Seven Rate Places In Who's Who

Four Senior Men, Three Women To Be Listed

Seven York College seniors will be listed in the 1942-43 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, sponsored by the University of Alabama.

The four men and three women who were chosen by the committee represent three states. They include: Lester Auchard, Woodston, Kansas, representative man of York College last year; Walter Brant, Robinson, Kansas, Student Council president; DuWayne Grimes, Harlan, Kansas, Sandburr editor for three years.

Ralph Hines, Yuma, Colorado, Y. M. C. A. president; Esther Johnson, Merna, president of PALS; Marjorie Reischick, Y. W. C. A. president and May Queen; and Dorothy Jean Saddoris, York, winner of Delta Lambda Mu scholarship.

The selection of students for this honor is based on character, leadership in extra-curricular activities, scholarship, and the possibility of further usefulness to business and society.

Candles, Music Are Background In Y.W. Meeting

Candles . . . music . . . young women. These were characteristic of the installation of the active members of the Y. W. C. A., held October 13, in the reception room of Hulitt Conservatory.

As the women assembled, Josephine Hickey, a freshman from Bradshaw, Nebr., played an arrangement of "Sweet Hour of Prayer." The worship service was in charge of Daisy Million, junior of Noel, Mo.

The main features of the worship program, the theme of which was "The Light," were as follows: Scripture read by Anna Thompson, sponsor; bearers of the light in the past were represented by a group of girls; and a solo, "Pass on the Torch," by Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, Nebr.

A candle-lighting ceremony led by the president, Marjorie Reischick, senior of York, followed the worship service.

Y. C. Chorus Sings

The music department, under the direction of Dean Charles Amadon, prepared a special number which they sang at the W. C. T. U. convention Oct. 29. They have also started work on the "Messiah" although no definite date has been set for its presentation.

York Has Found Pep, Now Why Can't We Keep It?

By Eloise Tabor

"Your pep! Your pep! You've got it, now keep it!" Can't these words really mean something in Y. C.? The pep rally last week showed that there is plenty of school spirit here if we only bring it out.

If there were no pep here in our school, why would between fifty and seventy-five students turn out to a pep rally on a cold, damp, and windy night?

The "Con" reception room shook with the sounds of voices united

Melon Feed Proceeds Minus Watermelons

"Watermelon! Where's the watermelon?" cried the hungry Y. M. C. A. members Oct. 13, when the annual Y. M. C. A. watermelon feed was held.

It seems the watermelons went A. W. O. L., or, due to priorities, were not for college use. Anyway, according to men who were present, two heaping dishes of ice cream accompanied by cookies proved a palatable substitute.

Volley ball and singing filled the rest of the evening.

College Students Help in County Scrap Drive Day

York College got "into the Scrap" last Thursday when York county took a day off to collect scrap.

Coach Rolland Tonkin and the students of his Physical Education classes, as well as several other college men, worked three hours in the afternoon unloading truck after truck of scrap as they filed past the loading platform. Four cars of scrap were being loaded on the track at the same time.

The response to the call for scrap was so heavy that the boys were called on to unload several cars of coal to provide room for scrap. A switch engine was kept busy removing the loaded cars and bringing empty cars to the loading platform. A caterpillar tractor was used to pack the scrap before loading.

Between 15 and 20 college girls from all classes sewed for the Red Cross at the City Auditorium. The main project was making sewing kits for American boys serving overseas.

Miss Pope Speaks On "Joyful Living" In Joint YM-YW Meet

Pointing out the joys of work, of freedom of expression, and of faith, Miss Zelma Pope, director of physical education for women, spoke on "Joyful Living", at the joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, October 20.

The program was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. Daisy Million, junior of Noel, Mo., was in charge. Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kan., presented a violin solo, accompanied by Elwyn Phillips, senior of Merna. Other students who participated in the program were Nellie Rabuck, freshman of Dawson, Iowa; Josephine Hickey, sophomore of Bradshaw; and Margaret Trout, from Culbertson. Every one joined in singing, "Blest be the tie that binds", to conclude the meeting.

in vibrant cheers and songs! The streets of York were no longer quiet as the students "snaked" about, constantly cheering! The band played on the courthouse square, and once again, mighty cheers went into the air.

The cheerleaders did not do it all alone. They had the cooperation of the attending students. But there was the proof that the school spirit at York college is not dead.

