New Member Of Staff Opens Year At Chapel

Education provides power greater than any other human power, but we must accompany knowledge with the right use of it and develop character and right direction, according to the Rev. M. B. Canon, '23, York College director of public relations, in his address to York College students Sept. 13, in the opening chapel of the school year.

"Life has three dimensions," stated Mr. Canon, "length, breadth, and depth. Education touches all to some degree. Medical science has lengthened life. Education has taught us to broaden our talents; but how do we use them after they are broadened?"

Methuselah lived 900 years; Christ lived only 33 years but the depth of his life gives him more influence over us today.

"The duty of any college," said Mr. Canon, "is to see that along with the wide development which we seek, right direction is also given. York College and those who teach here are dedicated to that end."

These intangible things are what our men are fighting for; they wouldn't fight for dollars, but for the "intangibles" which are truly the only realities of life today, was his closing thought.

C. of C. Entertains Faculty and Students

York Chamber of Commerce entertained York College students and faculty at a reception at the Hotel McCloud on September 10. Four "Pfc's" from the Fairmont Air Base furnished piano, guitar, accordion, and vocal selections.

Mr. Charles Bradwell, secretary, acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. P. L. Frandsen, manager of the J. C. Penny store and president of the Chamber of Commerce, extended a welcome in behalf of the business men; Roumaine Holt, freshman, Kansas City, Kans., responded.

Mr. Bradwell introduced the business men and President D. E. Weidler introduced the faculty and students.

Initiates For W. A. A. Receive "Works"

Five freshmen and two upper-class women were initiated, and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:00 to 6:00 decided upon as meeting dates at the Women's Athletic Association meeting September 23.

Those initiated were Jewell Daniel, sophomore, Lockport, New York; Doris Robinson, junior, Hutchinson, Kansas; freshmen, Katherine Cox and Lois Deal, Ames, Iowa; Lydia Garcia, Chacon, New Mexico; Ora Jane Brixey, Perkins, Oklahoma; Margaret Webb, DuBois; Rogene Carlson, Hordville; and Geraldine Schneider, Albuquerque, New Mexico. The girls became eligible to membership in the W. A. A. after various rites, the last of which was a chapel program given by the initiates after which they were full-fledged candidates for membership in the athletic association. Full membership is to be earned by the point system.

A picnic supper of wienies, apples, and doughnuts was served in the gym after the initiation.

FULL HOUSE

Hulitt Conservatory, the women's dormitory, is full to capacity this year. Three girls occupy each room on the third floor and two girls share each room on the second floor. Even the guest room is being used this year.

Rev. M. B. Canon

York Graduate Now On Staff

With the title, "Director of Public Relations", the Rev. M. B. Canon, pastor of the Dawson United Brethren church last year, has been added to the college administrative staff.

The Rev. Mr. Canon was graduated from York College in 1923, and has spent much of the time since in educational work as a teacher and as a superintendent of schools. More recently, he has been working on a Ph. D. at the University of Nebraska.

Speaking of the education he received at York, Mr. Canon said, "I not only received my A. B. at York College but also my MRS." (Mrs. Canon was Miss Viola Stoddard, a graduate of both York Academy and York College.)

The Canons have a son and a daughter, both enrolled in York high school. They moved to York in August and are living at 408 Thompson Ave.

Thus far, Mr. Canon has already attended most of the annual conferences in this area.

Y. W. C. A. Receives College Women With Annual Tea

Various bouquets of fall flowers were used as decorations for the Y. W. C. A. tea held at the United Brethren church on Tuesday, September 14, at 3:30 p. m. for all college women and faculty members with all new girls and freshmen girls as special guests.

As each of the fifty women and girls entered, she was given a colored paper butterfly by Esther Megill, sophomore of York, on which was inscribed her name. This inscription served the purpose of helping the girls to become better acquainted. Ethel Brooks, sophomore of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., welcomed the group in the absence of the president, the former Daisy Million, now Mrs. Everette Berry. Jane Little, freshman of York, responded for the new girls.

