AS YOU SEE IT . . .

There is an old parable about some blind men who were examining an elephant. One blind man feeling carefully of the ears commented, "Oh! I know what an elephant looks like. It's broad and flat and very thin".

"How could you say that?", argued the second who was feeling of the sides of the animal. "It's big and rough like a wall".

"You're both wrong", said one to whose lot fell the front leg. "An elephant is big and round like a tree".

The fourth whose hands reached the tusk commented in disgust, "How absurd! An elephant is smooth and slick and pointed at the end".

To a certain extent each of these men was right. What each one lacked was a small but precious element, perspective. Too often we also lack that gift. If we gaze over the world and comment dryly, "The world is full of people who are selfish, and little, and narrow", we are right. But we are right only to a certain extent. We have a distorted viewpoint. We lack perspective.

No logical person in looking at a tree would stand with his nose to the bark. Doing this he would be gazing at a small fraction of the tree and miss the beauty of the whole.

Too often when we look at the world we can't see around ourselves. Our little tasks loom up so important that they cover the landscape. We like the blind men are "feeling" just one little portion of the world. We have our noses up against the bark.

Only when we can see ourselves in perspective and see where we fit into the big picture can we really make our lives count.

Thanks!

Sounds nostalgic doesn't it? "As these words are written . . ." In a few days from now, perhaps sooner, you should be proud possessors of your 1947 Marathons. Determination of the date of delivery rests with fate and the printer. All that could be done has been done.

It is about that which has been done that the editor wishes to speak. One may accumulate debts of such a nature that mere money can do nothing toward repaying them. It is by way of repaying such debts that this note is written. The editor is fully conscious of the time and effort expended by his staff in the not insignificant task of publishing a year-book. He is aware, too, of the demands he has made upon the time and patience of others not on the staff. Therefore, he takes this means of thanking everyone connected with the project. Each member of the staff deserves to be singled out for special praise and recognition.

Our thanks to you, the student body, the faculty, and the alumni, to whom the finished product is to go, for waiting patiently for its appearing. We sincerely hope you find the 1947 Marathon what it should be, a pictorial and written record of your activities at York College.

Dan Pritchard, Host to College Men for Thirty Years, Dies

The little notice that appeared in the daily paper Thursday, May 22, 1947, read "C. D. Pritchard, 912 Burlington Avenue, died this afternoon at the local hospital after a long illness". The item went on to state that brief services would be held in York after which the body would be taken to Oakland, Iowa, for further services and burial.

What the newspaper failed to say was that C. D. Pritchard was our Mr. Pritchard, that he belonged to York College; that he and Mrs. Pritchard, who survives, have acted as hosts to college boys for thirty years. No mistake, the Pritchards began renting rooms to college boys in 1916, and haven't missed a year since.

Hi-Lites from Chapel Talks

By LOUIS RACHOW

Fulfill the Law

"Love, trust, dare, and go on doing it. This philosophy taken from the London Spectator should be one of our goals in fulfilling the law," advised Pres. D. E. Weidler in the last formal chapel address of the year. "We must set for ourselves certain disciplines by which our thinking is guided and by which we realize our integrity."

The fulfillment of life and of personality depends on having supremely at the center of thought, the principle of love. Fulfill the law by loving God and our fellowmen, the speaker concluded.

Use Your Time Well

Learn to walk about wisely and use your time well. This was the advice given by Dr. E. I. Doty, head of the political science department, in a recent chapel address. Watch your step, not as the unwise but as the wise, he continued.

"We have the opportunity in these days, evil if they are evil, current among us if they are current among us, to use this time, these days, and future days to build into our characters things that will be of lasting values," declared the speaker. "One of the sins of the day is the fact that nothing makes any difference."

Build Up Spiritual Defenses

"We must have a sublime and unwavering faith in God if we are to build up spiritual defenses," declared Dr. G. T. Savery, pastor of the college church, in a recent formal chapel address.

The speaker continued by saying that if a spiritual defense is present, we will find courage and strength in a crisis.

"MELODY MEN" END CONCERT TOUR; FOUR STATES CONTACTED

Finishing a season of church work and concerts which has carried them into four different states, "The Melody Men" male quartet has announced plans for next year's tour.

