Announce New Naval Program

A new Naval Reserve program to be known as V-12 is being inaugurated by the government, according to a recent announcement from the office of President D. E. Weidler of York College. This V-12 program deals primarily with those young men who would ordinarily be entering college. In addition, it provides for those men of this age who are on the Naval Reserve inactive list.

Youths of the seventeen-to-twenty age limit may enter this program with permission to continue their education in college circles. They will then be on active duty in the service uniforms under service pay. They may state a preference for definite schools although the "powers that be" make no promises.

The same general rules apply to the youths on the inactive list in the Naval Reserve set-ups. These will be called on or about July 1. Their rank will be apprentice seamen. Those in the V-1 program will complete their sophomore year before taking the qualifying tests. Any that fail will go into general navy work.

The school work will cover a period of one and one-third years or four semesters of sixteen hours each. Out of this pool of V-12 men, candidates for officers' training will be selected.

Federation Is Theme of Joint Meet

The World Christian Federation, which began in Sweden, 1895, was the theme of the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., Tuesday, Feb. 23.

Mrs. Margaret Gaston, sophomore of Bradshaw, told something of the history of the Federation. She stated that there are twenty religious groups in America that belong to the Federation and that American students are most influential.

"The Student Service Fund helps students all over the world to finish their education by loaning them money," said Mrs. Gaston. "Christmas messages are also sent between different countries."

Don Hines, freshman of Yuma, Colo., spoke of what students can do to help.

"The frontier of spreading the word of God is still open. We should realize that many people are suffering and should strive to help them," he said. "As Christian students we must love Christ, serve Him and strive to do His will."

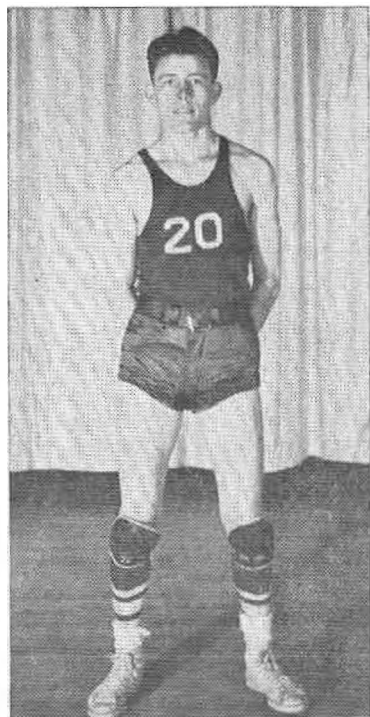

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial.

Seniors Choose New Officers

Dorothy Jean Sadoris, senior of York, and Edwina Bomhoff, senior of Wichita, Kansas, are the newly elected president and vice-president of the senior class during the second semester.

Other officers included, Esther Johnson of Merna, secretary and treasurer; and DuWayne Grimes of Harlan, Kansas, Panther Club Representative, replacing Floyd Taylor of York, who recently was called into the army air force. Dr. E. I. Doty, head of the history department was re-elected as sponsor.

Jolly-Up Stages Merriment

Torture chamber, fish pond and fortune telling, sideshow, program, and refreshment committees give a hint of the entertainment in store for the students and faculty in various rooms of the Administration Building at the mid-year jolly-up sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., Mar. 12, at 7:30 p. m. Eleanor Pfug, sophomore, York, and Walter Brant, senior, Robinson, Kans., are co-chairmen for general arrangements.

Other committees are: torture chamber, Lester Auchard, senior, Woodston, Kans.; J. Hill Anglin, sophomore, Amistad, N. Mex.; and Dorothy Sadoris, senior, York. Fish pond and fortune telling: Nancy Fellers, freshman, Denver, Colo.; and Bob Gillespie, freshman, Glendale, Calif.

Miss Sadoris Chosen Speaker

Dorothy Jean Sadoris, senior of York, has been selected by the Victory Speakers' Bureau to be a member of the York County Speakers Committee.

She will receive material from the office of Civilian Defense, and at times will be called upon to bring the war's most vital issues to the home front.

President Weidler Discusses Finances . . .

The campaign undertaken by the business men of York under the chairmanship of Mr. E. A. Levitt and directed by O. T. Deever and Dr. S. B. Williams has for its objective the liquidation of the $42,296.23 which was owed the faculty at the beginning of this year. The fine success of this effort was reported in the February 18 issue of the Sandhurr. The good work goes on so that now only about four thousand dollars is needed to attain the full amount sought. To date $12,266.42 in cash has been secured. It is hoped that when the Executive Committee meets March 17 another substantial payment can be made to the teachers.

