

"Who's Who" Honors Four York Seniors

M. Thornton, B. Ronne, H. DeBoer, and L. Huebert Listed in Who's Who

Four York College seniors were honored by the 1947-1948 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges sponsored by the University of Alabama.

Marjorie Thornton, Billings, Mont.; Blaine Ronne, Howard DeBoer, and Lee Huebert of York were selected on the basis of character, leadership in extra-curricular activities, scholarship, and the possibility of future usefulness to business and society.

Marjorie Thornton is the president of the Student Council and also the receiver of the Mary Mutch Cain Award this year. Miss Thornton is an active member of the Y. W. C. A., Zeta Literary Society, International Relations club, and the music department, in which she is the accompanist of Dean Charles A. Amadon. In the near future Miss Thornton plans to present a piano recital to complete her music minor. Her major is chemistry.

Blaine Ronne, business manager and sports editor of the Sandburr for the past two years, is majoring in mathematics. During his senior year Ronne has acted as an assistant instructor in the mathematics department of the college. He plans to take graduate work at Columbia University for future work as a statistician. Ronne has taken part in the athletic department having had the position of sports manager and is a member of the Y-Club.

Howard DeBoer, a member of the United States Air Corps for three years, is a chemistry major. During the past year he has had the position of Chemistry Lab. assistant. DeBoer will finish his work for a M.S. degree in chemistry at the University of Nebraska. He is president of the senior class and also president of the Y-Club. DeBoer was active in football and was the freshman court judge this year.

"Bohemian Girl" To Be Fine Production, Says Dean Amadon

Promise of a finished production is seen on all sides as the cast and crew of the opera, The Bohemian Girl, prepare for the presentation tonight. Dean Charles Amadon, head of the music department and director of the opera, states, "This is one of the most popular light operas ever written and the proof is that it has been produced frequently all over the country. The group of principals is one of the finest with which I've ever worked, and the chorus is of the best and certainly the largest."

Prof. W. C. White is assisting as general production head. Marjorie Thornton, senior, Billings, Mont., is accompanist.

The staging of the opera is one of the most difficult ever attempted on the city auditorium stage, the four acts requiring a total of six scene changes. Act one will present to view an impressive backdrop of mountains designed and painted by the art department, under Mrs. Josephine Hartsaw. Act two demands the construction of a Gypsy camp with tents and campfire for reality. Act two, scene two, is a street scene in which the full chorus of 75 participate before a hotel and the Hall of Justice. Act two, scene three, takes place during a gala fair where Gypsy bards engage themselves in money-making schemes, obvious or otherwise. Act three will show the Hall of Justice where events reach a climax, and act four will reveal a room in a castle where the nobility of a nation watch the end of the drama of The Bohemian Girl.

The class in theory of play production has acquired all the properties, even those as unusual as a luxurious fur rug. When properties could not be found, this class built them to suit the need. Costuming is being done by the Theo. Leiben Co. of Omaha, and Miss Irene Shipley, head of the speech department, has been costuming head. Miss Thornton, pianist, was assisted at rehearsals by Wanda Miller, sophomore, Russell, Kans., and Prof. Bruce Herrick, of the department of philosophy and religious education.

KATE COX VISITS

Miss Katherine Cox, Ames, Ia., ex-'48, visited friends on the campus recently, and attended the Junior-Senior banquet last Monday.

Miss Cox was forced to leave college the latter part of February due to injuries received in an automobile accident. She plans to return to York college next fall.

Lee Huebert

Lee Huebert, past business manager of the Sandburr, is the editor of the Marathon this year. Huebert gave a vocal recital recently climaxing his work in the music department, and appeared today in a principle role in the Bohemian Girl. Mr. Huebert has a double major of music and English. He has been an active member of the athletic department in track and is also a member of the Y-Club.

"Voice of the Trees" Is Unique Theme of Arbor Day Fete

"The Voice of the Trees" was the theme of the annual Arbor Day program as the sophomore class presented a pin oak to the college last Friday. The thoughts and feelings of the trees were broadcast over a broadcasting system by various members of the class.