Maurine Marvel, junior of Giltner, played a piano solo by Rubinstein. Ruth Wiren, sophomore of Woodston, Kansas, gave a reading, "The Locket," and Winifred Smith, senior of Enid, Okla., sang "Fill Me, O Stars," and "The Great Sea."

From a lace covered table, Mrs. D. E. Weidler, church sponsor of Y. W., and Miss Anna J. Thompson, campus sponsor of Y. W. C. A., presided as hostesses. Tea, cake, candy, and nuts were served.

Classes Choose New Officers

Three states are represented by the newly elected class presidents. The seniors chose Bruce Herrick of Dayton, O., as their president, and the juniors chose LeRoy Bott of Alexander, Kans. Ethel Brooks of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was elected president of the sophomore class, and the freshmen chose Denny Auchard of Woodston, Kans.

Other officers of the senior class are Winifred Smith, of Enid, Okla., vice president; Margaret Trout Phillips, of Culbertson, secretary; Antonia Sepulveda, of Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, treasurer; Lester Boilesen, Cotesfield, Student Council representative; Wayne Kaeding of York and Antonia Sepulveda, Panther Club representatives; Martha Tucker, Great Bend, Kans., and Clifford Hartman, LeCompton, Kans., freshman court judges. Miss Zelda Wakelin was chosen class sponsor.

The junior class elected Maurine Marvel, Giltner, vice president; Mary Harris, Nelson, secretary-treasurer; Mary Miller, Dawson, Student Council representative; Howard Harris, Great Falls, Mont., and Doris Robinson, Hutchinson, Kans., Panther Club representatives; J. Hill Anglin, Amistad, N. Mx., and Frances Hickey, Spokane, Wash., freshmen court judges. Dr. F. C. Von Wicklen was chosen class sponsor.

The sophomores chose Dollie Anderson, Albuquerque, N. Mex., vice president; J. W. Tomlinson, Enid, Okla., secretary; Thelma Rockhold, Salina, Kans., treasurer; Irene Falk, Stromsburg, Student Council representative; Ruth Wiren, Woodston, Kans., and Esther Megill, York, Freshmen court judges; Don Hines, Yuma, Colo., and Roberta Berglin, Berthoud, Colo., Panther Club representatives. Dr. E. I. Doty was chosen sophomore class sponsor.

Other freshmen officers chosen were Roumaine Holt, Kansas City, Kans., vice president; Janey Little, York, secretary; Mary Jo Rankin, York, treasurer; Rex Megill, York, Student Council representative; Wayne Schwandt, LaCrosse, Kans., and Lois Deal, Ames, Iowa, Panther Club representatives; Roy

Faculty Boasts Three Additional Members

Two Graduates Come to York College To Fill Vacancies for Coming Year

Miss Maybelle Taylor Librarian

Mrs. Amy Johnson Math. and Phys. Ed.

Miss Irene Shipley Speech

Miss Maybelle Taylor, librarian, Mrs. Amy Speece Johnson, mathematics and physical education, and Miss Irene Shipley, speech, are new members of the faculty this fall.

Miss Taylor has her A. B. from York College, and her degree in library science from Denver University. She has also had experience as a high school principal, and as a librarian.

Mrs. Johnson is also a graduate of York College, and has had high school teaching experience.

Miss Shipley, another experienced public school teacher, has completed a major in speech at York College under the direction of Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the department for a number of years. Miss Shipley will conduct several classes as a part time teacher, and will complete requirements for a degree.

Church Welcomes Faculty And Students at Annual Reception

Professors Attend Meeting In Lincoln

Miss Edith Callender and Mrs. Helen Riddell, both of the English department, were among the York ladies who went to Lincoln on Saturday, September 18, to attend a district meeting and luncheon of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Riddell is regent of the local chapter this year, and Miss Callender is an ex-regent.

Livermore, Santa Cruz, N. Mex., freshman court judge. Mrs. Amy Johnson was chosen freshman sponsor.

Faculty and students were accorded the annual welcome of the college church at a reception held in the church parlors on the evening of September 15. Mrs. J. J. Schneider, '25, presided as mistress of ceremonies.

