grass but also killed a number of the young trees.

There was no driveway until 1917. At that time a school holiday was declared and the students made the driveway which is in use now. The men cut sod and carried it to East Hill park; the women provided a lunch. In recent years the drive has been graveled and the posts which border it have been added.

Alpha Psi Omega Selects Officers For Vacancies

At a special meeting of Alpha Psi Omega held on November 12, Eloise Tabor, sophomore of Glendive, Montana, was elected president of the Eta Kappa Cast to fill the vacancy left by Max Oswald who did not return to college this year.

Other vacancies filled were: vice president, Warren Neal, senior, Brookfield, Missouri; and director, Miss Anna J. Thompson, York College registrar. These officers succeed Vera Blinn and Miss Alma Tress Lundman, respectively.

The names of three neophytes were accepted, and plans were discussed for the first semester banquet which will be held in the McCloud hotel in January.

Dean Amadon Directs "Messiah" Again for Ninth Straight Time

Announces Personnel of Soloists to Appear

For the ninth straight year, Dean Charles Amadon of the Y. C. Conservatory of Music will direct Handel's "Messiah" December 14 in the college church.

First in 1933 Dean used his college chorus as a nucleus for a community group to sing the famed "Messiah" at Christmas time. Since then it has been an annual occurrence.

Just now Dean is working intensively with this year's chorus. Last Sunday afternoon the first practice in the church took place, and one more will be scheduled in December, the dean says.

According to Dean Amadon, the following students will have solo parts in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" which will be given on December 14: Catherine Woolever, soprano, senior from York; Jean Mattingly, soprano, senior from Cedar Falls, Ia.

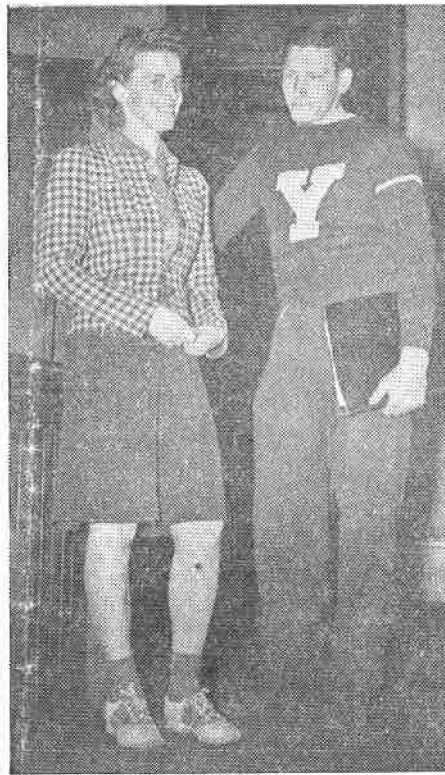

Esther Johnson, alto, junior from Merna; Martha Tucker, alto, sophomore from Great Bend, Kans.; and James Koontz, baritone, senior from Des Moines. The following former students will have solo parts also: Bertha Riggs '41, soprano; Lodema Frieden '41, soprano; Alden Marvel '39, tenor.

Whitwell Closes Meeting Sunday

Dr. Dewey Whitwell, Nashville, Tennessee, Superintendent of the Tennessee Conference, was the speaker at the annual Preaching Mission which closed last Sunday after two weeks of services in the local United Brethren church.

During the last week, Monday was Women and Girls' night; Tuesday, All Church Organizations' night; Wednesday, High School, Sunday School, and College night; Thursday, Men and Boys' night; and Friday, Visitors', and P. K.'s and P. M.'s night (Preacher's Kids and Pre-ministerial students). On Tuesday night, Zetas and PALS were special guests.

Students Honor Grid Squad

Edwina Bomhoff, junior, Wichita Kansas, and Don Porter, senior, Aurora, received special recognition last night, along with the new football captains, Miss Bomhoff as Panther Sweetheart, and Porter as Representative Football Man of 1941. Their identities, kept secret since their selection by the squad some time ago were revealed during the "All-American" football banquet last night.

The banquet itself was sponsored by the Panther Club, but the faculty joined hands with that organization after the "second quarter" to furnish more entertainment.

Divided into "Four Quarters" Last night's activities were arranged in "four quarters." First was the banquet itself, served in the Presbyterian Church basement.

Theme for the banquet was "Bowls", and there were bowls

Council Plays Important Part In Student Government, Activities

York College student council activities so far this year have consisted mainly in organizing, planning Homecoming Day, laying plans for constitution revision, and sending a delegate to the student council convention in Lincoln, President Fred Novak, senior, York, says.