Nine members of the class presented soil from their home state as the tree was planted as follows: Charles Williams, Africa; Norma Ruth Ehler, Colorado; Milton Snow, Iowa; Merwin Kurtz, Kansas; Aloys Holst, Minnesota; Fred Vorce, Missouri; Elsie Walker, New Mexico; Doris Jean Canon, Oregon; and Tom Robson, Nebraska.

Bob Dicus, president of the class, presented the gift to Prof. Jacob Karraker who accepted it on behalf of the college. Dr. G. T. Savery offered a word of prayer.

Script writers for the program were Harold Walker of Santa Cruz, N. M., and Harriet Thomas of Topeka, Kans. Mary Alice Riggs of Ames, Ia. was program chairman. Serving on the program committee were Bonnie Ackland and Leslie Herron, both of Ames, Ia.

Dean Bachman To Offer Religious Ed. Course Next Year

Dean Walter E. Bachman is offering his course in religious education during the first semester next year. This will make it possible for the teams that are developed to promote Vacation Bible School to work out their summer schedule, also to take further training the second semester if they feel they want it.

Liquidation of Church Debt Highlights Sixtieth Anniversary

Bishop V. O. Weidler, Rev. C. L. Young, Rev.

Paul Porter, Rev. Core, Dr. Vannice Are Speakers

All Things Belong To You Says Dr. Weidler Anniversary Day

"All things belong to you, and you belong to Christ, and Christ belongs to God" proclaimed Bishop V. O. Weidler in his address at the church Sunday morning at the Sixtieth Anniversary Celebration.

"All of life is embraced in the active and passive voices of the verb 'to owe', that is, to own and to be owned," continued the Bishop.

He went on to explain that since Christians have such a great inheritance, they must realize that they owe much to religious groups and leaders of the past who are really a part of them.

"Some Christians own the world but others are owned by the world. Life, death, the present, and the future belong to Christians. However, that is true only as long as the Christians belong to Christ."

Highlighting the Sixtieth Anniversary of the Evangelical United Brethren church of York, Sunday, April 27, was the liquidation of the $28,000 church debt.

Guest speakers for the three services of the day included Dr. V. O. Weidler, Bishop of the Southwest area, the Rev. C. L. Young, D.D., of Albia, Ia., pastor of the York church at its dedication, Dr. Paul B. Porter, Aurora, former pastor, the Rev. A. C. Core, superintendent of the Nebraska Conference, and former superintendent, Dr. A. P. Vannice.

"Dr. G. T. Savery (the present pastor) gave us the challenge, and we accepted it," said Mr. Neils Hammer, treasurer of the Board of Trustees, as he handed the financial summary to Dr. J. C. Morgan, president of the Board of Trustees, during the morning worship service. Several of the musical numbers used in the service by Miss Eda Rankin, organist, and Prof. Charles A. Amadon, Minister of Music, were used in the dedication service twenty years ago, April 24, 1927.

Before the afternoon service, a fellowship dinner was held in the church dining hall. Barbara Dick, freshman, Hastings, sang "Fear Ye Not, O Israel"—Bach, which was followed by the address by Dr. C. L. Young, and congratulations by Dr. A. P. Vannice.

The lighting of the Memorial Tapers in the evening commemorated sixty years of faithful service by former members and ministers of the church. Preceding the sermon by Bishop Weidler, the Sophomore Trio sang "All in an April Evening."

Press Guild Holds Last Formal Meeting At Sponsor's Home

As their last formal meeting of the school year, Press Guild members held a dinner meeting at the home of Miss Edith Callender, head of the English department and Sandburr sponsor, April 18.

Harriet Thomas, sophomore, Topeka, Kans., gave a report from the "Scholastic Editor" and Marie Harris, editor, junior of Great Falls, Mont., discussed the differences between editing a newspaper and a yearbook.

Norma Jean Anderson, social chairman, sophomore, York, was in charge of planning the dinner.