Mr. J. G. Alden, mayor of the city of York, was a guest speaker and extended a welcome on behalf of the townspeople. Dorothy Schneider played a piano solo, "Girl With the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy. Earl Jenkins, superintendent of the Sunday school, extended a welcome from that department of the church.

Barbara June Partlow played a violin solo, "Serenade Espagnol" by Fritz Kreisler. She was accompanied by Dorothy Schneider. Miss Edith Lancaster, a guest reader, gave two selections, "Ann Maria Simmons" and "The Ball Game".

Dr. G. T. Savery, pastor of the college church, gave a welcome from the entire church. President D. E. Weidler introduced the students by states. Ten states and Puerto Rico were represented.

The social rooms were decorated with fall flowers and foliage plants. The Christian and American flags were on either side of a table on which were flowers and candles. A fruit drink and wafers were the refreshments. Mrs. A. A. Metz was the chairman of the refreshment committee.

"BUILD ATTITUDES FOR LIFE PATTERN"

"Build attitudes of learning that will be sound. Don't be satisfied till you have them," advised Dr. E. I. Doty, head of the department of political science, speaking in chapel September 20. "Then accumulate facts that are dependable and complete, and study them to find a life pattern."

Dr. Doty protested that sometimes speakers tell students to have a good time, and that it doesn't matter whether they remember their courses or not. On the contrary, he insisted, students should get from college a body of clear cut facts and ideas that they can carry through life and utilize.

New 'Burr Staff at Work

MARY MILLER

Mary Miller, junior of Dawson, has taken up her duties as business manager of the Sandhurr. She was elected to this position by the Student Council last spring.

Miss Miller was a member of the staff last year, and acted as news editor in the spring when a shift of positions was made necessary after editor DuWayne Grimes was called to army service. During the summer term, Miss Miller edited the Sandhurrette.

MRS. MARGARET GASTON

Mrs. Margaret Gaston, junior of Bradshaw, has been secured to fill the editor's chair in the place of Lee Huebert who was elected last spring but resigned about September first to return to his former position as minister and teacher at Helvey.

Mrs. Gaston was a member of the Sandhurr staff last year and is said to be much interested in editorial work. She is also active in Y. W. C. A. and in Life Work Recruits.

Harris Heads The Panther Club

Panther club members elected Howard Harris, Great Falls, Mont., as their president in a recently held meeting. Wayne Kaeding, York, was chosen as vice president and Roberta Berglin, Berthoud, Colo., was elected secretary and treasurer. Club sponsors chosen were Dr. E. I. Doty and Miss Doris Gilmore.

ZETAS

Plans were made for completing the honor roll of the Zeta Literary Society at their first meeting, September 21. The president, J. Hill Anglin, junior, Amistad, New Mexico, read important sections of the constitution to the members. In the business meeting, plans were made for future meetings.

Refreshments of popcorn and apples were served by the sponsor, Miss Doris Gilmore, secretary to President D. E. Weidler.

President Says

The fifty-fourth year of the history of York College promises to be notable by reason of the fact that before its close the college will be freed entirely of debt. Probably never before has this been true. During the drouth years and the depression the debt rose from forty-five thousand to seventy-five thousand. At the beginning of this college year we owe $23,000.00. Our debt liquidation depends upon our success in raising $15,000.00 among our alumni and friends and the completion of the Golden Jubilee Fund in the churches of the Southwest District. Without exception the conferences in their recent sessions have recorded their intentions to complete this $25,000.00 fund by May 1, 1944. About $10,000 remains to be raised.

When all alumni and former students have done their part in cooperation with the churches and the Yorw community, we shall be entirely free of debt and launched on the campaign for the Greater York College, which campaign is now being organized by the Board of Trustees. Within the next few weeks the Sandburr will carry the story of the plans of the faculty and the trustees for the York College of the immediate future.

President.

Froshies Plead Guilty; Court Gives Sentences

The honorable freshman court judges meet every noon at 12:30 in the chapel to try and to sentence the freshmen for violation of rules concerning the wearing of freshman caps, leaning against buildings, etc. Chief Judge Clifford Hartman very solemnly presides as the other judges, Martha Tucker, Frances Hickey, J. Hill Anglin, Ruth Wiren, Esther Megill, and Roy Livermore conspire in their corner.