It is up to you. Next time, instead of saying—"Well, nobody yells, anyway"—cheer! That's it—YOU cheer!

"Thy Mind" Is Subject Bishop Weidler's Talk

"The mind has come to be of supreme worth as our greatest ally," said Bishop V. O. Weidler, bishop of the Southwest area of the United Brethren church, in a chapel talk on Thursday, Oct. 22.

Bishop Weidler quoted the supreme commandment, "Love the Lord Thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." He centered his talk around the third of these elements.

"The mind must take us through the intricacies and enigmas of life; thus we spend much time developing the mind in fields of history, literature, art, and science," stated Bishop Weidler. "The mind takes us to the great depths which these fields challenge."

"Coming into the presence of Jesus, is the process of the mind by which you may come into the attitude of worship," declared the bishop. "The mind should address itself to the goals and faith of Christian worship."

"I'm so glad that the word of God has something for the casual," he stated. "The unplumbed depths of eternal truth make an appeal to the mind. I worship Him in love and adoration with all my mind."

Marathon Wins First Class Honor Rating

First class honor rating, just a notch below All-American honors, was the ranking given the 1941-42 Marathon, edited last year by Frances Bullock, according to information received here from the National Scholastic Press recently.

The book received commendation from the judge of its section for its "handsome cover", "wise use of color", and its headings. It was judged with publications of colleges and universities under 500 enrollment.

The judge also commended originality shown in reporting on the activities of 1941 alumni.

There will be no Marathon this year, since Y. C. has followed the custom of publishing a year book every two years, instead of annually.

Panther Victory Over Concordia Climaxes Day

Crowd Is Good in View of Transportation Problem

Photo bulbs flashed as Virginia Hinkel, senior of Cambridge, Iowa, was crowned queen of Homecoming and Parents' Day on Friday, October 23. Dean W. E. Bachman presided over the morning program held in the college chapel which was almost completely filled with parents, alumni, and students.

President Gives Welcome

President D. E. Weidler made the address of welcome, with a response from the parents by Mrs. Frank Walter (Grace Getty, '20) of Waco, and from the alumni by the Rev. Harvey K. Parker, '37, of Enid, Okla.

Musical numbers were furnished by Esther Johnson, soprano, senior of Merna, and a violin trio composed of Sylvia Estey, junior of York, Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kansas, and Dalcyce Stuart, junior of York. The accompanists were Larry Smith, junior of Pontiac, Michigan, and Ruth Wiren, Woodston, Kansas, respectively. The invocation was given by the Rev. E. M. Miller of Enid, Okla., and the benediction by Dr. Charles Bisset of the Social Science department.

Presents Gift

Walter Brant, student council president, senior of Robinson, Kansas, presented a gift to the queen from the Panther club and Student Council.

The Homecoming Queen is an active student on the campus, having held offices in PALS literary society, Alpha Psi Omega, Y. C. Players, Life Work Recruits, and her class. She is also a member of Student Council, Y. W. C. A. band, and chorus, and holds a Delta Lambda Mu certificate.

Miss Hinkel's chosen attendants were: senior, Marjorie Reischick, York, and Daryl Severin, Imperial; junior, Martha Tucker, Great Bend, Kansas, and Earl Graff, Shelby; sophomore, Wilma Eastering, Enid, Oklahoma, and Gerald Edgar, Beloit, Kansas; freshmen, Thelma Rockhold, Salina, Kansas, and Leland Miller, Dumont, Iowa.

Brant Is Toastmaster

Walter Brant was toastmaster at the luncheon held in the United Brethren church at noon. With "Goals Ahead" as the theme, toasts were given on "Portals" by Theodore Peterson, '31; "Power Mover" by Dorothy Jean Saddoris, senior of York; "Decorations" by Mrs. Harold McGill; and "Christian Living" by the Rev. I. C. Fellers of Denver. The sub-

Three Former Y. C. Men,—Callahan, Gale, Jordan Now in Research Work

By Gerald Edgar
Three former York college men, Leslie Callahan, ex-'38, Robert Gale, '39, and Andy Jordan, '41, are working on research problems mostly for the Army and Navy at the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, New York, Mr. Callahan informed us while on his visit to his parents in York.

