Special 'Burr Planned For May 10

Special Easter Services At College Church

A candlelight observance and holy communion service, the Good Friday program, the Easter Sunrise service, Easter Sunday morning service and the pageant "He Is Risen" will be the Easter services at the College church this year.

The candlelight observance and holy communion service will be held Maundy Thursday, March 29, at 8 o'clock at the College church. The Rev. G. T. Savery will preside.

The traditional three hour Good Friday program, sponsored by the Ministerial Association of York, will be held March 30 at the Methodist church from noon till three o'clock. The speakers will be the Rev. F. C. Friederick of the Methodist Church, the Rev. O'Linn McGuire of the Baptist-Congregational Church, the Rev. G. R. Miller of the Christian Church, the Rev. W. J. Hage of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Maude V. Mann of the Shiloh United Brethren Church, the Rev. Eric B. Asboe of the Episcopal Church and the Rev. G. T. Savery of the United Brethren Church.

The Easter Sunrise service will be sponsored by the Christian Youth Union of the city at Harrison park at 6:30 a. m. April 1. The worship service will be conducted by the young people of the various churches. A breakfast will be served at Harrison Park following the service.

The Easter Sunday morning service will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Savery. There will be the sacrament of baptism and the reception of new members. The services will begin at 11 o'clock.

The pageant, "He Is Risen", will be put on by the children's division of the church for the Sunday evening service. The pageant revealing the Easter morning scene and story is being sponsored by Mrs. B. O. Callahan and Mrs. G. T. Savery.

Former Faculty Member Dies

Mrs. E. E. Emhoff, member of the first faculty of York College, died at her home in Berthoud, Colo., on March 10, according to announcement made recently by York papers.

Mrs. Emhoff came to York as Miss Floy Lawrence from Western College in Iowa, her native state. She was the first director of music at this institution and was on the faculty when the Administration building was erected.

In 1892, she married Dr. Robert McConaughy, a York physician, and following his death she married the Rev. E. E. Emhoff, then pastor of the local Presbyterian church. During her residence in York, she was prominent in social and musical circles, and for many years was organist at the local Presbyterian church. Most of the time since her marriage to Dr. Emhoff, they have lived in Colorado, where he is now a pastor.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Margaret Fitchett, freshman of Des Moines, Iowa, was hostess to the "Con" women at a party Saturday night when Peggy Ford, freshman of Mullinville, Kans., announced her engagement to Pvt. John Sherer who is now stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. The date for the wedding has not been announced.

Will Feature Individual And Group Pictures

Almost every student will be pictured in the special edition of the Sandburr, May 10. Group pictures and accompanying stories will be featured in the paper.

Because of wartime conditions it will again be impossible to have a Marathon, and the double insert in the special Sandburr will act as a substitute.

Individual pictures and sketches of the seniors and juniors will be presented. The sophomore and freshman classes will be represented by group pictures. A short history will be written about each class.

Group pictures and features will include the following: second generation students, states representatives, pre-ministerial students, chorus, Press Guild, and Life Work Recruits.

A brief history and resume of projects sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA will be presented.

A "Flashback" of the sports season will accompany a picture of the basketball team.

Miss Wirz Tells Zetas About India

Miss Frieda Wirz, former missionary to India and present Red Cross worker and school nurse in York, spoke to the Zeta Literary Society on "The Cultures of India" at their meeting March 20. Miss Wirz, dressed in the native costume, with a sari, showed pictures of India and told of the Indian customs and especially of their education, art, music, poetry, and language.

"The sari", explained Miss Wirz, "is used as a towel, a basket, or as pockets, in which to carry everything from money to babies, and to cover the face at night. It is really a most practical costume, for one can get fat or thin and it doesn't make much difference, and one never has to worry about style."

Miss Wirz told of the college girls in India who have banded themselves together in the Indian Women's Association in order to gradually put away the distinction between men and women.

"One of the arts in which the Indian people do beautiful work is sewing," said Miss Wirz. "They use simple designs for decoration which they have learned from childhood by drawing in the sand. The women, when they wish to clean a floor, spread it over with fresh cow dung. After this is dry, they draw designs on it with red, yellow, white, or some other color of paste made from rice."