This last school year has found them singing in such distant places as Des Moines, Ia., Kansas City, Mo., Clay Center, Kans., and Merna, Nebr. Though most of their seventy-eight performances have been for the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Methodist and Presbyterian churches were also included.

The record number of appearances in one day took place at Stromsburg where they sang five times (in cooperation with The Allied Dry Forces of Nebraska).

An estimated four to five thousand people have heard them, and, though performing in most cases as a private group, it was their privilege to advertise York College many times.

Bill Johnson, freshman, Merville, Ia., former baritone of the quartet, is planning to attend Denver University next year. His position will be filled by Lee Huebert, senior, York, who plans to attend the University of Nebraska next fall.

The other three members of the quartet will remain the same. They are: bass, Merl Riggs, sophomore, Merna; lead tenor, Milton Snow, Des Moines, Ia.; top tenor, Dick Riggs, junior, Ames, Ia.

Present plans for next year include working with Nebraska P.-T. A.'s as well as churches. Return engagements have already been requested by many of the churches in which The Melody Men performed this past year.

The members of the quartet seem to agree that the fun of singing together was surpassed only by the good times they had in their trips. A good example might be the following comment made on the way to Kansas City. While they were passing another car, the driver of the other car glared quite belligerently at the quartet and their driver, Everett Thornton, senior of Billings, Mont. Said Bill Johnson, baritone, "Don't you look at me that way. There's only one of you and there's six of me".

Last Year's Seniors In Varied Positions

The rush toward Commencement of 1947 brings back memories of last Commencement Day. Among these memories is that of the members of the graduating class of 1946. Where are they? What are they doing?

An overall picture of the 17 members of last year's class shows that eight are teachers, two are taking seminary courses, and the others are taking graduate work or are in various other occupations.

Two of the eight who are teaching have positions in the York high school. Miss Irene Falk teaches English and dramatics. She directed a recent Prep Players production, "Nine Girls". Harvey Peters teaches history and is reserve team coach.

Miss Mary Kathryn Armstrong teaches in the high school at St. Edward. She teaches typing, shorthand, and public speaking, and sponsors the Dramatic Club. She recently directed the junior class play. Miss Esther Megill is also at St. Edwards. Besides sponsoring the Girls' Athletic Association and the sophomore class, she teaches biology, chemistry, general science, and freshman English. Both of these women have visited the campus this year.

Miss Imogene Bland teaches mathematics and science in the Shelby high school, in her home town. She also sponsors the G. A. A. Miss Eunice Stauffer returned to her home town, Meadow Grove, to teach social sciences in the high school. She sponsors the junior class and the Pep club. These alumni have been campus visitors.

Miss Martha Cox returned to her home state to teach at Santa Rosa, New Mex. She teaches biology, general science, and chemistry. Miss Regina Heatherington teaches history in the high school at Iola, Kans.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schwindt are at Naperville, Ill., where Mr. Schwindt is attending seminary. Mrs. Schwindt is the former Miss Dollie Anderson.

Attending the Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, is Robert Vance. In his spare time Vance works in an Western Auto Supply store. Mrs. Vance teaches in the grade schools.

Mrs. Roberta Berglin Allen is in Wellesley Hills, Mass., where her husband is attending accounting school. She works for the principal of an elementary school and her duties include everything from substitute teaching to office work. She and her husband plan to visit in Colorado during the summer.

Mrs. Ruth Auchard is on the staff at York College as secretary to the Rev. Vergil Hague, vice president of the college. Mrs. Auchard is also manager of the bookstore. She plans to work on her Master's degree in English at the University of Colorado at Boulder this summer.

Miss Jewell Daniel is in Lockport, New York, working as an inspector of paper and cloth abrasive belts for a Carborundum company. Miss Mary Harris also works in New York. Mrs. Patricia Weidler Kupetz lives in Jamestown, New York.

Taking graduate work at the University of Nebraska is Larry Smith. He and his family live in a university trailer camp. Smith has a part time job at Miller and Paine's store in Lincoln where he often sees York students. He and his wife, Maurine, visited on the campus recently.