A very picturesque demonstration of how Max Allen leaned on the piano was presented for the court. J. W. Tomlinson gave his interpretation of the scene including the facial expressions. Max was sentenced to one week of talking only in a whisper at the table.

When Lois Anderson was asked how she was leaning, she very nonchalantly replied, "Oh, very comfortably." We notice however, that she cleaned an upper classman's room and also held burial services for a poor little dead mouse.

Roumaine Holt kept the entire "Con" awake until after midnight one night while she hunted, "Frank Buck style", for a cricket. When she took it to court the next day, His Honor, Mr. Hartmann, was looking for Prof. Noll to declare the specimen authentic.

Escorts were provided for Dick McCannon when he admitted he didn't know there was a railing in the library.—Now he knows! Roy Livermore loves to see things kept tidy; so he washed the posts south of the Administration building. He evidently is mathematically inclined too, because he was seen counting the bricks in the sidewalk from the building to the street.

It may be a little out of season, but Denny Auchard likes to fish any time, and from the looks of things, anywhere. Imagine a college student sitting in downtown York, barefoot and fishing from a bucket! One of the handiest persons on the campus is Dorothy Whitacre. She stood on the front steps and told the exact time to everyone she saw. In a nearby tree, Leonore Herrick shouted "cuckoo" to everyone who passed that way.

Wayne Schwindt made an adorable girl in his broom-stick skirt and bright red hose. When Jane Little and Mary Jo Rankin were sentenced by Judge Hartman to bring a piece of lemon chiffon pie to court, Mary Jo cried, "Oh, sugar". His Honor informed her that sweet talk like that wouldn't help her any.

More freshman who like to see things kept clean are Marjorie Thornton who washed dishes, and Opal Keller who washed pots and pans and emptied waste baskets at the "Con". Sylvia Anderson showed her enthusiasm for work by sweeping the sidewalks all over the campus. She was even seen washing her teeth on the library steps.

Kenneth Irwin was a little late in coming to college; so Ora Jane Brixey took him by the hand and led him to all of his classes.

After only one week of freshman court, the freshman are learning the "proper respect" for the upper classmen. More of them are pleading guilty every day; maybe they've discovered that it does no good to argue.

In War Service

Phyllis Foster, '43 joined the WAVES in August and was sent to Hunter College, Bronx, New York, for "boot" training. Recently, she was transferred to a point on the west coast. Her address has not yet been learned.

J. Calvin Crouse, ex-'46, writes from Chicago where he is with the U. S. Air Forces that he is now in a university great in size and equipment, but that he misses the brotherly, Christian spirit of York College, and that he hopes to return to York College after his army service is over.

Deane Tack, ex-'43, and Edwin Seward, ex-'46, are both located at Foster General Hospital, Jackson, Miss. Tack is in Barracks No. 1, and Seward in Barracks No. 8, but their duties are very similar. They had basic training at Camp Robinson where each discovered that the other was a former Y. C. student. Then they had two months in Hot Springs in the medical technician school before going to Jackson.

Having completed a five months training period at Rockhurst College at Kansas City, Mo., Everett Thornton, ex-'44, has been transferred to San Antonio, Texas, to await classification and further orders.

VISIT BROTHER

Miss Esther Thornton, '39, of Billings, Montana, spent a few days on the campus this week following a trip to Kansas City, Mo., where her brother, Everett Thornton, ex-'44, has been in training for the air corps. She was joined there Friday by her sister, Marjorie Thornton, freshman, also of Billings, and they returned to York together.

Organizations Plan Fall Banquet

The Student Council and Panther club have acted favorably upon the resolution to promote an autumn banquet to be held in place of Home-Coming and the football banquet. A queen will be chosen to reign on this occasion. The date has been set for November 5. Further details will be worked out by the two organizations and announced at a later date.

The U. S. Treasury says the average dollar bill lasts nine months. That hasn't been our experience.