The Indian people love music, but always play in the minor key. Their concerts usually begin at ten and last until five or five-thirty in the morning. Preachers often learn their sermons and set them to music. The people also are very good in dramatics, and have written beautiful poetry. They have some of the finest sculpture and painting on earth.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Miss Maybelle Taylor, sponsor.

MUSIC STUDENTS SING AT P. E. O.

Miss Romaine Holt, soprano, sophomore, Kansas City, Kans., and the Junior Trio, Misses Pattie Weidler, York, Irene Falk, Stromsburg, and Dollie Anderson, Albuquerque, N. Mex., presented a musical program for the P. E. O. at the home of Mrs. F. C. Middlebrook.

Sunbonnet Sue And Overall Jim Furnish Theme For Spring Banquet

Mrs. Johnson And Ramos Barela Chosen As Typical "Sue" And "Jim"

"Sunbonnet Sue and Overall Jim" furnished decorations and program at the Annual Spring Banquet held March 23, at the United Brethren church.

Rows of little "Sunbonnet Sues" and "Overall Jims" made from colored paper standing between bouquets of sweet peas made up the spring decorations for the banquet.

Don Hines, senior, Yuma, Colo., introduced Betty Stauffer, freshman, Meadow Grove, and Rudolph Rojahn, freshman, Stockton, Calif., who sang "Sunbonnet Sue." Mrs. Amy Johnson, York, and Ramos Barela, freshman, Espanola, N. Mex., were selected as the typical "Sunbonnet Sue" and "Overall Jim" at the banquet.

Miss Zelda Wakelin of the modern language department, said "The co-ed of today, co-eds like the ones at York College, are the typical Sunbonnet Sues of today," in her toast, "Sue's Sentiments."

A musical biography of "Sunbonnet Sue and Overall Jim" was presented by Wanda Wantz, sophomore, Orchard, as her "Growing Pains" toast.

"The Country Belle" a humorous reading, was given by Jean Rasp, sophomore, Shelby.

Kenneth Hicks, Iola, Kan., gave "Jim's" family history in the toast, "Jim's Jokes."

The finale was a musical salute to "Sunbonnet Sue and Overall Jim" given by the members of the quartette and duet.

The banquet was sponsored by the Student Council. Dr. Charles Bisset is the adviser.

"Y" Club Initiates Six New Members

The election of "Y" Club officers and the initiation of six new members took place on the afternoon of March 22, at the college gymnasium. Two other new members were initiated the first semester.

The officers elected are: Wayne Schwindt, LaCrosse, Kansas, president; Eloy Martinez, Antonito, Colo., secretary-treasurer; J. W. Tomlinson, Enid, Okla., Student Council representative; Willis Friesen, Henderson, sergeant at arms.

The new members initiated are Willis Friesen, Henderson; Don Robson, Thayer; Bob Moomey, York; Ramos Barela, Espanola, New Mex.; Jim Townsend, York; J. W. Tomlinson, Enid, Okla.; and the two other members initiated last semester are Wayne Schwindt, LaCrosse, Kan., and Eloy Martinez, Antonio, Colo.

W. A. A. Picnics In Harrison Park

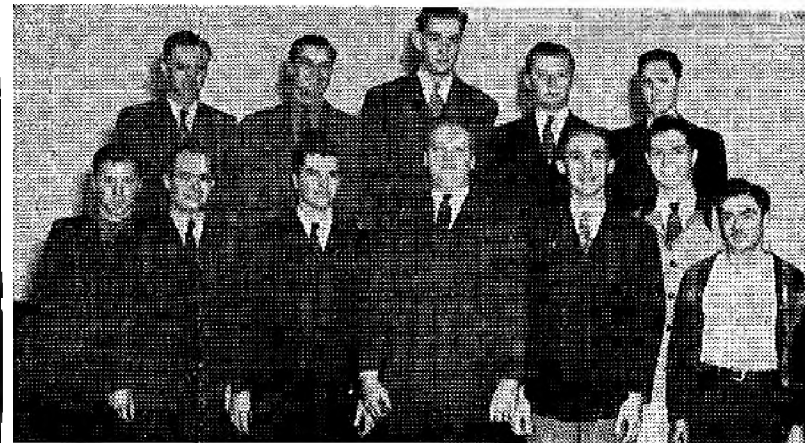

"Gee! These weiners are good!" "May I have the knife next?" or "I believe I'll eat onions, anyway" were some of the remarks overheard at the W. A. A. picnic held at Harrison park, last Thursday.