The home was decorated with snapdragons and carnations presented to the hostess by the Press Guild, and the tables were centered with sweet peas.

Their next meeting will be a picnic to close the meetings of the year.

Juniors Entertain Seniors At Elaborate Japanese Banquet

Country Club is Site of Teagarden

With Jean Schneider as Empress Ming-Toy

Seniors, arriving at the Hillside Country Club last Monday evening, found themselves amid the splendors of Oriental culture when they were entertained by the juniors at "Shin-Roji," a simulated elaborate Japanese Tea Garden.

Empress Jean Ming-Toy (Jean Rasp Schneider, junior) acted as mistress of ceremonies. Sen Ken Hik Tik (Kenneth Hicks, senior) offered a toast, "Gate-Mikado." A novelty reading, "Hostess-Madame Butterfly," was presented by Foch Scooch (Betty Jean Schoonover, junior).

The remaining toasts were as follows: "Umbrella-King Foo," by Biggs Riggs (Dick Riggs, junior), "Opium - Poppy," by Margee To To (Marjorie Thornton, senior), "Honey-Pagoda," by Senny Denny (Denny Auchard, junior), and "Pigtail-Queue," by Lois Ann San Pan (Lois Anderson, senior). "Flower-Cherry Blossom" was sung by the College Girl's Trio.

The menu consisted of shrimp cocktail, fried chicken, peas and carrots, baked potatoes, combination salad, celery dish, Parker-house rolls, cake and ice cream, and tea.

Japanese lanterns lighted the way to the Pagoda. The main dining room was filled with an odor of incense and was decorated with cherry blossoms and Oriental landscapes. In the center of the room there lay a large garden and pool. Near by stood a bridge with a stream flowing under it.

Flowers were used as centerpieces. Japanese Viking boats formed the nut cups and place cards, and the programs were small Fujiyamas. The table cloths were hand painted. Approximately 72 guests were present.

America Faces A Great Problem

Many problems face America today. Of these problems, the most complex is that of finding a cure for cancer. For years large research staffs have been trying to solve the mystery of the disease. This disease, which is an unconquered enemy of all American people, young and old alike, has no known cure.

According to a statement in a recent issue of a health bulletin, cancer has taken twice as many lives of Americans as were taken by the Japanese and Germans between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day. Cancer is killing more than 18 Americans every hour. For this destructive disease no cure has been found.

Through the efforts of the American Cancer Society, financed by public contributions, there have been established more research laboratories to help in solving this problem. Many scientists are devoting their entire lives to this cause.

Cancer strikes everywhere. It is no respecter of age, wealth, social standing, education, race, or religion. Everyone is endangered by this dread disease.

By donating to the American Cancer Society, people of the United States can help to protect their neighbors and themselves.

Remember: No donation is too little, but it may be too late.

Marathon Is Race Against Time, Just Ask The 1947 Staff

Had Richard opened the door of Marathon editor Huebert's home in recent weeks he would have seen figures huddled over a typewriter, pencils cocked over each ear, and dull, hysterical mutterings coming from each grimacing mouth. A twentieth century Bedlam? Not exactly. It was some members of the Marathon staff "heating out" copy to fill the pages of your 1947 Yearbook.

Since the first attention was drawn to the Marathon, anything remotely connected with the term has been a race. With successive deadlines creeping stealthily upon our illustrious clan of journalists, there evolved a plan to meet them.

The meetings begin calmly enough. Edie Huebert, who as wife of the editor, is his right, left and before-hand helper, sees that the group is supplied with popcorn, or some form of nourishment. A tenness settles over the crowd as they drape themselves over a typewriter, or hang themselves from a pen point, and wait for an idea.

One by one, they retreat into their own corner to beat a defenseless typewriter until its exclamation points droop wearily. But there comes out a beautiful page of copy precisely composed to fill a specific page. Between great gulps of 7-Up the page is hashed, rehashed, analyzed, and diagrammed in order that the content will be worthy of the book it represents.