Gale, a chemist, is working in the Sensitometric department of the Research Laboratories of the Kodak Kodak Parks Works. His field is research in problems of color photography.

Jordan is in the chemical research departments of the Camera Works. This division is on a 100% war production basis.

Callahan is in the Accounting and Systems Work department of the Kodak Park Works. His work is to find new and improved methods for office systems. However, Callahan said that in four or five weeks he would get a leave of absence for the duration to begin a seven month training period, at Boston, to become an Army Air Corps meteorologist.

Concerning qualifications for work at the Eastman Kodak Works, he said, "A background of chemistry and physics is advisable for a college student who wishes to work there." He added later that the company offered courses in photography, chemistry, etc., for their workers.

Both Gale and Callahan took a course on Aerial Photography and photogrammetry. "It's no snap," he said.

"Of Mice and a Woman" Familiar Story, Mouse Loses

By Eloise Tabor

"E-e-e-k!" No! it was not a fire whistle. I was just letting the world know how I felt when a mouse ran out of the package I held in my hand, ran down my anatomy as far as my foot, then scampered merrily across the room. Of course I wasn't scared—I was just petrified!

Now I believe in "Live and let live," but there is a limit. I know those little soft gray mice are very cute, too, but at present I cannot even be tolerant.

Just because the weather turned cold before they had their nests built doesn't mean they can make my dresser drawers over into an apartment! I prefer single bliss!

Have I done anything about it? Well, it is this way: Some may have become attracted to my room, but five have been "entrapped" to their doom.

The Burr Speaks

The Old Familiar Faces . . .

Jones,—in the marines. Brosky,—a lieutenant now. Sawyer,—departed for an unknown destination.

The old familiar faces were not here. They were not where we usually find them either. We are fighting a war. The parents, alumni, and former students who trickled in for day or two of Homecoming this year talked of different things than at other Homecomings. Wherever a group of them gathered with today's students, conversation turned to the war, and from the war, to the many friends who are in it now.

Esther,—a nurse. Joan,—working in a defense plant. Kate,—doing her best to keep a stiff upper lip while her husband flies for Uncle Sam.

For everyone has been touched by the great effort this war presumes. Before it is over, many of the old familiar faces will be but memories, memories of the past alone. We have a job to do, and we all must help to do it. Personal sacrifice is the price our job requires.

John,—aboard a submarine. Tom,—sighting a huge gun. Joe,—fighting with the merchant marine.

Sure, they had other plans once. They talked, when they were students, of the future when they would be teachers, lawyers, salesmen, secretaries. But now that is shoved back. They are absorbed in this greater job of whipping the Axis. Personal motives have been put aside.

Some of us are still here in college. We must soon realize our part in this job. We must be prepared to make the same sacrifices as Joe and Tom and Ike, so that someday, then, there may be Homecomings again, where talk will be not all war, but of graduations, and weddings, and football games.

TURGID WATERS

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—As this is written the Potomac is overflowing its banks; from the top of the Washington monument one can see the turgid waters filling low areas throughout the District of Columbia. Six days and nights of steady rainfall have left Washington war workers, Congressmen, officials and "parasites" limp and damp and crampy.

The wettest week in Washington history is also a week of the greatest historical significance to American colleges. Strong currents also are running through Congress and administrative offices. The bill to draft 18 and 19-year-olds is about to be passed; the senators are wrestling with it right now.

That bill may determine whether you continue your education and, if you do, what shape it may take during the remainder of your years, or months, in school.

By the time you read this perhaps you may be able to prompt us on some of the points, but here's the way the picture looks now:

Most teen-aged college students won't be called into military service until the end of this school year. This is particularly true of competent students, especially those taking scientific and technical courses.

After this year, when inroads on college teen-agers are likely to be relatively heavy, the question of who shall remain in school will be a sticker. The draft bill itself isn't likely to lay down strict stipulations on this matter—it will be left to administrative decision.

Broadly, administrative officials will base their decision on two major considerations: the course a student is taking and his scholastic record.

England's policies are a key to what may happen to students here. Although there has been about a 25 per cent drop in overall enrollment in Britain, scientific and technical departments of the colleges are cram-full of students. Obviously, the drop has occurred in liberal arts courses.