Thirteen members of the Women's Athletic Association were in attendance. Members of the committee in charge of plans were Margaret Fitchett, freshman, Des Moines, Ia.; Peggy Ford, freshman, Mullinville, Kans.; and Betty Jean Schoonover, freshman, Des Moines, Ia.

NOTICE

When? April 5, at 8:00 P. M.
Where? Weidler home.
What? Otterbein Guild meeting and installation of officers.

Allen Heads Pre-theos

Max Allen, sophomore, Washta, Ia., was elected president of the newly organized group of pre-ministerial students at their meeting held March 19.

Other officers elected are: Vice president, J. L. Garland, junior, Shelby; secretary-treasurer, Rudolph Rojahn, freshman, Stockton, Calif.; Pres. D. E. Weidler is the sponsor of the group and Dean Walter E. Bachman and Dr. G. T. Savery are advisers.

"We hope, by means of this organization, to create better fellowship, both spiritually and socially, among the ministerial students," stated Max Allen, president. "This organization is the first of its kind to be instituted on the campus. Although this is not a class, the members will study the history and government of the church, and discuss the problems of young ministers."

Marjorie Thornton Gives Recital

Junior Trio Assists

Amid a setting of palms and mixed bouquets, Marjorie Thornton, sophomore, Billings, Mont., assisted by the Junior Trio with Miss Eda Rankin, her instructor, as organist, was presented by York College Conservatory in piano-forte recital recently.

Miss Thornton presented three groups of selections. The first was "Invention" and "Prelude" by Bach and Sonata, Op. 27, No. 2 in three movements, Adagio sostenuto, Allegretto, and Presto agitato by Beethoven.

Misses Pattie Weidler, soprano, York, Irene Falk, second soprano, Stromsburg, and Dollie Anderson, alto, Albuquerque, N. Mex., accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Auchard, Woodston, Kans., sang "Play Gypsies-Dance Gypsies" by Emmerich Kalman, "Will o' the Wisp" by Charles Gilbert Spross and "Summer" by Chaminade.

The second group of piano numbers was "Clair de Lune" by Debussy and "In Deep Woods", "Indian Idyl", "Concert Etude" all by Mac Dowell.

The next trio selections were "Dearest Lord Jesus" by Bach and "A Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton.

Miss Thornton concluded her recital with "Capriccio Brillante" by Mendelssohn with Miss Rankin accompanying her at the organ.

Y. M., Y. W. Plan Convention

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are making plans for a young people's convention to be held in April, according to Reva Mae Allen, Y. W. C. A. program chairman, sophomore, Washta, Ia.

It has been customary to have a district convention with a host college and visiting college groups taking part, Miss Allen said. But because of the wartime transportation and housing situation each college has been asked to conduct its own meeting.

In a recent Y. W. C. A. meeting Jane Martin, freshman, Concordia, Kans.; Hope Howland, freshman, Great Falls, Mont.; and Ruth Miller of Dawson, related their experiences at the last district convention. A similar plan to the one used at that convention will be carried out at the April convention.

Three Act Comedy April 20

The date, April 20, and place, the College Chapel, have been chosen for the presentation of the three act comedy "The Belles in Waiting" by Barbara West. A cast of eleven is now working on the production under the direction of Miss Irene Shipley, head of the speech department, and Mary Kathryn Armstrong, junior, Lincoln.

Attend Pre-Easter Services

York College, in cooperation with the college church, has observed a number of special pre-Easter services this week. Last Sunday, Palm Sunday, Dean C. E. Ashcraft of Dayton, O., gave the morning sermon at the college church. This week the college has conducted a formal chapel each morning reviewing the events of Passion Week. Tonight holy communion will be observed at the college church and tomorrow there will be a three hour Good Friday service at the Methodist Church. These will all be climaxed by the Easter services next Sunday morning. It is hoped Y. C. students will attend as many of these services as possible.