Previous to this campaign, the response of the church to the Golden Jubilee appeal and the increased giving through the benevolence budget of the denomination had made possible (1) a

Faculty Enjoys Turkey Dinner

"Turkey and all the trimmings" were enjoyed by the faculty on the evening of Feb. 13 in the dining room of Hulitt Conservatory.

The tables were decorated with candles, Valentine place cards, and gumdrop favors which represented baskets and girls.

After dinner, games were played in the reception room. The committee in charge of arrangements was: Dean and Mrs. W. E. Bachman, Dean and Mrs. Charles A. Amadon, Prof. and Mrs. R. E. Townsend, and Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Von Wicklen.

The chorus presented a musical program for chapel Feb. 24. Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, Nebr., sang, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego." The chorus, directed by Dean Chas. Amadon, head of the music department, sang "The Hunting Song," "Snow," "Clouds," and "Tradi Nuka".

York Cinches State Top; Clips Doane 68-51

As a climax to what is probably the greatest season a Y. C. cage team has ever had, York's Panthers blasted closest rival Doane out of first place in the state race, eased in there, and assured themselves of at least a tie in the NCAC by rolling over the Crete five 68-51 Friday night. Eleven hundred people, the largest crowd ever to see a game in York, packed the city auditorium to capacity to watch the championship battle.

Y. W. Plans Annual Banquet For March 9

The theme of the Y. W. C. A. annual banquet will be patriotic, but, according to the committee, "it will be patriotic in a different way." The banquet will be held in the dining room of the Conservatory on Tuesday, March 9, at 6:45 p. m.

Shirley Andersen, senior, is chairman of the program committee, and she will be assisted by Betty Mae Taylor, freshman, and Sylvia Estey, junior, all of York.

Lillian Sadoris, Dorothy Sadoris, seniors, and Eleanor Pfug, sophomore, all of York, are in charge of decorations.

Edwina Bomhoff, senior of Wichita, Kans., and Maurine Marvel, sophomore of Giltner, are in charge of advertising. Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Wash., is in charge of invitations. Mary Miller, sophomore of Broken Bow, is in charge of the dining room.

Tickets for the banquet may be secured from Carol Willer, sophomore of Merville, Ia., or Antonia Sepulveda, junior of Mayaguez, Porto Rico.

Ruth Wiren Frosh Prexy

Ruth Wiren, freshman of Woodston, Kansas, was re-elected as president of the freshman class for the second semester.

Other officers are, Don Hines of Yuma, Colorado, vice-president, Esther Peters, of Henderson, secretary and Mary Kathryn Armstrong of Bradshaw, treasurer. Prof. J. C. Morgan, head of the department of classical language and Bible, was elected sponsor.

The Press Guild spent part of the afternoon of Feb. 26 in classifying and wrapping the metal cuts from the Marathon instead of holding the monthly meeting. The cuts were becoming scratched.

York to Tournament

Last minute information at press time assures the York Panthers of a berth in the national small college tournament at Kansas City starting Monday.

Coach R. E. Tonkin received the invitation from tournament officials Wednesday, York was first choice as representative of Nebraska colleges.

For 16 minutes of the first half the Panthers dangled before Doane's eyes the prospect of victory. The Tigers led all that time by varying margins. Then suddenly the Kaeding brothers exploded with basket after basket, and Doane's bid was done.

Together the Kaedings, Wayne and Jim, scored 59 points, all but nine of the Panther total, and Doane could do nothing about stopping them. Jim had 30, Wayne 29 in the scoring column.

The victory did several things for York. First, it assured them of the top spot in the state race as Kearney knocked off Wayne the same night. That left York as the only team in the state with but three losses.

Second, it assured them of at least a tie with Doane for the conference championship, and sole ownership if Midland should upset Doane March 2,—too late for this issue to cover.

Third, it left the Cats in an excellent position to be invited to the National Small College tournament at Kansas City, March 8-13, for the Panther is now tops in the state.

Of course the victory did a lot of other things, too. Among these it pleased mightily the eleven hundred fans, some from 250 miles away, who watched it, and it was sweet revenge for the earlier loss, 43-51 to Doane. It also left York undefeated on the home floor in eight games.

Wayne Weber, tall Tiger pivot, did his utmost to repeat his performance at Crete when his scoring beat York. This time, however, his 22 points did not alter the outcome.

The Kaedings were the big show of the game. Red-hot after the first few minutes, they split the net from any position to crumple Doane's hopes.