Miss Betty Taylor is also in Lincoln. Although working in the city library as a clerical assistant in the cataloging department, she takes a few hours at the university. She is enrolled in Public Library Administration courses.

White: "Do you have any stiff tests scheduled for this week?" Thomas: "Yeah, Zoo."

White: "Well, here's a hard lead pencil."

Mudge, as she waded to the sophomore picnic: "The only kind of flower that could bloom in this spring, tra, la, would be water lilies!"

Kearney Teachers Win NCC Meet

Panthers Score Nine Points in Conference Meet; Harold Walker, York, Sets Record

The Kearney State Teachers won the second annual Nebraska College Conference track and field meet held at Kearney on May 15. The York Panthers scored nine points to nose out Wesleyan and Midland for the cellar position.

Despite the weather, which was very unfavorable with light showers in the morning and a stiff wind in the afternoon, practically all new records were set. Kearney, Peru, and Chadron proved to be the main contenders. All three teams finished with a close final number of points.

Jack Dinnel of Chadron ran a 4:37.4 mile to set a new record, and his teammate, Louis Peters, cut nearly six seconds off the half mile record with a winning time of 2:03.6.

Harold Walker, Panther two-miler, ran a 10:34.4 two mile to smash the old record of 11:14.9 set by Gene Jameson of York last year.

Bob Hauver, Kearney, turned in a :51.9 440 yd. dash to set a new record. The Hastings relay team set a new record in the mile relay with a 3:33.0 effort. Kearney's half-mile relay team smashed the old record with a record time of 1:33.0.

Dick Shipman of Doane vaulted 12 feet to better the old record. Joe Simanek, Kearney, set a new record in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 10 3/4 inches. The shot was tossed 43 feet 1/2 inch by Marvin Gill of Kearney for a new record. Orville Yocum, Peru, broke his own record when he tossed the discus 158 feet 6 1/2 inches.

All other records set last year remain. Even though the century, 220 yd. dash, and hurdles were won with times bettering the record time, the officials ruled them out because of the great wind advantage that day.

The teams scored in the following order: Kearney, 58; Peru, 51; Chadron, 48; Hastings, 25; Doane, 24; Wayne, 15; York, 9; Wesleyan, 8; and Midland, 2.

Y CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL SPRING INITIATION

The Y Club held their annual spring initiation last Tuesday on the banks of the Blue river south of York. The meeting was well attended and eight new members were accepted into the organization with outstretched arms, (holding paddles, of course).

After softball games which found the sophomores defeating the freshmen, and the seniors walloping the juniors, the initiation was conducted.

Following the initiation, a picnic lunch was served and a short business meeting and election of officers was held.

There was "less Hazin" at the Alpha Psi initiation than there might have been.

Gillespie Takes Singles Championships

Tennis Team Places Second In NCC Meet At Kearney

The sparkling play of Bob Gillespie, as he smashed and drove his way to the State College Singles Championship, high-lighted the York Panthers' play as they emerged in the runners-up spot for the team honors.

Gillespie, meeting Manzel of Midland, in the first round of play, defeated him in two sets and from there he had little competition until the finals when he met Ulrich of Chadron and outdrove him into submission by a 6-4, 6-3 count.

The York doubles team of Bill Feemster and Fred Vorce drew the Hastings team in the initial round and defeated them in three sets after dropping the first set by a 6-1 score. The doubles team from Kearney proved to be too much for the Panthers in the quarter-finals, however, as they set the Yorksters out of play by a 5-7, 6-3, 6-1 measure.

Worthington of York, drew a bye in the opening round of play and was paired with Chrisman of Midland in the second round, although fighting valiantly Worthington dropped to Chrisman in two sets.

The Midland doubles team emerged with the championship in defeating the favored Kearney team in the finals, and it was this margin of victory that provided the needed points which Midland needed to cop the team championship with 13 points. The final team standings were:

|----------|----|
| Midland | 13 |
| York | 11 |
| Kearney | 8 |
| Chadron | 6 |
| Doane | 4 |
| Hastings | 2 |
| Wesleyan | 0 |

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By BLAINE RONNE

As the school year nears an end and the last issue of the Sandburrr goes to press, it is with regret that I write this last column in my college career. After having written for several years, one soon becomes accustomed to being criticized and rather enjoys it because he knows that somebody has read what he has written. Being criticized is the penalty for signing one's name to a column. I want to thank the rest of the sports writers and all those who have contributed to this page. Good luck to the new sports editor.