Are You Interested In Conscription?

Setting forth the pros and cons of "Conscription For Peacetime", Hanson W. Baldwin, in an article by that name in the March Harper's Magazine, discusses the issue in regard to health, discipline and character, leadership, citizenship and education, politics, economics, and psychological and moral effects. Mr. Baldwin is, and we quote the editors of Harper's, "a civilian who stands in the top rank of writers in military and naval affairs and knows the armed services well."

Mr. Baldwin also considers international arguments for and against peacetime conscription, and examines the question from a military point of view. We would recommend that you add this article to your March reading list if you are interested in this, "one of the greatest issues of our time."

They Tramped These Halls

By PROF. J. C. MORGAN

In the previous issue of the Sandburr credit should have been given to the New Teller for that story about Lt. Waldo and Lt. Wayne Dahlstedt. It is too good a story not to have credit given to the right source, and of course it is self-evident that the historian could not have written it.

Rev. Edward Auchard, '41, writes that the first United Brethren service in St. Louis will be held on April 8. The Rev. Mr. Auchard was appointed last summer to undertake this work. A letter from him contains this interesting paragraph setting forth his impressions of St. Louis:

"The city is full of interest to us. Neither my wife nor I had ever lived in a great center before. We are fascinated by the vastness, the system, the advantages, the crowds and variety of people, the evil and the good, the ugly and the beautiful, in such an urban area. In many ways we find that St. Louis is distinctive, with the historic French, Spanish, and German culture stratas, the appreciation of music and art and beauty that has inspired the St. Louis symphony orchestra and the opera, Shaw's Gardens, the art gallery, the army colleges, the two great universities, and the two seminaries here, the mingling of East, West, North, and South, and that flavor of life here that prompted Winston Churchill to call this "the typical American City."

Miss Evelyn Beason, '42, writes of her work at the McCurdy Mission, Santa Cruz, New Mex., of special two week religious services conducted by Rev. A. L. Brandstetter, K. C. U. '21, and of her first opportunity of seeing the Penitentes in their ceremonies.

Lt. (j.g.) Charles Whitney, '40, writes that his ship has been at sea for a year now, in the Caribbean and in the Pacific. He has covered a lot of miles and seen a lot of interesting sights, but still thinks, "see America first" is the best motto.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker, '41, were campus visitors a week ago. They are moving from Portland, Ore. to Chicago, Ill., where Mr. Walker has a position as a chemist.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Dierdorff, '42, were campus visitors last week-end. Dr. Dierdorff is a former Sandburr editor.

New Addresses

Miss Evalina Caldwell, '37, Cereti, Bolivar, Columbia, S. A.
The address of Mrs. Henry Struckman, (May Rogers, ex-'24) is Ord, Nebr., R. F. D.

Miss Florence Eutsler, ex-'44, is teaching this year at Roy, New Mex. She finds teaching very much to her liking.

The address of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Helzer, '29, is 2087 So. Sherman, Denver, Colo.

In The Armed Service

New addresses for Pvt. Lester A. Boilissen, '44, and Pvt. Edwin Seward, ex-'46, are on file in the college office. Also those of Lt.

The Dean Speaks: Fifty Great Christian Teachings

Ninth in a Series of Chapel Talks

There are many great Christian teachings. These teachings come to us in the form of principles, standards, purposes, and ideals, which are directly applicable to the various aspects of personal and social life, and which may aid in the solution of personal and social problems of the present day.

Fifty great Christian teachings are stated below, in alphabetical order, with a suggested passage of scripture and a quotation from some other source presented in connection with each one for purposes of stimulating thought. Students may well engage in a further study of these fifty teachings, for purposes of elaboration and clarification, as well as undertake to formulate a second list of fifty, a third list, and still more, with much profit derived from the process of making such lists.

The teachings given below are at the heart of the life and teachings of Jesus, they are prominent themes found in the Bible, they are proclaimed by the Christian church, and they are consistent with the Christian conceptions of God and Man. All of these teachings are overlapping and interpenetrating, each bearing directly upon the others, and all together forming a forceful and vital system of Christian faith.