Education vs. War

Dr. Isaiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins University, made the statement recently that the courses offered in the colleges and universities at the present time need not be called education. The war effort has caused shortened training courses, and industry and science are urging students to become interested in their fields of study, according to Dr. Bowman.

The scientific and industrial worlds do not grant degrees for liberal arts. This fact does not mean that a person does not have an education if he chooses his life work from one of these fields. Industry and science must be perpetuated by skilled workers.

The liberal arts must not be forgotten, however. They are the subjects which are outstanding in curriculums while other subjects rise and decline according to the times.

We Forge Ahead

A decrease in enrollment due to the war has appeared on the office books this year. Enthusiasm, pep, and loyalty have not followed the downward trend, however.

One example of college spirit has been shown in the way the students, new and old, have responded with material for the Sandburr. The staff has only three experienced members and several volunteer reporters. But there is no lack of determination to carry on.

The traditions of York College are important to us even as they were and are important to the alumni. We must do our best to see that these traditions are handed on to another generation.

Here's to the year ahead of us.

The Editor Reflects

The Mail Box

(Ed. Note: Service men and women are invited to write to this column.)

Midshipman F. Lester Auchard (Y. C. '43) business manager of the Sandburr last year, is now stationed at Northwestern University with other naval reserves, including Eugene Severin of the same class.

Auchard writes: "We are stationed on the Chicago campus of Northwestern University in a very beautiful place on Lake Shore Drive. Our academic work consists of three courses, ordnance and gunnery, navigation, and seamanship. Besides this, we'll have infantry drill, boat-pulling drills, practical drills as gun crews, and many others. It sums up to the fact that we are a very busy bunch of boys . . ."

"I was very happy to get the Sandburrette, and shall look forward to the Sandburr before long."

Eloise Tabor, also of the class of '43, and editor of the Sandburr last spring after former editor, DuWayne Grimes, '43, was called to the army, writes from Chicago where she is located as a member of the Coast Guard Reserve after having enlisted in July. She says in part:

"I am already a bit lonesome for Y. C., and part of that loneliness comes from missing my work on the paper. It was hard work, but I enjoyed it all.

"When I left, I think I said I was going to Florida for training, and that was just what I did. I did not like the climate very well, for it was truly hot in July and August; so I was more than happy to be sent to Chicago. Here I am working in the Recruiting Office. To get the kind of work I want, and to be sent to Chicago, too, is more than I had ever hoped for.

"Chicago is known as the "Service Men's Paradise", and I must agree that the people have done a great deal to keep us happy. We have many service clubs with every kind of entertainment, free bus transportation, and many entertainments apart from the service clubs. There are departments in the clubs for everything from eating to music appreciation.

"The girls with whom I work are a fine bunch. There never seems to be any friction at all, and the morale is as high as could be desired. We have wonderful officers, too."

Freshman Impressions

My first impressions of York College are entirely personal and do not necessarily reflect those of any other freshman. To date, with only one or two exceptions, all impressions have been pleasant. I declare, though, some day I'm going to haunt those upper classmen who make up the freshman court.

But it is fun to attend a college where every one knows every one else, and where the upper classmen treat a frosh like a human being. When I started to college with that queer feeling inside that one gets when he encounters something new, I did not know everyone would act as if my individual efforts counted for something.

It is not hard at all to make friends here, if one really wants to. Another thing that both amazes and delights me is the sense of humor of our professors. No wonder there is such a loyal spirit when the teachers and students work together instead of against each other. All these things take the drudgery out of college life and put into it a spirit of adventure. One sentence will sum up all my impressions of college life: "I love it!"

H. J. L. '47.

To you who have not come into contact with dormitory life, may I say that we are just one "big, happy family", even to the extent that the house mother comes around each evening to see that the girls are in bed, or at least, in. (One o'clock on Tuesday morning found "Yours truly" looking for a cricket! Wonder why?)

Freshman initiation provides variety to spice our lives. I am sure everyone enjoys it. Certainly the freshmen are taking it with a smile, and that helps.