Current Topics Concern Press Guild as Newshounds Gather at Prof. Morgan's

Examination of college papers from other Nebraska institutions and a review of the September issue of Scholastic Editor constituted the program at the last regular meeting of the Press Guild.

The meeting was held at the home of Prof. J. C. Morgan, Alumni historian. Mary Miller, chairman of the social committee, served refreshments following the meeting.

PANTHER PATER

By Larry Smith

Our Pep . . .

With cheering of the type shown at the Homecoming game and at the pep rally previous to the game, York students cannot be accused of lacking spirit. Now that we know it is there, let's bring it to the surface more often.

Speece Shows Heels . . .

Outstanding individual player of the last two games has been Ross Speece, small but mighty freshman quarterback. Under his leadership the Panthers put on a sustained drive to score their lone touchdown against Wesleyan and his play in that game put him in line for a starting call in the Concordia game. Showing speed and drive far out of proportion for his size, he outran, sidestepped, and drove his way for a total of 68 yards against the Teachers.

They Did "All Right" . . .

In the same game, B. Graff was not only finding the mark with his passes but ran for a total of 47 yards, and Hartman did his part by rushing for 36 yards and backing up the line. Co-captain Floyd Taylor was quite elated after he got his head down and charged through the line for a touchdown, first of his high school and college careers. Most York fans would like to see him elated more often.

Here Are the Figures . . .

Some people like statistics, so here are a few on the York-Concordia game. Concordia made thirteen first downs, eleven of them passing and only two rushing while York made eight first downs rushing and four passing for a total of twelve. The Teachers completed seventeen passes out of thirty-two attempts for a total of 268 yards or an average of 15.7 yards per completed pass but only made sixty-five yards by rushing. York charged for a total of 203 yards and completed seven out of thirteen passes for 136 yards or an average of 19.4 yards per completed pass.

Wesleyan Cops Game Early, 39-6

A heavier and faster Wesleyan team rolled over the York college Panthers as they defeated York 39 to 6 in a game at Lincoln October 16. The Panthers faltered at critical moments and showed only bits of fine play as two pass interceptions and a blocked punt set up three Wesleyan touchdowns.

The Panthers' only touchdown came after a sustained drive in the second period when Burl Graff shot a pass to Haberman on the goal line for the score. The Panthers were driving for another score as the half ended.

20-6 at Half

Wesleyan, passing over the Yorkmen, led by a score of 20 to 6 as the half ended.

Co-captain Les Auchard and George Shaneyfelt did notable line work and Wayne Kaeding snatched several passes. Earl Graff and Ross Speece both played good games in the backfield.

That Man Gale

Their first victory over Concordia under their belts, the still victory-hungry Panthers will go after their second tomorrow night when they go to Fremont to take on Midland's not-so-giant Warriors. Midland, too, has won but once, that from Western Union.

Midland, who ruled the N. C. A. C. roost last fall, has only two let-termen back, Petrow in the backfield, and Spangler in the line. Consequently, the Warriors are given little chance to repeat as champions.

The Panthers, with their hardest games, Doane, Wesleyan, and Tarkio, behind would like nothing better than to win the rest of their games, starting with old rival Midland.

Wesleyan, bidding strongly for a conference championship, has upset both York and Midland. York went down 39-6 and Midland 21-7, and those scores are the only comparative basis for the two teams.

Panthers Taste Victory For First Time 27-12

It took a Homecoming crowd to cheer the York college Panthers on to their first gridiron victory of the season as they defeated Concordia Teachers college 27 to 12 on the York field October 23. The game was a nip and tuck affair during the first two quarters, and York was leading by only one point as the half ended, 13 to 12. However, in the second half, Concordia never had possession of the ball in York territory until the last 45 seconds of play.

Teachers Score First

As in previous years, the Teachers made the first score. Taking the ball on their own 25 yard line after a York punt, von Fange passed to Heisterman on the 46. Three running plays netted them a first and ten in York territory. After taking a lateral, Hufnagle passed to Joseph who was snagged on the York 4. Von Fange charged through center on the next play for the touchdown. An attempted pass for the extra point was not good.

The Panthers' first points came early in the second quarter. After a pass interception on the Concordia 43 yard line as the first quarter closed, York failed to make the necessary yardage and punted to the visitors' 17 yard line. After two line plays and an incomplete pass, York's George Shaneyfelt moved in fast and blocked a punt and then scooped up the ball and crossed the goal line. Burl Graff place-kicked the extra point.