Officers elected earlier in the year besides Novak consist of Esther Johnson, Merna, vice-president; Iris Johnson, Benedict, secretary, and David Weidler, York, treasurer.

Biggest work so far this year for the student organization was sponsoring Homecoming Day. The council had charge of planning the luncheon held at the church, and supervised frosh-upper class contests.

Marie Pettit, senior, Niles, Kansas, was the delegate whom the council sent to Lincoln in October. Representatives from most colleges in Nebraska were there.

Y. C. Has Seven Student Pastors From Ranks

Seven York college students have charge of pastorates throughout York county and surrounding counties.

Stine Douglas, junior of Beach, North Dakota, is pastor of the Wayland Congregational church, a country church five miles northwest of Gresham.

Russell Dunlop, senior of York, has charge of two United Brethren country churches, Shiloh church, located seven miles northwest of York, and Harmony, twelve miles northwest of York.

Fred Gaston, special student from Phillips, is the minister of the Methodist church at Phillips.

Ralph Hines, junior of Yuma, Colorado, is pastor of Prairie Gem, a United Brethren country church southwest of Aurora.

Lyle Roe, senior of Shelby, is

Student Council Elects Bullock "Miss Merry Xmas"

To help local merchants and Santa Claus usher in the Christmas shopping season Frances Bullock, senior, York, was chosen by vote of the student council Friday to represent Miss Merry Christmas in a Christmas parade today.

Miss Bullock will join with a high school selection to be one of the queens of the parade. The election was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Whether at Home or Here Turkey Day's Tomorrow

Y. C. students are holiday-minded today as many of them prepare to leave for home and Thanksgiving holidays. The vacation begins at 1:00 today, officially, but many students, with all classes over earlier, will leave sooner, to return by next Monday morning at 7:30.

According to Dean of Women Mrs. Lucille Bachman, who has been making a survey to see how many will be here to celebrate the holidays with turkey at the "con", more students are going home this year than is generally the case.

However, the Bachmans are planning a big day for Thursday with plenty of turkey both noon and night, and games available for students all through the day.

When students return to college Monday, they will face a stretch of only about 18 days before Christmas holidays start December 19. This vacation extends until Monday, January 5.

In case the vacation urge gets too strong a pull on you, remember that class cuts just before and just after holidays are counted as double-cuts.

They Tramped These Halls

Maurice Herrick, '40, and Verne Herrick, ex-'42, are now located at Belton, Missouri. Maurice is employed as an analytical chemist of the Kansas City Testing Laboratories of Kansas City, Missouri, and Verhe as mechanic and cutter for the Grace Garment company.

Mr. Gilbert Carver who attended the college 1915-16 is now living at Kearney. He was a member of the cast of "Twelfth Night" given by the college that year. He reports that Mr. Ira Scarborough, ex-'21, who had a part in the same play, is located at Elm Creek.

Glenn McPherson, '38, was married recently to Miss Audrey Dutton of Colorado Springs, Colorado. They are now living at Dayton Ohio, where Glenn is attending Bonebrake Seminary. He is serving as pastor of a church in Dayton.

Milan Lambert, '32, and Robert Campbell, ex-'36, are now broadcasting from station KARM, Fresno, California, where Lambert is on the staff, and Campbell broadcasts quarter hour piano recitals twice a week. ### Library Adds New Books On Education to Stacks

The college library has purchased several new books, including some high school textbooks, which will be used as references for the Senior High School Technique class and the course on curriculum next semester. These books are:

"High School Chemistry" by George Howard Bruce.

"Modern School Algebra—first course" by Raleigh Schorling, John R. Clark and Rolland R. Smith.

"Modern School Geometry" by John R. Clark, Rolland R. Smith, and Raleigh Schorling.

"The History of the United States" by William B. Guitteau.

"Biology and Human Affairs"

Whitwell Brings Series of Talks To Students

The Rev. Dewey Whitwell, D. D., Nashville, Tenn., who has been holding a Preaching Mission at the college church has talked on the following subjects before the chapel audience at various times during the past two weeks: "Bases of Life", "Golden Rules for Success", and "Maximum Living for the Lord".

The first base of life, according to Dr. Whitwell, is found in Matt. 6:33, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God". The second base found in I Timothy 4:14 is "Neglect not the gift that is in thee". "Make your calling and election sure", Dr. Whitwell stated, is the third base of life found in II Peter 1:10. Home plate is the Cross, and "God is the great Umpire".