1. Character. "... add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity." (II Peter 1:5b-7).
"Use what language you will, you can never say anything but what you are." (Emerson)
2. Courage. "... Paul ... thanked God, and took courage." (Acts 28:15b)
"Towards die many times before their deaths;
The valiant never taste of death but once."
(Shakespeare)

3. Cross. "For the word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us who are saved it is the power of God." (I Cor. 1:18)
"In hoc signo thou shalt conquer."
(Constantine the Great)

4. Duty. "This is the end of the matter; all hath been heard: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man." (Ecc. 12:13)
"He who is false to present duty breaks a thread in the loom, and will find the flaw when he may have forgotten the cause." (Henry Ward Beecher)

5. Faith. "and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him (God)". (Heb. 11:6a)
"Faith is a kind of winged intellect. The great workmen of history have been men who believed like giants."
(Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst)

6. Forgiveness. "And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other even as God also in Christ forgave you." (Eph. 4:32)
"Only the brave know how to forgive ... A coward never forgave; it is not his nature."
(Laurence Sterne)

7. Freedom. "and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32)
"But what is Freedom? Rightly understood,
A universal license to be good."
(Hartley Coleridge)

8. Friendship. "A friend loveth at all times". (Prov. 17:17a)
"The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above."
(John Fawcett)

9. Fruitbearing. "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be my disciples." (John 15:8)
"... Superfluous branches
We lop away, that bearing boughs may live."
(Shakespeare)

10. Gentleness. "But the wisdom that is from above is ... gentle ...". (James 3:17)
"It is only people who possess firmness who can possess gentleness. Those who appear gentle generally possess nothing but weakness, which is readily converted into harshness."
(La Rockefeller)

11. Giving. "... freely ye received, freely give." (Matt. 10:8b)
"Rings and jewels are not gifts, but apologies for gifts. The only gift is a portion of thyself ... Therefore the poet brings his poem; the shepherd, his lamb; the farmer, corn; the miner, a gem; the sailor, coral and shells; the painter, his picture; the girl, a handkerchief of her own sewing." (Emerson)

12. Goodness. "but always follow after that which is good, one toward another, and toward all." (I Thes. 5:15b)
"The good hate to sin through love of virtue." (Horace)

13. Goodwill. "with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto men". (Eph. 6:7)
"Good Will is the mightiest practical force in the universe."
(Charles Fletcher Dole)

14. Greatness. "But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant." (Matt. 23:11)
"Great lives never go out. They go on." (Benjamin Harrison)

15. Happiness. "... and whose trusteth in the Lord, happy is he." (Prov. 16:20b)
"If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness;
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face; ...
Lord, thy most pointed pleasure take,
And stab my spirit broad awake."
(Stevenson)

16. Holiness. "Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord." (Heb. 12:14)
"Holiness is the architectural plan upon which God buildeth up His living temple."
(Spurgeon)

17. Honesty. "... whatsoever things are honest, ... think on these things." (Phil. 4:8)
"An honest man's the noblest work of God." (Pope)

18. Hope. "That they might set their hope in God,
And not forget the works of God,
But keep his commandments."
(Psalms 78:7)

"Great hopes make great men." (Thomas Fuller)

19. Humility. "... and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah 6:8b)
"Humble because of knowledge, mighty by sacrifice."
(Kipling)

20. Immortality. "... our Saviour Christ Jesus, who ... brought life and immortality to light through the gospel". (II Tim. 1:10)
"Into a dark tremendous sea of cloud
It is but for a time; I press
God's lamp
Close to my breast; it's splendour, soon or late,
Will pierce the gloom: I shall emerge one day."
(Brown- ing)

21. Industry. "Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord". (Rom. 12:11)
"Pray to God and ply the hammer."
(Cervantes)

22. Joy. "These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be made full." (John 15:11)
"Every joy is gain;
And gain is gain, however small."
(Browning)

23. Justice. "But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." (Prov. 4:18)
"That justice is the highest quality in the moral hierarchy I do not say, but that it is the first. That which is above justice must be based on justice, and include justice, and be reached through justice."
(Henry George)

24. Kindness. "and be ye kind one to another". (Eph. 4:32a)
"If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain.
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Into his nest again,
I shall not live in vain."
(Emily Dickinson)

25. Liberty. "... where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." (II Cor. 3:17b)
"Liberty means responsibility. That is why most men dread it."
(Bernard Shaw)

DEAN WALTER E. BACHMAN.