Senior Sketches

A senior interested in athletics is Don Haberman, who has lettered in football and basketball. After graduating, Don plans to coach and teach history and political science on the side. He served in the ground forces in the army.

Did You Know?

THAT a Hevea tree (rubber) is fifty to sixty feet tall. When pods the size of goose eggs ripen they burst and throw seeds for a hundred feet. Only one-third of the latex a tree gives is rubber and it takes 350 plantation trees to give two or three tons of rubber a year.

THAT 26 million cows produced 55.75 billion quarts of milk in 1946. Milk gives one out of fifteen people a livelihood.

THAT U. S. readers spent almost 850 million dollars on daily and Sunday newspapers.

THAT in 1835 the U. S. had a public debt of $33,000. Today it would take approximately $1,900 per persons to get the U. S. out of debt.

When asked where he had been during the war, Hans said, "All over." (Haberman and Kilroy). As a parting thought, he said, "And I'm not doing anything Friday night." A word to the wise girls. . . .

"You can't win", said Marjorie Thornton of Billings, Mont., when your persistent reporter finally caught up with her in the Chem. Lab. Chemistry is her major, but music seems to be her main occupation. She is accompanist for the chorus and also for some voice lessons. She has presented a piano recital and has assisted at several others. Her favorite pastime is talking about her brothers. "I must be related to a Magpie said Marjorie, "because I collect everything and anything." She is president of the Student Council.

A three-year football and tennis man is William Feemster, York. "Bud" had his collegiate career postponed for three years while he served Uncle Sam in the Air Force. His major is History. Photography heads his list of interests, with firearms and radio coming close behind. After he graduates he intends to go to a radio engineering school.

They Tramped These Halls

By Prof. J. C. Morgan

Mr. and Mrs. Henry "Hank" Hanson, '41, (Miss Doris Landon, '42) were campus visitors recently. Mr. Hanson received his Master's Degree in Economic Zoology in March from Iowa State College at Ames.

Mr. Elwyn Phillips, '42, is attending the University of Nebraska and working on his Master's degree in Social Service.

The Reverend and Mrs. Ralph Hines, '42, have assumed the pastorate of the Evangelical United Brethren church at Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hines, '45, (Miss Thelma Rockhold, ex-'46) have taken the pastorate of the Esbon, Kans. church.

The historian acknowledges an error in giving the graduation year for Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Smith. The former was a member of the class of '38 instead of '37, and the latter of the class of '32 instead of '33 as given in the issue of February 13. Rev. C. E. Spore, who naturally was interested, called the historian's attention to this error.

The library has received as a gift from Dr. F. T. Mayer-Oakes

Mary Alice Riggs To Attend Youth Conference At Dayton

"I trust that the fruits of the conference in Dayton next week will be seen for a long time in an active young people's department in our church", said Mary Alice Riggs, sophomore, Ames, Ia., who is to attend a meeting of the executive council of the Evangelical United Brethren Youth Fellowship in Dayton, Ohio, May 9 and 10. She is the secretary of this organization.

"I attended the national conference of the U. B. youth last summer in Germantown, Ohio, and was elected secretary of that group," she continued.

Miss Riggs also stated that at that time plans were being formulated for the joining of the U. B. youth with the Evangelical youth in a common Youth Fellowship.

Now that the merger between the churches has been accomplished, the youth are meeting to complete that union.

"The officers of the two old Youth Fellowships joined to supply the offices and council positions of the new union", she stated. The new president held that position in the Evangelical Youth group while the vice-president and secretary were the former president and secretary of the United Brethren fellowship.

"We will formulate plans for the programs and activities of the youth fellowship and get that organization into working shape", added Miss Riggs.

"I believe that this is a great step forward for the young people. Never before have we had such a strong voice in the plans of our church work," she concluded.

A Boy

By Lee Huebert

To assume that every male between the ages of six and ten years is a boy is as incorrect as to assume that every female is a lady. To be a real boy, the small male must be more than the mere counterpart or opposite of a girl.

