ADMINISTRATION REORGANIZES

VAUGHN LEAMING RETURNS TO CAMPUS

Occupies Office
Public Relations

The Rev. Vaughn Leaming, '41, is the new Director of Business and Public Relations of York College. Named to that office at a recent board meeting, he will assume his duties this fall.

Mr. Leaming comes to Y. C. with varied experience having taught two years in Albert Academy at Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa. He went as Student Representative of the five U. B. colleges.

Upon his return to the U. S. he completed his senior year at York, where he belonged to various campus groups. He was a member of Life Work Recruits, Y. M. C. A., the Y Club, and the Press Guild. He served on the Student Council, wrote for the Sandburr, was a member of the chorus, and was active in play production. He lettered in several sports, participating in football, basketball, and track. He was accorded the

MRS. LUPER HALL MATRON AND GIRLS' COUNSELOR

Mrs. William S. Luper, wife of the late Rev. W. S. Luper of Kansas Conference, arrived at York College, July 14, from Arkansas City to assume her duties here as matron at Hulitt Hall.

Mrs. Luper received her education at the University of Arkansas, and has taught school for thirteen years. She has sponsored young people's groups, served as Young People's director of Kansas Conference, and as vice-president of the State Board of Missions for the Conference.

Her interests are "people", with special emphasis on girls. She also enjoys reading and memorizing poetry.

When interviewed, Mrs. Luper remarked, "The happiest surprise I have enjoyed since arriving here is the beauty of the campus." She also stated that she was impressed with the friendliness and cooperation among faculty and students.

Mrs. Luper arrived early to help make plans for the redecorating of Hulitt Hall.

KARRAKER NAMED DEAN OF COLLEGE

Will Teach
Physics, Psych.

The new dean of York College is Professor W. J. Karraker, head of the department of education and psychology and formerly dean of men. The shift comes as a part of the change announced by the Executive Committee of the college, designed to bolster teaching strength and yet maintain an adequate administrative section.

Mr. Karraker holds the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts from the University of Kentucky and has completed additional graduate work at the University of Illinois and the University of Kansas.

During World War II, Mr. Karraker was on leave of absence from the college to serve as an instructor in the cadet training program in Tulare, California, and Tempe, Arizona. He was also engaged in research at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, until released from the Army Air Corps in October, 1945, when he resumed his present position.

In addition to serving as dean of the college, Mr. Karraker will teach courses in physics and psychology.

AMADON CONTINUES CHORUS WORK

As York College prepares for another fall term, Dean Charles Amadon, of the Music Department is readying his increased forces for more of the musical instruction for which York is noted throughout its constituent area. With band and instrumental choral groups in the capable hands of James Koontz, Dean Amadon will be free to devote his time to voice instruction, the chapel choir, and the girls' trio. He will also continue the direction of the choruses which have been a tribute to the skill of their conductor on tours and in operatic performances.

Mr. Amadon's thirty-third year in his position was one of his most successful if not his busiest. In addition to a stirring rendition of the Messiah, he led chorus and orchestra in the opera "The Bohemian Girl". Under his baton, the chorus participated in Homecoming Day and baccalaureate activities, while the chapel choir, the girls' trio, and the male quartet appeared on several radio stations.

President Weidler Submits Resignation

Becomes Head
Education Dept.

The resignation of Dr. D. E. Weidler from the position of president of York College was announced recently by the college executive committee. He will be replaced by Dr. W. E. Bachman.

Dr. Weidler became president in 1938, having formerly served in the African mission field, and in other educational capacities in the United States. Respect for Dr. Weidler is not limited to campus friends and church associates, as he was listed in the Who's Who of 1946-47.

The vast experience of the resigned president will not be lost to the college, since he will become head of the department of education after Sept. 1, and has been elected president-emeritus.

KOONTZ TO DIRECT BAND, ORCHESTRA

A new face, that of James E. Koontz, has been added to the faculty of the York College department of music. This marks the return of still another Y. C. alumnus. Mr. Koontz was a graduate of the class of 1942, while Mrs. Koontz, formerly Margaret Eutzler, also was a student here.