Concordia had the ball for only four plays before the Panthers took over to start a drive for their second touchdown. Following a punt and a Concordia penalty, York took the ball on their own 47. Two running plays with B. Graff and Taylor as carriers gave the Cats a first down. Hartman nullified a penalty for too much time in the huddle by charging for five yards and then for two, and a Graff pass to Shaneyfelt was good for another first and ten. Taylor picked up a yard through the line and Graff fired a flat pass to Shaneyfelt who was dropped on the 12 yard line. Then came the scoring play with Ross Speece galloping around end to pay dirt. The conversion failed.

Concordia Passes Again Count

In the next few minutes Concordia had their final "fling" as they passed their way from their own 28 yard line to a touchdown. A pass from Hufnagle to Joseph was good for 24 yards to start the drive and two plays later the same combination completed a pass to the York 42. An incomplete pass was followed by a run that netted five yards and von Fange grabbed a pass on the York 26. A lateral from Hufnagle to Joseph placed the ball on the York 12 and after an incomplete pass, Hufnagle passed to von Fange in the end zone for the touchdown. Again the Teachers did not make the extra point. That was the last of the scoring until the fourth quarter.

Sleeper Play Works

York opened the fourth period with the ball on their own 27 yard line. Two running plays failed to gain yardage but a long pass from Graff to Kaeding placed the ball on the Concordia 35 yard line. Hartman carried the ball for one yard. Then Graff, on a sleeper play, threw a quick pass to Speece who sidestepped his way past three tacklers to score. A pass, Graff to Kaeding, was good for the extra point.

The final York score came a few minutes later when the Panthers ran and passed their way from the mid-field stripe to the Concordia 14 yard line. Speece slipped through for seven yards and Hartman for one before Taylor plunged through for the counter. Cleo Campbell, out of action with an

Students Discuss War Effects on Many Fields

The effects of war on science, English, music, religion, philosophy and sociology were discussed at the Life Work Recruits meeting October 14.

Phyllis Foster, senior, York, discussed physical science and the new products which it has brought forth since the beginning of the war.

Helen Hall, senior, Parsons, Kansas, said in her discussion of biological science, that fewer students are majoring in that science since the war began.

Eloise Tabor, senior, Glendive, Mont., reported that many new words pertaining to war have been added to our language and that the English language will spread more to other countries.

Doty Expresses Ideals We Are Fighting For

"If our liberty is worth fighting for and worth dying for, it is worth living for now," Dr. Earl I. Doty, head of the Political Science department, declared in his chapel talk on Monday, Oct. 19.

"We look back at our forefathers with a great deal of respect because they gave us the right to freedom of thought, speech, and government," said Dr. Doty. "It may be that we do not adequately apprehend that all the freedoms we have are in jeopardy."

aspects, according to Elwyn Phillips, senior, Merna; first, classical music will be more serious and thoughtful and will transcend to a minor key; and second, music will tend to be patriotic in order to keep up morale.

Virginia Hinkel, senior, Cambridge, Ia., said that there would be a great change in social conditions, whatever the outcome of the present war. Our part will be to help prevent crime, raise morale and decrease poverty.

Edwina Bomhoff, senior, Wichita, Kans., stated that because people are concerned with concrete things, philosophy will be pushed into the background.

Stine Douglas, senior, Beach, N. D., expressed the thought that the war will cause a change in the church which must be brought about by a change in the heart of man.

Mrs. Banks, Miss Callender Give PALS History; Zetas Clean Hall, Dine

Mrs. C. D. Banks of York, a charter member of PALS, and one of the first students of York College, and Miss Edith Callender, head of the English department and a former member of PALS, were featured on the program of PALS open meeting October 20.

Mrs. Banks told the group of the first days of York college and PALS, then known as Philomatheans and Amphictyons, one a women's society and the other men's. These literary societies were organized the first week of the college year in 1890, the first year of York college.

In those days, she explained, the meetings were entirely literary, and were held every month.

Miss Callender told the PALS about the later growth of the literary societies. She explained that the World War I had cut the male enrollment of the college to six and forced the Amphictyons to join their programs to those of the Philomatheans. The resultant organization was officially proclaimed PALS, a name formed from the initials of the two organizations. She said that the PALS had always lived up to the traditions of the mother societies, and that outstanding of these was its democracy. She pointed out that the membership had always been open to all students of York college.