And let's not forget the faculty. I'm sure everyone appreciates the fact that they are one of the most important factors of our college life. Surely, no other college has a more understanding and efficient group of instructors. Certainly, they deserve our most whole hearted cooperation.

Even though we are few in numbers, our spirits are high. We freshmen can do our bit to make this one of the best years in the history of York College.

FEATURE SECTION . . .

We tried to keep it a secret. But the faculty suspected it when Dean Amadon heard a sweet, feminine, freshman "Cuckoo!" from the depths of one of the campus trees. Now the townspeople are beginning to wonder. Some have even gone so far as to ask questions. "Young man," said a lady to a blue-capped individual whom she found fishing in the pail on a busy street corner, "Are you all right?" But he wasn't so dumb. His day's catch included money, candy, gum, and what have you.

SHORT STORY . . .

For as many years as there have been freshmen, it seems that sooner or later they would learn not to believe everything they see and hear. 'Tis said a "good" little freshman girl paid 25c for a chapel seat. Oh well ! ! ! ! Upper classmen must have their fun.

Spanked A King

President D. E. Weidler in speaking to the Y. M. C. A. at their opening meeting of the year, expressed his interest in the new students and related some of his experiences as a teacher in the mission schools of Sierra Leone, West Africa.

To illustrate the possibilities found in youth, President Weidler told of several outstanding men who had graduated from the African mission schools. Two of these graduates, a doctor and a chief, were recognized by the King of England on his birthday.

"There are six kings in the United Brethren denomination. I had the very distinct honor of spanking one of them, a pupil of mine," said Pres. Weidler.

"There are places of responsibility waiting for all youth," concluded Pres. Weidler.

PALS

Sharing summer memories with an audience of PALS, ex-merchant marine, Howard Harris, junior, Great Falls, Mont., painted a word picture of a rough night at sea, Roberta Berglin, sophomore, Berthoud, Colo., conducted a visit to a dude ranch in Colo., and Margaret Phillips, senior, Culbertson, showed pictures of historical places she visited last summer in Washington, D. C. at the first regular meeting Sept. 21.

Antonia Sepulveda, senior, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, and Margaret Phillips, took the oath of office for student council representative and music co-chairman respectively to fill vacancies left by Rachel Gackle, ex-'46, and Dick Riggs, ex-'46, who is now in the navy.

Miss Mary Alice Slee, faculty critic of PALS and head of the education department, will give a book review at the next meeting, Oct. 5.

SLEE VISITS LINCOLN

Miss Mary Alice Slee, head of the department of education, attended the state meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club in Lincoln, September 18 and 19. Miss Slee is the state chairman of the International Relations Committee.

Dr. Savery Reveals "Where to Find God"

"One way to prove that our way of finding God is superior to other ways is to see what it does to us. If our faith produces a better man or woman in us we can call it good, for an evil tree does not bring forth good fruit," stated Dr. G. T. Savery, college pastor, in his formal chapel talk on "Where to Find God" September 23.

Dr. Savery mentioned that God can be found wherever there is human need and suffering. If the heart is sincerely in quest of God the outward trimmings need make little difference.

"Don't ever be guilty of saying, 'There is only one way to God and that is my way,'" urged Dr. Savery in conclusion.

W.A.A. CHOOSE OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Antonia Sepulveda, senior, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, and Martha Cox, sophomore, Espanola, New Mexico, were elected president and vice president of the Women's Athletic Association at the first meeting, September 15.

Professor Amy Johnson and Professor Zeldia Wakelin were chosen co-sponsors.

Other officers were secretary, Jewell Daniel, sophomore, Lockport, New York; treasurer, Esther Megill, sophomore, York; Panther Club representative, Ruby Grandon, sophomore, Burrton, Kansas; Student Council representative, Imogene Bland, sophomore, Shelby.

Winifred Smith, senior, Enid, Oklahoma, Esther Megill, Ruby Grandon, and Imogene Bland were appointed to plan for the initiation of new members.

AUNT DIES

The faculty and student body of York College extend their sympathy to Miss Eda Rankin of the piano department, whose aunt, Miss Harriet Niles, passed away September 13. Miss Niles, who had made her home with Miss Rankin and her mother for a number of years, died following a lengthy illness.