For example, the true boy never dreams of conforming to adult convention. If forced to conform, he will struggle valiantly and make a great to-do, although the experience of conformation may not in itself be unpleasant. He will never be caught in the admission that anything girls or adults enjoy may afford him pleasure.

A boy is easily recognized. He possesses a high degree of visibility. Although his hair has probably undergone numerous encounters with comb and brush, the result of these encounters is anything but apparent. Hatless, shirt open at the neck, the true boy is the very picture of casual, carefree indifference.

The small boy is an inveterate collector. His pockets bulge with string, nails, burnt matches, stamps, doorknobs, a jack-knife—oh, the list is endless. If an object measures less than four by six inches, it can probably be found in the overall pocket of a snub-nosed, freckle-faced urchin in the American scene.

A number of irritating propensities may be ascribed to the small boy. He exercises much talent in the direction of annoying parents and sisters. He seems to de-

Hi-Lites from Chapel Talks

By LOUIS RACHOW

Things to Think On

Think on truth, honor, mercy, purity, loveliness, and virtue. This was the advice presented by Dean Walter E. Bachman in his last formal chapel address. There is both form and content in thinking, he said.

"We must apply three questions to truth," said the speaker. First, is it the truth? second, is it necessary? and third, is it kind? If we lose honor we may never find it again. Think on these things if there be any virtue and if there be any praise."

Dean Bachman declared that we have imagination in our thinking. Matter and mind are inter-related and there are different approaches to the method and subject matter.

Memory is a Divine Gift

"One of man's divine gifts is memory," declared Dr. J. C. Morgan, head of the classical language department, in a recent formal chapel address. "Memory recalls all experiences and fortifies us for the future."

Education is a glory or memory; a library is a mind of richest gems, he continued. Remember the words of Jesus and never forget to be grateful, he concluded.

Youth is an Emblem of Charm

Charm is the name I give to the interest that you take in me and to the interest I take in you. This was the substance of a recent chapel talk by Dr. H. M. Gage, consultant in the development of the York college program.

"The college campus is the fountain of perpetual youth," continued the speaker. "Life is truly sharing with each other. American youth are the emblems of charm."

The Bible is a Part of Life

"The Bible is a revelation," declared Dean Walter E. Bachman in a recent formal chapel address. "The Word has to become flesh and to dwell among men if people are to understand it.

Dean Bachman enumerated the high points in the ancestry of the English Bible. The Old Testament was written in Hebrew; it was written out of life. To help anyone it must be made a part of life, continued the speaker.

"The New Testament is built upon the life of Jesus. Various translations were made in order that everyone may read the Bible in his mother tongue," said Dean Bachman.

Institutions Are Made For Men

The nation swings from institutionalism to individualism. This was the essence of a recent chapel talk by Dr. E. I. Doty, head of the political science department. In order for an individual to develop, there must be a plan and freedom to act, he said.

"We speak of social conscience but society is not saved, declared the speaker. "Individuals are saved to what is good and constructive to themselves. As individuals we make up a social plot."

Jesus tried to teach His generation that the Sabbath and the institutions are made for man. Unless parents build self-control in boys and girls, they are headed for controls that are not pleasant. These were the closing words of Prof. Doty.

light in shocking and embarrassing the said relatives before company.

There has never yet been a small boy who did not come equipped with a gargantuan appetite. A lad can consume prodigious quantities of food at a meal and be begging for a snack a half hour later. A paradox, the bane and blessing of many a life, the small boy is an utterly indispensable part of civilization, indeed of my own family.

PANTHER SPORTS

Doane Tigers Win Over Y. Panthers

Doane College, paced by Dick Shipman, won a 99 1/2 - 36 1/2 decision from the York college Panthers, April 18, in a dual meet held on the York oval.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By BLAINE RONNE

Coach R. E. Tonkin still needs another man or two who can pole vault, high jump, broad jump, throw the javelin, put the shot, and toss the discus. Results of previous meets show that the Panther tracksters hold their own in the track events, but fail to come through in the field events. A first or two in the field events, with several other places, would help considerably.