Mr. Koontz' addition to the staff comes as a result of the demand for an increased variety of courses, especially in the instrumental line. In addition to directing the band and orchestra, Mr. Koontz will offer private lessons on various wind instruments. He plans to offer a course in Public School Music and will direct a men's and a women's glee club. A part of his time is to be devoted to work with small vocal groups.

The effectiveness and scope of the department should be augmented by the experience and training which Mr. Koontz brings to this new position. In addition to work in stringed instruments at Wayne State College, Mr. Koontz attended Drake University where he was working toward the degree of Master of Music Education. Other training includes clinical work under Robert Shaw, Noble Cain, and Harold Bachman.

WALTER E. BACHMAN ASSUMES PRESIDENCY

Herrick Assumes
Teaching Load

Dr. Walter E. Bachman succeeds as president of York College, Dr. D. E. Weidler, who resigned after nine years in that office. Dr. Bachman assumes his new position with a wealth of administrative experience, having served as dean of the college for eleven years. Previously, he was head of the department of religion at Fargo College, Fargo, North Dakota, and professor of religious education and dean of the Biblical Seminary of New York City. On the faculty of Butler University, Indianapolis, he headed the department of religious education.

Dean Bachman, as he was popularly known, has taken a keen interest in religious education and in the training of young men and women for Christian service in all vocations.

In effect, Dr. Bachman will serve as the quarterback of the team which is to administer the affairs of York College. His leadership, abetted by the skill and experience of such men as Dean Karraker and Mr. Leaming, coupled with the enthusiastic backing and co-operation of Bishop V. O. Weidler, president of the board of trustees, the superintendents of the respective conferences of the western area and other members of the board, should strengthen the position of the college in its area and prepare it for its not-too-distant entry into the North Central Association.

In order to lighten Dr. Bachman's academic teaching load while he serves in the office of president, Bruce Herrick, who taught classes in orientation and lyric religion, will remain on the faculty for another year. Mr. Herrick had planned to return to Boston to continue work toward his Doctor of Philosophy degree. In view of these administrative changes, he will teach other courses as well, including one in the history of philosophy.

Wanda Miller, junior, Russell, Kansas, was a much welcomed visitor on the campus from July 21 to July 25.

Red Faces Department

If any of you wondered about the identity of the editor and news editor of the first issue of the summer Sandburr, your curiosity may be satisfied by a glance at the section just above this department. In the rush of getting the paper to press these names were omitted. Actually, we weren't that ashamed of our handiwork.

A correction is necessary with regard to the names under the senior pictures which appeared in that issue. The names of J. Hill Anglin and Alden B. Sears were inadvertently transposed.

When anxious visitors viewed with alarm the ominous bubblings of a mysterious brew being heated in the chemistry lab. Al caustically explained, "Coffee!"

At the Skate:

Mr. Herrick: "Would you like to see the 'swan'?"

Dr. Noll: "How did I know they were playing broom-tag? I thought they wanted me to sweep!"

Walt Millett: "The janitor is responsible for the dead air in a church."

Prof. Herrick: "Yes, and sometimes it's the minister who's responsible."

Miss Slee, as quoted by Prof. Doty: "The difference between a good student and a poor student is fifteen minutes."

Dick Van Pelt: "I'm a firm believer that beauty is only skin-deep."

Prof. Karraker: "Yes, but it surely helps to have it there."

STUDENTS PLAY, STUDY AND ?

By Barbara Blauch

Home is the hunter, home from the hills

And the sailor, home from Y. C.

With shamefaced apologies to any survivors of Robert L. Stevenson, as if any could survive that, may we tell you what a few of our students are doing this summer?