Checking through the files of previous Sandburrrs, I found these track records which have been established down through the years at York college.

Speece to Assist With Football at York Next Fall

Roy Speece Named Assistant Football Coach; Will Have Charge of the Backfield.

Roy Speece, York, has been named assistant football coach at York college next fall, according to an announcement made by Coach R. E. Tonkin. He will have charge of the backfield.

Speece attended York college one year and graduated from Western Union college, Le Mars, Iowa, in 1940. During his senior year at Western Union, he served as captain of the football and track teams. Speece, a backfield man, made all-conference rating that year in football.

Graduating at the mid-term, Speece remained at Western Union the rest of the year as assistant track and football coach. He coached at Lewis, Iowa two years; Holdrege, one year; Central City, two years; and Wayne, one year.

Speece's experience and his knowledge of football will make him a valuable asset to the York college football team. He is widely known over the state as a football, basketball, and track official. At present, he and his brother, Ross, are in business in York.

Floyd Taylor will continue to have charge of the B squad.

Golf Team Places Fourth In NCC Meet

The York College golf team placed fourth in the conference meet at Kearney last Saturday, finishing behind Nebraska Wesleyan, Midland, and Doane.

The host team from Kearney, early favorites, was disqualified when their number one player failed to show up for the opening round of play.

The Panthers were the victims of some near-par play as Wesleyan, Midland, and Doane each had at least one man with a score in the low 70's. The play of the Y. C. team was of good calibre, but none of them could come through with an outstanding score to pull the team total into the top position. However, their steadiness is verified by the fact that they were only 13 strokes out of first place with a 336 to Wesleyan's 323.

Medalist honors went to the Wesleyan team's number one golfer as he shot a 72, two over par on the difficult Kearney Country Club course.

The York scoring was as follows:

|-----------|----|
| Meehan | 81 |
| Bason | 83 |
| Holst | 85 |
| Schneider | 87 |

Iona Shaw Presents Dramatic Recital

Iona Shaw, junior, Great Falls, Mont., appeared in a dramatic recital at the Evangelical United Brethren church, Friday evening, May 16. Miss Shaw, who was assisted by Richard Riggs and Harold Holton, was presented by the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art.

Miss Shaw opened her recital by reading a cutting from the play "Happy Land" by MacKinlay Kantor.

Her second presentation consisted of two selections. The first of these was a satire on family conversation at the dinner table, "Don't Change the Subject", by Harry Chester. This was followed by the highly dramatic "Perfect Love Casteth Out Fear", by E. P. Elliot.

Cornhusk Doll, a cutting from the play of the same name, by Dora Mary MacDonald ended Miss Shaw's presentation.

Mr. Riggs, in his first appearance, sang "Whither", by Schubert, and the lovely "Lotus Flower" by Schumann. He returned to sing "Evening and Morning", an anonymous selection from the Westminster Abbey Hymnal. He was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Thornton, senior of Billings, Mont.

Mr. Holton offered as his contribution the first movement from the Sonata Pathetique by Beethoven.

Ushers for the evening were Ruth Sanchez, Ivalee Mizell, Lucille Miller, and Mrs. Abelina Megill.

JOHN REGER PRESIDENT OF LIFE WORK RECRUITS

John Reger, sophomore, Amherst, was elected to head the Life Work Recruits next year in a recent meeting of the Recruits held at the home of the sponsor, Dr. J. C. Morgan was reelected as classical languages.