Several members of the track squad have been hampered by injuries this season. Denny Auchard has been nursing a pulled muscle in his right leg. This has kept him from running the century at his usual pace. Gene Jameson, winner of the conference two mile last year, has been having trouble with his side. He was also bothered with an infection early in the season.

Freshman Frank Medsker has been running a nice 440. He has won this event in two meets this year. His fastest time was clocked at :54.0. Medsker has some stiff competition ahead. It has been reported that Hastings' Roger Goodwin has run the 440 in :52.7.

Coach Larry Owens took his Hastings Bronco relay team to the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, last week. Orville "Lil-Abner" Yocum, Peru State, also competed in the Drake Relays and won himself a fifth place in the discus with a heave of nearly 150 feet.

It looks as if the conference pole vault record will be broken this year. It has been reported that Dick Shipman of Doane college vaulted 12' 8" during a practice.

Merlin Quillen, Kearney State dash man, won the 100 yd. dash at the Colorado Relays, Boulder, Colorado. His time was :10.3. He ran a :9.9 century in one meet this year.

Golf Team Triumphs; Tennis Men Split Meets With Opponents

The golf team of York College emerged victorious in two meets in as many weeks, triumphing over Doane College in the first by a score of 9 1/2 - 2 1/2 and defeating Hastings in the second meet, 7 1/2 - 4 1/2. Both meets were played on the home course.

Bill Meehan paced the golfers in the first meet by clubbing a low 86 in 18 holes and he also led the Panther-putters in the second with an 84.

While the grass-cutters were running away from all opponents the racket-busters were splitting meets, losing to Doane by a 4-2 count, and defeating Hastings by a 5-1 count.

In losing to Doane, the Panthers dropped both doubles matches and won only two of the singles. Victorious in the singles were Bob Gillespie and Bud Feemster. In winning from Hastings, the Yorksters had a field day winning all but one match. The Hastings meet marked the first victory for the York tennis team which had tied Kearney in the only meet of the season.

The only results available at this time are of the Hastings tennis match, which were:

Singles:

Gillespie (Y) defeated Kempers (H) 6-4, 6-2.

Stiver (H) defeated Feemster (Y) 6-4, 7-9, 6-1.

Vorce (Y) defeated Hansen (H) 8-6, 6-3.

Fouk (Y) defeated Easter (H) 4-6, 6-3, 9-7.

Doubles:

Gillespie and Feemster (Y) defeated Kempers and Hansen (H) 7-5, 6-2.

Suspense, Comedy Presented At Annual Faculty Reception

Suspense, mystery, and comedy awaited students and friends who attended the annual faculty reception held on April 17 at the college church. Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Doty and Dean and Mrs. Charles Amadon formed the reception line. Dean W. E. Bachman presented Pres. W. E. Weidler, who welcomed the guests.

Dean Bachman introduced the cast of a psychological drama Mooncalf Mugford, a one act play, set on the New England coast. Mr. William C. White of the department of speech and dramatic art, played the title lead, and Miss Irene Shipley, head of the department, was Etta Mugford. Both turned in outstanding performances. John "Mooncalf" Mugford, is an insane old man who sees visions, hears voices and receives visits from the spirits of another world. His love of his young wife takes the jealous forms of mental abuse and actual physical violence. Mr. White carefully placed climactical effects in long, difficult, eccentric speeches, and kept the audience in the required state of suspense. Miss Shipley, as the patient wife, responded perfectly to the moods of the mad John and eventually lost her own mind in her attempt to help her husband. Miss Jean Mattingly, of the English department, portrayed well the flighty friend of Etta, Tabby Pipp, and Miss Mary Miller, hostess at Hult Hall, was convincing as the Boston-bred Mrs. Lowell. Dr. W. C. Noll, head of the biological science department, appeared as the ghost of Caleb Orne, who lured both John and Etta down to the sea-swept coves at the play's end. The lighting and musical effects added to the mysterious atmosphere of the production.