Harriet Thomas, Topeka, Kansas, has been attending summer camps, as has been Aully Holst, sophomore, York, in the capacity of student representative. Robert Gillespie, senior, Glendale, Calif. is working; we quote, "in sunny you know where." Denny Auchard, senior, Alexander, Kans., is attending K. U., and Mary Alice Riggs, junior, Ames, Ia., is in the same grind, academic, not Folger's at Iowa State. Norma Ruth Ehler, junior, Johnstown, Colo., Ruth Weston, junior, York, Opal Anderson, sophomore, York, and Lois Shaneyfelt, senior, Central City, are bothering the altitude in Estes Park, Colo. Doris Jean Canon, Albany, Ore., is becoming acquainted with her new home, but her mind's in the Des Moines river "bason." Harold Walker, junior, Santa Cruz, N. M., left a forwarding address of "somewhere in Alaska," so who knows what he's doing! Then there's Norma Jean Anderson, junior, York, and she's not doing a thing.

Prof. Doty: "The diamond is the engagement stone. What's the one for marriage?"

Lee Huebert: "The millstone."

Tebell: (Before quiz in Political U. S. Hist.) "How big a sheet of paper will I need?"

Prof. Doty: "Oh, I'd say you could write it all on a calling card."

Prof. Doty: "If they're bound to hang me, I don't care whether it's from a mahogany tree or a gooseberry bush."

Prof. Herrick: "Dwight did in America somewhat what Watts did in England."

NEWS BRIEF

Fred Koontz, sophomore, was called home to Des Moines, Ia. to attend a funeral in the family of a very good friend. He returned Tuesday, July 22 after a leave of four days.

FACULTY MEMBERS REVEAL SUMMER INTERESTS

by Dick Riggs

With the heat of summer comes vacation, when we relax and search for something new. In this we find common grounds with the York College professors who, though most of them are not vacationing, are doing some things new.

Said Professor Doty, "Oh, I hear they're hunting for a good available candidate for the U. S. presidency. I'm just waiting for them to call on me".

Professor Herrick stated that he is studying German this summer in preparation for graduate school. When queried concerning anything else "notable", he remarked, "well, my golf score is notable". He refused to elaborate. Dr. Bachman indicated that he also played golf, but did not wish to say that his score was even "notable".

Mrs. Luper, hostess of Hulitt Conservatory, remarked that the newest thing she had done this summer was the assuming of her present position. Also, she stated she had recently read and enjoyed "The Country School Mam", a book which Mrs. Luper highly recommended to all those who had ever taught a country school.

Under the classification of "traveling vacationers" will be Professor Charles Amadon, who indicated that he will be riding eastward to see his son and family in Boston, Mass. "I don't really want to go very badly" he said with a grin, "but I shouldn't mind. Mamma (Mrs. Amadon) will be doing all the work. She's going to drive."

The University of Southern California has an addition from the York College faculty this summer in the person of Professor William White. In searching for information concerning Mr. White it was discovered that he is studying towards his master's degree. When asked what Professor White's hobby is, Barbara Blauch, a former member of his dramatics class, exclaimed, "Making life miserable for his students".

And so we leave the faculty with a quotation from Dr. Doty. "I would like to take a vacation, but I'd rather teach than fish, so I might as well stay right here."

"Con" Matron Has Housewarming

Mrs. W. C. Luper, Hulitt Hall matron, entertained the girls under her care, Monday evening, July 28, from ten to eleven o'clock.

Following a brief social period, Mrs. Luper served a delightful dessert from a tray laden with various fruits.

VARIETY IN NEW BOOKS

by Louis Rachow

Sport fans—attention. The romance of baseball is in the air. It has even come to the library (in the form of a biography, of course). JUDGE LANDIS AND TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF BASEBALL, as written by J. G. Taylor Spink, is a biography of baseball itself, and is the first complete authoritative biography of its dominating figure. The immortals are all here: Ban Johnson, (no girls, not Van), Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, and Bob Feller. These and scores of others are the line-up of this fast moving narrative.

Few men's lives have been so momentous for the world as Albert Einstein's. Scientist or not, you'll be interested in this biography, EINSTEIN; HIS LIFE AND TIMES, by Philipp Frank.