Preceding the talks, LeRoy Bott, sophomore, Alexander, Kans., led the group in singing, "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "College Song" and "Panther Salute."

Esther Johnson sang a solo, "Fairest Lord Jesus", and the society sang the PALS' song in closing.

W.A.A. Takes Active Part in Homecoming Day

The W. A. A.'s part in the Homecoming program consisted of a basketball game, a tumbling program, and participation in the various athletic contests.

The basketball game was played between the freshmen and upper class women Thursday, Oct. 22, at 5:00 p. m. in the college gymnasium. The upper class women won the game 24-10.

Martha Cox, freshman of Espanola, New Mexico; Helen Hall, senior of Parsons, Kansas; Ruby Grandon, freshman of Burton, Kansas; Wilma Easterling, sophomore of Enid, Oklahoma; Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kansas; Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Oklahoma, and Carol Willer, sophomore of Merville, Ia., participated in the tumbling exhibition given in the gymnasium Friday, Oct. 23.

A free throw, a baseball throw, a volley ball game, and several races composed the rest of the contest between the freshmen and upper class women. These activities were held Friday afternoon after the tumbling.

injured shoulder, drop-kicked the extra point.

Speece Stops Threat
A Concordia threat was stopped in the closing seconds of the game when Speece intercepted a pass on the York two yard line and then punted to safety.

The Panthers meet Midland and Sterling before they appear at home again for their final game with Hastings.

Variety is the spice of life! The Zetas exemplified this kind of life at their last meeting when instead of a regular program, members cleaned the hall, had dinner at the home of their sponsor, Miss Zelma Pope, and conducted a short business meeting.

Because the hall is shared with the chorus it is not always in A-1 condition and hence the Zeta society decided that the time had come to see that it was that way.

"Woe to the one who messes this room now," stated members following their evening of labor.

Prof. Morgan Lists Windows of Soul in Chapel Talk

"There shall be many windows in your soul and all the universe shall glorify them," stated Professor Morgan, head of the classical language department, in his chapel talk Thursday, Oct. 15.

Four of the most prominent windows to the soul as he gave them are: good books, nature, colleges, and the airplane. Books are the embalmed brains of thinkers and live on forever. Nature is a voice that speaks to everyone in some way. College can be compared to mountain climbing, while the airplane will take one very close to heaven and give him a bird's eye view of the world.

jects of the toasts were suggested by recent campus improvements.

Martha Tucker, contralto, and Dalcyce Stuart, violinist, furnished special music for the program, and Mrs. Herman Glock (Pauline Bradwell, '18) and LeRoy Bott, sophomore of Alexander, Kansas, led in group singing.

Two Plays Presented
Following the luncheon two one-act plays were presented, "Suit the Professor" and "That Home in Nazareth."

The first, a comedy, was cast as follows: Mrs. Nancy Perriman, the professor's wife, Shirley Andersen, senior of York; Mildred Perriman, his daughter, Nancy Fellers, freshman of Denver, Colorado; Clara, the maid, Ruth King, Topeka, Kansas; and Dodds, a tailor, Clarence Mabon, Phillips.

The drama of Nazareth had the following cast of characters: brother of Jesus; Joseph, LeRoy Bott, Alexander, Kansas; Judas, Mansen Crippen, Marshalltown, Iowa; Simon, Donald Hines, Juma, Colorado; Miriam, His sister, Thelma Rockhold, Salina, Kansas; Mary, His mother, Margaret Gaston, Bradshaw; and a man, Badger Halsey, Fairmont.

Between the two plays there was a piano interlude by Larry Smith, junior of Pontiac, Michigan, and a hymn by the chapel choir.

Contests in Afternoon
Freshmen-upperclass contests occupied the remainder of the afternoon as the two groups vied for superiority in running, volleyball, baseball and basketball throws. The tumbling team also presented a short program of rolls, dives, and flips.

A victory of 27-12 over Concordia in the evening football game made a fitting conclusion to the day. Final freshman-upperclass contests were held between halves of the game resulting in a final score of 1 to 30 with the freshmen as losers.

Openhouse was held in Hulitt Conservatory following the game.