York College In Retrospect

by Maybelle A. Taylor

"Tantarrara! the joyous Book of Spring Lies open, writ in blossoms."

Yes, March 21 has come and gone, hurling us headlong into a maze of victory gardens, March winds, kites, spring fever, birds, bees, flowers, the everlasting search for just that perfect dream (did someone say "nightmare?") of an Easter bonnet, et cetera. And apropos of the subject in question, a certain farmer was working in his fields one of these windy March days when a young man was suddenly precipitated with a thud down beside him. Said the farmer, "Young feller, you shouldn't try to come down in a parachute in an eighty mile an hour wind."

Replied his visitor, "I didn't come down in a parachute. I went up in a tent."

Then, too, there was teen-age Judy who lacked only five squares of mastering a cross-word puzzle. Asked she of little-brother Willie, "What goes in like a lion and comes out like a lamb?"

Answered Willie, "Father!"

At York College, the advent of Spring has been celebrated by an all-school banquet since 1935. The idea originated with Jack Graham (who was Sandburr editor at that time) and was received with such enthusiasm that the affair immediately became a welcome addition to the social calendar. The letters S-P-R-I-N-G appropriately formed the theme of the first banquet, and in keeping with the season, each speaker burst forth into poetry which went "from bad to verse" (to quote Toaster Erwin Branson) until it culminated in a veritable "Garden of Verse" with Roberta James, the final speaker. Jack Graham as toastmaster introduced Neal Gallant, a former Y. C. star, who had just been elected coach for the following year. Co-eds appeared in print dresses with hair ribbons and anklets, lending color to an already colorful occasion. And the poor "fellas" felt so stiff and uncomfortable in their business suits, collars, and ties that they have since come in jeans. This affair was first sponsored by an unofficial cooperative committee, but is now a function of the Student Council which never fails to do itself proud.

As York College goes on from year to year heralding the advent of Spring, so will Spring—no doubt—continue to impel poets to pen such inspired classics as "Thirty days has September, April, June, and my uncle." And so shall the young lover under the magic spell of Spring reason things out in the following manner: "I love her.

All the world loves a lover.

She is all the world to me.

Therefore; she loves me."

Well, here's to Spring! If you just accentuate the right something-or-other and eliminate the something else, it's wonderful. Isn't it?

The Mailbox

From Eloise Tabor Holbrook, '43, U. S. Coast Guard Spars, Chicago—

With spring peeking around the corners here in the "Windy City," the daily "Your Neighbor Program" features numerous musical recordings and the voice of June Marlowe brings the time, temperature and highlights of the new spring fashions. The music is fine—and I enjoy hearing Miss Marlowe tell the time and temperature—but when it comes to clothes . . .

Oh, well, such is the life in these days—and even though my wardrobe won't be changing, still I am glad to see spring come. This has been a busy winter in our office, as we have been recruiting seventeen-year-olds—I beg your pardon, Men of 17. Along with the hustle and bustle have been many little incidents which have made much laughter. These fellows may be junior wolves, or else as timid as baby Bambi. Their spelling makes the most fun for me. Sometimes their errors come from excitement, and, of course, too, because they just do not know. One applicant stated that he had worked in a WEARhouse—another had sold HOSARY, and most of them have a tendency to tell us that they attended GRAMMER school.

It is always with pleasure that I see the Sandburr in my mailbox, for it is so interesting to read of the whereabouts of the many former students who now serve all over the world.

Lora is in France now, and he wrote recently of beautiful spring weather there. It seems impossible that there can be lovely weather and fighting at the same time.

I am on duty in the Coast Guard Recruiting Station at 53 West

Jackson Blvd., and since Chicago is a wonderful place for a stop-over, it would be grand to see anyone who happens to have a little time between trains—and I won't even try to recruit you for the Coast Guard!

S/Sgt. John Karutz, a prospective York College student, writes from China, after receiving a Sandburr, that he and his wife plan to enter Y. C. the first semester after he is discharged from the army, which he hopes will be soon. Mrs. Karutz is now living in Stockton, Calif.