Arthur Upham Pope tells the three-fold story of Maxim Litvinoff, former Soviet Ambassador to the United States. He is, (indeed, one of the key figures in international politics, as portrayed in this biography.

Here's a lively, heart warming, and authoritative biography of one of the greatest generals in our history, GENERAL IKE, by Alden Hatch. An intimate picture of Eisenhower is painted in words throughout the book.

NORTH, EAST, SOUTH, WEST is a regional anthology of American writing. Charles Lee, general editor, gets close to the true basis of our national culture when he bases this anthology upon these regions: New England, the Middle Atlantic States, the Middle West, the South, and the Far West.

Grace Overmyer, in FAMOUS AMERICAN COMPOSERS, paints for us a picture of great writers including Louis Moreau Gottschalk, Theodore Thomas, and Stephen Foster. This is an interesting book for music-lovers.

GEOFFREY CHAUCER OF ENGLAND, by Marchette Chute, is a delightfully informal and thoroughly entertaining biography, marked by distinguished writing and excellent scholarship. Like the CANTERBURY TALES, Miss Chute's study gives us a picture of the way people lived in the 14th century England.

E. T. Owen studies the story of the ILIAD in his book, THE STORY OF THE ILIAD, in order to detect by what means it attains its effects, to account for its impressiveness as an organic whole, to answer the one question, "What makes the ILIAD a great poem?"

All these and many more are waiting to meet you. Come around and get acquainted.

VAUGHN LEAMING RETURNS

high honor of being chosen Representative Man.

Upon his graduation from Bonebrake Seminary, Mr. Leaming and his family engaged in missionary work in Santo Domingo, Central America. The new director's next assignment was to the pastorate of Telescope Evangelical United Brethren Church at Kansas City, Missouri.

It is from this pastorate that the Leamings will come to serve York College in another capacity. Mr. Leaming and his wife (formerly Letha Robinson) and their two children plan to move to York during the latter part of September.

Summer Banquet Has Patriotic Theme

The Spirit of '76, York College version, prevailed at the annual summer banquet on July 8. A picture done in crayon, similar to the famous one depicting the three patriots of 171 years ago, served as a backdrop for the speakers table. Jim Conway, senior, York, was toastmaster, and introduced toasts by Warren Porter, sophomore, Aurora, Katherine Cox, senior, Ames, Ia., and Lee Huebert, '47, York. Musical numbers were presented by Trudy Greuter, freshman, York, accompanied by Harold Holton, sophomore, Russell, Ia., and the Melody Men quartet, with Eunice Goodrich, senior, Portland, Ore. as accompanist. The members of the quartet are Richard Riggs, Ames, Ia., Merl Riggs, junior, Merna, Milton Snow, sophomore, Des Moines, Ia., and Lee Huebert.

Robert Dicus, junior, Lawton, Ia., Edith Huebert, senior, York, and Helen Mierau, sophomore, Fresno, Calif., headed the program, menu and decorating committee, respectively. Miss Mierau, and Mary Catherine Jackson, sophomore, Adrian, Mo., drew the crayon portrait featured in the decorations.

SENATE PLANS MELON FEED

At the last meeting of the Student Senate held July 17, plans were made for an all-school watermelon feed to be held July 31, at Harrison Park at 6:30.

Committee heads are: Food, Lois Riddle; entertainment, Kate Cox and Nadine Allen. Tickets are being sold in advance at twenty-five cents. All married students are urged to bring their families. Present plans are to have a softball game and other activities of interest during the evening.

KOONTZ DIRECT ORCHESTRA

Mr. Koontz has enjoyed singular success in developing choral and instrumental groups at Ponca and Wakefield, Nebraska, where he taught. He was a member of the faculty of the Wayne State College summer music camp of 1946.

During his student days at York, Mr. Koontz directed the pep band, was a member of the quartet, and sang in the chapel choir. A Zeta, he also participated in other campus activities, including the Panther Club, Student Council, Alpha Psi Omega, and the Y Club.