DuWayne Grimes and Lester Auchard, only seniors on the squad, finished their college basketball at home with the game.

PALS Conduct Quiz Program

"How many good gas masks can be made from one inner tube?" "Who is Paul V. McNutt?" "Name four first aid essentials." "Whom met at the recent conference in Casablanca?" These were some of the questions the PALS failed to answer at a quiz program in PALS Hall, Feb. 16.

Edwina Bomhoff, senior, Wichita, Kans., vice-president of the society, conducted the regular business meeting after the program.

"That Man" Gale Likes College Town and Association

"The joy of living in York comes from having York College here, and from the associations with the college people," said Robert "That Man" Gale, local photographer, when interviewed by a Sandburr reporter.

Mr. Gale has been in business in York for 27 years and has been a faithful advertiser in the Sandburr. He is a loyal supporter of the college basketball and football teams and says that he very seldom misses any York College games.

Mr. Gale's son, Robert, graduated from York College in 1939 and is now a chemist employed by the Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester, N. Y. According to Mr. Gale, the Kodak Co. prefers to employ graduates of small colleges because they have received more personal attention from the professors.

CAPITAL to CAMPUS

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

Washington—(ACP)—Results of a national inquiry into the collegiate mind were announced this week by OWI.

Four organizations—the American Council on Education, the Association of American Junior Colleges, the National Student Federation of America and the International Student Service—asked student governments and war councils what questions college students wanted answered.

More than 200 colleges replied. The results, in terms of winning the war and the peace, were good. Questions most often and most widely asked were how students can contribute most to the war and postwar world, how war will affect education, what the fighting's for, what the postwar world will be like.

Here are some of the questions, answered by government experts: What's the most useful thing to do before being drafted?

Keep studying until called. Get into good physical condition. Read about the new kind of war and why we fight it.

Can I continue my studies in the army?

Yes. After you've been in four months, enroll in the Army Institute or with one of 76 universities and colleges offering correspondence courses to soldiers.

Are more educated men really needed or should we all get into the army or production jobs?

So far as you are free to do so, it's wiser to continue your education but to direct your studies to greater war usefulness.

What are the plans for training and using college women?

WMC is developing proposals for utilizing college men and women in many useful war activities. These plans will be announced soon.

Is there an over-all plan as to the number of soldiers, workers, farmers and doctors, or are we all to be put in the army in the hope the problem will work out right?

A policy for assuring each man his best possible chance for service is gradually taking form.

What kind of world are we going to graduate into after this war?

One thing is sure. We are not going back to where we are. The kind of world we will have after the war depends in large measure upon what we decide we want and how vigorously and intelligently we plan ahead to achieve the kind of world we want. Therefore it is essential to think, not in terms of what is going to happen, but of what we want to attain.

WAR JOB FOR SMALL COLLEGES

Many a small college finds itself cast into the starry night now that the Army-Navy-War Manpower joint selection board has picked the schools to carry out the armed services' specialized training programs.

One promising plan comes to Washington from Robert G. Ramsey, dean of students at Olivet college in Michigan. He suggests such schools be used for rehabilitating and re-educating wounded fighters as they return from the front. Small college surroundings, Dean Ramsey believes, would be ideal for restoring mind, body and skills. For colleges, the plan offers useful war service for the duration and some time after.

The idea has gone to Manpower Commissioner McNutt.

The Burr Speaks

On Our Toes?

When college students, who are as vitally affected by current events and problems as anyone else, fail to answer questions of the nature of those listed in a news article elsewhere in this paper, is it because of lack of time to read newspapers or listen to a radio, or is it sheer neglect and unconcern?

No student can excuse himself because material is unavailable. Everyone enrolled in Y. C. has access to Time magazine, Life, Newsweek, several newspapers, and other publications in the college library.

Why not take five or ten minutes a day to glance over the headlines or read an article on current affairs? M. M.

Vision, Hope, Faith, Loyalty

The birthdays last month of two American presidents reminded us of two great American wars. A charter of Independence came to us out of the one and Emancipation for down-trodden people out of the other. The guiding figures in these two campaigns were, of course, Washington and Lincoln. A review of their records has always impressed upon us indelibly the virtues which are necessary to meet the challenges of almost any age. These are vision, hope, faith, and loyalty to one's own ideals. With these they dedicated themselves to America.

Many years later their posterity is being confronted with the same sort of challenges. Our nation of freedom is asked again to defend their democratic way of life. This America of hope could well become pessimistic in this war-chaos. The halls of our college seem more dark because of the departure of still more male students into the forces of our country.