Between plays, Miss Mattingly sang "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," and "Song of the Lark," accompanied by Prof. Bruce Herrick, of the department of philosophy and religious education.

The comedy of the evening was Cabbages, a story of the Grossmeiers, a farmer family who suddenly find themselves rich. The trouble resulting from their attempts at sophistication formed the situations. The truth dawns when a geneologist discovers that one of their ancestors was a scullion who did nothing more illustrious than hang for stealing a pig. Coach and Mrs. R. E. Tonkin, as Gus and Mina Grossmeier, developed German accents for the evening. Mrs. Al Zerwekh was Tildy, their daughter, and Helen Jo Polk, treasurer, was Elizabeth, the maid. Mrs. Ruth Auchard, publicity secretary, was Lena Fischer, and Prof. Bruce Herrick was a reporter, Mr. Jenks. Dr. Bisset, head of the social science department, played Mr. Marker, the geneologist.

French Movie "Golgotha" Shown To Recruits

"Golgotha", a recent movie of the French "Passion Play" produced by the French director, Jules Duvivier, was presented to the Life Work Recruits in the college chapel last week.

"Golgotha", the newest production of the "Passion Play" has been on a road tour showing in the principal cities throughout the United States during the last several months. Scores of people have worked for months to make "Golgotha" what the Film Daily calls "One of the greatest of films."

The Christ was portrayed by an obscure actor so that the audience would not be confused with some well known actor's personality. The entire cast was French.

Science Field Discussed By Dr. Noll At O.B.N.

Possibilities in the field of science at the Christian college, were discussed by Dr. W. C. Noll, professor of biological sciences, in a recent meeting of the O. B. N. Fellowship.

Dr. Noll explained that education for responsible living was the province of the church-related college in its liberal arts courses. It trains men through general education to gain a broad viewpoint and to develop essential skills in forming sound judgment, he said. "There are many mysteries about life which make it difficult to explain," declared Dr. Noll. "Life must originate somewhere. It is given by God through balanced functions of the body."

The science professor elaborated on the uniformity of the activities of both plants and animals. The sacredness of the human body is a challenge to the development of wholesome character. Man has been endowed with a capacity to admire his Creator, he said. The great mosaic of life is an expression of the Creator's goodness.

"There has grown up in the scientific world opposition to God. The Christian scientist must eliminate that opposition," continued Dr. Noll. There is much of order in nature to testify to the superior wisdom of God. Even the problem of evolution must come under the searchlight of truth, and it is our duty to prepare a way over this great hurdle."

The science professor said in conclusion that the historical story of Jesus must be accepted and be made the motivating forces in Christian living. The certainties of natural science should fill the human heart with power to drive out the uncertainties so as to develop wholesome character and promote real spiritual brotherhood.

K. Hicks Speaks On "Spirit of Prayer" To Recruits

The true spirit of prayer is, "Father, Thy will be done," declared Kenneth Hicks, senior, Iola, Kans., who spoke at a recent meeting of the Life Work Recruits.

Mr. Hicks outlined a number of phases of prayer and told how the true spirit of prayer can be attained. Man is created in the image of God, he said, and therefore should seek to follow the will of God.

Willa Roberts, sophomore, Fairbury, led in the devotional period, and Gwendolyn Wade, freshman, Enid, Okla., sang "Prayer," accompanied by Jeanne Anderson, freshman, Des Moines, Ia.

"Miracle of the Bells" Reviewed By Mrs. Baer At Y.M.-Y.W.

"Miracle of the Bells", a novel by Russell Janning, was reviewed by Mrs. Walter Baer of York, in a joint meeting of the YMCA and YWCA recently.

The plot of the story evolved around the life of a girl whose personality was so effective in the lives of others that even after her death, her spirit changed a whole town. "People expect something from us," declared Mrs. Baer, "and each one of us can contribute something to the welfare of others." "The Miracle of the Bells" illustrates how the spirit of one person can affect a whole community.

Preceding the review, Molly Rafter, freshman, Harlem, Mont., played a trumpet solo.