We'll solve your Spring dress up problem . . . Economically and Stylefully—Russ Williams.

"Not Nazi spies" nor "Japanese spies" but "Y. P. S. C. E. spies" (York College students) have been released to do some "spying" on various young peoples' organizations of York. Different members were sent out to the Catholic, the Baptist-Congregational, the Nazarene, the Christian, the Methodist and the Presbyterian churches.

Reports of the meeting procedures of these other Endeavorers were given by the "spies" last Sunday evening. Many new ideas were gained from the visits and many friendships were established in the different churches. It was discovered that the College church has one of the largest Y. P. S. C. E. memberships in the city.

SEVEN MUSIC "Y's" ON CAMPUS

Seven music letters are being worn on the campus this year according to Dean Charles Amadon of Hulitt Conservatory of Music. Romaine Holt, sophomore, Kansas City, Kans.; Pattie Weidler, junior, York; Irene Falk, junior, Stromsburg; Dollie Anderson, junior, Albuquerque, New Mex.; Roberta Berglin, junior, Berthoud, Colo.; and Ruth Auchard, junior, Woodston, Kans., are the recipients of these letters.

The music letters are earned by the presentation of a recital or by ten public appearances in a semester. At each public appearance four numbers must be presented.

York college athletics this spring will consist of the usual track, tennis, volleyball, and other minor sports according to R. E. Townsend, Acting Director of Men's Athletics.

Prof. Townsend expects a fair track team with several ex-high school tracksters present.

Since the war, the N. C. A. C. has not held regular meets due to transportation problems and shortage of manpower. One college, Doane, is temporarily out of the conference because of their Naval unit.

Prof. Townsend said that one college had contacted him asking for a track meet. Other colleges may have a similar program, but as yet nothing definite has been decided.

Good appearance does pay—

Lt. Ralph Schmidt Tells Of Foreign Service

A tall, blond lieutenant with an engaging smile has been seen on the campus lately. New students found out that he is Lt. Ralph L. W. Schmidt, '41, who was president of the Student Council at York College in his senior year.

One freshman took her courage in hand long enough to get an interview with him. "Were you ever seasick?" she asked him.

"Yes, once" answered Lt. Schmidt. "I was keeping watch on the ship from 12:00 to 4:00 a. m. The sea was just rolling nice and easy. At 1:30 I was reading and the water was rolling just enough to make it fun to ride. At 2:00 the sea became more rough, but I didn't think I would get sick."

At 2:30 the sea was a little worse—and so was Lt. Schmidt. At 2:45 he began swallowing; at 3:00 he was swallowing hard. When 3:30 came he woke up the next man on watch and went to bed. It took him two days to overcome this seasickness. "First, you are afraid you will die, then you are afraid you won't," said Lt. Schmidt about seasickness.

Lt. Schmidt, better known as "Smitty", was inducted into the army August 26, 1941. He was trained in almost every part of the United States. In March, '44, he received overseas duty and arrived at England in the early part of April. He received more training in England and in the latter part of April went to a peninsula on the eastern coast of France. He remained here until two days before the invasion. There were air raids every night. "The planes came at 11:00, and they were so punctual we could set our watches by them," said Lt. Schmidt.

On D-Day, June 7, "Smitty's" entire division, the 90th Field Artillery, established its first position on the mainland.

Lt. Schmidt is an artillery forward observer. It is his job to adjust artillery fire on enemy positions. He experienced some "close shaves" in this invasion.

"Smitty" was working with an Infantry company. He was going to relieve an infantry observer up ahead of his group when a platoon of German soldiers broke through and got in back of the infantry and in front of "Smitty" and his division.

The commander decided that some supplies must be taken through to the company ahead, and he believed that there were no Germans around.

Six men—two officers, two enlisted men, a colonel and "Smitty" went some distance ahead with the colonel leading and encountered no opposition. They came to an open field approximately 300 yards square.

"When we were about one-half the way across, a machine gun opened up on us from the east. Luckily for us, the field we were in was a meadow, and the blue grass was one and a half feet high and could cover us when we dropped to the ground," continued "Smitty". "The colonel rose to his knees and fired a shot in the general direction of the machine gun. I fired another in the same direction."