Other officers elected were: vice presidents, Ralph Amen, freshman, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Bernice Dvorak, freshman, Swisher, Ia.; secretary, Jeanne Anderson, freshman, Des Moines, Ia.; treasurer, Frank Medsker, freshman, Columbus, Kans.; pianist, Eunice Goodrich, junior, Portland, Ore.; chorister, Bob Jaquiss, freshman, Brookfield, Mo.; African Project chairman, Ethel Brooks, junior, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; gospel team chairman, Aloys Holst, sophomore, Red Wing, Minn.; Student Council representative, Gerald Witham, freshman, York; librarians, Martin Hasenkrug, freshman, Great Falls, Mont., and Kenneth Gillming, freshman, Kearney. Dr. J. C. Moran was reelected as sponsor.

After the business meeting a short time was spent in playing games after which refreshments were served.

Expression Department Presents Six Students In Joint Recital

Miss Irene Shipley of the expression department presented six students in a dramatic recital Monday evening at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

The program was as follows: "The Open Window" by H. H. Monroe, Harriet Thomas, sophomore, Topeka, Kans.; "Maker of Dreams", anonymous, Elaine Hicks, junior, York; "A Modern Portia", by Leota Black, Ruth Weston, sophomore, York; "Bobby Shafto", by Homer Green, Ethel Brooks, junior, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; "The Gift", by Margaret Prescott Montague, Bonnie Lou Ackland, sophomore, Ames, Ia.; "The Yellow Wall-Paper", anonymous, Norma Jean Anderson, sophomore, York.

The ushers were all sophomores: Barbara Blauch, York; Doris Jean Canon, Philomath, Oregon; Wanda Miller, Russell, Kan.; and Mary Alice Riggs, Ames, Ia.

Miss Thornton To be Presented In Recital

The York College music department will present Miss Marjorie Thornton, Billings, Mont., in her senior recital, on Sunday, June 1, at the college church. Miss Thornton is a pupil of Miss Eda Rankin, head of the piano department.

"Marjorie is not a music major, but she is certainly one of my outstanding students," says Miss Rankin. "She is an accomplished and capable organist as well as pianist. The enjoyment she gets from her music and the pleasure she receives in sharing it with others is obvious in her interpretation. Many weeks of work go into the preparation of a recital, and I am positive this one will be a success."

The program will be divided into three groups, the first consisting of Beethoven's Rondo and first movement of the Appassionata. The Chopin group will begin with his "Aolian Harp" Etude in A flat. The "Butterfly Etude" in G flat and the Scherzo in C sharp minor, opus 39, will complete this group. The last, the modern group, will contain one of the "Three Fantastic Dances" by Shostakovich, "Punch" by H. Villa-Lobos, and the "Ritual Fire Dance" by de Falla.

The program indicates a careful choice; the Chopin will please with its familiarity, the Modern Group, will interest with its newness, and the Beethoven never ceases to inspire.

Miss Thornton will be assisted by her brother, Lawrence, a cellist, who will arrive from Montana this week. He recently represented the Billings senior high orchestra in the North-West Music Meet in Seattle, Wash.

Miss Thornton has accompanied the college chorus for the past year, and was pianist for the opera, "The Bohemian Girl." She has made many appearances, both as soloist and accompanist during her college days, as well as being active in other departments, and president of the student council this year.

"Lady Who Came To Stay" To Be Year's Outstanding Play

"There is no doubt that, 'The Lady Who Came to Stay,' will be the outstanding play of the year," says Mrs. Lee Huebert, junior, York, president-elect of the Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity. It is a performance in which nearly all of the actors play a heavy part, no one really outshining the rest.

The story deals with the events in a New York home after a widow, Katherine, and her seventeen year old daughter, Ann, are forced to live with her dead husband's three old maid sisters, Emma, Phoebe, and Milly. The sisters had shut themselves in from the world and were living a selfish life. So they made life terrible for themselves and any one connected with them. The sick widow and her daughter are accepted into the home that they may have revenge on their brother.

The injustice of the sisters to Ann who had met a young man in school brings death to Katherine. Phoebe makes life terrible for Ann. Katherine's ghost returns and Phoebe defies her only to be struck dead. Then the struggle between the two spirits of the dead begins.

Milly gets Roy to marry Ann and leave before Emma brings Roger there. Ann's brother who has made his home with some friends. Roger becomes the center of the struggle, but Milly sends him to Ann before she dies. Finally Emma tries to burn the house and destroy herself, but is saved by the touch of Milly's ghost.