Ten "Golden Rules" set up by Dr. Whitwell were: 1. Get up when you wake up and wake up when you get up. 2. Smile before you leave your room. 3. Have some form of devotion before you leave the room. 4. Say something nice to the first person you meet. 5. Say something nice about the breakfast. 6. Get plenty of physical exercise. 7. Be a real Christian. 8. Be a consistent churchman. 9. Form certain holy habits. 10. Do at least one Christian deed every day.

"People try to get along on the minimum of faith, prayer, Bible study, giving, and soul-winning", Dr. Whitwell stated, "when in other phases of life they want the maximum". "We are interested in the things in which we have invested", Dr. Whitwell continued, "consequently we are more interested in the church when we have given materially to its upkeep."

MELVIN BOEHR, SOPHOMORE, HENDERSON, who played guard for Y. C. says, "It would be to York's advantage, if, for the next few seasons we would schedule smaller schools to round out with our conference games."

It remains to be seen what the athletic department schedules for the football season of 1942. We feel confident that it will be what is best for the team.

Speech Class Members Perform For Programs

Work on Christmas Readings at Present

Members of the class in Dramatic and Literary Interpretation are now working on Christmas readings. Several of the members have been invited to read for various organizations.

Eloise Tabor, sophomore from Glendive, Mont., gave the reading, "The Beggar and the King", by Winthrop Parkhurst at the home of Mrs. Earle Williams, 926 York avenue, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 20, for the Baptist-Congregational Guild.

galore, Rose, Cotton, Sunflower, and Sugar to mention a few of the ten. Students sat in their preferred bowl for the banquet, having bought reserved tickets to that bowl.

"Second quarter" came when toastmaster DuWayne Grimes, junior, Harlan, Kansas, blew a shrill blast on his whistle to start the program moving.

First, Grimes welcomed the honored guests, and the response was given by Harvey Peters, senior, Henderson. Russell Dunlop, senior, then gave a toast, "Let's Give a Cheer for Coach."

Following the toast by Dunlop a group of students with Bruce Herrick, sophomore, Dayton, Ohio, as director-pianist offered two musical selections, "B-I, Bi" and "You've Got What It Takes".

"Man of the Hour," Dr. D. D. King, prominent York physician, and president of the Nebraska Medical Association, was the speaker of the evening.

He was followed by the musical "Epahopscochky" family who played a novelty number.

Next came "Roving Center of '41," retiring captain Kenneth Willits, who took charge of the next step in the program by presenting next year's co-captains, Lester Auchard and Floyd Taylor. After the new captains had their say, Willits introduced Representative Football Man Don Porter, who gave a short talk, before, in turn, introducing the squad's Panther Sweetheart, Edwina Bomhoff.

The college song closed the second "quarter" and during the "half" students received instructions to move to the college auditorium for "third quarter" happenings.

Here the faculty's part of the night's entertainment began with a comedy, followed by a regular length feature picture, "Girl of the Limberlost," and then a football short.

Adjournment to the "con" meant "fourth quarter" and refreshments, as the football night came to a close.

The programs for the banquet were very complete, listing all the happenings of the evening, a history of the football banquet, and the entire squad which was honored last night.

The banquet menu was prepared by the Presbyterian Church women and served at 6:15.

Panthers Face Long Row This Year

Shaneyfelt, Yager Fail to Return to Squad

With a tough schedule ahead Coach Tonkin has been sending a squad of basketball prospects through stiff drills since Nov. 17.

After losing but one player, Harold Haberman, by graduation and with seven lettermen presumably available for next year, the Panther outlook was rosy last spring. The summer changed all that.

When Tonkin called practice last Monday, gone was big George Shaneyfelt, leading N. C. A. C. scorer, and all state as a sophomore last year. Gone too from the "dream team" was Don Yager, another sophomore who had much to do with last year's success.

Shaneyfelt, making airplanes instead of baskets this fall is in California, and Yager is not in school.

So Tonkin faces a long road again. Three regulars, Peters and the Kaeding brother act are left, him along with Grimes and Auchard, lettermen of last year.

Senior Harve Peters . . .

Only Senior on the first squad, Harve was honorary captain last year.

Practice Begins As Cagers Get Set for Dec. 5

Five Lettermen Return; Play Concordia First

By Clarence Mabon

York college will begin another season of basketball December 5 when the Panthers meet the Concordia Teachers on the home floor.