"MAD BREAKFAST" CHOSEN BY ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Mrs. Edith Huebert, senior, York, president of the Alpha Psi Omega, has posted the cast of the one-act play "A Mad Breakfast" by Isabel M. Gray, which is being sponsored by the dramatic fraternity this summer.

The unique plot of the play gets underway when Mr. Jones, a practical joker, invites Mr. Long to visit the hotel where the scene is set, believing it to be a home for the insane. The boarders have just enough idiosyncrasies to fit into the scheme and innocently play the parts of inmates.

"A Mad Breakfast" will be given for chapel on Thursday, Aug. 6.

SKATE SESSIONS WELL ATTENDED

Often without suitable entertainment for summer students, the Student Senate has taken steps to remedy this lack by sponsoring skate nights in the gym. Tuesday and Thursday have been designated as the nights on which skating is permitted. Attendance has averaged about thirty.

Students Argue Religious Instruction

"Should Religion Be Taught In Public Schools" was the subject of a recent debate sponsored by the Student Senate.

Mrs. Ione Lattin, and Joseph Martin, both of York, and Ethel Brooks, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, presented the case for the affirmative, while Alden Sears, Waco, Lee Huebert, York, and Robert Batreall, Lushton, took the opposite view.

The negative declared that a common ground for teaching religion could not be reached by all the religious groups. The affirmative maintained that children who never attend church do not have a chance to know God and they would have that chance only if religion were taught in public schools.

Although no decision was handed down, Prof. Bruce Herrick, department of religion, acted as moderator, and Prof. Myron Holm, department of education, acted as time-keeper.

COX ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cox, Sr., Ames, Iowa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Paul Richert of York. Miss Cox, a junior, has been an active member of W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., PALS, Pantherettes, and the chorus. She has been a regular member of the chapel choir. She is currently employed in the college office.

Mr. Richert served with the infantry in the European theatre and is now farming near York.

HERRICK CLASS PRESENTS PROGRAM IN CHAPEL

The Lyric Religion class, under the guidance of their teacher, Prof. Bruce Herrick, and at the request of the Student Senate, presented the Chapel program Thursday, July 31, 1947.

They introduced the advancements of hymn writing and the effect which different historical periods had on these religious creations. The separate indexes (of the hymn book) were pointed out and explained.

Each historical period of hymnody, with its representative hymn, was introduced by a different member of the class, who gave a one minute, original summary.

"The hymn book is like a river which appears as water from above, but revealing, in the different depths, its various sources and origins. The hymn book is our 'river of the ages'." (Taken from the introductory statements made by Dick Riggs, junior, Ames, Ia.)

CAMPUS RECEIVES FACE LIFTING

New side walks, redecorated laboratories, and a refurbished Administration building will greet students on the York campus in the fall.

Redecoration holds full sway in the Administration building. The chemistry department will have fluorescent lighting units and remodeled cabinets in the "lab"; a new cement floor in the store room; and a coat of paint for the entire department. The lecture room is to get a masonite ceiling.

The zoology laboratory is to be rewired, side walls painted, and a masonite ceiling installed.

New work benches are being built and new equipment has been purchased for the physics laboratory.

The hall stairways on the second and third floor are to be plastered and redecorated.

The "Ad" building is going to be reshingled with green composition shingles. To add to the outside attractiveness, the window casings have been painted, a new walk has been run in front of the library, and a new walk leads from the back door of the "Ad" building to the Veteran Housing Units.

Two new gas air heaters have been placed in the gymnasium to replace the furnaces.

Kansans Dedicate Youth Camp

Of interest to York College people of the Kansas conference, was the dedication of Camp Webster, near Salina. Services held there Sunday, July 20, climaxed more than a year of activity under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Webster, who donated the camp site. A two story building, to serve as pro-tem dormitory and dining room, has already been completed.

Bishop V. O. Weidler, of the Southwest district, spoke at the service of dedication.

They Tramped These Halls

By Prof. J. C. Morgan

An informal picnic was held at Brookside Park in Pasadena, June 28, by the alumni of Southern California. After a big meal and a two-hour visit, Don Fisher, '30, called the meeting to order. President D. E. Weidler, who was a special guest, was invited to speak a few words about the progress of the college.