Machine guns from the east and north opened up on the men. Again they dropped to the ground.

"Who is going with me," shouted the colonel. The men had 150 yards to go. They were not equipped with weapons to combat machine guns.

As the colonel shouted, a machine gun bullet struck him and he fell to the ground. Another lieutenant and "Smitty" crawled to the only open space to the south. Another sniper had opened up on the west and was going north. "Smitty" and the other lieutenant got help, but it was too late, for the colonel was dead. A lieutenant had been hit in the head but the others all returned safely.

"I would crawl forward and stop for a little and see a bullet land where I used to be," Lt. Schmidt said. "I thought that was rather a close call."

Another similar narrow escape was when "Smitty" was working up ahead with the infantry again. The artillery and the infantry had gone forward about 1,000 yards without meeting any opposition, when the company to the left passed an enemy machine gun going south. The men dropped to the ground. The men next to "Smitty" was hit and bullets came so close to him that they splashed mud in his face. Very few of the men in this battle were injured and none were killed.

All Lt. Schmidt's experiences in this war have not been bloody battles. He has visited many picturesque and historical places in England. Among these are: Stratford on Avon, Ann Hathaway's cottage, Westminster Abbey, Big Ben, the Tower of London, Buckingham and St. James Palaces, the House of Parliament, Scotland Yard, and No. 10 Downing St. where Churchill lives.

"I also saw the London bridge, but I was quite disappointed because it was not 'falling down'," Lt. Schmidt stated.

Lt. Schmidt was much impressed by the hospitality of the English people. An English family would give an American soldier the privilege of making their house "his home while away from his own." "English people are so generous that they would use a week's food rations to give an American soldier a good dinner," declared "Smitty".

On July 16, Lt. Schmidt was injured, suffering a severe second degree burn on his lower left leg. Schmidt did not want to be evacuated so he requested the medical officer to take care of him on the field. Unfortunately a slight infection developed and he was evacuated to a hospital in the rear areas. From there he was sent to a hospital in France for one week and from there he was evacuated to a hospital in Southampton, England, where he arrived on August 1. On August 2 he was sent to a hospital near Oxford. At this hospital he underwent three skin grafts, two minor and one major. The last skin graft was made on November 14.

December 23 he boarded a ship and arrived in the States on January 5. He was sent to a General Hospital on Staten Island where he remained one week. Then he went to Palo Alto, California, on a hospital train. He stayed there three days and was given a convalescent leave, "and I have been 'convalescent leaving' ever since," he said.

DR. BISSET OUTLINES LIFE OF ST. PATRICK

The life of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, was outlined by Dr. Charles E. Bisset, head of the Social Science department, in a recent chapel.

"St. Patrick was born in 387," began Dr. Bisset, "but the year of his death is quite uncertain, the dates ranging from 455 to 493. It is also difficult to determine where he was born as both Scotland and France claim him. His father was a Roman officer and his grandfather was outstanding in the religious field, so it is no small wonder that St. Patrick was prominent in the Celtic religion. During this time, also German tribes invades the Roman empire."

Every European country has its saint especially honored in that country. Saints are usually canonized and given a day. A saint becomes great at his death and this is the date that is celebrated rather than a birth date, the speaker explained.

"When he was sixteen years old," continued Dr. Bisset, "the Pagans of Ireland made a raid on the territory in which he lived. He was captured, sold as a slave, and held in bondage for six years. When he went over to Ireland, he had time to think. While he was herding sheep, he put in much of his time praying and became extremely religious for his day."

His life corresponds to that of modern missionaries in his willingness to sacrifice in order to carry religion to others. Not much is written about this next period after he escaped from bondage and returned home.

"After returning home," said the speaker, "St. Patrick had a dream and saw in it a vision of Ireland and her needs. Now he decided to go back to Ireland and help her until she became what he wished to make of her. Here he remained the rest of his life. At this time the Irish people were Druids. Often he and his followers were arrested."

St. Patrick converted fifty percent of Ireland to the Celtic religion and declared himself a bishop. During his last years he wrote his confessions in order to give the world a story of the Christianization of Ireland. The shamrock is the national badge of Ireland. Its leaves symbolize the Trinity and the stem, the Unity.