Five lettermen have returned this semester and will again play for the Panthers. They are: Jim and Wayne Kaeding, DuWayne Grimes, forwards, and Harvey Peters and Les Auchard, guards.

The gym floor has been recently resurfaced with a special gym covering. Not only will it improve the skate-scarred floor, but according to Coach Tonkin it will increase visibility at least 25%.

The coach reported 33 out the first day of practice, Monday, November 17. Outstanding freshmen, according to Coach Tonkin, are Bill Gallant, c., 2 letters at York; Abe Dick, c., 6 feet 6 inches tall, 3 letters at Henderson; Glenn Stauffer, g., 3 letters at Phillips; Cleo Campbell, g., 2 letters at York; and Bob White, g., 2 letters at McCool. The coach says that several others are showing promise.

The Panthers will be divided into three squads, as in years past, Coach Tonkin says, although C team games will not begin until after Christmas. The C squad will be headed by Assistant Coach Willits.

The Panther schedule, as completed to date, follows. Home games are in boldface:

- Concordia—Dec. 5
- Peru—Dec. 12
- Hebron—Dec. 16
- Sterling, Kan.—Dec. 20
- Hebron—Jan. 8
- Hastings—Jan. 13
- Wesleyan—Jan. 16

PANTHER PATTEN

Sports Chatter from here and there

Monday Dec. 8, Coach Tonkin plans to invite surrounding high school coaches and their basketball squads to Y. C. to watch a picture on basketball fundamentals and strategy. Following the film, Tonkin will take the guests to the gym to watch the Panthers drill.

Don Yager, Surprise basketball and track star, bobbed up in Y. C. halls last week. Yager has been working in Illinois. He will either return to college here next semester or join the air corps.

Shaneyfelt, other Panther star cager missing this year is in Burbank, California, and getting in a few licks of basketball by playing with amateur teams there. He works for Lockheed Aircraft at $140 per a month.

Tallest prospect the Panthers have had in some moons is Abe Dick, Henderson center last year who as a freshman here stands 6' 6". Basket making to Abe is pic,—he just reaches up and knocks the ball through.

"Play Football Teams Our Size," Is Attitude of Y. C. Students

The question arises every year as to whether or not we have had a successful football season. In planning a schedule, it is always hoped that there will be some appreciable successes. The question then comes to mind of defining just what success in a football season is.

Some judge it to be the number of victories, while others judge it by sportsmanship, development of ability in the players, and the social benefits gained by football.

Practically everybody wants to win a certain number of games, at least no one wants scores which are too one-sided. This means that in arranging a football schedule, it is necessary to take into account our own strength, the strength of our competition, and whether the schools we play are comparable to us in size and enrollment. That is one reason we are in the N. C. A. C.

In the following paragraphs, we present student opinion from a number of men, who give what they think should be the guiding principles in drawing up next year's football schedule.

ROY JORDAN, FRESHMAN, BELOIT, KANSAS, says, "In drawing up a football schedule for next year, we should select teams of equal strength for good competition. It seems to me we should try to win our first game so that a good morale may be established from the beginning."

GERALD DENTON, FRESHMAN YORK, tackle on this year's team, remarks, "There is little spirit among the townfolk about college football, but if we were to play smaller schools along with our N. C. A. C. schedule, I believe more spirit would be built up."

ROLAND FRIESEN, SOPHOMORE, HENDERSON, feels that "York should schedule games with schools of its size and not with those which are two and three times as large. We should stay in the conference because then the team has something to work for, otherwise they might not if we played schools scattered here and there."

DARRYL SEVERIN, JUNIOR, IMPERIAL, a guard on the football team, remarks, "When we play state colleges we seem to be outclassed all the way around, and naturally we don't have a chance to win our share of the games. When we don't win our share, school spirit suffers. If we had a schedule playing schools our size and our N. C. A. C. games, we would have better school spirit."

EARL GRAFF, SOPHOMORE, SHELBY, star halfback on the team, comments, "Enrollment of the school and whether they are backed by the state should be considered in making a football schedule for us. The state schools get the cream of the crop in players,

In April Jack was selected for army service, but Uncle Sam redeemed himself by carrying their letters. He also carried, during the summer while Bertha was traveling for the college, a very precious package that contained a gem to fit the third finger of Bertha's left hand. Bertha is teaching this year at Henderson, and Jack is hoping to be released from the army to attend college the second semester.