But our bright visions of the future cannot be darkened for we shall tread the path that the great American patriarchs have trodden. A fight for the freedom of all people calls forth those high qualities in us which were displayed by our ancestors. The students, the faculty, together with people of integrity everywhere, will face the future of America guided by the principles of Washington and Lincoln. Their persistent courage leads us on through our darkest moments. The hope of "still better things" to come lends zeal to our efforts. Our consecration will "do or die even in the valley of death" for the democracy that they gave us. Then and only then shall World War II establish more firmly the nation of liberty. Thus we hold faith with the future. V.F.H.

Panthers Win Two, Lose One, on Road Trip

Defeat Midland, Norfolk; Drop Two Point Decision to Wayne

The Panthers left the ol' home lair February 15-17 to send chills and thrills up and down the spines of northeastern Nebraska basketball fans as the touring Tonkin-tossers won an important game from Midland by two points, 38-36, lost an important one to Wayne Teachers in the last few seconds by two points 58-60, and displayed power to spare in running over Norfolk Junior College 83-45.

Midland
After leading Midland's Warriors for all the game by comfortable margins, the Cats almost dropped the NCAC game when they hit a cold streak the last half. Midland, led by Kruger, tied the score with a minute to go, but Jim Kaeding tossed a one-hander immediately to sew up the Panther victory.

Wayne
At Wayne, York continued its cold streak the first half, wilting before the rugged Teachers to trail by 19 points at the half.

After intermission, the insertion of "Doc" Hartman into the line-up and some hard fighting sparked a giant Cat rally that finally overtook the Teachers at 58 all on a bucket from well out by Jim Kaeding.

Less than a minute was left in the game as Best of Wayne shook loose on a dribble to cage the winning basket, 60-58.

Norfolk J. C.
With what the Norfolk papers called a "velvet-like passing attack", the Panthers had no trouble in subduing Norfolk J. C. the next night. The Kaedings led a general York assault on the basket which resulted in an 83-45 victory with reserves in half of the time.

Just after the intermission Panther regulars scored 22 points in eight minutes, then were relieved.

CATS FINISH AS STATE CHAMPS

The York College Panthers were king of all they surveyed on the state college ladder for 1943, as final standings gave the title to the Cats who had nine wins and three losses.

Kearney's high-scoring Antelopes, who played another game with Wesleyan Wednesday night, which is not included below, probably will finish second on the basis of more victories.

PANTHER PATTER

"Gypsy"

Although the regular season is finished, the Y. C. Panthers have a new outlook on basketball—Kansas City. To those of you who are not familiar with this excited talk of K. C., the two conference winners or the state title holder is invited to a Small College National Tournament held March 8, at Kansas City. York qualifies, or should we say "shoud qualify," as a contender. The reason York should qualify is because they are state champions besides being co-champs in their conference.

Superstition Comes Through
After the Wesleyan victory, York as well as had a share in the conference championship according to statistics produced by R. E. During the last three years in the first battle with Doane, York lost; at each return engagement, York doubled the amount by which they were beaten the first time. "Tonk" was confident that we would beat Doane by 16 points or better, as they bettered us eight points in the first skirmish.

P. S. "It works every time; it works every time."

Of course, being behind a championship team did help, but Y. C.'s pep grew in volume with the string of victories the team hung up, until it was something to write clear home about—that last Doane game. It has been suggested that we record some of that enthusiasm for the boys to hear at K. C., when and if that opportunity comes their way.

A small word of appreciation goes to Imogene Bland and Virginia Hinkel for those blue miniature megaphones, which helped raise the loudest cheers heard at any game this season.

Nothing Nebraska Wesleyan could offer was enough to stop a determined Panther team the Tuesday night before the Doane game in the city auditorium, so York, sparked by the ball-hawking of Wayne Kaeding, copped 59-27.

There was never much doubt about the outcome. The usually smooth-working Plainsmen quintet was ruffled early by the pass interceptions and speed of the Panthers and could not come close to holding the score near the one point decision they lost at Wesleyan.

Wayne Kaeding hustled the whole game to notch 29 points and put himself 'way out in front both in conference and state scoring. Brother Jim tallied 11 points and contented himself with feeding the ball magnificently.

The victory moved York one more step along in their drive to conference and state honors and set the stage for a natural in the championship game with Doane Friday night.

PANTHER PERSONALITIES

By personalizing the remaining six members of the championship squad, we write finis to this column.

Lester Auchard
Lester Auchard, who played his basketball at Luray, Kansas, earned his third letter this year as a reserve forward. Although he didn't play a great deal during the season, "Les" flipped in several baskets when he was placed in the game.