This Fall, you'll turn to Russ Williams for quality clothes.

Y.W.C.A. Meet to Discover Talents

The Y. W. C. A. devoted the first meeting of the year, Tuesday, September 21, to the purpose of discovering the talents of new students. Everyone was asked to indicate her particular talent or any other way in which she chose to help make Y. W. meetings more interesting.

Lydia Garcia, freshman of Chacon, New Mexico, sang "Cielito Lindo," and "Mejicana Rosa," accompanied by Elaine Goodwin, freshman of Shickley. Loraine Garlock, senior of Trenton, Missouri, led devotions. She stressed the fact that talents are not only shown in the ability to entertain in public, but also by the acceptance of the responsibility of tasks which are assigned daily.

Thelma Rockhold, sophomore of Salina, Kansas, read Kathryn Kimball's "Appleblossoms," and Roumaine Holt, freshman of Kansas City, Kansas, sang "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise."

College men, don't forget Russ Williams for all your clothing needs.

Student Coach

Wayne Kaeding, York's all-state basketball star, has been appointed to the position of student coach of Y. C. athletics. Professor R. E. Townsend has accepted the responsibility of sponsoring the athletic program in cooperation with Kaeding. Coach Kaeding has the physical education classes well under way with golf, tennis, volleyball, and basketball.

We are happy to welcome York College Students back to school. Russ Williams.

O. G. Members Remember Mission

A Christmas offering for missions was taken, and a lesson on the theme of "Spiritual Guidance in the Home" was presented by Mary Miller, junior, Dawson, at the Otterbein Guild guest meeting September 16.

The Christmas offering, which took the place of the Christmas boxes usually sent to missions, amounted to $6.50. This money will go to China and Santa Domingo.

Irma Galbraith, Secretary of Stewardship, reminded the girls that it is time to start working on the Otterbein Guild Essay contest. The essays are to be written on the subject, "Creating Christian Attitudes in Today's World". The contest closes December 20. The writer of the best essay will receive a prize, and her essay will be sent to the state Secretary of Stewardship to be judged with the winning essays from other chapters. The winner of the state contest will receive a Testament bound in white leather. Her essay will be sent to Dayton. The winner there will have her picture and her essay printed in the Evangel.

Patricia Weidler, sophomore, York, sang "O, Happy Home" during the meeting.

Twelve members and nine guests were present. Jello and cookies were served by the refreshment committee.

MISS PEARSON GOES TO PIANO CLASS

Miss Gladys Pearson of the piano department attended a piano master class given in Lincoln by Rosina Lhevinne on Saturday, September 18.

Each session consisted of discussions led by Mrs. Lhevinne on technical problems, tone production, phrasing, pedaling, and memorizing, using individual problems of those performing. Mrs. Lhevinne with her even more noted husband, Joseph Lhevinne, have toured Europe and America, and are unanimously acclaimed as leaders in the two-piano as well as solo field.

Besides her career as a gifted concert pianist, Mrs. Lhevinne has been a member of the faculty of Juillard Graduate in New York for twenty years.

For the best in men clothes go to Russ Williams—Clothers.

They Tramped These Halls

By PROF. J. C. MORGAN

We quote the following from a letter to the college office from Midshipman Lester Auchard, '43. (He is located at the Great Lakes Naval Station.) "Y. C. has meant more to me here than I can say in words. If anyone should ask you, I think that York is the swellest college alive. I surely wish I were walking in her halls this fall."

A very appreciative letter is also received from Miss Eloise Tabor, '43. After four weeks of "Boot" training, she was sent out on recruiting and is stationed at Chicago. She was editor of the Sandburr the latter part of last year.

Evan Pickrel, ex-'43, graduated on August 25 from the Naval Air Training Center, Corpus Christi, Texas, and was commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Miss Dorothy Garland, ex-'42, graduated from the Iowa Methodist Hospital, Des Moines, Iowa, September 2. She is now a registered nurse and will soon be called to serve with the armed forces.