Sunday night before college opened, Margaret Eutsler appeared to be very conscious of her left hand. Jim Koontz attended college for the summer session and Margaret was at her home in Los Vegas, New Mexico. Jim is a senior and will probably be directing a high school band and orchestra next year at this time.

One evening in September, a certain young lady at a certain table in the library, seemed to be very much the attraction of the hour. Margaret Bollinger had just received a "sparkler" from Stine Douglas. The Bachman apartment served as a place for the

NEWS AND VIEWS . . . Now It's Co-eds and Goldfish . . .

We thought the combination of collegians and goldfish had parted for good, but, no, now it bobs up in the "con", of all places.

According to Penelope, Velma Farley was giving her goldfish a bath. Don't ask why. Maybe he was so dirty he was scaly or something. Anyhow, she was giving him a bath when he slipped from her hands, and the drain ploppingly swallowed him.

Velma was very sad, and called in her compatriots to mourn his passing. She appropriately poured a last cup of water down the drain as part of the ceremony. Back up came the glub-glubbing fish, making all the girls very happy.

Specially Lil Audrey who luffed and luffed 'cause she knew that whenever it drains it pours.

AMONG THE ATHLETICS By Butch

I ain't been around much this week, been takin' it on the quiet. I got some good info about the athletics that were out for football though, so I thought I'd kinda spread it around, give it the Fuller.

Y' see, Coach asks Earl, who had his back hurt takin' it on the lam from some Midland guys in a game, he says, "Howzzit, Earl?"

Earl, he tells Coach it's plenty o.k.—when he's standin' still.

About then Earl's twin brother Burl who is also kinda little, but very much an athletic, he gives a horse-laugh and he says, "Earl," he says, "You'll be all right in a game then."

Ain't that funny? If not, we'll see y' next time.

Red Letter Day, Tuesday, the 18! Ray Thompson spoiled all the fine ideas that males are vastly superior to women because men don't preen so much. He kept the Marathon photographer, and three girls waiting idly while he ran down a razor to trim just so-so his Gableish mustache, but not his ears this time.

Back At You, Midland . . .

Midland College's publication, "The Midland," took a direct crack at York College school spirit in a sports column of recent issue. The columnist said that York supporters were anything but abundant at the Midland game here and went on to relate that some of the Midland players counted the people in the stands which numbered about 100, of which perhaps 20 were from Midland.

We do not refute his statement. Quite the contrary. In a measure we believe it is deserved. We should like to point out about three things, though, which the Midland columnist, of course, knew nothing about. First, the game had been postponed from Friday night to Saturday afternoon, and many Y. C. students, who are not centered in dormitories, as in some colleges, but scattered all over town, knew nothing about the postponement. Second, we should like to say that the game was played at a time when progressive York's population is very busy, and when many students work. Third, we add that enrollment at Y. C. is only about 190, so if half turn out for a game played at a time unknown to many, and which conflicted with some Saturday jobs, is that so bad?

No doubt Midland remembers the wild school spirit in evidence here last winter when the Warriors barely won 40-39 in basketball. It's still around, and even though we do appreciate this criticism and realize that no one is better qualified to judge than Midland, which really does have the spirit, we think maybe the Fremont school has forgotten that spirit just doesn't show up when a team is losing football games by crushing scores.

Ye, They Sponsored It . . .

"The banquet was sponsored by the Panther Club."

The above line is taken from a news story about the football banquet which appears in this 'Burr, and is all that is said about the club.

Well, you went to the banquet last night, and you had a good time. You enjoyed the novel theme, the decorations, you ate well, you and your date had a fine time watching the program. Then you went home and promptly forgot all about it.

Not so the Panther Club. Guiding spirit of the football banquet, it started plans long ago. Its committees worked on place, theme, food, entertainment. They worked overtime on decorations. In between times, they sold tickets. After the banquet, they heaved sighs of some relief,—not quite all yet, and went right back to the grind of post-banquet activities of which we never think.

So, they worked, worked hard. They wanted no reward. A successful banquet was enough. Yes, "The banquet was sponsored by the Panther Club."

Whitwell Speaks Six Times In College Chapel

In six chapel addresses, Dr. Dewey Whitwell, in one hundred twenty-six minutes, spoke to the student body upon the general title of "Life Success in Christian Service". His topics for these six meetings were as follows: (1) The Life That Counts, (2) Thinking Things Through, (3) Ten Golden Rules for Success, (4) The Maximum or Minimum of Christian Service, (5) Playing the Game Fairly, and (6) Do People Know You?