Don Haberman
Even though he was the shortest man on the squad, Don "Russian" Haberman, was acknowledged as one of the most accurate shots. Don, formerly a York High school star, won his first basketball letter at a reserve forward post. Along with his basketball ability, "Russian" is known for his excellent whistling.

Clifford Hartman
A stocky, spirited guard who stands 5'8" and weighs 160 lbs. pictures Clifford "Doc" Hartman who is a junior this year. This is "Doc's" second season with a championship team and marks his second letter earned on the Panther maples. Breaking up passes and plays is the "Doctor's" specialty and only his lack in height kept him from a regular guard spot. Besides his attraction to the girls, Hartman has an uncanny ability for dropping off to sleep anywhere and anytime.

LeRoy Bott
Sophomore LeRoy Bott of Alexander, Kansas, has been a member of the team since the middle of the season and has improved greatly. Flashing some scrappy spirit on the floor, he has won the respect of fellow players and opponents by rebounding for the ball like a real Panther.

Galen Munsinger
Although he won't letter this year, freshman Galen Munsinger has obtained some valuable experience on the Panther squad. Munsinger, who hails from Harlan, Kansas, is the joker on the squad and his left handed hook shots are something to talk and gape about.

Harvey Holbrook
The Panther's reserve center is Harvey Holbrook, who comes from Orchard, Nebraska. Harvey's height and ruggedness make him a valuable man under the basket for rebounds and tip-ins.

Recruit Speakers Deal With Subject of Loyalty in Recent Meeting

"Why loyalty to God includes loyalty to our country" was the theme of the Life Work Recruits on February 17. The speakers were Hal Goodrich, junior of Portland, Oregon; Ethel Brooks, freshman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and Larry Smith, junior, of Pontiac Michigan, who used as their subjects the colors of the flag, red, white, and blue, respectively.

Of these colors it was said that red characterizes hardness and valor, white symbolizes purity, and blue represents loyalty. The three colors woven into the flag are symbolic of American life. Following the talks, pledges were made to the Christian and United States flags.

The scripture was read by Juliana Moya, freshman of New Mexico, who emphasized the words "Righteousness exalteth a nation," which was followed by a "Prayer for True Patriotism" by Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Oklahoma.

Group singing during the meeting included three patriotic songs: "America the Beautiful," "The Star Spangled Banner," and "America." Leland Miller, sophomore of Dumont, Iowa, sang "A Perfect Day" by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

The Recruit meeting on February 24 was in charge of Winifred Smith who led the group in a "Sword Drill," a contest to see who could find Bible verses most rapidly.

Joe Stauffer, junior of LeCompton, Kansas, was elected to replace Dick Foulk, junior of Adrian, Michigan, as librarian. Foulk, an army air force reserve, left recently to become an active member of the armed forces.

Reba Grimes, freshman of Woodston, Kansas, led the devotions, and Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, directed the singing of songs and choruses.

Senior's Brother Sets Record

Dale Hall, brother of Helen Hall, senior from Parsons, Kans., set an individual scoring record for the field house court, Feb. 22, when West Point, where Hall is a cadet, defeated Harvard University 72-40. Hall scored 25 points, 12 of which were made in a span of 4½ minutes in the first half, another local mark.

Morgan Speaks In Chapel

"A knowledge of the Bible without a college education is of more value than a college education without a knowledge of the Bible," quoted Professor J. C. Morgan, head of the classical language department in his chapel talk Thursday.

Professor Morgan compared college entrance examinations to those given to every man by God. Practice of religion has not kept pace with civilization. We need to "study to show thyself approved unto God."

"We should covet nothing but character," concluded Professor Morgan. "Ella Wilcox has said, 'When thy gaze falls upon thine own soul, be most severe; but when it falls upon thy fellow man, let kindness control.'"

Bisset Analyzes Civilizations In Chapel Talk

"Do we have a goal? Is our civilization advancing or disintegrating?" questioned Dr. Charles Bisset, head of the Social Science department, in his chapel talk, Thursday, Feb. 25.

Professor Bisset cited examples of ancient civilizations that developed to be very powerful and then declined leaving little trace of their existence.

Eighteen different civilizations have risen and declined. Our present civilization is either the eighteenth or nineteenth. Each was destroyed because it failed to achieve.

"Utopian goals," stated Dr. Bisset, "are: politically, a democracy; socially, the right to develop our best; and religiously, cultural perfection"

Dr. Bisset concluded by saying, "We should maintain as our symbol the kingdom of God. We cannot be half pagan and half Christian."