This was the first meeting of this group since June 21, 1942. The group decided to get back on a twice-a-year meeting basis. The next meeting will be held the second Sunday in January, 1948, at 10:45 a. m. at the Evangelical United Brethren church, Whittier. Rev. Q. E. Hendricks, the pastor of this church, has invited the group to be special guests in the church service. All are expected to bring a picnic lunch which will be eaten following the church service.

The present officers, Don Fisher, '30, president, and Russell L. Lewis, '34, secretary, were requested to continue in office until the next meeting.

All the alumni of Southern California are urged to spread the word about this next meeting at Whittier.

Those present were: President D. E. Weidler; Mr. and Mrs. Don Fisher; Mrs. Thelma Dierdorff Wray, ex-'31, her husband, Mr. Findley Wray, and three children, Beverly, Findley, Jr. and Linda; Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Connor (Eva Kerr) '21 and '22; Helen Lumbus Douglas, '41; Lois Miller, '40; Arline Beason, '42, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin G. Lewis, '37, and children, Jack and Carmen; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hansen (Bessie James), ex-'35 and '33, their children, Jael and Mark; and the Rev. and Mrs. Q. E. Hendricks.

Miss Shirley Andersen, '43, who is attending the University of Nebraska this summer and is taking work for an advanced degree, has been pledged to the Pi Lambda Theta Sorority, which is the honorary educational sorority for women.

Lt. and Mrs. L. W. Gassman, ex-'43, and daughters, Lee Ann and Cheryl Jean visited in York in July. Lt. Gassman was on leave from the 53d Weather Reconnaissance Squadron now stationed in Bermuda. Mrs. Gassman was formerly Miss Isabel Thompson, ex-'39.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott Heatherington, '41, were campus visitors, July 15 and 16. Dr. Heatherington was on his way to attend a national convention for Osteopathic Surgeons, to be held in Chicago.

Other visitors in York recently, include Supt. Edward L. Jordan, ex-'24, of Humboldt; Mrs. Esther Kamm Michealson, ex-'44, Letcher, South Dakota; Miss Eunice Stauffer, '46, Meadow Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Greene, ex-'30 and '27, Kansas City, Kansas. (Mrs. Greene was formerly Miss Camille Pachner.)

The historian has turned story teller for this issue and wishes to include in his column these narratives.

One day, early in the summer session, Miss Ethel Brooks came into the writer's recitation room with this interesting story to tell. A married sister of hers is attending, with her husband, the University of Mississippi. Her mother had recently paid her a visit, and during her mother's visit, she had introduced her to her teacher in the department of Home Economics. In the conversation that followed, the mother remarked that she had a daughter attending York College in Nebraska. At once the teacher replied that she was a graduate of York College,—none other than Miss Grace King, of the class of 1922.

It so happened that just a few days after Miss Brooks told this story, Miss Clara King, '18, of the East Chicago schools, and a sister of Miss Grace, was a visitor on the campus. Thus it was the delightful privilege of the historian to introduce Miss Brooks to the sister's teacher.

Another coincidence: The college is glad to count among its alumni, Dr. Mayer-Oakes, pastor of the Congregational Church, Fonda, Iowa. Recently the historian received a letter from Mrs. Alice Kaliff Stowe, '20, who lives at Pekin, Illinois, where Mr. Stowe, '29, is a teacher in the high school. In the letter was enclosed a newspaper clipping, relating the wedding of Mr. William Mayer-Oakes, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Mayer-Oakes, to Miss Nita Mae Allison. Mr. Stowe explained that they had attended the wedding and were good friends of the Mayer-Oakes', their friendship beginning when Dr. Mayer-Oakes was a pastor at Pekin. She added that their son, Jack, and "Bill", the bridegroom, were chums in high school. Mrs. Stowe comments in the letter that "associating with the Mayer-Oakes made us feel as much at home as if we were back in the Y. C. atmosphere".