Leslie O. Callahan, ex-'35, has completed the aviation meteorology cadet course at Grand Rapids, Mich., and was graduated as a weather officer. He will be assigned as officer in charge of a weather station.

Pfc. Melvin A. Thompson, '34, graduated August 17 from the clerical and administrative school at Ft. Logan, Colo., and has been transferred to Hill Field, Ogden, Utah.

Clarence O. Miller, '40, will teach mathematics and science at the Joes School, Yuma, Colo. He attended Greeley State Teachers College this summer.

Clarence G. Carlson, '41, will coach at Ainsworth, Nebr.

Miss Lillian Bearss, '26, who taught last year at a Japanese relocation center, will teach this year at Sangan, California.

Sylvia Estey, ex-'44, will spend her senior year at the University of Denver and will major in library science.

Neil Robson, '30, is Red Cross field supervisor at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Dorothy Bittinger, '38, visited in California this summer with her sisters, Evelyn, ex-'37, and Mrs. Donald Cash.

Lt. Mervin Patterson, ex-'31, was graduated from the adjutant general school at Ft. Washington, Md. on June 30, and was assigned to service command at Omaha.

The death of Congressman U. S. Guyer of Kansas City, Kansas, occurred the past summer. He was a graduate of Western College, predecessor of Leander Clark College, and he was best known in Congress for his crusading against liquor and for the reinstating of prohibition.

Lt. Harold Haberman, '41, received his wings on July 28 at Ponca City, Okla. He is now located at Milwaukee, Wis.

Frances Bullock, '42, will teach this year in the Fairmont high school.

Mrs. Arthur W. Melloh, (Ardith Kull, '30), visited on the campus recently. Mr. Melloh is an electrical engineer, now in the employ of the U. S. government, and is stationed at Washington, D. C. Their permanent residence is 863 D. Ave., Coronado, California.

Mrs. Betty Davis (Eva King, Academy 1915-'17) is head of the personnel in General Marshal's office. She is applying for foreign service.

Jolly-Up Opens Frosh Initiation

Another freshman class passed under the yoke of the upper-classmen Friday night as the annual Jolly-Up, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. marked the official opening of freshman initiation.

The freshmen, classed as the kindergarten, were entertained by a typical first-grade program presented by the upper-classmen under the direction of "Professor" LeRoy Bott, junior of Alexander, Kansas.

Faculty numbers on the program included two solos, "The Little Woman", and "Lucky Jim", by Dean Charles A. Amadon of the voice department, and a reading entitled, "She takes her child to school", by Miss Irene Shipley of the speech department. Following the program, refreshments, consisting of doughnuts and apples, were served.

Ratzlaff Gets Service Citation

Pfc. Robert Ratzlaff, '41 has been cited for excellent performance of duty with the sixteenth medical regiment now stationed in North Africa, according to his father, P. J. Ratzlaff of Henderson, who recently received a letter from him enclosing the citation.

"I don't believe I'll ever make a good soldier", Ratzlaff is reported to have written his father, "but when I see a wounded man, I can't help rushing to the rescue."

While in college, Ratzlaff majored in biological science, and was a member of the college band and of the Y. M. C. A. During the latter part of his course, he was employed as a part time clerk at the Hotel McCloud.

The trend this year is to Russ Williams—the store that's going places on its styles and value appeal.

Bachman Speaks Of Four Walls

Presenting a challenge to build the four walls—the church, the public schools, the home, and the community—on the one foundation, Jesus Christ, Dean W. E. Bachman spoke Sept. 16, at the first formal chapel of this school year.

"The church has two functions," said Dr. Bachman. "It is a field for nurture, guidance, help, and development. Also we must work to make it a force."

Our public school buildings impress aliens more than many other things in our civilization, according to Dean Bachman, who brought out the fact that what we must have in the life of a people we must first put into the schools.

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." Examples of the Christian way of life in the homes will instill in children the Christian way of living.

A slogan in a town in Massachusetts reads: "By cooperative effort we build here a righteous effort." "There is no reason," concluded Dr. Bachman, "to have division among religions. Let us dedicate ourselves to building these four walls."
